TABLE OF CONTENTS

From which can be learned how to find the places in this Missal

NOTE, That the different sections of the Missal are denoted by a letter (thus: A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, S), followed by the page number of the section. (See Table of Contents below.) These numbers agree with the Altar Edition except for Holy Week (pages A 142 ff) and the B section, where omitted musical notation and certain other changes have necessitated a different pagination.

Since the Eternal Sacrifice was offered on earth through Christ's oblation on Maundy Thursday, his death on Good Friday, and his triumph on Easter, the Order for offering the daily Sacrifice (i.e., The Ordinary and Canon of the Mass given in the B section) is inserted between Holy Week and Easter (i.e., after the A section and before the C section).

To follow the service, mark beforehand the Mass for the day, which will be either from The Proper of the Season (A or C section), or from The Proper of the Saints if it be a Holy Day not of the Season (E or D section, or S section for "supplementary" Feasts), or from Votive Masses (G), or from Masses for the Dead (H).

Begin your worship by turning to The Ordinary of the Mass (page B 26) and continue to follow the offering of the daily Sacrifice from section B, only turning therefrom, as directed, to the Mass for the day when the Propers thereof are to be used.

INTRODUCTION

LOYALTY TO THE PRAYER BOOK has become a battle-cry. As such it is used to confront one's enemies, and hence does not always become a principle of personal practice or obedient action on the part of those who proclaim it.

Loyalty to the Prayer-Book implies knowledge and sympathetic understanding of our liturgy. For the Prayer-Book is the result of a long evolution in worship, and that evolution still continues. When liturgy ceases to develop, as with any other living thing, it is dying or dead. "Stick to the Prayer-Book" may be good advice. But those who give it are often those who do not realize that Prayer-Book Offices cannot — simply cannot — be celebrated if one sticks to the Prayer-Book in the sense of doing no more than what is therein ordered.

Are there to be vestments? Not even the surplice and stole is ordered. Cross and candles? There is no Prayer-Book authority for them. Of ceremonial customs there is little. Vested Choirs, processions, processional Crosses, flags and banners, and many other things dear to the heart of the "Prayer-Book Churchmen," are unmentioned. Music is ordered, but none is provided. Hymns are permitted but only one Hymn, the Veni Creator, is given. And so it goes. The use of most of these things is the result of following, not Prayer-Book directions, but the living Catholic tradition of the Church.

In other words, the Prayer-Book Rite must be treated as an apocoped liturgy, for that is precisely what it is. That is to say, our liturgy cannot be celebrated without the addition of material or knowledge which the Prayer-Book fails to supply. And when such supplementary material and the Prayer-Book Eucharistic formularies are published together as one book, the result is called a "Missal." Now it is impossible to publish such a book and please everybody. One person wishes little in the way of such additions. Another wishes much. To be of wide service, such a book should be inclusive rather than exclusive, and those who believe in the guidance by the Holy Spirit of the Church will not doubt that the evolutionary process, which is so characteristic of the Western Liturgy, will surely, if slowly, eliminate that which is unworthy.

Six things have been found necessary, or at least convenient, almost everywhere, and amongst all kinds of Churchmen, as supplements to the Prayer-Book, namely:

1. Some ceremonial directions. (For it is impossible to celebrate the Eucharist if nothing more is done than what the Prayer-Book orders. What is the Celebrant to wear? What is he to do with his hands and feet? Dozens of questions arise which must be answered by obedience to the living Catholic tradition out of which our liturgy grew, or else the answers will be made up out of personal notions or taken from non-Catholic traditions which have grown up amongst us by mischance. But the ceremonial of the authentic tradition, if followed intelligently, provides order, deftness, the minimizing of personal idiosyncrasies, all of which makes for reverence.)
2. Musical notations, special punctuations, diacritical marks, and other helps toward good singing or reading.
3. Forms for certain popular liturgical dramas. (These are of the nature of mystery plays, such as the ceremonies for Candlemas, Ash Wednesday, Palm Sunday, and Holy Week.)
4. Prayers and Scriptural lections for many occasions which demand special observance but for which the Prayer-Book makes no provision.
5. Hymns. (These in the Missal take the traditional form of sacred anthems from the Holy Scriptures instead of the present popular rhymed secular compositions which are all too often selected at random from the Hymnal. NOTE, That the latter is the most widely accepted supplement to the Prayer-Book, although time was when a hymnal was considered a dangerous and disloyal book.)

6. The personal prayers of the Celebrant. (For always and everywhere devout Priests have privately added their own personal prayers, as lay-folk do. And the Prayer-Book in some places, e.g., where it tells the Priest to offer and place on the Altar the Bread and Wine, seems to assume that the Priest will pray privately in connection with his liturgical acts. NOTE, That in the centuries just preceding the Reformation a complete set of these personal prayers of the Celebrant came into use, but except for the Collect for Purity, originally a sacristy prayer but now placed at the beginning of our eucharistic rite, they were all omitted when our liturgy was put into English from its Latin original. Perhaps the omission was due to the fact that the clergy knew them by heart and said them privately from memory, and hence they were "private" rather than "common" prayer. But doubtless the clergy continued to say them from memory as the custom is today amongst many of our clergy.)

A Missal is a book which supplies these six much needed supplements from the original sources of our liturgy and conveniently places them in the Prayer-Book Eucharistic formularies at the very points where they are likely to be used.

This Edition of the PEOPLE'S ANGLICAN MISSAL is a republication in a smaller size of the American Altar edition, and agrees therewith except as follows:

1. The introduction to the Altar edition has been omitted in favour of the INTRODUCTION which you are now reading.
2. The musical notations have been omitted, and consequently some slight re-arrangements of the Rubrics and liturgical text for Holy Week have been necessary.
3. The Ordinary and Canon of the Altar edition, which is necessarily rubricated for the Celebrant's ceremonial, is of little value to layfolk, and consequently is superseded by the version herein given, consisting of the Prayers as in the Altar edition with general directions and devotional notes which may be of assistance to the public worship of the lay people.
4. The section called THE SEASONAL PRAYERS has been much abbreviated, and placed at the end of the A section.
5. After this Introduction is given a form of Preparation before and Thanksgiving after Holy Communion which in the interests of space-saving was not inserted in the Altar edition.

The diacritical marks in prayers and lections of this Missal were devised to assist the Celebrant and Ministers at Sung Mass, and as they concern the clergy only, it is unnecessary to explain them here, although they are of necessity included in this People's edition because most of it has been produced by a photographic process from the Altar edition.

The two-column KALENDAR of this Missal has in its first column the most inclusive and most widely-used Kalendar in the world. In this has been inserted in brackets a few Feasts which are of general interest to Anglicans. Feasts which were considered of less interest are printed in Italics and their Propers are given, not in THE PROPER OF THE SAINTS, but in THE SUPPLEMENT. Thus the former, which consists only of those Feasts which the Editors felt they could recommend for wide-spread usage, furnishes a conservative but devout Kalendar observance, and the latter can be used where, and when, and to the extent that, it is found useful or necessary. For that matter, in very few localities is the so-called Universal Kalendar followed exactly. Rather it is used as the basis of local Kalendars, Feasts being transferred or even suppressed, according to prescribed rules, in order to provide for local liturgical needs. In other words, the Universal Kalendar is used as a norm on which to base local Kalendars.

Inclusion or exclusion from THE PROPER OF THE SAINTS of this Missal was with the idea that it should represent every age of the Church, and as far as possible every section of the Church, but in doing so, should give only those Feasts which make the widest application of Catholic principles or the most general appeal to true devotion. Certain recent Feasts which might seem to fall within these terms were put in THE SUPPLEMENT because they have not yet stood the test of time. Since all these Feasts are thus made available for those who wish to use them, nothing is lost by this conservatism.

In the second column of THE KALENDAR mention is made of all the Feasts to be found in Anglican Prayer-Books in the English language. Except when these days are to be found in THE PROPER, provision is made in THE SUPPLEMENT for keeping them also. Likewise in THE SUPPLEMENT are included certain Feasts which have some observance but for which, so far as the Editors could discover, there is no general devotion. Thus is exemplified the principle that local Feasts may be observed but should be kept local.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

This American Edition of the ANGLICAN MISSAL has been made possible by an arrangement between the Frank Gavin Liturgical Foundation and the Society of SS. Peter and Paul whereby the editorial staff of the former is permitted to use the liturgical materials which have been prepared by the editorial staff of the latter, with discretion to introduce such changes and additions as seem necessary for the purpose in view, namely, to conform the ANGLICAN MISSAL to the usages and customs of those places where the American Book of Common Prayer is the prescribed liturgy. Although there has been on the part of the American editorial staff no conscious departure from the ideals or purposes of the English staff, it is only fair to note that for any deviation from the English Edition to be found in the American, the American Editors alone are responsible, and that any expression of an editorial judgement or opinion which is to be found only in the American Edition is to be understood as emanating from the American editorial staff, and therefore not necessarily representing the English Editors.

All the prayers appended to the Office of Preparation and to the Office of Thanksgiving are to be found in their original and complete English translation in THE PRIESTS' SANCTUARY BOOK OF COMMON PRAYERS. Since it seems desirable to adhere to the norm established by the English Editors and already widely used throughout the Anglican Communion, the American Editors are regretful that they found it necessary to make certain emendations in these prayers in order to serve the purpose of a Missal for American lay folk, and therefore the Anima Christi and the Suscipe are given in the form already commonly used in the United States. Some prayers were too long for general usage, and as our Titles to them make clear, are given only in part. The well-known Prayer of St. Bonaventure has been paraphrased so that its wealth of mystical meaning may be better understood. Besides these changes, only a few, and for the most part, unimportant emendations were considered necessary.

MOST gracious God, we beseech thee mercifully to incline thine ear unto our prayers : that our hearts being enlightened by the grace of thy Holy Spirit, we may duly serve thee in these sacred mysteries, and be found worthy to cleave stedfastly unto thy love.

GRANT, O Lord, we pray thee, that the fire of thy Holy Spirit may in such wise cleanse our reins and our hearts : that we serving thee in pureness both of body and soul may be found an acceptable people in thy sight.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, that the Comforter which proceedeth from thee may enlighten our minds : and lead us, as thy Son hath promised, into all truth.

ASSIST us mercifully, O Lord, with the might of thy Holy Spirit : that by the gracious operation of the same we may be purified inwardly from all our iniquities, and continually defended against all adversities.

O GOD, who didst teach the hearts of thy faithful people, by sending to them the light of thy Holy Spirit : grant us by the same Spirit to have a right judgement in all things, and evermore to rejoice in his holy comfort.

O LORD, we pray thee that the visitation of thy grace may in such wise cleanse our conscience from all sin : that thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, when he cometh unto us, may find therein a mansion prepared for himself. Who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

ADDITIONAL PRAYERS OF PREPARATION

THE PRAYER OF ST. AMBROSE THE BISHOP

[NOTE, That the portion assigned below to Friday is especially appropriate in preparation for Masses for the Dead.]

Sunday

O LORD Jesu Christ, who art the true High Priest and Bishop of our souls : who didst upon the Altar of the Cross offer thyself to God the Father to be a pure and undefiled sacrifice for us miserable sinners ; who hast likewise given us thy Flesh to eat and thy Blood to drink : and hast established this Mystery in the power of the Holy Ghost, saying, Do this in remembrance of me : I beseech thee by the same thy precious Blood, the ransom of our salvation. I beseech thee by that wondrous and ineffable love wherewith thou dost vouchsafe to love us (miserable and unworthy sinners) washing us clean from all our sins in thine own Blood. Teach me, thy unworthy servant, whom among thy manifold mercies thou hast vouchsafed to share in the benefits of thy Priesthood. (And this through no merits of my own, but only of thine abundant mercy!) Teach me, I pray thee, by thy Holy Spirit to draw near to so great a Mystery, as is meet and right, with reverence and honour, and in all godliness and holy fear. Make me by thy grace always so to believe and understand, to feel and firmly to hold, to speak, and to think, concerning this holy Mystery as shall be well-pleasing to thee and profitable to my soul.

LET thy good Spirit enter into my heart, that with voiceless utterance and without sound of words he may speak there, all thy truth ; which same, hidden under the veil of holiness, passeth man's understanding. Of thy great mercy vouchsafe to me to take part in this holy Mystery with purity of heart and integrity of mind. Deliver me with the gracious and unfailing guard of thy blessed Angels, that by their mighty protection the enemies of good may be banished thence. By the power of this great Mystery and by the hand of that holy Angel whom thou dost send me, drive far from me and from all thy servants the spirit of hardness of heart ; the spirit of pride and vainglory, the spirit of envy and blasphemy ; the spirit of fornication and uncleanness, the spirit of doubt and unfaithfulness. Confound them that persecute us, destroy them that make haste to destroy us.

Monday

O KING of virgins, Lover of chastity and purity ; pour on me the heavenly dew of thy blessing, to quench in my flesh any smouldering embers of lustful desires ; that I may abide in continual chastity both of body and soul. Mortify in my members all incentives of the flesh, all inordinate affections, all motions of concupiscence. And give unto me true and abiding chastity, and all other gifts which be pleasing to thee. Grant me thus to offer unto thee this Sacrifice of Praise and Thanksgiving in purity of body and cleanness of heart. For who can understand what a sorrow of heart and what a fountain of tears is needful? What reverence and fear, what chastity of body and purity of heart is required? And yet only thus should one draw near to assist at that divine and heavenly Sacrifice. For herein thy Flesh is eaten indeed and thy Blood is drunk indeed. For herein things beneath and things above, things earthly and things heavenly, are made one. For herein are thy holy Angels ever present. For herein in a wonderful and ineffable order thou hast constituted thyself to be both Sacrifice and Priest.

Tuesday

WHO can be worthy to offer this Sacrifice unless thou, Almighty God, dost make him worthily so to do? I know, O Lord, and know of a surety, and to thy goodness do I confess the same ; that I am not worthy to draw near to so great a Mystery, because of my grievous sins and my manifold negligences. But I know, and truly believe with all my heart, and confess with my mouth, that thou canst make me worthily so to do, who alone canst justify and sanctify sinners. O my God, I pray thee, by this thy almighty power, that thou wouldest vouchsafe to me a sinner worthily to take my part in this Sacrifice. And thereto endue me with fear and trembling, with purity of heart and a fountain of tears, with spiritual gladness and heavenly rejoicing. Grant that my soul may feel the sweetness of thy blessed Presence, and the guard of thy holy Angels round about me.

Wednesday

FOR I, O Lord, having in devout remembrance thy holy passion, draw near unto thy Altar. Although a sinner, I draw near thereto to take part in the Sacrifice which thou didst institute ; and which thou hast commanded us to offer unto thee in thy memory and for our salvation. I beseech thee, Almighty God, that thou wouldest receive the same for the benefit of thy holy Church, and the people which thou hast purchased with thine own Blood. And forasmuch as thou dost vouchsafe to place thy Priesthood upon sinful men ; and to give each Priest as a mediator between thee and the same thy people : I pray thee that wherever thou findest not the testimony of good works in them ; yet thou wouldest not make void the office and ministry which thou hast committed unto their charge : that the Price of their Redemption, for whom thou hast vouchsafed to offer thyself to be a perfect Oblation and Satisfaction, be not lost through any of our unworthinesses. And moreover, O Lord, I lift up before thee (if thou wilt vouchsafe to look favourably thereon) : the tribulations of all peoples and the perils of all nations ; the sighing of all prisoners and the sorrows of the fatherless ; the necessities of them that travel, the wants of the sick, the depression of the weary ; the failing powers of all the aged, the aspirations of all young men, the resolutions of all maidens, and the lamentations of all widows.

Thursday

FOR thou, O Lord, hast mercy upon all men and hatest nothing that thou hast made. Remember how frail is our nature, for thou art our Father, for thou art our God. Be not angry with us as we have deserved, and withdraw not thou thy mercy from us. For we do not present our supplications before thee because we are righteous, but rather because thou art compassionate. Take away from us our iniquities, and in thy mercy kindle in us the fire of thy Holy Spirit. Take away the stony heart from us, and give us an heart of flesh ; that we may love thee, cherish thee, delight in thee, follow thee, and enjoy thee. We beseech thee, O Lord, of thy mercy, to shew the light of thy countenance upon thy family performing this sacred office, to the honour of thy Name. And to the intent that their supplications be not in vain, nor their petitions of none effect, do thou put into our minds such prayers as it shall be well-pleasing unto thee to hear and to fulfil.

Friday

WE pray thee also, O Lord, holy Father, for the souls of the faithful departed : that this most comfortable Sacrament may be to them salvation, health, rejoicing, and refreshment. O Lord my God, grant unto them this day to feast abundantly on thee, the Living Bread ; who didst come down from heaven, and givest life unto the world. Grant them to eat thy Flesh, holy and blessed, who art the immaculate Lamb that takest away the sins of the world ; even the Flesh which thou didst take of the womb, holy and glorious, of the blessed Virgin Mary, by the operation of the Holy Ghost. Grant them to drink of that fountain of love which flowed from thy sacred side, pierced by the soldier's spear ; that being thereby refreshed and satisfied, restored and comforted, they may rejoice in giving praise and glory unto thee. I pray thee, O Lord, of thy mercy, that thou wouldest send upon the bread now to be offered unto thee, the fulness of thy blessing and the sanctifying powers of thy Godhead. Send down also, O Lord, the unseen and incomprehensible majesty of thy Holy Spirit, as once thou didst send the same upon the sacrifice of the fathers : that he may make our oblations to be indeed thy Body and Blood. And because I am so unworthy, teach me to approach this holy Mystery with purity of heart and with a devout sorrow for my sins, in reverence and in awe. So shalt thou lovingly and graciously accept this Sacrifice at my hands for the salvation of all men, both living and departed.

Saturday

I BESEECH thee also, O Lord, by this same sacred Mystery of thy Body and Blood ; whereby, in thy holy Church, we are daily given to eat and drink ; are washed and sanctified, and made partakers in thy one Almighty Godhead ; grant to me thy holy virtues, that being filled therewith, I may draw near unto thine Altar with a good conscience ; that so this heavenly Sacrament may be unto me life and salvation. For thou, who art ever holy and blessed, hast said : The Bread which I will give is my Flesh for the life of the world : I am the living Bread which came down from heaven : If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live for ever. C Bread of Sweetness, give healing to my taste, that I may perceive the delights of thy love. Deliver me from mine earthiness that I may find no sweetness in anything apart from thee. O Bread of purest whiteness, that containest all delights, and all pleasant savours! O thou who dost ever refresh us, and never failest! Grant that my heart may feed on thee, and that my inmost soul may be filled with the sweetness of thy savour. The Angels do feed upon thee with full mouth. Grant that I, a pilgrim and a sojourner, may feed on thee in such measure as I may. And thereby grant that I fail not in my journey, with such provision to stay me.

O BREAD, holy, pure, and living, who didst come down from heaven and givest life unto the world! Come into my heart, and cleanse me from all defilement both of flesh and of spirit. Enter into my person, and heal and cleanse me both inwardly and outwardly. Be the protection and abiding health of my body as well as of my soul. Drive far from me all the enemies that lie in wait for me. Grant that they may fly far off from the presence of thy power. Grant that being in all things defended by thee, I may walk in a straight way into thy Kingdom. For there we shall no more behold thee in a mystery as in this present time. But rather we shall see thee face to face, when thou shalt deliver up the kingdom to God the Father, and God shall be all in all. For on that day shalt thou satisfy me with a wondrous fulness, so that I shall no more hunger or thirst for ever, O Jesu. Who with the same God the Father and the Holy Spirit livest and reignest, world without end. Amen.

ANOTHER PRAYER OF ST. AMBROSE

MOST loving Lord Jesu Christ, I a sinner, trusting not in my own righteousness but in thy goodness and mercy, draw near to the Table of thy most comfortable feast, in fear and trembling. My heart and body are defiled by many sins ; my mind and tongue have not been guarded from evil. Therefore, O God of love, awful in thy majesty, in the straits of my misery I fly unto thee, the fountain of all mercy : I hasten unto thee for healing, I flee to thy protection : and since I dare not stand before thy judgement, I yearn to have thee for my Saviour. In thy sight, O Lord, I lay bare my bruises and uncover my shame. I know my sins to be many and grievous, and therefore I am afraid : I put my trust in thy mercies, for the sum of them cannot be numbered.

[Tuesday]

LOOK upon me, therefore, O Lord Jesu Christ, King eternal, God and Man, crucified for man, with the eyes of thy mercy. Hearken unto me, for I put my trust in thee : have mercy upon me, who am full of misery and sin, O thou unfailing fountain of mercy. Hail, saving Victim, offered for me and all mankind upon the shameful Cross. Hail, O noble and precious Blood, flowing from the wounds of Jesus Christ (my Lord who was crucified for me) to wash away the sins of the whole world. Remember, O Lord, thy creature, whom thou hast redeemed with thy Blood. I repent me of my sins, I desire to amend what I have done amiss. I beseech thee, therefore, most merciful Father, take away from me all my sins and iniquities ; that being purified both in body and soul, I may worthily receive these most holy Mysteries : and grant that as now in my unworthiness I purpose to be a partaker of thy Body and Blood, so I may thereby obtain remission of my sins, and full delivery from my guilt : that all evil thoughts may be banished from me, and all good affections be born again within me : that all such works as are pleasing to thee may effectually be accomplished in me : to my protection both in body and soul against all the assaults of my enemies. Amen.

[Wednesday]

THE PRAYER OF ST. THOMAS AQUINAS

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, behold I draw near to the Sacrament of thy only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. I draw near, sick to the Physician of life, foul to the fountain of mercy, blind to the light of eternal glory, poor and needy to the Lord of heaven and earth. I implore thee, therefore, that of the abundance of thine infinite mercy thou wouldest vouchsafe to heal my sickness ; to wash my foulness, to enlighten my blindness, to enrich my poverty, to clothe my nakedness : that so I may receive him, who is the Bread of Angels, King of kings and Lord of lords ; with all the reverence and humility, all the contrition and devotion, all the purity and faith, and with that due purpose and intention ; which shall be profitable for the salvation of my soul.

[Thursday]

GRANT, I pray thee, that I may not only receive the Sacrament of the Body and Blood of the Lord, but also the effect and operation of the same. Most gracious God, grant that I may so receive the Body of thy only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, taken by him of the Virgin Mary ; that I may be made incorporate in his mystical Body and numbered amongst his members. Vouchsafe, O most loving Father, that like as I now do purpose in this my pilgrimage to receive beneath a veil thy well-beloved Son ; so I may hereafter behold him face to face. Who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

[Friday]

FROM THE LITURGY OF ST. BASIL

O LORD, who knowest the hearts of all men, thou who art holy and hast thy rest amongst them that are holy ; thou who alone art without sins, and hast power to grant the remission of sins : thou, Lord, knowest my unworthiness, and that I am neither prepared nor disposed aright to draw near to this thy holy Mystery. And I have no confidence in myself that I should draw near and open my mouth in the presence of the holiness of thy glory. But according to the multitude of thy mercy, pardon me a sinner. And grant me that I may find grace and mercy in this hour. Send me strength from on high, that I may prepare, begin, and assist in this holy Mystery according to the pleasure of thy goodwill ; and in such wise as is pleasing unto thee. Therefore, Lord, be thou with us. Be partakers with us in this our work of worship, and so grant us thy blessing. For thou art the remission of our sins, the light of our souls, our life, our strength, and our confidence. Thou art he unto whom we lift up our praise, our glory, and our worship : Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, now and ever, world without end. Amen.

PROTESTATION OF INTENTION TO BE MADE BEFORE MASS

I INTEND to offer this Mass and the consecration of the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to the use, order, and discipline of the Holy Catholic Church ; to the honour of Almighty God and of all the Church triumphant ; to the benefit of myself and of all the Church militant and expectant ; and for all those who have commended themselves to my prayers both in general and in particular ; and for the good of the whole state of Christ's Church, Holy and Catholic. Amen.

THE almighty and merciful Lord grant unto us joy with peace, amendment of life, time for true repentance, the grace and comfort of the Holy Spirit, and perseverance in all good works unto the very end. Amen.

Who liveth and reigneth for ever. Amen.

ADDITIONAL PRAYERS OF THANKSGIVING

(The divisions into sections for daily use are not in the original.)

[Sunday]

THE PRAYER OF ST. THOMAS AQUINAS THE DOCTOR

I GIVE thee thanks, O Lord Holy, Father Almighty, Everlasting God : for that thou hast vouchsafed to feed me a sinner (through no merits of my own, but only by the infinite goodness of thy mercy) with the precious Body and Blood of thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. And I pray thee that this Holy Communion may not bring upon me guilt to increase my condemnation ; but may be an effectual intercession for my pardon and salvation. Let it be unto me the armour of faith and the shield of godly resolution. Let it be profitable unto me for deliverance from all manner of vices ; for the destruction of all concupiscence and wantonness ; for the increase of charity and patience, of holiness and obedience ; and for advancement in all manner of virtues.

[Monday]

LET this Holy Communion be my sure defence against all the assaults of my enemies seen and unseen ; let it be effectual for the subduing of all sinful motions both of my flesh and of my spirit ; that cleaving sted-fastly unto thee, the one true God, I may attain in the end unto perfect felicity. And I pray thee that thou wouldst vouchsafe to bring me a sinner, unto the unspeakable joys of that heavenly banquet ; where thou, with thy Son and the Holy Ghost, art to thy Saints true light and full contentment, everlasting joy, delight unfailing, and perfect happiness. Through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.

[Tuesday]

THE PRAYER OF ST. BONAVENTURE THE DOCTOR

(Paraphrased in interpretation of its mystical imagery)

SMITE me, Lord Jesu, with that sword which thou camest to send upon earth ; wherewith thou dost strike deep into the conscience of man, even into the very centre of our passions and desires. Wound me thus with the sword of thy grace, not to my hurt but to my healing and sweet comfort, O thou who art the Desire of all nations ; that all sinful passions may die in me, and that all things belonging to the Spirit may live and grow in me ; to the end that I may delight in thee, O Lord, and will what thou wilt and desire what thou desirest. Let the iron enter my soul and hold me fast ; in that true faithfulness and calm tranquillity which the grace of holy charity alone can impart ; even in that which was the strength of the Apostles, as it is the holiness of all thy Saints. Pierce me through and through with the flaming sword of thy love ; and burn and sear my soul in such wise that its concupiscence may languish and grow weak, consumed with the fever of divine love in yearning after thee alone ; that I may have a desire and longing to enter into thy courts, and thus be ever ready to depart, and to be with thee.

[Wednesday]

WOUND me, O Jesu, thou that camest not to send peace on earth but a sword ; and with that selfsame flaming sword of thy love, sear me in such wise that its burning may destroy the false appetites of my natural affections ; and thus cause me to know dire hunger and burning thirst after righteousness. O grant that my soul may hunger after thee, who art the Bread of Angels and the Refreshment of the souls of the Saints. Be thou each day our daily Bread, containing in itself all sweetness, and able to content every man's delight. Thou art he whose things the Angels desire to look into ! Be thou each day what my heart doth hunger for, that on thee it may always feed ; and that mine inmost soul may be filled with the savour of thy sweetness. O grant that my soul may thirst after thee, who art the Well of life and the Font of wisdom and knowledge. Be thou to me each day the Spring of everlasting light, the River of pleasures, the Plenteousness of the house of God.

[Thursday]

THOU who art the Desire of all nations, make me to delight in thee, O Lord, that thou mayest become my heart's desire. And to this end, give me grace ever to pay my vows unto thee, to seek for thee and find thee, to strive for thee and come to thee. May I in all things labour for the honour and glory of thy Name ; with humility and discretion, with love and delight, with readiness and devotion, with endurance unto the end. Be thou alone and evermore my hope and whole confidence, my riches and entire delight, my gladness and highest joy. Be thou alone and evermore my rest and calm repose, my peace and sweet content ; the very nutriment of existence and its refreshing drink, the good savour of living and its unfailing sweetness. Be thou alone and evermore my comfort and sure refuge, my wisdom and heart's desire ; my portion and chief possession, my sole and only treasure. Thus may my heart and soul be in such wise rooted and grounded in thee, that I may nevermore be separated from thee, in this world or in the world to come. Amen.

[Friday]

A PRAYER TO THE WOUNDS OF CHRIST

I PRAY thee, Lord Jesu, by thy sacred wounds, which thou didst suffer on the Cross for our salvation, (whence flowed thy precious Blood, whereby we have obtained our redemption) : wound this my sinful soul, for which thou hast vouchsafed even to suffer death, with the fiery dart of thy exceeding and unconquerable charity. Pierce my heart with the javelin of thy love, that my soul may say unto thee : I am sore smitten with thy love ; that so from the very wound of thy love my tears may flow without ceasing both day and night. Strike, O Lord, I beseech thee, this my stony heart with the mighty spear of thy gracious loving-kindness ; and pierce it to the inmost depth of thy mighty power. Who livest and reignest for ever and ever. Amen.

[Saturday]

ANOTHER PRAYER AFTER MASS

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, the Saviour of souls and Redeemer of the world ; look down of thy great clemency upon thy servant prostrate in spirit at the feet of thy majesty. And of thy goodness accept the Sacrifice which I have offered to the honour of thy Name for the salvation of all faithful people, both living and dead, and for my sins and offences. Deliver me, I pray thee, from thy wrath. Grant me thy grace and mercy. Open unto me the gate of paradise. By thy mighty arm deliver me from all evils. And whatsoever sins I have committed to my own condemnation do thou of thy mercy pardon. And grant that in this life I may so persevere stedfastly in thy commandments, that I may be made worthy to be numbered in the flock of thine elect. All this grant unto me, O my God, whose ever-blessed Name, honour, and kingdom endure to all ages, world without end. Amen.

OTHER PRAYERS TO BE USED AFTER MASS

EXCERPTS FROM THE PRAYERS OF ST. ALPHONSUS THE BISHOP

Sunday

MOST loving Jesu, my Redeemer and my God : I adore thee, who art present within me under the veils of bread and wine, wherein thou art made the meat and drink of my soul. O my God, I pray that thy coming to my soul may be ever blessed. And for this great benefit I give thee thanks from my inmost heart. And I lament that I cannot worthily give thanks unto thee. For how could a steward of low degree give worthy thanks, if his king should visit his hut ; save by casting himself down at his feet in silence to praise and honour such great condescension? Therefore, O heavenly King, Jesu beloved, I cast myself at thy feet and adore thee in my utter unworthiness. I unite my adoration to the adoration offered unto thee by the blessed Virgin Mary, when she received thee into her sacred womb. And with such love as she loved thee would I also honour thee.

My God and my all! Thou alone from henceforth shalt be my best good and my chief love. Grant that I may say unto thee, with thy blessed Saint Paulinus : Let the rich man keep his riches, and the king his crown ; my glory and my kingdom is Christ. Let the kings and the rich men of the earth enjoy their kingdoms and their riches : thou, O good Jesu, shalt alone be evermore my riches and my kingdom. O everlasting Father, by the love of this thy Son, whom I have this day offered unto thee, and received into my heart ; grant me, I pray thee, holy perseverance in thy grace, and the gift of thy holy love.

Monday

O INFINITE goodness and infinite love of God, that art given wholly unto me, and art become wholly mine! O my soul, gather together all thy affections, and in thy inmost self unite thyself to thy Lord! For he of his set purpose hath come unto thee, that he may be united unto thee, and be loved as he hath loved thee.

O loving Redeemer, I embrace thee who art my love and my life : I unite myself unto thee : despise not thou me. Though I have sinned against thee, thou dost command me to love thee, saying : Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart. My Lord, who am I that thou shouldst desire to be loved by me? Behold, thou hast vouchsafed to undergo death for my sake, and hast given me thy Flesh to eat. Whom have I in heaven but thee? And there is none upon earth that I desire in comparison of thee. God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever. In truth, O God, neither in heaven nor in earth can I find a greater good than thou, nor one who hath loved me more than thee. Thy kingdom come, O good Jesu. Take, I pray thee, this day the dominion of my whole heart, for I give it wholly unto thee. Do thou occupy it at all times and in all things, and drive far from it all affections which are not directed unto thee.

Tuesday

O LORD, how could I offend thee so often, knowing all the while how greatly I displease thee by my sins? I implore thee, by the merits of thy passion, pardon me, and bind me to thee by the bonds of thy love. Let not the foulness of my offences separate me from thee. Make me ever to know more and more thy goodness, and the love which I owe to thee, and the charity wherewith thou hast loved me.

O everlasting Father, I trust in the promises of thy Son who hath said : Verily, verily, I say unto you : Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my Name, he will give it you. Therefore I ask of thee, in the Name of Jesus Christ, holy perseverance, and grace to love thee with all my heart, in evermore doing perfectly thy will. O Jesu, thou hast been made a victim for my sake, that I might give myself unto thee, and sacrifice all my will to thee ; for thou sayest, My son, give me thine heart. Accept, O Lord, my heart and my soul, which I desire to bestow upon thee, and devote wholly unto thee. But thou, O Lord, knowest my weakness. Succour me, and suffer me never to turn away my will from thee to sin against thee. Like as thy Son, dying upon the Cross, was able to say, It is finished : so in the hour of my death may I be able to say from this day forth, I kept thy commandments.

Wednesday

O LORD Jesu, I see what great things thou hast wrought and suffered, that thou mightest constrain me to love thee ; and yet so often do I shew myself ungrateful to thee! How often do I barter thy grace for the sake of worthless delights and evil desires, and thereby lose thee, O God of my soul! To thy creatures how often have I given honour and gratitude for the benefits they have done to me. But to thee how often have I shewed myself all ungrateful. Pardon me, O my God! I bewail such sins of ingratitude, I repent thereof with all my heart, and I hope for thy pardon, for thou art infinite goodness. If thou wert not infinite goodness, I must needs despair, nor might I dare henceforth to implore thy mercy.

I know not how much of life remaineth to me ; but the residue of my life, whether it be short or long, I consecrate entirely unto thee. To this end hast thou waited for me unto this day. I desire indeed to please thee. I desire, O most loving Lord, ever to love thee. Thou hast said : I love them that love me. Behold, I love thee as much as I am now able to do. O be not angry with my boldness : do thou also love me, and suffer me to do nothing that may hinder thee from loving me. Grant that I may ever love thee, that thou mayest ever be able to love me. And so shall love continue ever more between us, nor ever henceforth be broken. Grant this, O Everlasting Father, by the love of Jesus Christ. Grant this, O dearest Jesu, by thy merits, whereby I hope evermore to be enabled to love thee, and to be loved of thee.

Thursday

O GOD of infinite majesty, behold at thy feet the traitor who hath sinned so grievously against thee. Many times hast thou had mercy on my sins. Nonetheless, spurning the benefits and the succour which thou hast granted me, I have wronged thee yet again. Others have sinned in darkness, but I in the light. But do thou hearken to the voice of this thy Son, whom but now I have offered unto thee, and who now is in my heart. Let him implore for me thy mercy and thy pardon. Spare me, O infinite goodness, for the love of Jesus Christ ; for I repent me with my whole heart that I have offended thee. I know that thou, for the love of Jesus Christ, art willing to have mercy upon sinners, for it is written : It pleased the Father by him to reconcile all things unto himself. By the love of Jesus Christ I pray thee therefore to have compassion also upon me. Cast me not away from thy presence, although this is what I deserve. Spare me and change my heart. Make me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.

Take back, O my God, to the love of thee, a sinner who heretofore hath sinned grievously against thee, but now desireth to love thee and to be thine. O eternal God, I hope to love thee to all eternity. And therefore in this life do I desire to love thee much, that I may attain to love thee much to all eternity. And because I love thee, I desire thee to be known and loved by all men ; and therefore, O Lord, grant that I may labour for thee and strive for the salvation of souls.

Friday

I NTO thy hands, O Lord, I commend my spirit ; for thou hast redeemed us, O Lord, thou God of truth. O divine Shepherd, thou didst come down from heaven to find me, a sheep that was lost. And for my sake thou hast laid down thy life for my salvation. Leave me not, for into thy hands I commend my soul. Receive it of thy mercy, and suffer me never to be separated from thee. For my sake thou hast shed all thy precious Blood. We therefore pray thee help thy servants whom thou hast redeemed with thy precious Blood. Lord, as yet art thou my Advocate, not my Judge. Win for me pardon before thy Father's throne. Obtain for me light and strength to love thee with all my soul. Grant me so to pass the residue of my life that, when I look upon thee as my Judge, I may find thee gracious towards me.

I pray thee, let thy love reign in my heart ; make me to be wholly thine. And therefore, O loving Saviour, make me ever mindful of the love wherewith thou hast loved me. Make me mindful of all that thou hast done and suffered that thou mightest love me and be loved by me. Make me lowly and patient in the toils of this life ; cheerful in humiliations, careless of earthly delights, and more detached from all love of creaturely things. Grant that I may cast out from my heart all affections that are not directed towards thee. All this I implore of thee, and hope by the merits of thy passion to receive the same. O Jesu most sweet, O Jesu beloved, O good Jesu, hear me.

Saturday

THOU, O Jesu, hast given thyself wholly unto me. Thou hast given thy Blood, thy life, thy agony and sweat, and all thy merits. I give myself wholly unto thee. I give all my joys, all the pleasures of this life, my body, my soul, and my will. I have no more to give thee. If I had more, I would give thee more. O sweetest Jesu, thou art sufficient for me. Yet grant, O Lord, that I may be faithful unto thee. Suffer me not to change my will and to abandon thee. I trust, O my Saviour, that by the merits of thy passion this may never befall me. Thou hast said : Who did ever put his trust in the Lord, and was ashamed? Therefore I too can say with all confidence : In thee, O Lord, have I trusted, let me never be confounded. O God of my soul, I trust, and desire always to trust, that I may never suffer the confusion of beholding myself separated from thee.

O my God, since thou art Almighty make me holy. Make me to love thee much. Make me to leave nothing undone that may abound to thy glory. Make me to conquer all things that I may please thee. Happy were I, could I love all things in such wise that I might find thee alone and thy love. To this end hast thou given me life. Grant that I may devote it wholly to the works of thy glory.

PRAYERS FOR GENERAL USE

AN ACT OF SELF OBLATION

Suscipe

ACCEPT, O Lord, my entire liberty, my memory, my understanding, and my will. All that I am and have thou hast given me ; and I give all back to thee to be disposed of according to thy good pleasure. Give me only the comfort of thy presence and the joy of thy love ; with these I shall be more than rich and shall desire nothing more.

A PRAYER TO OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST

I BESEECH thee, most dear Lord Jesu Christ, that thy passion may be my strength, to guard, protect, and defend me : that thy wounds may be my meat and drink, to feed, satisfy, and comfort me ; that thy Blood may be sprinkled upon me to the washing away of all my sins : that thy death may be unto me life unfailing, thy Cross my everlasting glory. Herein let me find refreshment, rejoicing, healing, and gladness of heart, O Jesu. Who livest and reignest for ever and ever.

Amen.

ASPIRATION TO THE MOST HOLY REDEEMER

PRAYERS TO THE SAINT IN WHOSE HONOUR MASS HAS BEEN SAID

O BLESSED Saint N., in whose honour I have this day offered the unbloody Sacrifice of the Body and Blood of Christ : help me, by thy mighty intercession before God, ever to increase in such understanding and use of this holy Mystery, that I may obtain the benefits of the Passion and Death of the same Christ our Saviour ; and that continually coming to the same holy Mystery, I may thereby grow in grace, until I attain unto the fulness of life eternal. Amen.

Anima Christi

SOUL of Christ, sanctify me.
Body of Christ, save me.
Blood of Christ, inebriate me.
Water from the side of Christ, wash me.
Passion of Christ, strengthen me.
O good Jesu, hear me.
Within thy wounds hide me.
Suffer me not to be separated from thee.
From the malicious enemy defend me.
In the hour of my death call me,
And bid me come to thee,
That with thy Saints I may praise thee
For ever and ever. Amen.

THE PROPER OF THE SEASON

FIRST SUNDAY IN ADVENT

Sunday of 1 Class, Semidouble

INTROIT. Ad te levavi. Ps. 25.

UNTUNTU thee, O Lord, will I lift up my soul : my God, I have put my trust in thee, O let me not be confounded : neither let mine enemies triumph over me : for all they that hope in thee shall not be ashamed. Ps. ibid. Shew me thy ways, O Lord : and teach me thy paths.

¶ Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Which ended, Unto thee, O Lord, will I lift up is repeated as far as the Psalm. And this manner of repeating the Introit is to be observed through the year.

§ Gloria in excelsis is not said in Masses of the Season from this Sunday up to the Vigil of the Nativity of the Lord, inclusive.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

ALMIGHTY God, give us grace that we may cast away the works of darkness, and put upon us the armour of light, now in the time of this mortal life, in which thy Son, Jesus Christ, came to visit us in grêat humility : that in the last day, when he shall come again in his glorious majesty to judge both the quick and the dêad ; we may rise to the life immortal.

[Prayer Book Ending: Through him who liveth and reigneth with thee ând the Holy Ghost, now and ever. R̃. Amen.]

Long Ending: Through the same Jesus Christ thy Son, our Lôrd. Who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever ône God, world without end. R̃. Amen.

¶ This Collect is to be repeated every day after the other Collects in Advent, until Christmas Day. [For an exposition of this Rubric, see the Liturgical Note in Seasonal Prayers, page A 200.]

COLLECT 2. Of St. Mary.

O GOD, who didst vouchsafe that thy Word should be made flesh in the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary at the message ôf an Angel : grant to us thy humble servânts ; that we, believing her to be indeed the Mother of God, may by her intercession find favour in thy sight. If it be said in the last place, it is ended as follows: Through the same Jesus Christ thy Son, our Lôrd. Who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever ône God, world without end. R̃. Amen.

COLLECT 3. For the Church.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, mercifully to hear the prayers of thy people : that being delivered from all adversities and all false doctrines, thy Church may serve thee in freedom and quietness. If it be said in the last place, it is ended: Through the same Jesus Christ thy Son, our Lôrd. Who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever ône God, world without end. R̃. Amen.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Romans.
Rom. 13. 8.

BRETHREN : Owe no man any thing, but to love one another : for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the Law. For this : Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet : and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely : Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. Love worketh no ill to his neighbour : therefore love is the fulfilling of the Law. And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep : for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed. The night is far spent, the day is at hand : let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day ; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

GRADUAL. Ps. 25. For all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed, O Lord. Ṽ. Make known to me thy ways, O Lord : and teach me thy paths.

On Ferias in Advent when during the week the Sunday Mass is resumed, Alleluia and its following verse is not said, but only the Gradual.

Alleluia, alleluia. Ṽ. Ps. 85. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord : and grant us thy salvation. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

AT that time : When they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives : then sent Jesus two disciples, saying unto them : Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her : loose them, and bring them unto me. And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say : The Lord hath need of them ; and straightway he will send them. All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying : Tell ye the daughter of Sion : Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass. And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon. And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way ; others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way. And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying : Hosanna to the Sôn of David ; Blessed is he that cometh in the Nâme of the Lord ; Hosanna in the highest. And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying : ‡ Whô is this? And the multitude said: This is Jesus the Prophet of Nazareth ôf Galilee. And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves, and said unto them : It is written : My house shall be called the house of prayer ; but ye have made it a dën of thieves.

The Creed is said on all Sundays through the year, whether occurring or anticipated, and also when its Office is postponed to the first unhindered day. But it is not said on Ferias when the Mass of the preceding Sunday is merely resumed.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 25. Unto thee, O Lord, will I lift up my soul : my God, I have put my trust in thee, O let me not be confounded : neither let mine enemies triumph over me : for all they that hope in thee shall not be ashamed.

SECRET.

GRANT, we beseech thee, O Lord, that the effectual power of these thy holy mysteries may in such wise cleanse us from all our iniquities that we may in all purity attain unto him who is the author of the same, even Jesus Christ, thy Son, our Lord. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

SECRET 2. Of St. Mary.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, stablish in our hearts the mysteries of thy true religion : that, as we do believe thy Son, conceived of a Virgin, to be very God and very man, so by the power of his resurrection we may be found worthy to attain to everlasting felicity. (Through the same.)

SECRET 3. For the Church.

DEFEND, O Lord, we pray thee, us thy servants : that we cleaving fast to things heavenly, may faithfully serve thee both in body and soul. Through.

The Preface of the Most Holy Trinity is said in this Mass. Likewise it is said in Sunday Masses through the year, even when the Mass is anticipated on Saturday, provided there be no proper Preface ordered by the Rubrics; but it is not said on Ferias, nor when the Sunday Mass is resumed on a week day, for then is said the common Preface unless some Commemoration be made which requires a proper Preface. But note that the Preface of the B.V.M. is never said in Masses of the Season during Advent.

COMMUNION. Ps. 86. The Lord shall shew loving-kindness : and our land shall give her increase.

POSTCOMMUNION.

GRANT to us, O Lord, wê beseech thee : so to wait for thy loving kindness in the midst of thy Templê, that in readiness of heart and mind we may hail the coming feast of our redemption. Through.

POSTCOMMUNION 2. Of St. Mary.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, pour thy grace into our hearts : that as we have known the incarnation of thy Son Jesus Christ by the message of an Angêl ; so by his cross and passion we may be brought to the glory of his resurrection.

(Through the same.)

POSTCOMMUNION 3. For the Church.

GRANT, we beseech thêe, O Lord our God : that we whom thou hast made partakers of heavenly gladness, may by thee be defended from all earthly perils. Through.

Then is said Let us bless the Lord, which shall always be done when the Gloria in excelsis is not appointed to be said; otherwise is said Depart in peace.

§ Through the year, if during the week Mass is to be said of the Feria, the Mass of the preceding Sunday is resumed unless there be a proper Mass. And likewise, when the Rubrics order a Commemoration to be made of a Feria which has no proper Mass, the Collects of the preceding Sunday are used.

§ From the I Sunday in Advent to December 23 inclusive, when the Collects assigned for the different seasons (to wit, those given above for the B.V.M., etc.) are ordered to be said, the second Collect will be of the B.V.M., and the third that for the Church, as given above, if the Latin Rubrics be followed. But if the Prayer-Book Rubrics be followed, after the first week in Advent, the second Collect will be of the I Sunday in Advent, and the third Collect that of the B.V.M. However, in Masses of the B.V.M. or in those in which she is commemorated, and likewise in a Votive Mass of All Saints, in place of the Collect of the B.V.M. is said the Collect of the Holy Spirit, as given in the Votive Masses of the B.V.M.

§ In Advent, in Lent (from Ash Wednesday up to Saturday after Passion Sunday inclusive), on Ember Days, on Vigils, and on the days of the greater and the lesser Litanies, when Mass is said of any Festival, or when a Votive Mass is said, a Commemoration of the Feria is always made unless it be a Conventual or a sung Mass in a place where there is also another Conventual or sung Mass of the Feria: otherwise the Feria must be commemorated even in a Conventual or a sung Mass. The same rule is observed on all Vigils, excepting when on a common Vigil, a Double of the I Class is kept, or when a Votive Mass is celebrated for an important matter of public intention, in which case there is no Commemoration of the said Vigil.

SECOND SUNDAY IN ADVENT

Sunday of II Class, Semidouble

*Station at St. Cross in Jerusalem. Collect 1549.
Gospel Sarum.*

INTROIT. Populus Sion. Isa. 30.

O PEOPLE of Sion, behold, the Lord is nigh at hand to redeem the nations : and in the gladness of your heart the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard. Ps. 80. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel : thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep. V. Glory be.

COLLECT.

BLESSED LORD, who hast caused all holy Scriptures to be written for our learning : grant that we may in such wise hear them, read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest them ; that, by patience, and comfort of thy holy Word, we may embrace and ever hold fast the blessed hope of everlasting life, which thou hast given us in our Saviour Jesus Christ. [Who liveth and reigneth with thee.]

COLLECT 2 of Advent; 3 of St. Mary.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Romans.
Rom. 15. 4.

BRETHREN: Whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning : that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope. Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be like-minded one towards another according to Christ Jesus : that ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us to the glory of God. Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers : and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy ; as it is written : For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy Name. And again he saith : Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people. And again : Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles : and laud him, all ye people. And again : Esaias saith : There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles ; in him shall the Gentiles trust. Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing : that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

GRADUAL. Ps. 50. Out of Sion hath God appeared : in perfect beauty. V. Gather my saints together unto me : those that have made a covenant with me with sacrifice.

The following Alleluia with its verse is said on Sunday only, i.e., it is omitted on Ferias in Advent.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 122. I was glad when they said unto me : we will go into the house of the Lord. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to Luke.

St. Luke 21. 25.

AT that time ; Jesus said unto his disciples : And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars ; and upon the earth distress of nations, with pèplexity ; the sea and the waves roaring ; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth : for the powers of heaven shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads : for your redemption draweth nigh. And he spake to them a parable : Behold the fig tree, and all the trees ; when they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand. So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand. Verily I say unto you : This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled. Heaven and earth shall pass away : but my words shall not pass away. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 85. Wilt thou not turn again, O God, and quicken us, that thy people may rejoice in thee : shew us thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us thy salvation.

SECRET.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, mercifully to accept the prayers and oblations of us thy humble servants : that we, who can do nothing of ourselves to help ourselves, may be defended by the succour of thy grace. Through.

SECRET 2 of Advent; 3 of St. Mary.

PREFACE of the Most Holy Trinity.

COMMUNION. Baruch 4 and 5. Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand on high, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from thy God.

POSTCOMMUNION.

OR Lord, who hast vouchsafed to satisfy us with heavenly sustenance : we humbly beseech thee ; that we, whom thou hast made partakers of thy holy mysteries, may learn therein to despise all things earthly, and to cleave steadfastly unto all things heavenly. Through.

POSTCOMMUNION 2 of Advent; 3 of St. Mary.

THIRD SUNDAY IN ADVENT

Sunday of II Class, Semidouble

*Station at St. Peter's. Collect 1662.
Epistle & Gospel Sarum.*

INTROIT. Gaudete. Phil. 4.

REJOICE in the Lord alway : and again I say, Rejoice : let your moderation be known unto all men : the Lord is at hand. Be careful for nothing : but in every thing, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God. Psalms 85. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land : thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. V. Glory be.

COLLECT.

OR Lord JESUS CHRIST, who at thy first coming didst send thy messenger to prepare thy way before thee : grant that the ministers and stewards of thy mysteries may likewise so prepare and make ready thy way, by turning the hearts of the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, that at thy second coming to judge the world we may be found an acceptable people in thy sight. Who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Spirit ever, one God, world without end.

COLLECT 2 of Advent; 3 of St. Mary.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.
I Cor. 4. 1.

BRETHREN : Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgement : yea, I judge not mine own self. For I know nothing against myself ; yet am I not hereby justified : but he that judgeth me is the Lord. Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts : and then shall every man have praise of God.

GRADUAL. Psalms 80. Shew thyself, O Lord, thou that sittest upon the Cherubims, stir up thy strength and come. V. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel : thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep.

The following Alleluia with its verse is said on Sundays only, i.e., it is omitted on Ferias in Advent.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℟. Stir up thy strength, O Lord : and come and help us. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

AT that time : [Now] When John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples, and said unto him : Art thou he that should come, † or do we look for another? Jesus answered and said unto them : Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see : the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the Gospel prêachèd to them ; and blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me. And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John : † What went ye out into the wildernêss to see? † a reed shaken with the wind? † But what went ye out fôr to see? † But what went ye out fôr to see? † a man clothed in sôft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses. † But what went ye out fôr to see? † â prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more thàn a prophet. For this is he, of whom it is written : Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. The Creed is said.

IN those days : The Lord spake unto Ahaz, saying : Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God ; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above. St. Luke 1. 26.

AT that time : The Angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a Virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David ; and the Virgin's nâme was Mary. And the Angel came in unto her, and said : Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee : blessed art thou among women. And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. And the Angel said unto her : Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found fâvour with God. And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a Son, and shalt call his Name JESUS. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest ; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his fâther David. And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever ; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. Then said Mary unto the Angel : How shall this be, ‡ seeing I know nôt a man? And the Angel answered and said unto her : The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall ovêrshadow thee. Therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called thê Son of God. And, behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age ; and this is the sixth month with her, who was called barren : for with God nothing shall be impossible. And Mary said : Behold the handmaid of the Lord ; be it unto me accôrding to thy word.

I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight : I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron. And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I, the Lord, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel. For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name : I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me. IN those days : The Angel of the Lord came down into the oven together with Azarias and his fellows : and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven, and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind. And the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits : and it passed through, and burned those Chaldeans it found about the furnace. Here Thanks be to God is not said.

Let no man deceive you by any means : for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition ; who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped ; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God. Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, † I told you these things? And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time. For the mystery of iniquity doth already work : only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way. And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming.

WHEN as Mary the mother of Jesus was espoused to Joseph, before they came together she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily. But while he thought on these things, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying : Joseph thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife : for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a Son : and thou shalt call his Name Jesus : for he shall save his people from their sins. If it be a Sunday, the Creed is said.

THE NATIVITY OF OUR LORD

Commonly Called Christmas Day

Double of I Class with privileged Octave 3

§ The Priest, when on the Nativity of our Lord he celebrates three Masses, shall not take the Ablutions at the first and second Mass, but at the third only: and at the first and second he shall wash his fingers in some clean vessel, as explained in the Rubric for All Souls' Day, given at the beginning of MASSES FOR THE DEAD, page H 1.

AT THE FIRST MASS: OF MIDNIGHT

THE Lord said unto me : Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. Ps. ibid. Why do the heathen so furiously rage together : and why do the people imagine a vain thing ? V. Glory be.

COLLECT.

¶ If in any Church the Holy Communion be twice celebrated on Christmas Day, the following Collect, Epistle and Gospel may be used at the first Communion. [But note the alternate Collect below.]

O GOD, who makest us glad with the yearly remembrance of the Birth of thine only Son Jesus Christ : grant that as we joyfully receive him for our Redeemër, so we may with sure confidence behold him when he shall come to be our Judge. Who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, ône God, world without end.

[Anciently the Collect of the Vigil, given in the Prayer-Book as above, was not used, but rather the following:]

COLLECT.

O GOD, who hast enlightened this most holy night with the beams ôf thy one true light : grant, we beseech thêe ; that we, who have known the mystery of his light on earth, may also attain to the fruition of his joys in heaven. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.]

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to Titus.

Titus 2. 11.

DEARLY beloved : The grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world, looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ : who gave himself for us : that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people zealous of good works. These things speak ; and exhort and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

GRADUAL. Ps. 110. In the day of thy power shall the people offer thee free-will offerings with an holy worship : the dew of thy Birth is of the womb of the morning. V. The Lord said unto my Lord : Sit thou on my right hand until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 2. The Lord said unto me : Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to Luke.

St. Luke 2. 1.

AND it came to pass in those days ; That there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world shôuld be taxèd. And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governour of Syria : and all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem : because he was of the house and lineage of David : to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be dêliverèd. And she brought forth her firstborn Son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger : because there was no room for thê in the inn. And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over thêir flock by night. And, lo, the Angel of the Lord came upon them : and the glory of the Lord shone round about them : and they wêre sore afraid. And the Angel said unto them : Fear not : for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be tô all people ; for unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you : Ye shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying : Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, gôod will toward men. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 96. Let the heavens rejoice and let the earth be glad before the Lord : for he is come.

SECRET.

GRANT, O Lord, we pray thee, that the offerings, which on this day's festival we present unto thee, may be acceptable in thy sight : that by thy bounteous goodness vouchsafed unto us in this holy Communion, we may be found in the likeness of him in whom our substance is united unto thee : And who liveth and reigneth with thee.

Titus 3. 4.

DEARLY beloved : The kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man hath appeared : not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost, which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour : that being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life : in Christ Jesus our Lord.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them bŷ the shepherds. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered thê in her heart. OF OUR LORD

INTROIT. Puer natus est. Is. 9.

UNTO us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given : and the government shall be upon his shoulder : and his Name shall be called, Angel of mighty counsel. Ps. 98. O sing unto the Lord a new song : for he hath done marvellous things. ℟. Glory be.

Through the same our Lord, Jesus Christ. Who liveth and reigneth with thee and the same Spirit ever, one God, world without end.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews.

GOD, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the Prophets : hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds : who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the majesty on high ; being made so much better than the Angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they. For unto which of the Angels said he at any time : Thou art my Son, ‡ this day have I begotten thee? And again : I will be to him a Father, ‡ and he shall be to me a Son? And again, when he bringeth in the first-begotten into the world, he saith : And let all the Angels of God worship him. And of the Angels he saith : Who maketh his Angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire. But unto the Son he saith : Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever ; a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom : thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity : therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows. And : Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth ; and the heavens are the works of thine hands : they shall perish, but thou remainest : and they all shall wax old as doth a garment : and as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed ; but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

GRADUAL. Ps. 98. All the ends of the world have seen the salvation of our God : O be joyful in God, all ye lands. ℟. The Lord hath declared his salvation : in the sight of the heathen his righteousness hath he openly shewed.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℟. A hallowed day hath dawned upon us : come, all ye nations, and worship the Lord : for on this day a great light hath descended upon the earth. Alleluia.

✠ The Beginning of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to John. St. John I. I.

IN the beginning was the Word; and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing mâde that was made. In him was life, and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not. There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the light, that all men through him might believe. He was not that light, but was sent to bear witness of that light. That was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not. He came unto his own, and his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his Name: which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. (On this day here the Priest and his Ministers kneel.) And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the Only-begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 89. The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the round world, and all that therein is: righteousness and equity are the habitation of thy seat.

IN those days : Stephen, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, and said : Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of Man standing on the right hand of God. Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord : and cast him out of the city, and stoned him : and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul. And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying : Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down and cried with a loud voice : Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. Verily I say unto you : All these things shall come upon this génération. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee ; how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not ! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. THAT which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled of the word of life ; (for the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us ; ) that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us ; and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son, Jesus Christ. And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full. This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you : That God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth ; but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

AT that time : The Angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying : Arise, and take the young Child, and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word ; for Herod will seek the young Child to destroy him. When he arose, he took the young Child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt, and was there until the death of Herod ; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying : Out of Egypt have I called my Son. Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth ; and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men. INTROIT. Dum medium. Wisdom 18.

WHEN all things were in quiet silence and night was in the midst of her swift course, thine almighty Word, O Lord, leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne. Ps. 93. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel : the Lord hath put on his apparel and girded himself with strength. ℟. Glory be.

COLLECT OF THE SUNDAY.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, vouchsafe, we beseech thee, to govern us in all our doings in the way of thy good pleasure : that we, faithfully serving thee in the Name of thy well-beloved Sôn, may worthily abound in all good works. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

COLLECT OF CHRISTMAS DAY.

ALMIGHTY God, who hast given us thy only-begotten Son to take our nature upon him, and as at this time to be born ôf a pure Virgin : grant that we, being regenerate, and made thy children by adoption and grâce, may daily be renewed by thy Holy Spirit. Through the same our Lord Jesus Christ. Who liveth and reigneth with thee and the same Spirit ever, ône God, world without end.

BRETHREN : Now I say, that the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all : but is under tutors and governours, until the time appointed of the father. Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world : but when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the Law, to redeem them that were under the Law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying : Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son : and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

St. Matt. 1. 18.

THE birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise ; When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together she was found with child of thê Holy Ghost. Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily. But while he thought on these things, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared unto him in ■ dream, saying : Joseph thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife : for that which is conceived in her is of thê Holy Ghost ; and she shall bring forth a Son, and thou shalt call his Name JESUS : for he shall save his peoplê from their sins. (Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying : Behold, a Virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a Son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us.) Then Joseph, being raised from sleep, did as the Angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife : and knew her not till she had brought forth her first born son : and he called his Năme JESUS. The Creed is said.

And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron. 2 St. Tim. 4. 1.

DEARLY beloved : I charge thee therefore before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom ; preach the word : be instant in season, out of season : reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine ; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers having itching ears : and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables. But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry. For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day : and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

BRETHREN : For this cause, I Paul, the prisoner of Jesus Christ for you Gentiles ; if ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is given me to you-ward, how that by revelation he made known unto me the mystery, (as I wrote afore in few words, whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ) which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy Apostles and Prophets by the Spirit ; that the Gentiles should be fellow-heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ, by the Gospel : whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power. Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ ; and to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ. St. Matt. 2. 1.

WHEN Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea, in the days of Herod the king ; behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying : ‡ Where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the east : and are come to worship him. When Herod the king had heard these things : he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them, where Christ should be born. And they said unto him : In Bethlehem of Judaea : for thus it is written by the Prophet : And thou, Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda ; for out of thee shall come a Governour that shall rule my people Israel. Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said : Go, and search diligently for the young Child : and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also. When they had heard the king, they departed ; and lo, the star which they saw in the east went before them, till it came and stood over where the young Child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young Child with Mary his mother (here genuflect), and fell down and worshipped him. And when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts, gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod : they departed into their own country another way. The Creed is said.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Romans.

I BESEECH you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world : but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God. For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think : but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith. For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office : so we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another : [in Christ Jesus our Lord.]

GRADUAL. Ps. 72. Blessed be the Lord God, even the God of Israel : which only doeth wondrous things. V. The mountains also shall bring peace : and the little hills righteousness unto the people.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Luke.

St. Luke 2. 41.

NOW the parents of Jesus went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover. And when Jesus was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem, after the custom of the feast. And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the Child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem. And Joseph and his mother knew not of it. But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey : and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance. And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalẽm, seeking him. And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers. And when they saw him, they were amazed ; and his mother said unto him : Son, ‡ why hast thou thus dealt with us? Behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing. And he said unto them : ‡ How is it that ye sought me? ‡ Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them. And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them : but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart. And Jesus increased in wisdom, and stature, and in favour with God and man. The Creed is said.

✠ The Beginning of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Mark.

St. Mark I. I.

THE beginning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God ; as it is written in the Prophets ; Behold I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. The voice of one crying in the wilderness : Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight ; John did baptize in the wilderness and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins. And there went out unto him all the land of Judaea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins. And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins ; and he did eat locusts and wild honey ; and preached, saying : There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose. I indeed have baptized you with water, but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost. And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan. And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit, like a dove, descending upon him ; and there came a voice from heaven, saying : Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. The Creed is said.

Whosoever therefore resisteth the power resisteth the ordinance of God. And they that resist shall receive to themselves condemnation. For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. ‡ Wilt thou then not be afraid of thê power? Do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same. For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid, for he beareth not the sword in vain. For he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil. Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake. For for this cause pay ye tribute also, for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying : I will, be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed. And Jesus saith unto him : See thou tell no man, but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded for a testimony unto them. And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion beseeching him, and saying : Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. And Jesus saith unto him : I will come and heal him. The centurion answered and said : Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof : but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me. And I say unto this man : Go, and he goeth ; and to another : Come, and he cometh ; and to my servant : Do this ; and he doeth it. When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed : Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no not in Israel. And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven ; but the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. And Jesus said unto the centurion : Go thy way, and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. the blade was sprung up, and brought said : Nay ; lest while ye gather up the tares : ye root up also the wheat

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed John the Apostle.

1. St. John 3. 1.

DEARLY beloved : Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God : therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not. Beloved, now are we the sons of God : and it doth not yet appear what we shall be. But we know, that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him : for we shall see him as he is. And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as he is pure. Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law : for sin is the transgression of the law. And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins : and in him is no sin. Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not : whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him. Little children, let no man deceive you. He that doeth righteousness is

Behold, I have told you before. Wherefore, if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert : go not forth. Behold, he is in the secret chambers : believe it not. For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west, so shall also the coming of the Sôn of Man be. For wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together. Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light : and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. And then shall appear the sign of the Son of Man in heaven, and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn. And they shall see the Son of Man coming in the clouds of heaven, with power and great glory. The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians. 1 Cor. 9. 24.

BRETHREN : Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, ‡ but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain. And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown ; but we an incorruptible. I therefore so run, not as uncertainly ; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air : but I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection : lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway.

GRADUAL. Ps. 9. The Lord will be a refuge in the time of trouble : and they that know thy Name will put their trust in thee : for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee. V. For the poor shall not always be forgotten : the patient abiding of the meek shall not perish for ever : up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand.

TRACT. Ps. 130. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord : Lord, hear my voice. V. O let thine ears consider well : the voice of my complaint. V. If thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss : O Lord, who may abide it? V. For there is mercy with thee : therefore shalt thou be feared.

St. Matt. 20. 1.

AT that time ; Jesus spake this parable unto his disciples : The kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers intô his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them intô his vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace, and said unto them : Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them : ‡ Why stand ye here all the dây idle? They say unto him : Because no man hâth hirèd us. He saith unto them : Go ye also into the vineyard ; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward : Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last ûnto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every mân a penny. But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more ; and they likewise received every mân a penny. And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house, saying : These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and hêat of the day. But he answered one of them, and said : Friend, I do thee no wrong : ‡ didst not thou agree with me for â penny? Take that thine is, and go thy way : I will give unto this last, even âs unto thee. ‡ Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, ‡ because I am good? So the last shall be first, and the first last : for many be cälled, but few chosen. The Creed is said.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians. 2 Cor. II. 19.

BRETHREN : Ye suffer fools gladly : seeing ye yourselves are wise. For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face. I speak as concerning reproach, as though we had been weak. Howbeit whereinsoever any is bold (I speak foolishly), I am bold also. ‡ Are they Hebrews? so am I. ‡ Are they Israelites? so am I. ‡ Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I. ‡ Are they ministêrs of Christ? (I speak as a fool) I am more ; in labours more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft. Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one. Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep ; in journeyings often ; in perils of waters ; in perils of robbers ; in perils by mine own countrymen ; in perils by the heathen ; in perils in the city ; in perils in the wilderness ; in perils in the sea ; in perils among false brethren ; in weariness and painfulness ; in watchings often ; in hunger and thirst ; in fastings often ; in cold and nakedness. Beside those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches. Who is weak, ‡ and I am not weak? who is offended, ‡ and I burn not? If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities. The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.

GRADUAL. Ps. 83. Let the heathen know that thou, whose Name is Jehovah : art only the Most Highest over all the earth. V. O my God, make them like unto a wheel : and as the stubble before the wind.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to Luke. St. Luke 8. 4.

AT that time : When much people were gathered together, and were come to Jesus out of every city, he spake by a parable : A sower went out to sow his seed : and as he sowed, some fell by the way side ; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air dêvourèd it. And some fell upon a rock ; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lâckèd moisture. And some fell among thorns ; and the thorns sprang up with it, ând choked it. And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit ân hundredfold. And when he had said these things, he cried : He that hath ears to hêar, let him hear. And his disciples asked him, saying : ‡ What might this parâble be? And he said : Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God : but to others in parables ; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might nôt understand. Now the parable is this : The seed is thê word of God. Those by the way side âre they that hear ; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe ând be savèd. They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive thê word with joy ; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away. And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit tô perfection. But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 17. O hold thou up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not : incline thine ear to me, and hearken unto my words : shew thy marvellous loving-kindness, O Lord, thou that art the Saviour of them which put their trust in thee.

QUINQUAGESIMA SUNDAY

The Sunday next before Lent

INTROIT. Esto mihi. Ps. 31.

BE thou my strong rock, and house of defence, that thou mayest save me : for thou art my strong rock, and my castle : be thou also my guide, and lead me for thy Name's sake. Ps. ibid. In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust, let me never be put to confusion : but rid me and deliver me in thy righteousness. ℣. Glory be.

COLLECT.

O LORD, who hast taught us that all our doings without charity are nothing worth : send thy Holy Ghost, and pour into our hearts that most excellent gift of charity, the very bond of peace and of all virtues, without which whosoever liveth is counted dead before thee. Grant this for thine only Son Jesus Christ's sake. [Long Ending: Who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the same Holy Ghost, ever . . . .]

Seasonal Prayers as on Septuagesima Sunday.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

I Cor. 13. 1.

BRETHREN . Though I speak with the tongues of men and of Angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge : and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing. Charity suffereth long, and is kind : charity envieth not, charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth : beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. Charity never faileth : but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail ; whether there be tongues, they shall cease ; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away. * For we know in part, and we prophesy in part. But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child : but when I became a man, I put away childish things. For now we see through a glass, darkly : but then face to face. Now I know in part ; but then shall I know even as also I am known. And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three ; but the greatest of these is charity.

GRADUAL. Ps. 77. Thou art the God, that doeth wonders : and hast declared thy power among the people. V. Thou hast mightily delivered thy people : even the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

The following Tract is said on Sundays only.

TRACT. Ps. 100. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands : serve the Lord with gladness. V. Come before his presence with a song : be ye sure that the Lord, he is God. V. It is he that hath made us and not we ourselves : we are his people and the sheep of his pasture.

St. Luke 18. 31.

AT that time : [Then] Jesus took unto him the twelve, and said unto them : Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the Prophets concerning the Son of Man shall be accomplished. For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on ; and they shall scourge him, and put him to death : and the third day he shall rise again. And they understood none of these things : and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken. And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging : and hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant. And they told him : that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. And he cried, saying : Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me. And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace ; but he cried so much the more : Thou Son of David, have mercy on me. And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him : and when he was come near, he asked him, saying : ‡ What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said : Lord, that I may receive my sight. And Jesus said unto him : Receive thy sight : thy faith hath saved thee. And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God ; and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 119. Blessed art thou, O Lord, O teach me thy statutes : with my lips have I been telling of all the judgements of thy mouth.

SECRET.

THE FIRST DAY OF LENT

Commonly Called Ash Wednesday

Privileged Feria of I Class

Before Mass shall be blessed ashes made of branches of olive or other trees blessed in the year foregoing; and the blessing shall be done in this manner:

§ The Office being said, the Priest, wearing a violet Cope, or without a Chasuble (the Ministers being vested in like manner), shall go to bless the ashes, which shall be set in a vessel on the Altar. And first the Choir shall sing the Antiphon following.

Ps. 69

HEAR me, O Lord, for thy loving-kindness is comfortable : turn thee unto me according to the multitude of thy mercies.

Ps. ibid. Save me, O God, for the waters are come in even unto my soul.

℣. Glory be.

Then shall be repeated the Antiphon
Hear me.

Then the Priest, standing at the Epistle corner without turning to the People, and with hands joined (which shall be observed in like manner in the prayers appointed for all blessings) shall say:

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

PRAYER.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, we beseech thee to spare them that are penitent, and to be favourable to them that call upon thee. Vouchsafe, we pray thee, to send thy holy Angel from heaven to bless and sanctify these ashes, that they may be a wholesome medicine to all them that humbly call upon thy holy Name, who in their consciences by sin are accused, who in the sight of thy heavenly mercy bewail their sins, and earnestly and meekly implore thy gracious loving-kindness. And we beseech thee to grant to all them that call upon thy holy Name, that being sprinkled with these ashes for the remission of their sins, they may be preserved evermore both in body and soul. Through Christ our Lord. R̃. Amen.

Let us pray.

O GOD, who wouldest not the death of a sinner, but rather that he should turn from his wickedness and live : we beseech thee to have compassion on the frailty of our mortal nature, and of thy goodness to bless these ashes now to be set upon our heads for a token of humility and for the remission of our sins : that we, acknowledging ourselves to be but dust and ashes, and that by reason of our vileness we must return unto the same, may of thy mercy be found worthy to obtain the pardon of our offences and the reward that thou dost promise to them that are penitent. Through Christ our Lord. R̃. Amen.

Let us pray.

O GOD, who turnest unto them that abase themselves and art favourable unto them that offer atonement : incline thy merciful ear unto our prayers ; and of thy pity pour forth upon the heads of thy servants now sprinkled with these ashes the grace of thy heavenly benediction : that they being filled with the spirit of true repentance may effectually obtain those things that they have asked according to thy will. And we beseech thee to ordain that we, being stablished in these thy blessings, may cleave unto the same to life everlasting. Through Christ our Lord. R̃. Amen.

Let us pray.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who upon the people of Nineveh, repenting in dust and ashes, didst bestow the healing of thy loving-kindness : mercifully grant, that we, who now do imitate them in outward fashion, may be made like unto them in the obtaining of thy pardon. Through.

§ Then shall the Priest, setting incense in the censer, sprinkle the ashes thrice with holy water, saying the Antiphon Thou shalt purge, without singing and not saying the Psalm; and he shall cense them thrice.

Thereafter the first of the Priests that are present shall draw near to the Altar and set ashes on the head of the Celebrant, who shall not genuflect. But if none be present, the Celebrant himself, kneeling afore the Altar, shall set ashes on his own head, saying nothing. And forthwith the Choir shall sing the Antiphon.

Joel 2. Let us change our raiment for sackcloth and ashes : let us fast and mourn before the Lord : for our God is merciful to forgive us our sins.

Another Antiphon. Ibid. Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say : Spare, O Lord, spare thy people, and shut not up, O Lord, the mouths of them that praise thee.

Then shall follow this Respond.

Esther 13. Joel 2. Let us amend the sins that in our ignorance we have committed : lest the day of death come upon us suddenly, and we find no place for repentance though we seek it. * Hear, Lord, and have mercy, for we have sinned against thee.

℣. Ps. 79. Help us, O God of our salvation : for the glory of thy Name deliver us, O Lord. Hear, Lord.

℣. Glory be. Hear, Lord.

§ And the Priest, while the Antiphon and Respond are in singing, with his head uncovered, shall first set ashes on the head of the first of the Priests from whom he received them, and then upon the Ministers being vested and kneeling afore the Altar. And he shall say:

Genesis 3. Remember, O man, that dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return.

§ Then shall the rest draw near, first the Bishops, Priests and Deacons, according to their order, and after that the People; and all, meekly kneeling before the Altar, shall receive the ashes from the Priest after the manner appointed for the Ministers. And when all the ashes have been delivered, the Priest shall say:

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

GRANT, we beseech thee, O Lord, that we, who now with prayer and fasting do put upon us the armour of our Christian warfare, being defended by the power of abstinence, may fight manfully against all spiritual wickedness. Through Christ our Lord. ℟. Amen.

The LESSON from Joel the Prophet.
Joel 2. 12.

TURN ye even unto me, saith the Lord, with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning. And rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God : for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil. Who knoweth if he will return, and repent, and leave a blessing behind him, ‡ even a meat-offering and a drink-offering unto the L  rd your God? Blow the trumpet in Sion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children, and those that suck the breast : let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet. Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say : Spare thy people, O Lord, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them. Wherefore should they say among the people : Where is their God?

(Here genuflect.) Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy Name, O Lord : O deliver us and be merciful unto our sins, for thy Name's sake.

   The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

St. Matt. 6. 16.

AT that time ; Jesus said unto his disciples : When ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance : for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unt   men to fast. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward. But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face, that thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father, which seeth in secret ; and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves brêak through and steal ; but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not brêak through and steal. For where your treasure is, there will your hêart be also.

COLLECT.

O GOD, who art wroth with them that sin against thee, and sparest them that are penitent : we beseech thee to hear the prayers of thy people that call upon thee ; that we, which have most justly deserved the scourges of thine anger, may by thy great mercy be delivered from the same. Through.

The LESSON from Isaiah the Prophet.

IN those days : Hezekiah was sick unto death. And Isaiah the Prophet the son of Amoz came unto him, and said unto him : Thus saith the Lord : Set thine house in order : for thou shalt die, and not live. Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed unto the Lord, and said : Remember now, O Lord, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore. Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying : Go, and say to Hezekiah : Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father : I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears : behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years. And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria : and I will defend this city, saith the Lord Almighty.

St. Matt. 8. 5.

AT that time : When Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, and saying : Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. And Jesus saith unto him : I will come and heal him. The centurion answered and said : Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof : but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me ; and I say to this man : Go, and he goeth ; and to another : Come, and he cometh ; and to my servant : Do this, and he doeth it. When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed : Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israël. And I say unto you : That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven. But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness ; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. And Jesus said unto the centurion : Go thy way ; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour.

THUS saith the Lord God : Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins. Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God : they ask of me the ordinances of justice ; they take delight in approaching to God. Wherefore have we fasted, say they, ‡ and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, ‡ and thou takest nô knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast ye find pleasure, and exact all your labours. Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness : ye shall not fast as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high. ‡ Is it such a fast that I have chosen? ‡ a day for a man to afflict his soul? is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, ‡ and to spread sackcloth and ashes ûnder him? wilt thou call this a fast, ‡ and an acceptable day tō the Lord? ‡ Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, ‡ and that ye break êvery yoke? Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, ‡ and that thou bring the poor that are cast out tō thy house? when thou seest the naked, ‡ that thou cōver him ; ‡ and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh? Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily : and thy righteousness shall go before thee ; the glory of the Lord shall be thy rearward. Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer ; thou shalt cry, and he shall say : Here I am. For I, the Lord thy God, am merciful.

But I say unto you : Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and pēsecute you ; that ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven ; for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and òn the unjust. For if ye love them which love you, ‡ what rewârd have ye? ‡ do not even the publicâns the same? And if ye salute your brethren only, ‡ what do ye more thàn others? ‡ do not even the publicans so? Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heavên is perfect. * Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them : otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven. Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glôry of men. Verily I say unto you, they hâve their reward. But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth : that thine alms may bê in secret : and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall rewârd thee openly.

Isaiah 58. 9.

THUS saith the Lord God : If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking vanity ; and if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul ; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon day : and the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones : and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not. And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places : thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations ; and thou shalt be called, the repairer of the breach, the restorer of paths to dwell in. If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day ; and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable ; and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words : then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord ; and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father : for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple, and saith unto him : If thou be the Son of God, câst thyself down ; for it is written : He shall give his Angels charge concerning thee, and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot âgainst a stone. Jesus said unto him : It is written again : Thou shalt not tempt thê Lord thy God. Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them ; and saith unto him : All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down ând worship me. As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered ; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land : and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country. I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be : there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater : so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth : it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it : saith the Lord Almighty.

The LESSON from the Book of the Kings.
1 Kings 19. 3.

IN those days : Elijah came to Beer-sheba, which belongeth to Judah, and left his servant there. But he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a juniper tree : and he requested for himself that he might die ; and said : It is enough ; now, O Lord, take away my life ; for I am not better than my fathers. And as he lay and slept under a juniper tree, behold, then an Angel touched him, and said unto him : Arise and eat. And he looked, and, behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a cruse of water at his head. And he did eat and drink, and laid him down again. And the Angel of the Lord came again the second time, and touched him, and said : Arise and eat ; because the journey is too great for thee. And he arose, and did eat and drink, and went in the strength of that meat forty days and forty nights unto Horeb the mount of God.

But he answered and said unto them : An evil and adulterous generation seeketh âfter a sign ; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the Prôphet Jonas ; for as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly, so shall the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the hêart of the earth. The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it : because they repented at the preaching of Jonas ; and, behold, a greater than Jônas is here. The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it : for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom ôf Solomon ; and, behold, a greater than Solômon is here. When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, ând findeth none. Then he saith : I will return into my house from whence I came out ; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, ând garnishèd. Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there ; and the last state of that man is wôrse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked gênera-tion. While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring tô speak with him. Then one said unto him : Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring tô speak with thee. But he answered and said unto him that told him : ‡ Who is mÿ mother? ‡ and who are mÿ brethren? And he stretched forth his hand towards his disciples, and said :

Behold my mother ând my brethren! For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

The LESSON from Ezekiel the Prophet.

IN those days : The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying : What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying : The fathers have eaten sour grapes, † and the children's teeth are set on edge? As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel. Behold, all souls are mine ; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine : the soul that sinneth, it shall die. But if a man be just, and do that which is lawful and right, and hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a menstruous woman, and hath not oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment ; he that hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgement between man and man, hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgements, to deal truly ; he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord God Almighty.

[Collect 15, from Various Prayers.]

The LESSON from Ezekiel the Prophet.
Ezek. 18. 20.

THUS saith the Lord God : The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son : the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die. All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him : in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live. ‡ Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God : ‡ and not that he should return from his wâys, and live? But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, ‡ shall he live? All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned : in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die. Yet ye say : The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel ; ‡ Is not my wâý equal? ‡ are not your ways ûnequal? When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity and dieth in them ; for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die. Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die, saith the Lord Almighty.

St. John 5. 1.

AT that time : There was a feast of the Jews ; and Jesus went up to Jêrusalem. Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches. In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving ôf the water. For an Angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troublêd the water ; who-soever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had. And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirtý and eight years. When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him : ‡ Wilt thou bê made whole? The impotent man answered him : Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool ; but while I am coming, another steppeth dôwn before me. Jesus saith unto him : Rise, take up thý bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bêd, and walkêd ; and on the same day wâs the sabbath. The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured : It is thê sabbath day ; it is not lawful for thee to cârry thy bed. He answered them : He that made me whole, the same said unto me : Take up thý bed, and walk. Then asked they him : What man is that which said unto thee : ‡ Take up thy bêd, and walk? And he that was healed wist not who it was : for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him : Behold, thôu art made whole ; sin no more, lest a worse thing côme unto thee. The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus, which had mæde him whole.

Look down from thy holy habitation, from heaven, and bless thy people Israel, and the land which thou hast given us, as thou swarest unto our fathers, a land that floweth with milk and honey. O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain : because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us. Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. O my God, incline thine ear, and hear ; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy Name : for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies. The LESSON from the Book of the Kings. 1 Kings 17. 8.

IN those days : The word of the Lord came unto Elijah the Tishbite, saying : Arise ; get thee to Zarephath, which belongeth to Zidon, and dwell there : behold I have commanded a widow woman there to sustain thee. So he arose and went to Zarephath. And when he came to the gate of the city, behold, the widow woman was there gathering of sticks : and he called to her, and said : Fetch me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, that I may drink. And as she was going to fetch it, he called to her, and said : Bring me, I pray thee, a morsel of bread in thine hand. And she said : As the Lord thy God liveth, I have not a cake, but an handful of meal in a barrel, and a little oil in a cruse : and, behold, I am gathering two sticks, that I may go in and dress it for me and my son, that we may eat it, and die. And Elijah said unto her : Fear not ; go and do as thou hast said : but make me thereof a little cake first, and bring it unto me, and after make for thee and for thy son. For thus saith the Lord God of Israel : The barrel of meal shall not waste, neither shall the cruse of oil fail, until the day that the Lord sendeth rain upon the earth. And she went and did according to the saying of Elijah : and she, and he, and her house, did eat many days. And the barrel of meal wasted not, neither did the cruse of oil fail, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by Elijah.

AT that time : Jesus spake unto the multitudes and to his disciples, saying : The scribes and Pharisees sit in Moses' seat. All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do ; but do not ye after their works : for they say, and do not. For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne and lay them on men's shoulders : but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers. But all their works they do for to be seen of men ; they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments, and love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Râbbi, Rabbi. But be not ye called Rabbi : for one is your master, even Christ : and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father upon the earth : for one is your Father, which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters : for one is your mastêr, even Christ. But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant. The LESSON from the Book of Esther.
Esther 13. 8.

IN those days : Mardocheus thought upon all the works of the Lord, and made his prayer unto him, saying : O Lord, Lord, the King Almighty : for the whole world is in thy power, and if thou hast appointed to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee : for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things under the heaven. Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord. And now, O Lord God and King, spare thy people : for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought : yea, they desire to destroy the inheritance, that hath been thine from the beginning. Despise not the portion, which thou hast delivered out of Egypt for thine own self. Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him. And he said unto her : ‡ Whât wilt thou? She saith unto him : Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom. But Jesus answered and said : Ye know nôt what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, ‡ and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him : Wê are able. And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two

But it shall not be sô among you ; but whosoever will be great among you, let him be yôur minister ; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant ; even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope

For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green ; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table ; moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the Angels into Abraham's bosom. The rich man also died, and was buried : and in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. And he cried and said : Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue ; for I am tormented in this flame. But Abraham said : Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things ; but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented. And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed : so that they who would pass from hence to you cannot ; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence. Then he said : I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house : for I have five brethren : that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. Abraham saith unto him : They have Moses and the Prophets ; let them hear them. And he said : Nay, father Abraham ; but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent. IN those days : Joseph said unto his brethren : Hear, I pray you, this dream which I have dreamed : For, behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and lo, my sheaf arose, and also stood upright ; and, behold, your sheaves stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheaf. And his brethren said to him : ‡ Shalt thou indeed reign ôver us? ‡ or shalt thou indeed have dominion ôver us? And they hated him yet the more for his dreams, and for his words. And he dreamed yet another dream, and told it his brethren, and said : Behold, I have dreamed a dream more ; and, behold, the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made obeisance to me. And he told it to his father, and to his brethren : and his father rebuked him, and said unto him : ‡ What is this dream that thou hast dreamed? ‡ Shall I and thy mother and thy brethren indeed come to bow down ourselves to thee tô the earth? And his brethren envied him : but his father observed the saying. And his brethren went to feed their father's flock in Shechem. And Israel said unto Joseph : ‡ Do not thy brethren feed the flock in Shechem? come, and I will send thee unto them.

And he said to him : Here am I. And he said to him : Go, I pray thee, see whether it be well with thy brethren, and well with the flocks : and bring me word again. So he sent him out of the vale of Hebron, and he came to Shechem. And a certain man found him, and, behold, he was wandering in the field : and the man asked him, saying : ‡ What sêekest thou? And he said : I seek my brethren : tell me, I pray thee, where they feed their flocks. And the man said : They are departed hence : for I heard them say : Let us go to Dothan. And Joseph went after his brethren, and found them in Dothan. And when they saw him afar off, even before he came near unto them, they conspired against him to slay him. And they said one to another : behold, this dreamer cometh. Come now therefore, and let us slay him, and cast him in some pit, and we will say : Some evil beast hath devoured him : and we will see what will become of his dreams. And Reuben heard it, and he delivered him out of their hands : and said : Let us not kill him. And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another. Again, he sent other servants more than the first : and they did unto them likewise. But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying : They will reverence my son. But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves : This is the heir ; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance. And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him. When the lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, ‡ what will he do unto those husbandmen? They say unto him : He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. * Jesus saith unto them : Did ye never read in the Scriptures : The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner : this is the Lord's doing, ‡ and it is marvellous in our eyes? Therefore I say unto you : The kingdom of God shall be taken from you and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken : but on whomsoever it shall fall, it shall grind him to powder. And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. The LESSON from the Book of Genesis.

IN those days : [Rebekah spake unto Jacob her son, saying : Behold, I heard thy father speak unto Esau thy brother, saying : Bring me venison, and make me savoury meat, that I may eat, and bless thee before the Lord before my death. Now, therefore, my son, obey my voice according to that which I command thee. Go now to the flock, and fetch me from thence two good kids of the goats ; and I will make them savoury meat for thy father, such as he loveth : and thou shalt bring it to thy father, that he may eat, and that he may bless thee before his death. And Jacob said to Rebekah, his mother : Behold, Esau my brother is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man : my father peradventure will feel me, and I shall seem to him as a deceiver : and I shall bring a curse upon me, and not a blessing. And his mother said unto him : Upon me be thy curse, my son : only obey my voice, and go fetch me them. And he went, and fetched, and brought them to his mother : and his mother made savoury meat, such as his father loved. And Rebekah took goodly raiment of her eldest son Esau, which were with her in the house, and put them upon Jacob her younger son : and she put the skins of the kids of the goats upon his hands, and upon the smooth of his neck : and she gave the savoury meat and the bread, which she had prepared, into the hand of her son Jacob. And he came unto his father, and said : My father : and he said : Here am I ; ‡ who art thou, my son? And Jacob said unto his father : I am Esau thy firstborn ; I have done according as thou badest me : arise, I pray thee, sit and eat of my venison, that thy soul may bless me. And Isaac said unto his son : ‡ How is it that thou hast found it so quickly, my son? And he said : Because the Lord thy God brought it to me. And] Isaac said unto Jacob : Come near, I pray thee, that I may feel thee, my son, whether thou be my very son Esau or not. And Jacob went near unto Isaac his father ; and he felt him, and said : The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau. And he discerned him not, because his hands were hairy, as his brother Esau's hands : so he blessed him. And he said : ‡ Art thou my very sôn Esau? And he said : I am. And he said : Bring it near to me, and I will eat of my son's venison, that my soul may bless thee. And he brought it near to him, and he did eat : and he brought him wine, and he drank. And his father Isaac said unto him : Come near now, and kiss me, my son. And he came near, and kissed him : and he smelled the smell of his raiment, and blessed him, and said : See, the smell of my son is as the smell of a field which the Lord hath blessed : therefore God give thee of the dew of heaven, and the fatness of the earth, and plenty of corn and wine : let people serve thee, and nations bow down to thee : be lord over thy brethren, and let thy mother's sons bow down to thee : cursed be every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee. And it came to pass, as soon as Isaac had made an end of blessing Jacob, and Jacob was yet scarce gone out from the presence of Isaac his father, that Esau his brother came in from his hunting. And he also had made savoury meat, and brought it unto his father, and said unto his father : Let my father arise, and eat of his son's venison, that thy soul may bless me. And Isaac his father said unto him : ‡ Whô art thou? And he said : I am thy son, thy firstborn Esau. And Isaac trembled very exceedingly, and said : ‡ Who? where is he that hath taken venison, and brought it me, and I have eaten of all before thou camest, ‡ and have blêssed him? yea, and he shall be blessed. And when Esau heard the words of his father, he cried with a great and exceeding bitter cry, and said unto his father : Bless me, even me also, O my father. And he said : Thy brother came with subtilty, and hath taken away thy blessing. And he said : ‡ Is not he rightly namêd Jacob? for he hath supplanted me these two times : he took away my birthright ; and, behold, now he hath taken away my blessing. And he said : ‡ Hast thou not reserved a blessing for me? And Isaac answered and said unto Esau : Behold, I have made him thy lord, and all his brethren have I given to him for servants : and with corn and wine have I sustained him : ‡ and what shall I do now unto thêe, my son? And Esau said unto his father : ‡ Hast thou but one blessing for me, mÿ father? bless me, even me also, O my father. And Esau lifted up his voice and wept. And Isaac his father answered and said unto him : Behold, thy dwelling shall be the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven above.

St. Luke 15. 11.

AT that time Jesus spake this parable unto the scribes and Pharisees : A certain man had two sons, and the younger of them said to his father : Father, give me the portion of goods that fâlleth to me. And he divided unto thêem his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living. And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land : and he began to be in want. And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country ; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat : and no man gave unto him. And when he came to himself, he said : How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him : Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son ; make me as one of thy hired servants. And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. And the son said unto him : Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son. But the father said to his servants : Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him : and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet ; and bring hither the fatted calf and kill it ; and let us eat, and be merry : for this my son was dead, and is alive again ; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. Now his elder son was in the field : and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing. And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant. And he said unto him : Thy brother is come : and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. And he was angry, and would not go in ; therefore came his father out, and entreated him. And he answering said to his father : Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment : and yet thou never gavest me at any time a kid, that I might make merry with my friends : but as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf. And he said unto him : Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine. It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad : for thy brother was dead, and is alive again ; and was lost, and is found.

BRETHREN : Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children ; and walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savour. But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named amongst you, as becometh saints ; neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient ; but rather giving of thanks ; for this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ, and of God. Let no man deceive you with vain words : for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience. Be not ye therefore partakers with them : for ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord : walk as children of light ; (for the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness, and righteousness, and truth ;) proving what is acceptable unto the Lord. And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them : for it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret. But all things that are re-proved are made manifest by the light : for whatsoever doth make manifest is light. Wherefore he saith : Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

AT that time : Jesus was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake ; and the peoplê wonderèd. But some of them said : He casteth out devils through Beelzebub, the chief ôf the devils. And others, tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven. But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them : Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation ; and a house divided against â house falleth. If Satan also be divided against himself, ‡ how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say, that I cast out devils through Bêelzebub. And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, ‡ by whom do your sons câst them out? therefore shall they bê your judges. But if I with the finger of God, cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is cômè upon you. When a strong man armed, keepeth his palace, his gôods are in peace ; but when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils. When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry placês, seeking rest ; and finding none, he saith : I will return unto my house whênce I came out. And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnishèd. Then goeth he and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in, and dwell there ; and the last state of that man is wôrse than the first. And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him : Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thôu hast suckèd. The LESSON from the Book of the Kings.
2 Kings 5. 1.

IN those days : Naaman, captain of the host of the king of Syria, was a great man with his master, and honourable, because by him the Lord had given deliverance unto Syria : he was also a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper. And the Syrians had gone out by companies, and had brought away captive out of the land of Israel a little maid : and she waited on Naaman's wife. And she said unto her mistress : Would God, my Lord, were with the Prophet that is in Samaria! for he would recover him of his leprosy. And one went in, and told his lord, saying : Thus and thus said the maid that is of the land of Israel. And the king of Syria said : Go to, go, and I will send a letter unto the king of Israel. And he departed, and took with him ten talents of silver, and six thousand pieces of gold, and ten changes of raiment. And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, saying : Now when this letter is come unto thee, behold, I have therewith sent Naaman my servant to thee, that thou mayest recover him of his leprosy. And it came to pass, when the king of Israel had read the letter, that he rent his clothes, and said : Am I God, to kill and to make alive, † that this man doth send unto me to recover a man of his leprosy? wherefore consider, I pray you, and see how he seeketh a quarrel against me. And it was so, when Elisha the man of God had heard that the king of Israel had rent his clothes, that he sent to the king, saying : † Wherefore hast thou rent thy clothes? let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a Prophet in Israel. So Naaman came with his horses and with his chariot, and stood at the door of the house of Elisha. And Elisha sent a messenger unto him, saying : Go and wash in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come again to thee, and thou shalt be clean. But Naaman was wroth, and went away, and said : Behold, I thought, he will surely come out to me, and stand, and call on the Name of the Lord his God, and strike his hand over the place, and recover the leper. Are not Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damascus, ‡ better than all the waters of Îsraël? ‡ may I not wash in them, and be clean? So he turned and went away in a rage. And his servants came near, and spake unto him, and said : My father, if the Prophet had bid thee do some great thing, ‡ wouldest thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he saith to thee : ‡ Wash, and be clean? Then went he down, and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God : and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child, and he was clean. And he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and came and stood before him : and he said : Behold, now I know that there is no God in all the earth, but in Israel.

But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land ; but unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta, a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow. And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the Prophet ; and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian. And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, and rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might cast him down headlong. The LESSON from the Book of the Kings. 2 Kings 4. 1.

IN those days : A certain woman cried unto Elisha the Prophet, saying : Thy servant, my husband, is dead : and thou knowest that thy servant did fear the Lord : and the creditor is come to take unto him my two sons to be bondmen. And Elisha said unto her : ‡ What shall I dô for thee? tell me, ‡ what hast thou in the house? And she said : Thine handmaid hath not anything in the house, save a pot of oil. Then he said : Go, borrow thee vessels abroad of all thy neighbours, even empty vessels ; borrow not a few. And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and shalt pour out into all those vessels, and thou shalt set aside that which is full. So she went from him, and shut the door upon her and upon her sons, who brought the vessels to her ; and she poured out. And it came to pass, when the vessels were full, that she said unto her son : Bring me yet a vessel. And he said unto her : There is not a vessel more. And the oil stayed. Then she came and told the man of God. And he said : Go, sell the oil, and pay thy debt : and live thou and thy children of the rest.

three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the Church ; but if he neglect to hear the Church, let him be unto thee as a heathen man and a publican. Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven : and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the midst of them. Then came Peter to him, and said : Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, † and I forgive him? † till seven times? Jesus saith unto him : I say not unto thee, Until seven times : but, Until seventy times seven.

The LESSON from the Book of Exodus. Exod. 20. 21.

THUS saith the Lord God : Honour thy father and thy mother : that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbour's. And all the people saw the thunderings, and the lightnings, and the noise of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking : and when the people saw it, they removed, and stood afar off. And they said unto Moses : Speak thou with us, and we will hear : but let not God speak with us, lest we die. And Moses said unto the people : Fear not, for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. And the people stood afar off, and Moses drew near unto the thick darkness where God was. And the Lord said unto Moses : Thus thou shalt say unto the children of Israel : Ye have seen that I have talked with you from heaven. Ye shall not make with me gods of silver, neither shall ye make unto you gods of gold. An altar of earth thou shalt make unto me, and shalt sacrifice thereon thy burnt offerings, and thy peace offerings, thy sheep, and thine oxen : in all places where I record my name.

AT that time : There came unto Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying : ‡ Why do thy disciples transgress the Tradition of the Elders? For they eat bread with unwashen hands. But he answered and said unto them : ‡ Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your Tradition? For God commanded, saying : Honour thy father and mother. And : He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. But ye say : Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother : It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me : and honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your Tradition. Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying : This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips ; but their heart is far from me. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. And he called the multitude, and said unto them : Hear, and understand ; not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man ; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man. Then came his disciples, and said unto him : Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, ‡ after they heard this saying? But he answered and said : Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up. Let them alone ; they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch. Then answered Peter and said unto him : Declare unto us this parable. And Jesus said : ‡ Are ye also yet without understanding? Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, ‡ and is cast out into the draught? But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart ; and they defile the man. For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies ; these are the things which defile a man ; but to eat with unwashed hands defileth not a man.

Now when the sun was setting, all they, that had any sick with divers diseases, brought them unto him ; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying : Thou art Christ, the Son of God. And he rebuking them suffered them not to speak : for they knew that he was Christ. And when it was day, he departed, and went into a desert place ; and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them. And Moses and Aaron went from the presence of the assembly unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they fell upon their faces : and the glory of the Lord appeared unto them. And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying : Take the rod, and gather thou the assembly together, thou, and Aaron thy brother, and speak ye unto the rock before their eyes ; and it shall give forth his water, and thou shalt bring forth to them water out of the rock : so thou shalt give the congregation and their beasts drink. And Moses took the rod from before the Lord, as he commanded him. And Moses and Aaron gathered the congregation together before the rock, and he said unto them : Hear now, ye rebels ; ‡ must we fetch you water out of this rock? And Moses lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock twice : and the water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also. And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron : Because ye believed me not, to sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them. This is the water of Meribah ; because the children of Israel strove with the Lord, and he was sanctified in them.

AT that time : Jesus cometh to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar : near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. Now Jacôb's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thûs on the well. And it was about the sixth hour. There cometh a woman of Samaria tô draw water ; Jesus saith unto her : Give me to drink. [(For his disciples were gone away unto the citÿ to buy meat.) Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him : How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, ‡ which am a woman of Samâria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Sâmaritans. Jesus answered and said unto her : If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink ; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. The woman saith unto him : Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep : ‡ from whence then hast thou that living water? Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, ‡ and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle? Jesus answered and said unto her : Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again : but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shâll never thirst ; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into evêrlasting life. The woman saith unto him : Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw. Jesus saith unto her : Go, call thy husband, ând come hither. The woman answered and said : I hâve no husband. Jesus said unto her : Thou hast well said, I have no husband : for thou hast hâd five husbands ; and he whom thou now hast is nôt thy husband ; in that sâidst thou truly. The woman saith unto him : Sir, I perceive that thou ârt a Prophet. Our fathers worshipped in this mountain ; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ôught to worship. Jesus saith unto her : Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. Ye worship yê know not what ; we know what we worship : for salvation îs of the Jews. But the hour cometh, and now is when the true worshippers shall worship him in spirit and in truth. The woman saith unto him : I know that Messias cometh, which îs callèd Christ ; when he is come, he will têtll us all things. Jesus saith unto her : I that speak untô thee am he.】 And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman : yet no man said : ‡ What sêekest thou? or, ‡ Why talkest thôu with her? The woman then left her water-pot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men : Come, see ■ man, which told me all things that êver I did ; ‡ is not this the Christ? Then they went out of the city, and câme unto him. In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying : Master, eat. But he said unto them : I have meat to eat that yê know not of. Therefore said the disciples one to another : ‡ Hath any man brought him ôught to eat? Jesus saith unto them : My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work. Say not ye, There are yet four months, † and then comêth harvest? behold, I say unto you : Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields ; for they are white already to harvest. And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal : that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejôice together. And herein is that saying true : One soweth, and anôther reapeth. I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowêd no labour ; other men laboured, and ye are entered intô their labours. And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified : He told me all that êver I did. So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them : and he abôde there two days. And many more believed because of his own word, and said unto the woman : Now we believe, not because ôf thy saying ; for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Sâviour of the world.

The LESSON from the Story of Susanna.
The Story of Susanna.

IN those days : [There dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim : and he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord. Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the Law of Moses. Now Joacim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house : and to him resorted the Jews ; because he was more honourable than all others. The same year were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who seemed to govern the people. These kept much at Joacim's house : and all that had any suits in law came unto them. Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. And the two elders saw her going in every day, and walking ; so that their lust was inflamed toward her. And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgements. And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief. For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her. And the one said to the other : Let us now go home : for it is dinner time. So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place ; and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust : then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone. And it fell out, as they watched a fit time, she went in as before with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in the garden : for it was hot. And there was no body there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her. Then she said to her maids : Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash me. And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at privy doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them : but they saw not the elders, because they were hid. Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying : Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee ; therefore consent unto us, and lie with us. If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee : and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee. Then Susanna sighed, and said : I am straitened on every side : for if I do this thing, it is death unto me : and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands. It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord. With that Susanna cried with a loud voice : and the two elders cried out against her. Then ran the one, and opened the garden door. So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at a privy door, to see what was done unto her. But when the elders had declared their matter, the servants were greatly ashamed : for there was never such a report made of Susanna. And it came to pass the next day, when the people were assembled to her husband Joacim, the two elders came also full of mischievous imagination against Susanna to put her to death ; and said before the people : Send for Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, Joacim's wife. And so they sent. So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred. Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beauteous to behold. And these wicked men commanded to uncover her face (for she was covered) that they might be filled with her beauty. Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept. Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head. And she weeping looked up toward heaven : for her heart trusted in the Lord. And the elders said : As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. Then a young man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her. Then we that stood in a corner of the garden, seeing his wickedness, ran unto them. And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold : for he was stronger than we, and opened the door, and leaped out. But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us : these things do we testify. Then the assembly believed them, as those that were the elders and judges of the people : so they condemned her to death. Then] Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said : O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things before they be : thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and, behold, I must die ; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me. And the Lord heard her voice. Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel : who cried with a loud voice : I am clear from the blood of this woman. Then all the people turned them toward him, and said : ‡ What mean these words that thou hast spoken? So he standing in the midst of them said : Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, ‡ that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned a daughter of Israël? Return again to the place of judgement : for they have borne false witness against her. Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him : Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder. Then said Daniel unto them : Put these two aside one far from another, and I will examine them. So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto them : O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now thy sins which thou hast committed aforetime are come to light : for thou hast pronounced false judgement, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guilty go free ; albeit the Lord saith : The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. Now then, if thou hast seen her, tell me : ‡ Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered : Under a mastick tree. And Daniel said : Very well ; thou hast lied against thine own head ; for even now the Angel of God hath received the sentence of God to cut thee in two. So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him : O thou seed of Chanaan, and not of Juda, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath perverted thine heart. Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companied with you : but the daughter of Juda would not abide your wickedness. Now therefore tell me : ‡ Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered : Under an holm tree. Then said Daniel unto him : Well ; thou hast also lied against thine own head : for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you. With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and praised God, who saveth them that trust in him. And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness by their own mouth : and according to the Law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour : and they put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saved the same day.

But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though hê heard them not. And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even ûnto the last ; and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. BRETHREN : Tell me, ye that desire to be under the Law, ‡ do ye not hear the Law? For it is written : that Abraham had two sons, the one by a bondmaid, the other by a free-woman. But he who was of the bondwoman was born after the flesh ; but he of the freewoman was by promise. Which things are an allegory : for these are the two covenants ; the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage : which is Agar. For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children. But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all. For it is written : Rejoice, thou barren that barest not ; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not : for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath an husband. Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise. But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the spirit : even so it is now. ‡ Nevertheless what saith the Scripture? Cast out the bondwoman and her son : for the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the freewoman. So then, brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free : [by the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free.]

AT that time : Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias. And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased. And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. And the Passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh. When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip : Whence shall we buy bread, ‡ that these may eat? And this he said to prove him : for he himself knew what he would do. Philip answered him : Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little. One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him : There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes : ‡ but what are they among so many? And Jesus said : Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. And Jesus took the loaves ; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down ; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would. When they were filled, he said unto his disciples : Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost. Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten. The LESSON from the Book of the Kings. 1 Kings 3. 16.

IN those days : There came two women, that were harlots, unto king Solomon, and stood before him. And the one woman said : O my lord, I and this woman dwell in one house ; and I was delivered of a child with her in the house. And it came to pass the third day after that I was delivered, that this woman was delivered also : and we were together ; there was no stranger with us in the house, save we two in the house. And this woman's child died in the night ; because she overlaid it. And she arose at midnight, and took my son from beside me, while thine handmaid slept, and laid it in her bosom, and laid her dead child in my bosom. And when I rose in the morning to give my child suck, behold, it was dead : but when I had considered it in the morning, behold, it was not my son, which I did bear. And the other woman said : Nay ; but the living is my son, and the dead is thy son. And this said : No ; but the dead is thy son, and the living is my son. Thus they spake before the king. Then said the king : The one saith : This is my son that liveth, and thy son is the dead : and the other saith : Nay ; but thy son is the dead, and my son is the living. And the king said : Bring me a sword. And they brought a sword before the king. And the king said : Divide the living child in two, and give half to the one, and half to the other. Then spake the woman whose the living child was unto the king, for her bowels yearned upon her son, and she said : O my lord, give her the living child, and in no wise slay it. But the other said : Let it be neither mine nor thine, but divide it. Then the king answered and said : Give her the living child, and in no wise slay it : she is the mother thereof. AT that time : the Jews' Passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem, and found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of moneý sitting ; and when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen ; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables ; and said unto them that sold doves : Take these things hence ; make not my Father's house an house of merchandise. And his disciples remembered that it was written : The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up. Then answered the Jews and said unto him : What sign shewest thou unto us, † seeing that thou doest these things? Jesus answered and said unto them : Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up. Then said the Jews : Forty and six years was this temple in building, † and wilt thou rear it up in three days? But he spake of the temple of his body. When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them ; and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jêsus had said. Now when he was in Jerusalem at the Passover, in the feast day, many believed in his Name, when they saw the miracles which he did. But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, and needed not that any should testify of man : for he knew what was in man.

The LESSON from the Book of Exodus. Exod. 32. 7.

IN those days : The Lord spake unto Moses, saying : Go, get thee down from the mount ; for thy people, which thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves : they have turned aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them : they have made them a molten calf, and have worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said : These be thy gods, O Israel, which have brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. And the Lord said unto Moses : I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people : now therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them, and that I may consume them : and I will make of thee a great nation. And Moses besought the Lord his God, and said : Lord, why doth thy wrath wax hot against thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Egypt with great power, † and with a mighty hand? Wherefore should the Egyptians speak, and say : For mischief did he bring them out, to slay them in the mountains, † and to consume them from the face of the earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this evil against thy people. Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, thy servants, to whom thou swarest by thine own self, and saidst unto them : I will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have spoken of will I give unto your seed, and they shall inherit it for ever. AT that time : About the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. And the Jews marvelled, saying : How knoweth this man letters, † having never learned? Jesus answered them, and said : My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory ; but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. Did not Moses give you the Law, ‡ and yet none of you keepeth the Law? ‡ Why go ye about to kill me? The people answered and said : Thou hast a devil : ‡ who goeth about to kill thee? Jesus answered and said unto them : I have done one work, and ye all marvel. Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision ; (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers) and ye on the sabbath day circumsise a man. If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, that the Law of Moses should not be broken ; are ye angry at me, ‡ because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day? Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgement. Then said some of them of Jerusalem : Is not this he, ‡ whom they seek to kill? But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. ‡ Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ? Howbeit we know this man whence he is ; but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is. Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying : Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am ; and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. But I know him : for I am from him, and he hath sent me. Then they sought to take him : but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come. And many of the people believed on him.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to John.

St. John 9. 1.

AT that time : As Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth. And his disciples asked him, saying : Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, ‡ that he wás born blind? Jesus answered : Neither hath this man sinned, nôr his parents ; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day ; the night cometh, when nô man can work. As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world. When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, and said unto him : Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interprétation, Sent). He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing. [The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said : ‡ Is not this he that sat and begged? Some said : This is he ;

others said : Hê is like him ; but he said : I am he. Therefore said they unto him : ‡ How were thine eyes openèd? He answered and said : A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me : Go to the pool of Silôam, and wash ; and I went and washed, and I rêceived sight. Then said they unto him : ‡ Whêre is he? He said : I know not. They brought to the Pharisees him that afôretime was blind. And it was the sabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and openèd his eyes. Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had rêcêived his sight. He said unto them : He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washêd, and do see. Therefore said some of the Pharisees : This man is not of God, because he keepeth not thê sabbath day. Others said : ‡ How can a man that is a sinner do such mîracles? And there was a division among them. They say unto the blind man again : What sayest thou of him, ‡ that he hath openèd thine eyes? He said : Hê is a Prophet. But the Jews did not believe concerning him that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had rêcêived his sight. And they asked them, saying : Is this your son, ‡ who ye say wás born blind? ‡ how then doth hê now see? His parents answered them and said : We know that this is our son, and that hê was born blind ; but by what means he now seêth, we know not ; or who hath opened his êyes, we know not ; he is of age : ask him: he shall spêak for himself. These words spake his parents, because they fêared the Jews ; for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue. Therefore said his parents : He is ôf age ; ask him. Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him : Give God the praise ; we know that this man is a sinner. He answered and said : Whether he be a sinner or nô, I know not ; one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see. Then said they to him again : ‡ What did hê to thee? ‡ how opened hê thine eyes? He answered them : I have told you already, and ye did not hear : ‡ wherefore would ye hear it again? ‡ will ye also be his disciples? Then they reviled him, and said : Thou art his disciple ; but we are Mosês' disciples. We know that God spake unto Moses ; as for this fellow, we know not frôm whence he is. The man answered and said unto them : Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath openèd mine eyes. Now we know that God heareth not sinners : but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth. Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one thât was born blind. If this man were not of God, hê could do nothing. They answered and said unto him : Thou wast altogether born in sins, ‡ and dost thôu teach us? And thêy cast him out. The LESSON from the Book of the Kings. 2 Kings 4. 25.

IN those days : The Shunammite woman came unto Elisha to mount Carmel. And it came to pass, when the man of God saw her afar off, that he said to Gehazi his servant : Behold, yonder is that Shunammite : Run now, I pray thee, to meet her, and say unto her : ‡ Is it well with thee? ‡ is it well with thy husband? ‡ is it well with the child? And she answered : It is well. And when she came to the man of God to the hill, she caught him by the feet : but Gehazi came near to thrust her away. And the man of God said : Let her alone ; for her soul is vexed within her : and the Lord hath hid it from me, and hath not told me. Then she said : ‡ Did

I desire a son of my lord? did I not say : ‡ Do not deceive me? Then he said to Gehazi : Gird up thy loins, and take my staff in thine hand, and go thy way : if thou meet any man, salute him not ; and if any salute thee, answer him not again : and lay my staff upon the face of the child. And the mother of the child said : As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And he arose, and followed her. And Gehazi passed on before them, and laid the staff upon the face of the child ; but there was neither voice, nor hearing. Wherefore he went again to meet him, and told him, saying : The child is not awaked. And when Elisha was come into the house, behold, the child was dead, and laid upon his bed. He went in therefore, and shut the door upon them twain, and prayed unto the Lord. And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands : and he stretched himself upon the child ; and the flesh of the child waxed warm. Then he returned, and walked in the house to and fro ; and went up, and stretched himself upon him : and the child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes. And he called Gehazi, and said : Call this Shunammite. So he called her. And when she was come in unto him, he said : Take up thy son. Then she went in, and fell at his feet, and bowed herself to the ground, and took up her son, and went out. And Elisha came again to Gilgal.

The LESSON from the Book of the Kings. 1 Kings 17. 17.

IN those days : The son of the woman, the mistress of the house, fell sick ; and his sickness was so sore, that there was no breath left in him. And she said unto Elijah : What have I to do with thee, ‡ O thou mân of God? art thou come unto me to call my sin to remembrance, ‡ and to slây my son? And he said unto her : Give me thy son. And he took him out of her bosom, and carried him up into a loft, where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed. And he cried unto the Lord, and said : O Lord my God, hast thou also brought evil upon the widow with whom I sojourn, ‡ by slaying her son? And he stretched himself upon the child three times, and cried unto the Lord, and said : O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this child's soul come into him again. And the Lord heard the voice of Elijah ; and the soul of the child came into him again, and he revived. And Elijah took the child, and brought him down out of the chamber into the house, and delivered him unto his mother : and Elijah said : See, thy son liveth. And the woman said to Elijah : Now by this I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is truth.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to John.

St. John II. I.

AT that time : [A certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha. (It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazârus was sick.) Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying : Lord, behold, he whom thou lôvest is sick. When Jesus heard that, he said : This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby. Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was. Then after that saith he to his disciples : Let us go into Judæa again. His disciples say unto him : Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee ; ‡ and goest thou thithêr again? Jesus answered : ‡ Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is nô light in him. These things said he : and after that he saith unto them : Our friend Lazârus sleepeth ; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. Then said his disciples : Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well. Howbeit Jesus spake of his death : but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep. Then said Jesus unto them plainly : Lazârus is dead. And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe ; nevertheless let us go unto him. Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples : Let us also go, that we may die with him. Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already. Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off : and many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother. Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him : but Mary sat still in the house. Then said Martha unto Jesus : Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee. Jesus saith unto her : Thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him : I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto her : I am the resurrection, and the life : he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live ; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. ¶ Believest thou this? She saith unto him : Yea, Lord : I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world. [And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying : The Master is come, and calleth for thee. As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him. Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him. The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying : She goeth unto the grave to weep there.] Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him : Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled, and said : ¶ Where have ye laid him? They said unto him : Lord, come and see. Jesus wept. Then said the Jews : Behold how he loved him! And some of them said : Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, ¶ have caused that even this man should not have died? Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it. Jesus said : Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him : Lord, by this time he stinketh : for he hath been dead four days. Jesus saith unto her : Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, ¶ thou shouldest see the glory of God? Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said : Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me. And I knew that thou hearest me always : but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me. And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice : Lazârus, come forth. And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes : and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them : Loose him, and let him go. Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believèd on him.

THUS saith the Lord : In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee : and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages ; that thou mayest say to the prisoners : Go forth ; to them that are in darkness : Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places. They shall not hunger nor thirst ; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them : for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them. And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted. Behold, these shall come from far : and, lo, these from the north and from the west ; and these from the land of Sinim. Sing, O heavens ; and be joyful, O earth ; and break forth into singing, O mountains : for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted. Jesus answered and said unto them : Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true : for I know whence I came,

And yet if I judge, my judgement is true : for I am not alone, but I and the Fathêr that sent me. It is also written in your law, that the testimony of twô men is true. I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me. Then said they unto him : ‡ Where is thÿ Father? BRETHREN : Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building ; neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh ; how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, ‡ purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? Then answered the Jews, and said unto him : Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, ‡ and hast â devil? Jesus answered : I have nôt a devil ; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me. Jonah 3. 1.

IN those days : The word of the Lord came unto Jonah the second time, saying : Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the Lord. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three days' journey. And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said : Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown. So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. And he caused it to be proclaimed and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying : Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing : let them not feed, nor drink water : but let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God : yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands. Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, † that we perish not? The LESSON from the Story of Bel and the Dragon.

Bel and the Dragon, 29.

IN those days : They of Babylon came to the king, and said : Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house. Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, he delivered Daniel unto them : who cast him into the lions' den : where he was six days. And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day two carcases, and two sheep : which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel. Now there was in Jewry a Prophet, called Habbacuc, who had made pottage, and had broken bread in a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers. But the Angel of the Lord said unto Habbacuc : Go, carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, who is in the lions' den. And Habbacuc said : Lord, I never saw Babylon ; neither do I know where the den is. Then the Angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and bare him by the hair of his head, and through the vehemency of his spirit set him in Babylon over the den. And Habbacuc cried, saying : O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God hath sent thee. And Daniel said : Thou hast remembered me, O God : neither hast thou forsaken them that seek thee and love thee. So Daniel arose, and did eat : and the Angel of the Lord set Habbacuc in his own place again immediately. Upon the seventh day the king went to bewail

Daniel : and when he came to the den, he looked in, and, behold, Daniel was sitting. Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying : Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other beside thee. And he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den : and they were devoured in a moment before his face. Then said the King : Let all men that dwell in all the earth tremble and fear before the God of Daniel : for it is he that rescueth and worketh signs in the earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

AT that time : Jesus walked in Galilee : for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sôught to kill him. Now the Jews' feast of Tabernaclês was at hand. His brethren therefore said unto him : Depart hence, and go into Judaea, that thy disciples also may see the works thât thou doest. For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be knôwn openly. If thou do these things, shew thysêlf to the world. For neither did his brethren bêteive in him. Then Jesus said unto them : My time is not yet come : but your time is âlway ready. The world cãnot hate you ; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereôf are evil. Go ye up unto this feast ; I go not up yet unto this feast : for my time is not yet full come. When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee. But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret. Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said : † Where is he? And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him : for some said : He is a good man ; others said : Nay ; but he deceiveth the people. Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.

The LESSON from the Book of Leviticus. Lev. 19. 10.

IN those days : the Lord spake unto Moses, saying : Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying : I am the Lord your God. Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another. And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God : I am the Lord. Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbour, neither rob him : the wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning. Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumblingblock before the blind, but shalt fear thy God : I am the Lord. Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgement : thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty : but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour. Thou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer among thy people : neither shalt thou stand against the blood of thy neighbour : I am the Lord. Thou shalt hate not thy brother in thine heart : thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, and not suffer sin upon him. AT that time : It was at Jerusalem the feast of the Dedication, and it was winter. And Jesus walked in the temple in Sôlomon's porch. Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him : ‡ How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them : I told you, and ye bëliefèd not ; the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I sâid unto you. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me : and I give unto them èternal life ; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all : and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand. I and my Fâther are one. Then the Jews took up stones agâin to stone him. Jesus answered them : Many good works have I shewed you frôm my Father ; ‡ for which of those works do ye stone me? The Jews answered him, saying : For a good work we stone thee not : but fôr blasphemy ; and because that thou, being a man, makêst thyself God. Jesus answered them : Is it not written in your law, I said : ‡ Yê are gods? If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the Scripture cannot be broken : say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world : Thôu blasphemest ; because I said : ‡ I am the Sôn of God? Song of the Three Children, II.

IN those days : Azarias prayed unto the Lord, saying : O Lord our God, deliver us not up wholly, for thy Name's sake, neither disannul thou thy covenant : and cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for thy beloved Abraham's sake, for thy servant Isaac's sake, and for thy holy Israel's sake ; to whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that lieth upon the seashore. For we, O Lord, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins. Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to sacrifice before thee, and to find mercy. Nevertheless in a contrite heart and an humble spirit let us be accepted. Like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs : so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee : for they shall not be confounded that put their trust in thee. And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face. Put us not to shame : but deal with us after thy loving-kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercies. Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy Name, O Lord : and let all them that do thy servants hurt be ashamed ; and let them be confounded in all their power and might, and let their strength be broken ; and let them know that thou art Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world, O Lord our God.

And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment, and stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying : This man, if he were a Prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him : for she is a sinner. And Jesus answering said unto him : Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith : Mâster, say on. There was a certain creditor which had two debtors : the one owed five hundred pence, and the ôther fifty. And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly fôrgave them both. Tell me therefore, ‡ which of them will lôve him most? Simon answered and said : I suppose that he, to whom hê fôrgave most. And he said unto him : Thou hast rightly judgèd. Thou gavest me no kiss : but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased tô kiss my feet. My head with oil thou didst not anoint : but this woman hath anointed my fêet with ointment. Wherefore I say unto thee : Her sins, which are many, are forgiven : for shê lovèd much ; but to whom little is forgiven, the same lôveth little. And he said unto her : Thy sins âre forgiven. IN those days : The ungodly Jews said one to another : Come let us devise devices against the righteous : for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words. Give heed to me, O Lord, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me. ‡ Shall evil be recompensèd for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them. Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and pour out their blood by the force of the sword ; and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows ; and let their men be put to death ; let their young men be slain by the sword in battle. Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them : for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet. AT that time : The chief priests consulted together that they might put Lazarus also to death ; because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believêd on Jesus. On the next day much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried : Hosanna : Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the Nâme of the Lord. And Jesus, when he had found a young âss, sat thereon ; as it is written : Fear not, daughter of Sion : behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. These things understood not his disciples at the first : but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dêad, bare record. For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle. The Pharisees therefore said among themselves : ‡ Perceive ye how ye prevâil nothing? behold, the world is gône after him. And there were certain Greeks among them that came up to worship at the feast ; The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying : Sir, we wôuld see Jesus. Philip cometh and telleth Andrew : and again Andrew and Philip tell Jesus. And Jesus answered them, saying : The hour is come, that the Son of Man should be glôrified. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone : but if it die, it bringêth forth much fruit. He that loveth his life shall lose it ; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. If any man serve me, let him follow me ; and where I am, there shall also my servant be ; if any man serve me, him will my Fâther honour. Now is my soul troubled ; ‡ and what shall I say? Father save me from this hour : but for this cause came I ûnto this hour. Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying : I have both glorified it, and will glorifÿ it again. The people therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it thunderèd ; others said : An Angêl spake to him. Jesus answered and said : This voice came not because of me, bût for your sakes. Now is the judgemênt of this world ; now shall the prince of this wôrld be cast out. And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all mên unto me. This he said, signifying what dêath he should die. The people answered him : We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever : and how sayest thou : ‡ The Son of Man must be lifted up? ‡ who is this Sôn of Man? Then Jesus said unto them : Yet a little while is thê light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you : for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whithêr he goeth. While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and did hide himself from them.

The LESSON from the Book of Exodus.

IN those days : The children of Israel came to Elim, where were twelve wells of water, and threescore and ten palm trees : and they encamped there by the waters. And they took their journey from Elim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came unto the wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai : on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departing out of the land of Egypt. And the whole congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness. And the children of Israel said unto them : Would to God we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the flesh-pots, and when we did eat bread to the full : for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger. Then said the Lord unto Moses : Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you : and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day : that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law or no. And it shall come to pass, that on the sixth day they shall prepare that which they bring in : and it shall be twice as much as they gather daily. And Moses and Aaron said unto all the children of Israel : At even, then ye shall know that the Lord hath brought you out from the land of Egypt : and in the morning, then ye shall see the glory of the Lord.

§ Then shall be sung for the Gradual:

℟. St. John 11. Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said : What do we, for this man doeth many miracles? If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him : * And the Romans shall come, and take away both our place and nation. V. From that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death, saying : And the Romans shall come.

Or this R. St. Matt. 26. On the Mount of Olives he prayed to his Father : O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me. * The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak : nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt. V. Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

St. Matt. 21. I.

AT that time : When they drew nigh unto Jerusalem and were come to Bethphage unto the Mount of Olives : then sent Jesus two disciples, saying unto them : Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her : loose them and bring them unto me ; and if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say : The Lord hath need of them, and straightway he will send them. All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying : Tell ye the daughter of Sion : Behold thy King cometh unto thee, meek and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass. And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them : and brought the ass, and the colt : and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon. And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way ; others cut down branches from the trees, and strowed them in the way ; and the multitudes that went before and that followed, cried, saying : Hosanna to the Son of David : blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

V. The Lord be with you.

R. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

WE beseech thee, O Lord holy, Father almighty, everlasting God :
 that thou wouldest vouchsafe to bl+ess and sanct+ify these thy creatures, which thou hast bidden to spring from the wood of the olive tree : which likewise the dove, returning to the ark, did bear in her mouth : granting unto all them that shall receive the same that they may obtain thereby protection both in body and soul : and that, by thy grace which in a figure is shewn forth herein, we may effectually be healed unto everlasting salvation.

 Through.

Let us pray.

O GOD, who gatherest together the outcasts, and preservest them whom thou hast gathered : who didst bless the people when they went forth bearing branches to meet Jesus : vouchsafe likewise to bl+ess these branches of palm and olive which thy faithful servants shall here receive in honour of thy Name ; granting that into whatsoever place they shall bear the same, the dwellers therein may obtain thy blessing : that being delivered from all adversity, they may ever be defended by thy mighty power, who are redeemed by Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

Let us pray.

O GOD whose wonderful providence hath ordained even lifeless things to shew forth the dispensation of our redemption : grant, we beseech thee ; that the devout hearts of thy faithful people may understand aright the mystery which is this day shewn forth.
 For, as at this time, the multitude by the inspiration of thy heavenly light went forth to meet their Redeemer, and strawed branches of palm and olive in his way, thereby in the branches of palm foreshadowing his triumph over the prince of death and by the boughs of olive proclaiming that the anointing of the Spirit was come. For the multitude rejoiced to know that even then was it prefigured : that our Redeemer, having compassion on the misery of mankind, was making ready to fight against the prince of death for the life of the whole world and by his death to conquer. And therefore obediently they laid before him offerings to signify both the triumph of his victory and the abundance of his mercy. Wherefore we likewise, with sure faith having in memory their deeds and the signification of the same, humbly beseech thee, O Lord holy, Father almighty, everlasting God, that like as thou hast vouchsafed to make us members of the same Jesus Christ our Lord : so in him and through him, we may win the victory over the powers of death, and be made partakers of his glorious resurrection. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

Let us pray.

O GOD, who by an olive-branch didst command the dove to proclaim peace on earth : vouchsafe, we beseech thee ; to sanctify with thy heavenly blessing these branches of olive and other trees : that for all thy people they may be profitable unto the attainment of everlasting salvation. Through Christ our Lord. R̃. Amen.

Let us pray.

BLESS, O Lord, we pray thee, these branches of palm and olive : and grant ; that as thy people outwardly with their bodies do worship thee, so inwardly in their souls they may serve thee with pure devotion, that they may be victorious over the assaults of the enemy and cleave stedfastly unto all good works. Through.

§ Then shall the Priest set incense in the censer, and sprinkle the branches three times with holy water, saying without note and without the Psalm the Antiphon Thou shalt purge me ; then shall he cense them three times and afterwards he shall say:

℣. The Lord be with you. R̃. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

O GOD, who didst send forth thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, into the world for our salvation, that he might humble himself to be made like unto us and call us back unto thee : before whom, at his coming to Jerusalem for the fulfilling of the Scriptures, the multitude of them that believed with fruitful devotion strawed their raiment and palm branches in the way : grant, we beseech thee ; that we may so prepare for him the way of faith, that, every stone of stumbling and rock of offence being done away, our works may blossom before thee with branches of righteousness : and that we may be found worthy to follow in his footsteps. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

III. THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE PALMS.

§ The blessing being thus ended, the first of the Clergy that are present shall approach the Altar and give one of the branches that have been blessed to the Priest. And thereafter, the Priest standing before the Altar shall turn himself to the People and distribute the branches, first to the Clergy singly, according to their order, and lastly, to the People. And as he be-ginneth to make distribution, the Choir shall sing the Antiphons here set forth:

The children of the Hebrews, bearing branches of olive, went out to meet the Lord, crying out and saying : Hosanna in the highest.

And this Antiphon. The children of the Hebrews strawed their raiment in the way and cried out saying : Hosanna to the Son of David : blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

§ And if these be not sufficient, they shall be repeated until all the branches have been distributed.

Then shall the Priest say:

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who didst ordain that Jesus Christ our Lord should ride upon a colt, the foal of an ass, and didst teach the multitudes to straw in his way their raiment and branches of trees, and likewise to sing Hosanna in his praise : grant, we beseech thee ; that we may by thee be enabled to follow them in all innocence of life, and be made like unto them in rendering unto thee our true and worthy service. Through the same Christ our Lord. ℟. Amen.

IV. THE PROCESSION OF THE PALMS.

§ Then shall they make the PROCESSION. And first the Priest shall set incense in the censer, and the Deacon turning himself about to the people, shall say: Let us go forth in peace. And the clerks shall answer: In the Name of Christ. Amen.

And the Antiphons here following shall be sung, so many as shall suffice for the time of the Procession.

Antiphon. St. Matt. 21. When the Lord drew nigh unto Jerusalem he sent two of his disciples, saying unto them : Go into the village over against you : and straightway ye shall find an ass's colt tied, whereon never man sat : loose him and bring him unto me. If any man say aught unto you, ye shall say : The Lord hath need of him. They loose him and bring him to Jesus and put on him their clothes, and set him thereon : and some spread their garments in the way, others strawed branches from the trees : and they that followed cried : Hosanna : blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord : blessed is the kingdom of our father David : Hosanna in the highest : Thou Son of David, have mercy upon us.

Another Antiphon. St. John 12. When the people heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, they took branches of palm trees : and went forth to meet him, and the children cried, saying : This is he that should come for the salvation of the people. This is our salvation and the redemption of Israel. How mighty is he whom Thrones and Dominations go forth to meet. Fear not, daughter of Sion : behold thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt, as it is written. Hail, King, creator of the world, who hast come to redeem us.

Another Antiphon. Six days before the feast of the Passover, when the Lord came to the city of Jerusalem, the children went forth to meet him : and in their hands they took branches of palm-trees and cried with a loud voice, saying : Hosanna in the highest : blessed art thou who hast come in the multitude of thy mercies : Hosanna in the highest.

Another Antiphon. The multitudes with flowers and branches go forth to meet their Redeemer : and render worthy homage to the triumphant conqueror : the Gentiles with their lips proclaim the Son of God : and in the praise of Christ their voices thunder through the sky : Hosanna in the highest.

Another Antiphon. With the Angels and the children may we be found faithful, crying unto the vanquisher of death : Hosanna in the highest.

Another Antiphon. Much people that were come to the feast cried unto the Lord : Blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord : Hosanna in the highest.

§ As the Procession turneth back, two or four Cantors shall enter into the Church, and shutting the door, shall stand with their faces towards the Procession and begin the hymn Gloria, laus, et honor. So shall they sing the first verse and the Priest with the others shall repeat the same, standing without the Church.

Thereafter they that are within shall sing the other verses that follow: either all or as many as seemeth good: and after every verse, they that are without shall sing in answer the first verse.

HYMN. Gloria, laus, et honor.

ALL glory, laud, and honour to thee, Redeemer,
King : to whom the lips of children made sweet Hosannas ring. R. All glory.
Thou art the King of Israel, thou David's royal Son : who in the Lord's Name comest, the King and Blessed One. R. All glory.
The company of Angels are praising thee on high,
and mortal men and all things created make reply.
R. All glory.

The people of the Hebrews with palms before thee went : our praise and prayer and anthems before thee we present. R. All glory.

To thee before thy passion they sang their hymns of praise : to thee now high exalted our melody
we raise. R. All glory.

Thou didst accept their praises, accept the prayers we bring : who in all good delightest, thou good and gracious King. R. All glory.

This ended, the Subdeacon with the shaft of the Cross shall strike the door: which being forthwith opened, the Procession shall enter the Church, singing:

R. When the Lord entered the holy city, the children of the Hebrews foretold the Resurrection of Life. * And bearing branches of palms, cried out : Hosanna in the highest.

℣. When the people heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, they went forth to meet him. And bearing branches. And Glory be to the Father shall not be said.

Then shall the MASS be said; and all shall hold the branches in their hands while the Passion and Gospel are sung, but not at any other time.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who, of thy tender love towards mankind, hast sent thy Son, our Saviour Jesus Christ, to take upon him our flesh, and to suffer death upon the Cross, that all mankind should follow the example of his grêat humility : mercifully grant that we may both follow the example of his patiënce, and also be made partakers of his resurrection. The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Philip-pians. Phil. 2. 5.

BRETHREN : Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus : who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God : but made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men. And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him : and given him a Name which is above every name : (Here genuflect) that at the Name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth : and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

GRADUAL. Ps. 73. Thou hast holden me by my right hand : thou shalt guide me with thy counsel : and after that receive me with glory. V. Truly God is loving unto Israel, even unto such as are of a clean heart : nevertheless, my feet were almost gone : my treadings had well-nigh slipt : and why? I was grieved at the wicked, I do also see the ungodly in such prosperity.

TRACT. Ps. 22. My God, my God, look upon me : why hast thou forsaken me? V. And art so far from my health ; and from the words of my complaint? V. O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not : and in the night season also I take no rest. V. But thou continuest holy, O thou Worship of Israel. V. Our fathers hoped in thee : they trusted in thee, and thou didst deliver them. V. They called upon thee, and were holpen : they put their trust in thee, and were not confounded. V. But as for me, I am a worm, and no man : a very scorn of men, and the outcast of the people. V. All they that see me laugh me to scorn : they shoot out their lips, and shake their heads, saying : V. He trusted in God, that he would deliver him : let him deliver him, if he will have him. V. They stand staring and looking upon me : they part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture. V. Save me from the lion's mouth : thou hast heard me also from among the horns of the unicorns. V. O praise the Lord, ye that fear him : magnify him, all ye seed of Jacob. V. They shall be counted unto the Lord for a generation : they shall come, and the heavens shall declare his righteousness. ℟. Unto a people that shall be born, whom the Lord hath made.

§ The Passion shall be begun immediately: Cleanse my heart is not said, nor is a blessing asked, nor are lights carried, nor incense: The Lord be with you is not said, nor Glory be to thee, O Lord, and the Celebrant, or Deacon, when he announces The Passion of our Lord, does not sign the book, nor himself. And this is to be observed on the other days also, when the Passion is read.

The PASSION of our Lord Jesus Christ according to Matthew.

WHEN the morning was come : All the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus, to put him to death. And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governour. Then Judas which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying : ℟. I have sinned, in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. ℣. And they said : ℟. What is that to us? see thou to that. ℣. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed : and went and hanged himself. And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said : ℟. It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury : because it is the price of blood. ℣. And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the Prophet, saying : And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value : and gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me. And Jesus stood before the governour : and the governour asked him, saying : ℟. Art thou the King of the Jews? ℣. And Jesus said unto him : ✠ Thou sayest. ℣. And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders : he answered nothing. Then said Pilate unto him : ℟. Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? ℣. And he answered him to never a word, insomuch that the governour marvelled greatly. Now at that feast the governour was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would. And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them : ℟. Whom will ye that I release unto you : Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? ℣. For he knew that for envy they had delivered him. When he was set down on the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying : ℟. Have thou nothing to do with that just man : for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him. ℣. But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. The governour answered and said unto them : ℟. Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? ℣. They said : ℟. Barabbas. ℣. Pilate saith unto them : ℟. What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? ℣. They all say unto him : ℟. Let him be crucified. ℣. And the governour said : ℟. Why, what evil hath he done? ℣. But they cried out the more, saying : ℟. Let him be crucified. ℣. When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made : he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying : ℟. I am innocent of the blood of this just person : see ye to it. ℣. Then answered all the people, and said : ℟. His blood be on us, and on our children. ℣. Then released he Barabbas unto them : and when he had scourged Jesus he delivered him to be crucified. Then the soldiers of the governour took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers : and they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe : and when they had platted a crown of thorns they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand. And they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying : ℟. Hail, King of the Jews. ℣. And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head. And after that they had mocked him they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him. And as they came out they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name : him they compelled to bear his cross. And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull : they gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall. And when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink. And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots : that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet : They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots. And sitting down they watched him there. And set up over his head his accusation written : THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. Then were there two thieves crucified with him : one on the right hand, and another on the left. And they that passed by reviled him : wagging their heads, and saying : ℟. Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days : save thyself. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross. ℣. Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said : ℟. He saved others, himself he cannot save : if he be the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him : he trusted in God : let him deliver him now, if he will have him ; for he said : I am the Son of God. ℣. The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth. Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying : ✠ Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? ℣. That is to say : ✠ My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? ℣. Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said : ℟. This man calleth for Elias. ℣. And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink. The rest said : ℟. Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him. ℣. Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice : yielded up the ghost.

Here shall he genuflect and pause for a space. That which follows is sung in the tone of the Gospel:

AND behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom : and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent, and the graves were opened : and many bodies of saints which slept arose, and came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many. Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying : Truly this was the Son of God. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 69. Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heaviness : I looked for some to have pity on me, but there was no man : neither found I any to comfort me : they gave me gall to eat, and when I was thirsty they gave me vinegar to drink.

GRANT, we beseech thee, Almighty God : that these gifts which we offer in the sight of thy divine majesty, may obtain for us grace to serve thee in this life with all godliness, and bring us in the end to everlasting felicity. Through.

The LESSON from Isaiah the Prophet.

IN those days ; Said Isaiah : Who is this that cometh from Edom, ‡ with dyed garments frô m Bozrah? This that is glorious in his apparel, ‡ travelling in the greatness ô f his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save. ‡ Wherefore art thou red in thine â pparel? ‡ And thy garments like him that treadeth in thê winefat? I have trodden the wine-press alone, and of the people there was none with me : for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury : and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment. For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come. And I looked, and there was none to help : and I wondered that there was none to uphold : therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me, and my fury it upheld me. And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their strength to the earth. I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel. Which he hath bestowed on them, according to his mercies : and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses. For he said : Surely they are my people, children that will not lie : so he was their Saviour. In all their affliction he was afflicted : and the angel of his presence saved them. In his love, and in his pity, he redeemed them : and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. But they rebelled, and vexed his Holy Spirit : therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them. Then he remembered the days of old : Moses and his people, saying : ‡ Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd ô f his flock? ‡ Where is he that put his Holy Spirit within him? That led them by the right hand of Moses, ‡ with his glorious arm? Dividing the water before them, ‡ to make himself an everlâsting Name? That led them through the deep as an horse in the wilderness, ‡ that they should nô t stumble? As a beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord caused him to rest : so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious Name. Look down from heaven, and behold : from the habitation of thy holiness, and of thy glory. Where is thy zeal, and thy strength, the sounding of thy bowels, ‡ and of thy merciês toward me? ‡ Are they rêstrained? Doubtless thou art our Father. Though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not : thou, O Lord, art our Father, our Redeemer, thy Name is from everlasting. O Lord, why hast thou made us to err from thy ways, ‡ and hardened our heart frô m thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance. The people of thy holiness have possessed it but a little while : our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary. We are thine, thou never barest rule over them ; they were not called by thy Name.

GRADUAL. Ps. 35. Awake, O Lord, and stand up to judge my quarrel, avenge thou my cause, my God, and my Lord. ℣. Bring forth the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me.

TRACT. Ps. 103. O Lord, deal not with us after our sins : nor reward us according to our wickednesses. ℣. Ps. 79. Lord, remember not our old sins, but have mercy upon us, and that soon : for we are come to great misery. (Here genuflect.) ℣. Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy Name, O Lord : O deliver us, and be merciful unto our sins, for thy Name's sake.

The PASSION of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Mark.

St. Mark 14. 1.

AFTER two days ; Was the feast of the Passover, and of unleavened bread, and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take Jesus by craft, and put him to death. But they said : ℟. Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uproar of the people. ℣. And being in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat : there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of spikenard, very precious, and she brake the box, and poured it on his head. And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said : ℟. Why was this waste of the ointment made? For it might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and have been given to the poor. ℣. And they murmured against her. And Jesus said : ℣. Let her alone : why trouble ye her? She hath wrought a good work on me. For ye have the poor with you always : and whensoever ye will ye may do them good : but me ye have not always. She hath done what she could : she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying. Verily I say unto you : Wheresoever this Gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her. ℣. And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests to betray him unto them. And when they heard it they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him. And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the Passover, his disciples said unto him : ℟. Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the Passover? ℣. And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them : ℣. Go ye into the city : and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water, follow him : and wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the good-man of the house : The Master saith : Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the Passover with my disciples? And he will shew you a large upper-room furnished, and prepared : there make ready for us. ℣. And his disciples went forth, and came into the city : and found as he had said unto them, and they made ready the Passover. And in the evening he cometh with the twelve. And as they sat, and did eat, Jesus said : ℣. Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me, ℣. And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one : ℟. Is it I? ℣. And another said :

§. Is it I? C. And he answered and said unto them : ✠ It is one of the twelve that dippeth with me in the dish. The Son of Man indeed goeth, as it is written of him : but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed. Good were it for that man if he had never been born. C. And as they did eat, Jesus took bread : and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said : ✠ Take, eat, this is my body. C. And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks he gave it to them : and they all drank of it. And he said unto them : ✠ This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many. Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the Kingdom of God. C. And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives. And Jesus saith unto them : ✠ All ye shall be offended because of me this night : for it is written : I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered. But, after that I am risen : I will go before you into Galilee. C. But Peter said unto him : §. Although all shall be offended, yet will not I. C. And Jesus saith unto him : ✠ Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. C. But he spake the more vehemently : §. If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. C. Likewise also said they all. And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane. And he saith to his disciples : ✠ Sit ye here, while I shall pray. C. And he taketh with him Peter, and James, and John : and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy. And saith unto them : ✠ My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death : tarry ye here, and watch. C. And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground : and prayed, that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him : and he said : ✠ Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee, take away this cup from me : nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt. C. And he cometh and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter : ✠ Simon, sleepest thou? Coudest not thou watch one hour? Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak. C. And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words. And when he returned he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) neither wist they what to answer him. And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them : ✠ Sleep on now, and take your rest. It is enough : the hour is come : behold, the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. Rise up, let us go : lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand. C. And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders. And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying : §. Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he, take him, and lead him away safely. C. And as soon as he was come he goeth straightway to him, and saith : §. Master, master. C. And kissed him. And they laid their hands on him, and took him. And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest : and cut off his ear. And Jesus answered, and said unto them : ✠ Are ye come out as against a thief, with swords and with staves, to take me? I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not. But the Scriptures must be fulfilled. ℣. And they all forsook him, and fled. And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body : and the young men laid hold on him. And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked. And they led Jesus away to the high priest : and with him were assembled all the chief priests, and the elders, and the scribes. And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest : and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire. And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death, and found none. For many bare false witness against him : but their witness agreed not together. And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying : ℟. We heard him say : I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands. ℣. But neither so did their witness agree together. And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying : ℟. Answerest thou nothing? What is it which these witness against thee? ℣. But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him : ℟. Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? ℣. And Jesus said : ✠ I am : and ye shall see the Son of Man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. ℣. Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith : ℟. What need we any further witnesses? Ye have heard the blasphemy : what think ye? ℣. And they all condemned him to be guilty of death. And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him : ℟. Prophecy. ℣. And the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.

That which follows is sung in the tone of the Gospel:

AND as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest : and when she saw Peter warming himself she looked upon him, and said : And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth. But he denied, saying : I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch, and the cock crew. And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by : This is one of them. And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter : Surely thou art one of them : for thou art a Galilaean : and thy speech agreeth thereto. But he began to curse and to swear, saying : I know not this man of whom ye speak. And the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him : Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

IN those days ; Said Isaiah : The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious : neither turned away back. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair : I hid not my face from shame and spitting. For the Lord God will help me, therefore shall I not be confounded : therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed. He is near that justifieth me ; † who will contend with me? Let us stand together ; † who is mine adversary? Let him come near to me. Behold,

The PASSION of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Mark.

St. Mark 15. 4.

AT that time : And straightway in the morning, the chief priests held a consultation with the elders, and scribes, and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate. And Pilate asked him : ℟. Art thou the King of the Jews? ℣. And he answering said unto him : ‡ Thou sayest it. ℣. And the chief priests accused him of many things : but he answered nothing. And Pilate asked him again, saying : ℟. Answerest thou nothing?

behold how many things they witness against thee. ℣. But Jesus yet answered nothing, so that Pilate marvelled. Now at that feast he released unto them one prisoner whomsoever they desired. And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection. And the multitude, crying aloud, began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them. But Pilate answered them, saying : ℟. Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? ℣. For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envy. But the chief priests moved the people, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them. And Pilate answered, and said again unto them : ℟. What will ye then that I shall do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews? ℣. And they cried out again : ℟. Crucify him. ℣. Then Pilate said unto them : ℟. Why, what evil hath he done? ℣. And they cried out the more exceedingly : ℟. Crucify him. ℣. And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified. And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Praetorium, and they call together the whole band, and they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head. And began to salute him : Hail, King of the Jews. And they smote him on the head with a reed : and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him. And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him : and led him out to crucify him. And they compel one Simon a Cyrenian, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his cross. And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh : but he received it not. And when they had crucified him they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take. And it was the third hour : and they crucified him. And the superscription of his accusation was written over : THE KING OF THE JEWS. And with him they crucify two thieves : the one on his right hand, and the other on his left. And the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith : And he was numbered with the transgressors. And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying : ℟. Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days : save thyself, and come down from the cross. ℣. Likewise also the chief priests mocking said among themselves, with the scribes : ℟. He saved others, himself he cannot save. Let Christ the King of Israel descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. ℣. And they that were crucified with him, reviled him. And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour. And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying : ✠ Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? ℣. Which is, being interpreted : ✠ My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? ℣. And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said : ℟. Behold, he calleth Elias. ℣. And one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying : ℟. Let alone, let us see whether Elias will come to take him down. ℣. And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.

That which follows is sung in the tone of the Gospel:

IN those days : Said Isaiah : Lord, ‡ who hath believed our report? ‡ and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed? For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground ; he hath no form nor comeliness : and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him : he is despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief : and we hid as it were our faces from him, he was despised, and we esteemed him not. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows : yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities ; the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed. All we like sheep have gone astray, we have turned every one to his own way : and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth ; he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. He was taken from prison and from judgement : ‡ and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living : for the transgression of my people was he stricken. And he made his grave with the wicked : because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth. Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him, he hath put him to grief : when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand. He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied : by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many, for he shall bear their iniquities. Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great : and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because he hath poured out his soul unto death, and he was numbered with the transgressors ; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

COLLECT 2. Of Palm Sunday.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews.

Heb. 9. 16.

BRETHREN : Where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator : for a testament is of force after men are dead, otherwise it is of no strength at all whilst the testator liveth. Whereupon, neither the first testament was dedicated without blood. For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people, according to the Law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people, saying : This is the blood of the testament, which God hath enjoined unto you. Moreover, he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry. And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood : and without shedding of blood is no remission. It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these : but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true : but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us. Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others : for then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world. But now once in the end of the world hath he appeared, to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgement : so Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many. And unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

TRACT. Ps. 102. Hear my prayer, O Lord, and let my crying come unto thee. ℣. Hide not thy face from me : in the time of my trouble incline thine ear unto me. ℣. When I call ; O hear me, and that right soon. ℣. For my days are consumed away like smoke : and my bones are burnt up as it were a fire-brand. ℣. My heart is smitten down, and withered like grass : so that I forget to eat my bread. ℣. Thou shalt arise and have mercy upon Sion : for it is time that thou have mercy upon her, yea, the time is come.

The PASSION of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Luke.

St. Luke 2. 1.

AT that time : [Now] The feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover : and the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him : for they feared the people. Then entered Satan into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve. And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them. And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money. And he promised. And sought opportunity to betray him unto them in the absence of the multitude. Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the Passover must be killed. And he sent Peter and John, saying : ✠ Go and prepare us the Passover, that we may eat. ℥. And they said unto him : ℟. Where wilt thou that we prepare? ℥. And he said unto them : ✠ Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water :

follow him into the house where he entereth in, and ye shall say unto the good-man of the house : The Master saith unto thee : Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the Passover with my disciples? And he shall shew you a large upper-room furnished, there make ready. ℥. And they went, and found as he had said unto them, and they made ready the Passover. And when the hour was come he sat down, and the twelve Apostles with him. And he said unto them : ✠ With desire I have desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer. For I say unto you : I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the Kingdom of God. ℥. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said : ✠ Take this, and divide it among yourselves. For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the Kingdom of God shall come. ℥. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying : ✠ This is my Body, which is given for you : this do in remembrance of me. ℥. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying : ✠ This cup is the new testament in my Blood, which is shed for you. But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table. And truly the Son of Man goeth as it was determined : but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed. ℥. And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing. And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest. And he said unto them : ✠ The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them : and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors. But ye shall not be so : but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger : and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? Is not he that sitteth at meat? But I am among you as he that serveth : ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations. And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me, that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom : and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. C. And the Lord said : ✠ Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat : but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not : and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren. C. And he said unto him : S. Lord, I am ready to go with thee both into prison and to death. C. And he said : ✠ I tell thee, Peter : The cock shall not crow this day before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me. C. And he said unto them : ✠ When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? C. And they said : S. Nothing. C. Then said he unto them : ✠ But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip : and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one. For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me : And he was reckoned among the transgressors. For the things concerning me have an end. C. And they said : S. Lord, behold, here are two swords. C. And he said unto them :

✠ It is enough. C. And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives. And his disciples also followed him. And when he was at the place, he said unto them : ✠ Pray, that ye enter not into temptation. C. And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down and prayed, saying : ✠ Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me : nevertheless, not my will, but thine be done. C. And there appeared an Angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him. And being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly. And his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow ; and said unto them : ✠ Why sleep ye? Rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. C. And while he yet spake, behold, a multitude : and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them : and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. But Jesus said unto him : ✠ Judas, betrayest thou the Son of Man with a kiss? C. When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him : S. Lord, shall we smite with the sword? C. And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. And Jesus answered and said : ✠ Suffer ye thus far. C. And he touched his ear, and healed him. Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders which were come to him : ✠ Be ye come out as against a thief, with swords and staves? When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me : but this is your hour, and the power of darkness. C. Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house : and Peter followed afar off. And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down among them. But a certain maid beheld him, as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said : S. This man was also with him. C. And he denied him, saying : S. Woman, I know him not. C. And after a little while another saw him, and said : S. Thou art also of them. C. And Peter said : S. Man, I am not. C. And about the space of one hour after, another confidently affirmed, saying : S. Of a truth this fellow also was with him : for he is a Galilaean. C. And Peter said : S. Man, I know not what thou sayest. C. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him : Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

AND the men that held Jesus mocked him, and smote him. And when they had blindfolded him, they struck him on the face : and asked him, saying : Prophecy, who is it that smote thee? And many other things blasphemously spake they against him. And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people, and the chief priests, and the scribes, came together, and led him into their council, saying : Art thou the Christ? Tell us. And he said unto them : If I tell you, ye will not believe : and if I also ask you, ye will not answer me, nor let me go. Hereafter shall the Son of Man sit on the right hand of the power of God. Then said they all : Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them : Ye say that I am. And they said : What need we any further witness? For we ourselves have heard of his own mouth.

After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying : This cup is the new testament in my Blood : this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. The PASSION of our Lord Jesus Christ according to Luke. St. Luke 23. 1.

AT that time : The whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate. And they began to accuse him, saying : ℟. We found this fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, saying, that he himself is Christ a King. ℣. And Pilate asked him, saying : ℟. Art thou the King of the Jews? ℣. And he answered him, and said : ✠ Thou sayest it. ℣. Then said Pilate to the chief priests, and to the people : ℟. I find no fault in this man. ℣. And they were the more fierce, saying : ℟. He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place. ℣. When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilaean. And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself was also at Jerusalem at that time. And when Herod saw Jesus he was exceeding glad. For he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him, and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him. Then he questioned with him in many words. But he answered him nothing. And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him. And Herod with his men of war set him at nought : and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate. And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together : for before they were at enmity between themselves. And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests, and the rulers, and the people, said unto them : ℟. Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people, and behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him. No, nor yet Herod : for I sent you to him, and lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him. I will therefore chastise him, and release him. ℣. For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast. And they cried out all at once, saying : ℟. Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas. ℣. Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison. Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them. But they cried, saying : ℟. Crucify him, crucify him. ℣. And he said unto them the third time : ℟. Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him : I will therefore chastise him, and let him go. ℣. And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed. And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required. And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired : but he delivered Jesus to their will. And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon a Cyrenian, coming out of the country : and on him they laid the Cross, that he might bear it after Jesus. And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him. But Jesus, turning unto them, said : ✠ Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. For behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say : Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck. Then shall they begin to say to the mountains : Fall on us ; and to the hills : Cover us. For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry? ℣. And there were also two other, malefactors, led with him to be put to death. And when they were come to the place which is called Calvary, there they crucified him : and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left. Then said Jesus : ✠ Father, forgive them : for they know not what they do. ℣. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots. And the people stood beholding, and the rulers also with them derided him, saying : ℟. He saved others : let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God. ℣. And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, and saying : ℟. If thou be the King of the Jews, save thyself. ℣. And a superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew : THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS. And one of the malefactors, which were hanged, railed on him, saying : ℟. If thou be Christ, save thyself, and us. ℣. But the other answering rebuked him, saying : ℟. Dost not thou fear God?

Seeing thou art in the same condemnation. And we indeed justly, for we receive the due reward of our deeds : but this man hath done nothing amiss. ℣. And he said unto Jesus : ℟. Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. ℣. And Jesus said unto him : ✠ Verily I say unto thee : To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise. ℣. And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour. And the sun was darkened : and the veil of the temple was rent in the midst. And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said : ✠ Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit. ℣. And having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

That which follows is sung in the tone of the Gospel:

NOW when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying : Certainly this was a righteous man. And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things that were done, smote their breasts, and returned. And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

¶ Or else this that followeth. [To wit, the Gospel given below, which same is the ancient Gospel for this Mass, for the Passion was not read on this day.]

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to John. St. John 13. 1.

NOW before the feast of the Passover, when Jesus knew that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end. And supper being ended, the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him ; Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God : he riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments ; and took a towel, and girded himself. After that he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded. Then cometh he to Simon Peter. And Peter saith unto him : Lord, ‡ dost thou wâsh my feet? Jesus answered and said unto him : What I do thou knowest not now ; but thou shalt knôw hereafter. Peter saith unto him : Thou shalt nevêr wash my feet. Jesus answered him : If I wash thee not, thou hast nô part with me. Simon Peter saith unto him : Lord, not my feet only, but also my hânds and my head. Jesus saith to him : He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clêan every whit. And ye are clêan, but not all. For he knew who should betray him ; therefore said he : Ye âre not all clean. So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them : ‡ Know ye what I have dône to you? Ye call me Master and Lord : and ye say well ; fôr so I am. If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet ; ye also ought to wash one ânother's feet. For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you. And the Creed shall be said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 118. The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence, the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass : I shall not die but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

SECRET.

GRANT, we beseech thee, O Lord holy, Father almighty, everlasting God : that he may render our sacrifice acceptable in thy sight, who as on this day commanded his disciples, saying : Do this in remembrance of me, even Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord : Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

PREFACE of the Cross.

Anciently the Anaphora was slightly varied on this day (to celebrate therein the Institution of the Eucharist) by the insertion of the bracketed words given in the Gregorian Canon as follows:

Communicantes.

In communion with and in honour of this most holy day [whereon our Lord Jesus Christ was betrayed for us] : and in worshipful remembrance of the glorious and Ever-Virgin Mary, Mother of the same our God and Lord Jesus Christ, etc.

Hanc igitur.

Therefore, Lord, we beseech thee, that thou wilt graciously receive this oblation of our bounden service, and of all thy household : [which we offer unto thee as on this day whereon our Lord Jesus Christ did institute and hand down to his disciples the mysteries of his Body and Blood :] and do thou order, etc.

Qui pridie.

Who the next day afore he suffered [for us men and for our salvation, that is, even today,] took Bread into his holy and reverent hands, etc.

After this fashion, the American Canon would read as follows:

ALL glory be to thee, Almighty God, Our heavenly Father, for that thou, of thy tender mercy, didst give thine only Son Jesus Christ to suffer death upon the Cross for our redemption ; who made there (by his one oblation of himself once offered), a full, perfect, and sufficient sacrifice, oblation, and satisfaction, for the sins of the whole world ; and [as on this day] did institute [and hand down to his disciples the mysteries of his Body and Blood,] and in his holy Gospel [did] command us to continue a Perpetual Memory of that his precious death and sacrifice, until his coming again :

FOR in the [same] night, in which [for us men and for our salvation] he was betrayed, [even today,] he took Bread, and when he had blessed and given thanks, he brake it, and gave it to his disciples, saying : Take, eat :

This is my Body which is given for you.

And the rest, as in the Canon.

O Lamb of God is said after the customary manner, but the Kiss of Peace shall not be given. But the three accustom'd Prayers before the Communion shall be said.

§ On this day the Priest shall consecrate two Hosts, whereof he shall consume the one; but the other he shall reserve for the day following whereon the Sacrament is not consecrated.

COMMUNION. St. John 13. The Lord Jesus, after he had supped with his disciples, and had washed their feet, said unto them : Know ye what I your Lord and Master have done to you? I have given you an example that ye should do as I have done to you.

POSTCOMMUNION.

OUR Lord our God, who hast refreshed us with this life-giving sustenance, we beseech thee : that we, who observe this institution in the time of our mortal life, may obtain the benefit thereof in thy gift of immortality. Through.

Then shall he say Depart in peace and give the Blessing; and the Gospel of St. John shall be read: at the beginning whereof the Priest shall not sign the Altar, but himself alone.

THE PROCESSION

§ On this day a fit place shall be made ready in some Chapel within the Church or on an Altar, where the Chalice with the Host reserved therein shall be set. And when Mass is finished, torches being lighted, a PROCESSION shall be formed after the customary fashion, and the Most Holy carried with honour to the place made ready; and during the Procession shall be sung:

HYMN. Pange, lingua, gloriosi.

OF the glorious Body telling, O my tongue, its mysteries sing,
And the Blood, all price excelling, which the world's eternal King,
In a noble womb once dwelling, shed for this world's ransoming.

Given for us, for us descending, of a Virgin to proceed,
Man with man in converse blending, scattered he the Gospel seed,
Till his sojourn drew to ending, which he closed in wondrous deed.

At the last great Supper lying, circled by his brethren's band, Meekly with the law complying, first he finished its command,
Then, immortal Food supplying, gave himself with his own hand.

Word made Flesh, by word he maketh, very bread his Flesh to be :
Man in wine Christ's Blood partaketh, and if senses fail to see,
Faith alone the true heart waketh, to behold the mystery.

Therefore we before him bending, this great Sacrament revere :
Types and shadows have their ending, for the newer Rite is here :
Faith, our outward sense befriending, makes the inward vision clear.

Glory, let us give, and blessing, to the Father and the Son ;
Honour, might, and praise addressing, while eternal ages run :
Ever too his love confessing, who from both, with both, is one. Amen.

And when he shall be come to the place prepared, the Sacrament shall be set therein reverently. And thereafter shall EVENSONG be said in the Quire without singing.

And Evensong being ended, the Priest, vested in an Alb, with violet Stole, with the Ministers, shall LAY BARE THE ALTARS, reading the Antiphon: Ps. 22. They parted my garments among them : and cast lots upon my vesture, and the whole of the Psalm My God, my God, look upon me, as at Matins for Good Friday (sung as "Tenebrae" this evening).

THE MAUNDY

§ The Altars being laid bare, at a convenient time the signal is given with a wooden instrument, and the Clergy shall come together to perform the MAUNDY. First shall be sung in the customary manner the Gospel Now before the feast of the Passover, as in the Mass above. And they that are to be washed shall be set in order, and the Superior shall wash their feet and wipe and kiss them. And at the same time shall be sung these sentences of Scripture that follow.

Antiphon. St. John 13. A new commandment give I unto you : that ye love one another as I have loved you, saith the Lord.

Ps. 119. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the way : and walk in the law of the Lord.

Then forthwith shall the Antiphon A new commandment be repeated. And in like manner shall each Antiphon be repeated after its Psalm or verse. And of each Psalm the first verse only shall be said.

Antiphon. St. John 13. After the Lord had risen from supper he put water in a bason and began to wash his disciples' feet : this example left he unto them. Ps. 48. Great is the Lord, and highly to be praised : in the city of our God, even upon his holy hill.

After the Lord.

Antiphon. St. John 13. The Lord Jesus after he had supped with his disciples washed their feet, and said unto them : Know ye what I your Lord and Master have done unto you? I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you. Ps. 85. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land : thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob.

The Lord Jesus.

Antiphon. St. John 13. Lord, dost thou wash my feet? Jesus answered and said unto him : If I wash not thy feet, thou hast no part in me. V. He came therefore unto Simon Peter, and Peter said unto him.

Then shall be repeated the Antiphon Lord, dost thou wash my feet? Jesus answered and said unto him : If I wash not thy feet, thou hast no part in me.

℣. What I do, thou knowest not now : but thou shalt know hereafter.

And the Antiphon is repeated a third time. Lord, dost thou wash my feet? Jesus answered and said unto him : If I wash not thy feet, thou hast no part in me.

Antiphon. If I, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet : how much more ought ye to wash one another's feet? Ps. 49. O hear ye this, all ye people : ponder it with your ears, all ye that dwell in the world.

If I, your Lord.

Antiphon. St. John 13. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another. ℣. Jesus said unto his disciples. By this shall all men know.

Antiphon. 1 Cor. 13. Let these three abide in you, faith, hope, and charity : but the greatest of these is charity.

℣. Now abideth faith, hope, and charity, these three : but the greatest of these is charity.

Let these three.

Antiphon. Blessed be the holy Trinity and the undivided Unity : we will confess him, because he hath shewed his mercy upon us. ℣. Let us bless the Father and the Son with the Holy Ghost. Ps. 84. O how amiable are thy dwellings, thou Lord of Hosts! My soul hath a desire and longing to enter into the courts of the Lord. Blessed be.

Antiphon. 1 St. John 2, 3, 4. Where charity and love are, there is God. ℣. The love of Christ joined us in one. ℣. Let us rejoice and be glad in him. ℣. Let us fear and love the living God. ℣. And love one another in sincerity of heart.

Then is repeated the Antiphon Where charity and love are, there is God. ℣. When, therefore, we are joined together. ℣. Let us see that we be not divided in spirit. ℣. Let all malicious wranglings and contentions cease. ℣. And let Christ our God be in the midst of us.

Then is repeated the Antiphon Where charity and love are, there is God. ℣. So may we with the blessed see. ℣. In glory thy countenance, Christ our God. ℣. Joy that is infinite and undefiled. ℣. For ever and for evermore. Amen.

After the washing, the Superior shall say, standing with head uncovered:

Our Father, secretly.

℣. And lead us not into temptation.

℞. But deliver us from evil.

℣. Thou hast charged, O Lord.

℞. That we should diligently keep thy commandments.

℣. Thou didst wash the feet of thy disciples.

℞. Despise not thou the works of thine own hands.

℣. Lord, hear my prayer.

℞. And let my cry come unto thee.

℣. The Lord be with you.

℞. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, mercifully to assist this our bounden duty and service : and forasmuch as thou didst vouchsafe to wash the feet of thy disciples, despise not thou the works of thine own hands, which thou hast bidden us to follow : and mercifully grant that as we have this day washed away our outward defilements, so by thee we may inwardly be cleansed from all our offences. Who livest and reignest God : world without end. R/. Amen.

GOOD FRIDAY

Double of I Class

Station at St. Cross in Jerusalem. Proanaphora 1549 and successive revisions.

I. THE MASS OF THE CATECHUMENS.

§ In Quire, the Office being ended, the Priest and Ministers in black vestments, and without candles and incense, shall go unto the Altar; and prostrating themselves before it, shall pray for a while. And meanwhile the Acolytes shall spread one cloth and no more upon the Altar. His prayer being finished, the Priest, with the Ministers, shall go up to the Altar, and kiss it in the midst: and thereafter the Reader, going to the place where the Epistle is read, shall read the Prophecy, beginning it without any announcement:

Hosea 6.

THUS saith the Lord : In their affliction they will seek me early : Come, and let us return unto the Lord : for he hath torn, and he will heal us : he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. After two days will he revive us : in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight. Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the Lord : his going forth is prepared as the morning, and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth. O Ephraim, ‡ what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, ‡ what shall I do unto thee? For your goodness is as a morning cloud : and as the early dew it goeth away. Therefore I have hewed them by the Prophets, I have slain them by the words of my mouth : and thy judgements are as the light that goeth forth. For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

Thanks be to God shall not be said here, nor after the Epistle following.

TRACT. Hab. 3. O Lord, I have heard thy speech, and was afraid : O Lord, revive thy work in the midst of the years. V. In the midst of the two beasts, be thou acknowledged : in the midst of the years, make thyself known. V. In the time to come, be thou manifest : in the time of the confusion of my soul in wrath, remember mercy. V. God came from Libanus : and the Holy One from the thick darkness of the wooded mountain. V. His glory covered the heavens : and the earth was full of his praise.

§ The Tract being ended, the Priest at the Epistle horn shall say: Let us pray. Then shall the Deacon say: Let us bow the knee. And the Subdeacon: Arise.

COLLECT.

ALMIGHTY God, we beseech thee graciously to behold this thy family, for which our Lord Jesus Christ was contented to be betrayed, and given up into the hands of wicked men, and to suffer death upon the Cross. Who now liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost ever, one God, world without end. R. Amen.

Let us pray. Let us bow the knee.
R. Arise.

COLLECT.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, by whose Spirit the whole body of the Church is governed and sanctified : receive our supplications and prayers, which we offer before thee for all estates of men in thy holy Church ; that every member of the same, in his vocation and ministry, may truly and godly serve thee. Through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. [Who.] R. Amen.

Let us pray. Let us bow the knee.
R. Arise.

COLLECT.

OMERCIFUL God, who hast made all men, and hatest nothing that thou hast made, nor desireth the death of a sinner, but rather that he should be converted and live : have mercy upon all who know thee not as thou art revealed in the Gospel of thy Son. Take from them all ignorance, hardness of heart, and contempt of thy Word ; and so fetch them home, blessed Lord, to thy fold, that they may be made one flock under one shepherd, Jesus Christ our Lord. Who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Spirit, one God, world without end.

R. Amen.

Then shall the Subdeacon, without any announcement, sing the EPISTLE following.

Heb. 10. 1.

BRETHREN : The Law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices, which they offered year by year continually, make the comers thereunto perfect : ‡ for then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins. But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year. For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins. Wherefore, when he cometh into the world, he saith : Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me : in burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure. Then said I : Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God. Above, when he said : Sacrifice and offering, and burnt-offerings, and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein, which are offered by the Law : then said he : Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second. By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. And every priest standeth daily ministering, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God ; from henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his foot-stool. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us : for after that he had said before : This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord : I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them ; then saith he : And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more. Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin. Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the Blood of Jesus, by a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh : and having an High Priest over the house of God ; let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering : (for he is faithful that promised ;) and let us consider one another to provoke unto love, and to good works : not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is : but exhorting one another : and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

TRACT. Ps. 140. Deliver me, O Lord, from the evil man : and preserve me from the wicked man. V. Who imagine mischief in their hearts : and stir up strife all the day long. V. They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent : adder's poison is under their lips. V. Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the ungodly : and preserve me from the wicked men. V. Who are purposed to overthrow my goings : the proud have laid a snare for me. V. And spread a net abroad with cords : yea, and set traps in my way. V. I said unto the Lord : Thou art my God : hear the voice of my prayers, O Lord. V. O Lord God, thou strength of my health : thou hast covered my head in the day of battle. V. Let not the ungodly have his desire, O Lord : let not his mischievous imagination prosper : lest they be too proud. V. Let the mischief of their own lips fall upon the head of them : that compass me about. V. The righteous also shall give thanks unto thy Name : and the just shall continue in thy sight.

§ The Tract ended, the Passion is sung from a bare desk: and the Celebrant shall read it also at the Epistle horn of the Altar with the subdued voice.

The PASSION of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to John. St. John 19. 1.

AT that time : Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him. And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head : and they put on him a purple robe, and said : Hail, King of the Jews. C. And they smote him with their hands. Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them : Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him. C. Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them : Behold the man. C. When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying : ℟. Crucify him, crucify him. ℣. Pilate saith unto them : ℟. Take ye him, and crucify him : for I find no fault in him. ℣. The Jews answered him : ℟. We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God. ℣. When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid. And went again into the judgement-hall : and saith unto Jesus : ℟. Whence art thou? ℣. But Jesus gave him no answer. Then saith Pilate unto him : ℟. Speakest thou not unto me? Knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee? ℣. Jesus answered : ✠ Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above. Therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. ℣. And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him. But the Jews cried out, saying : ℟. If thou let this man go, thou art not Caesar's friend. Whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar. ℣. When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgement seat, in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha. And it was the Preparation of the Passover, and about the sixth hour, and he saith unto the Jews : ℟. Behold your King. ℣. But they cried out : ℟. Away with him, away with him, crucify him. ℣. Pilate saith unto them : ℟. Shall I crucify your King? ℣. The chief priests answered : ℟. We have no king but Caesar. ℣. Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away. And he, bearing his cross, went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew, Golgotha : where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. And Pilate wrote a title : and put it on the cross. And the writing was : JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS. This title then read many of the Jews, for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city. And it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin. Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate : ℟. Write not, The King of the Jews : but that he said : I am the King of the Jews. ℣. Pilate answered : ℟. What I have written, I have written. ℣. Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts : to every soldier a part, and also his coat. Now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. They said therefore among themselves : ℟. Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be. ℣. That the Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith : They parted my raiment among them : and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did. Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother : ✠ Woman, behold thy son. ℣. Then saith he to the disciple : ✠ Behold thy mother. ℣. And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home. After this, Jesus, knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, saith : ✠ I thirst. ℣. Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar. And they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth. When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said : ✠ It is finished. ℣. And he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

The rest is sung in the tone of the Gospel: Cleanse my heart is said, but the blessing is not asked, nor are lights carried nor incense, and at the end the Celebrant does not kiss the book.

THE Jews therefore, because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was an high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. Then came the soldiers : and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs : but one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water. And he that saw it bare record : and his record is true. And he knoweth that he saith true : that ye might believe. For these things were done, that the Scripture should be fulfilled : A bone of him shall not be broken. And again another Scripture saith : They shall look on him whom they pierced.

II. THE SOLEMN COLLECTS.

Then the Priest, standing at the Epistle horn of the Altar, shall begin immediately with joined hands:

DEARLY beloved brethren, let us pray for the holy Church of God : that the Lord our God may vouchsafe to preserve it throughout all the world in unity, peace, and safety : making subject unto it all Principalities and Powers : and that he may grant unto us to dwell in such quiet and tranquillity that we may duly shew forth the glory of God the Father Almighty.

LET us pray. (Deacon:) Let us bow the knee. (Sub-deacon:) Arise.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who hast in Christ made manifest thy glory unto all mankind : we beseech thee that thou wouldest preserve those things which of thy mercy thou hast created ; that thy Church being spread abroad through all the world may stedfastly abide in the confession of thy holy Name. LET us pray likewise for all them that are catechumens : that the Lord our God may open the ears of their hearts that they may enter in at the gate of his mercy ; that by the washing of regeneration they may obtain the remission of all their sins, and be found faithful servants of our Lord, Christ Jesus.

LET us pray. (Deacon:) Let us bow the knee. (Sub-deacon:) Arise.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who dost ever increase thy Church with the abundance of a new generation : we beseech thee that thou wouldest multiply in faith and understanding them that are being taught in thy holy word ; that being renewed in the water of Baptism they may be numbered among the sons of thine adoption. Through. R/. Amen.

DEARLY beloved brethren, let us pray likewise to God the Father Almighty, that he would vouchsafe to cleanse the world from all false doctrine : to deliver it from pestilence and famine : to open all prisons : and to set free them that are in captivity : granting unto pilgrims a safe return : to the sick healing : and to them that travel by sea to attain unto the haven that they desire.

LET us pray. (Deacon:) Let us bow the knee. (Sub-deacon:) Arise.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, the comforter of them that mourn, the strength of them that travail : we beseech thee to hear the prayers of them that in any necessity make their supplications unto thee ; that in all their troubles and adversities they may rejoice in the present succour of thy loving-kindness. Through. R. Amen.

LET us pray likewise for all them that are in heresy and schism : that the Lord our God may deliver them from all false doctrines, and vouchsafe to restore them to their holy Mother the Catholic and Apostolic Church.

LET us pray. (Deacon:) Let us bow the knee. (Sub-deacon:) Arise.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who wouldest not that any should perish, but rather that they should be saved : we beseech thee mercifully to look upon them that are deceived by the crafts of the devil ; that the hearts of them which have gone astray may be delivered from their perversities and restored to the way of truth and to the unity of thy holy Church. Through. R. Amen.

LET us pray likewise for the Jews : that the Lord our God may remove from their hearts the veil of unbelief ; and that they may come to the knowledge of Jesus Christ our Lord.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who extendest to the unbelieving of the Jews the abundance of thy mercy : graciously hear our prayers for this people whose hearts are blinded ; that they may come to know Christ Jesus to be the Light of thy truth, and in him find the way out of the darkness of their misunderstandings. Through the same. R. Amen.

LET us pray likewise for the heathen : that God Almighty may take away the iniquity of their hearts ; that they may turn away from their idols to the true and living God, and to his only begotten Son Jesus Christ our Lord and God.

LET us pray. (Deacon:) Let us bow the knee. (Sub-deacon:) Arise.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who desirest not the death of a sinner but rather that he should turn from his wickedness and live : mercifully accept our prayers ; that all who know thee not as thou art revealed in the Gospel of thy Son may be delivered from the worship of their idols, and by confession of the true faith be united to thy holy Church to the honour and glory of thy Name. Through the same. R. Amen.

III. THE VENERATION OF THE CROSS.

Having finished the Prayers, the Priest lays aside his Chasuble and goes to the Epistle horn of the Altar, where, standing at the back corner, he takes from the Deacon a CROSS which has been previously made ready on the Altar. [Or, if he celebrate without Deacon or Subdeacon, the Priest himself removes the Cross from the Altar, genuflecting before ascending the steps.] Turning towards the People, he partly UNCOVERS it from the top, and begins alone the Antiphon Behold the wood of the Cross, after which the Ministers join in singing the rest as far as O come, let us worship. And when the Choir sings O come, let us worship, all kneel except the Celebrant. And all this is done twice again, except that the third time the Cross is uncovered entirely.

BEHOOLD the Wood of the Cross, whereon was hung the world's Salvation. (Choir:) O come, let us worship.

*And afterward THE CROSS IS CARRIED by the Priest alone to the place made ready for it before the Holy Table, and, kneeling there, he sets it in place: next he lays aside his shoes, and approaches to venerate the Cross, thrice making a double genuflection before he kisses it. Which done, he returns and takes again his shoes and the Chasuble. Afterward the Ministers at the Altar and then in order the rest of the Clerics and Laics, two by two proceed to VENERATE THE CROSS, making double genuflections thrice, as is noted above. #### IV. THE MASS OF THE PRESANCTIFIED.

§ Toward the end of the Worship of the Cross the Altar is made ready, and a PROCESSION is made to the place where the Sacrament was laid yesterday, and honour is paid to the Most Holy, with incense and lights, wherewith the Procession returns, whilst there is sung:

HYMN. Vexilla Regis prodeunt.

THE royal banners forward go :
The Cross shines forth in mystic glow,
Where he in flesh, our flesh who made,
Our sentence bore, our ransom paid.

Where deep for us the spear was dyed,
Life's torrent rushing from his side,
To wash us in that precious flood,
Where mingled Water flowed and Blood.

Fulfilled is all that David told,
In true prophetic song of old :
Amidst the nations, God, saith he,
Hath reigned and triumphed from the Tree.

O Tree of beauty, Tree of light,
O Tree with royal purple dight,
Elect on whose triumphal breast
Those holy limbs should find their rest.

On whose dear arms so widely flung
The weight of this world's ransom hung,
The price of humankind to pay,
And spoil the spoiler of his prey.

§ The following verse is sung kneeling.

O Cross, our one reliance hail,
So may thy power with us avail
To give new virtue to the saint
And pardon to the penitent.

To thee, eternal Three in One,
Let homage meet by all be done,
Whom by the Cross thou dost restore Preserve and govern evermore. Amen.

§ When the Priest has come to the Altar, he places the Chalice upon it, and kneeling again censes the Sacrament: then going up to the Altar he places the Host from the Chalice on the Paten and then makes the Offertory as prescribed for Good Friday.

Then turning towards the People, on the Gospel side, he says in the customary way:

BRETHREN, pray: that my sacrifice and yours may be acceptable to God the Father Almighty.

Omitting all else, he immediately sings:

Let us pray

AND now, as our Saviour Christ hath taught us, we are bold to say :
Our Father, who art in heaven : Hallowed be thy Name : Thy kingdom come : Thy will be done, On earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread : And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation. R̃. But deliver us from evil.

Then the Priest shall say with the low voice Amen, and afterward, like as he said Our Father, immediately and without Let us pray, he shall begin this prayer following:

DELIVER us, we beseech thee, O Lord, from all evils, past, present, and to come etc.

§ Then the Priest genuflects, slides the Paten beneath the Sacrament, and taking the Host in his right hand, lifts it up so that it may be seen by the People: and immediately dividing it into three parts over the Chalice, he shall place the last part into the Chalice in the usual way, but saying nothing. The Peace of the Lord is not said, nor O Lamb of God, nor is the Kiss of Peace given. And afterward, having omitted the first two Prayers, he shall say this one only:

OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, I, thine unworthy servant, do presume to take thy Body etc.

Then shall he genuflect, and take the Paten with Christ's Body: and with great reverence and humility say:

I will receive the bread of heaven, and call upon the Name of the Lord.

Then he smites his breast as he thrice says:

Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof ; but speak the word only and my soul shall be healed.

And he reverently receives the Body.

Then omitting all else which is wont to be said before taking the Sacrament of the precious Blood, he forthwith consumes with reverence the Particle of the Host with the wine. Then he washes his fingers in the accustomed manner; and takes the purification. Afterward, bow- ing down in the midst of the Altar, he says with hands joined:

GRANT that what we have received with the mouth, O Lord, we may keep with a pure heart, etc.

And nothing further is said: and EVEN-SONG is said without chant: and the Altar is laid bare.

THE HOLY SABBATH OF HOLY WEEK

Commonly Called Holy Saturday or Easter Even

Double of I Class

[If the Collect, Epistle, and Gospel from the Book of Common Prayer be used after the Litany in the Mass according to the ancient order, all that here follows is to be omitted as far as The Liturgy for Holy Saturday : but if the same be used without the Anaphora, they should be said according to the order which immediately follows.]

INTROIT. Repleta est. Ps. 88.

MY soul is full of trouble : and my life draweth nigh unto hell. Ps. ibid. O Lord God of my salvation, I have cried day and night before thee. Then at once is repeated My soul.

Then shall the Priest say, his hands being joined: Let us pray. The Deacon shall say: Let us bow the knee. R/. Arise.

COLLECT.

GRANT, O Lord, that as we are baptized into the death of thy blessed Son our Saviour Jesus Christ : so by continual mortifying our corrupt affections we may be buried with him ; and that through the grave, and gate of death, we may pass to our joyful resurrection. For his merits, who died, and was buried, and rose again for us, the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. [Who.]

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Peter the Apostle.

I Peter 3. 17.

DEARLY beloved : It is better, if the will of God be so : that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil-doing. For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God : being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit. By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison, which sometime were disobedient, when once the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing : wherein few, that is, eight souls, were saved by water. The like figure whereunto, even baptism, doth also now save us, (not the putting away the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience towards God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ : who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God, Angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

GRADUAL. Ps. 18. The sorrows of death compassed me : and the snares of death overtook me. V. Ps. 4. I will lay me down in peace, and take my rest.

St. Matt. 27. 57.

AT that time : When the Even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathaea, named Joseph : who also himself was Jesûs' disciple. He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus : then Pilate commanded the body to be dêliverèd. And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn ôut in the rock ; and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, ând departed. * And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against thê sepulchre. Now the next day that followed the Day of the Preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, saying : Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive : After three days I will rise again. Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day : lest his disciples come by night and steal him away, and say unto the people :

He is risèn from the dead. So the last error shall be wôrse than the first. Pilate said unto them : Ye have a watch, go your way : make it as sûre as ye can. So they went and made the sepulchre sure : sealing the stône, and setting a watch.

After which the Priest shall proceed to bless the New Fire and do that which follows.

THE LITURGY FOR HOLY SATURDAY

Station at St. John Lateran

I. THE BLESSING OF THE NEW FIRE AND THE PASCHAL CANDLE.

At a suitable hour the Altars are covered with cloths, and the Offices said, but the candles on the Altar are not lighted until the beginning of Mass. In the meantime fire is struck from a flint without the Church, and coals are kindled from the fire.

The Office being finished in Quire, the Priest, vested in Amice, Alb, Girdle, Stole, and violet Cope, or without the Chasuble, accompanied by the Ministers with Cross, holy water, and incense, proceeds to the porch of the Church, if it may conveniently be done, or into the entrance of the Church itself, and BLESSES THE NEW FIRE, saying:

V. The Lord be with you.

R. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

O GOD, who through thy Son, who is the true corner-stone, hast bestowed upon thy faithful people the fire of thy brightness : we beseech thee that thou wouldest sanctify this new fire, now struck by us from the flint-stone, to be profitable to our service : and grant unto us that by this paschal feast we may be so inflamed with heavenly desires ; that we may with pure hearts and minds attain unto the feast of thy eternal brightness. Through the same Christ our Lord. R̃. Amen.

Let us pray.

O LORD GOD, Father Almighty, who art light unfailing and the father of all lights : we beseech thee so to bless this light which hath here been sanctified and blessed in thy Name, who hast enlightened the whole world : that we may be enkindled by thy light and enlightened with the fire of thy brightness : and like as thou didst enlighten Moses going forth from the land of Egypt, so do thou at this time enlighten our hearts and understandings, that we may be found worthy to attain unto the light of everlasting life. Through Christ our Lord. R̃. Amen.

Let us pray.

O LORD holy, Father Almighty, everlasting God : we pray thee that thou wouldest vouchsafe to assist us who here do bless this fire in thy Name, and in the Name of thy only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord and our God, and of the Holy Ghost ; and we beseech thee likewise to assist us against all the fiery darts of the enemy, and to enlighten us with thy heavenly grace. Who livest and reignest with the same thy only-begotten Son and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. R̃. Amen.

Then shall he BLESS the five GRAINS OF INCENSE that shall be put in the candle, saying, without any preface, this prayer following.

WE beseech thee, Almighty God, to pour down on this incense the abundance of thy blessing : and as thou, thyself unseen, art the regenerator of all mankind, so now we pray thee kindle a light to lighten our darkness ; that both our sacrifice to be offered on this night may be made bright by the inward presence of thy holy light, and that all places wheresoever light shall be brought from this mystery here sanctified by us, may by the same be relieved from the crafts and assaults of the devil, and filled with the mighty power of thy heavenly majesty. Through Christ our Lord. R̃. Amen.

§ And while he is blessing the grains of incense, an Acolyte takes some of the blessed coals and places them in the censer: and the above Prayer ended, the Priest sets incense in the censer from the boat, and blesses it in the customary manner. Then he thrice sprinkles with holy water the aforementioned grains of incense and the fire, saying: Thou shalt purge me with hyssop, without intoning it, nor adding the Psalm, and he censes them thrice.

Meanwhile all the lights in the Church are extinguished, so that they may be presently lighted afresh from the New Fire. Then the Deacon, vesting himself in a white Dalmatic, takes the reed upon the top of which are set three candles in the shape of a triangle. And the Thurifer goes first with an Acolyte, bearing in a basin the five grains of incense: the Subdeacon follows with the Cross, afterward the Clergy in due order: next the Deacon with the reed, and after him the Celebrant. When the Deacon has come into the Church, he lowers the reed, and an Acolyte bringing a taper lighted from the New Fire lights one of the three candles on the reed: and the DEACON lifting up the reed, genuflects (all likewise genuflecting with him, save the SUB-DEACON who bears the Cross) and SINGS ALONE :

THE Light of Christ. R̃. Thanks be to God.

And going on to the middle of the Church, there another candle is lighted: and again genuflecting as before, he sings at a higher pitch:

The Light of Christ. R̃. Thanks be to God.

The third time he goes up before the Altar, where the third candle is lighted: and genuflecting again as before, he sings at a pitch still higher:

The Light of Christ. R̃. Thanks be to God.

Then the Celebrant goes up to the Lord's Table, at the Epistle horn: and the Deacon gives the reed to one of the Acolytes: and taking the book, asks a blessing from the Celebrant, as at the Gospel, the Priest saying:

The Lord be in thy heart and on thy lips, that worthily and rightly thou mayest proclaim his paschal praise : In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, ✠ and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

Then all rising and standing, as if for the Gospel, the Deacon sings:

REJOICE now, all ye heavenly legions of Angels : and celebrate the divine mysteries with exultation : and for the King that cometh with victory, let the trumpet proclaim salvation. Sing with joy, O earth, illumined with this celestial radiancy : and enlightened by the King eternal, thy Glory, believe and know that thou hast put away the darkness of all mankind. So likewise let his holy Church, our Mother, welcome the bright beams of light shed upon her : and let his holy courts be filled with the praises of his people. I pray and beseech you, therefore, dearly beloved, that all ye, who here are present seeking this heavenly brightness, make your supplication with me to God the Almighty, that he would shew forth his mercy toward me. That he who in my unworthiness numbered me among his Ministers and called me to do him service : so also may vouchsafe to lighten my darkness, making me meet to praise this gift of light with thankfulness. Through his son, Jesus Christ our Lord and Redeemer : who liveth and reigneth with him in the unity of the Holy Ghost.

WORLD without end. R̃. Amen. Ṽ. The Lord be with you. R̃. And with thy spirit. Ṽ. Lift up your hearts. R̃. We lift them up unto the Lord. Ṽ. Let us give thanks unto our Lord God. R̃. It is meet and right so to do.

IT is very meet, right, and our bounden duty, that we should at all times and in all places give thanks unto thee, O Lord, Holy, Father Almighty, Everlasting God. And that with the service of our lips we should glorify thee, and with heart and soul should praise thee, O God the Invisible and Almighty, and likewise thy only begotten Son, Jesus Christ our Lord and Saviour. Who paid for us to thee, O Eternal Father, the debt of Adam's transgression : and with his dear Blood wiped away the reproach of our former offences. Now therefore we sacrifice our Passover, wherein for us the very Lamb of God is slain, by whose Blood even the doors of his faithful people are made holy. Now is come the night, wherein, when our fathers the children of Israel were led forth out of Egypt, thou dividedst the sea and madest them to go on dry land in the midst of the waters. Yea, now is come the night, that with the fiery pillar hath taken away the darkness of our condemnation. Now is come the night, whereby all that believe in Christ upon the face of the earth, delivered from this naughty world, and out of the shadow of death, are unto grace renewed, and made partakers of eternal life. Now is come the night, wherein the bonds of death were loosed, and Christ harrowing hell rose again in triumph. For wherefore should man be born into this world, save that being born he might be redeemed? O how wonderful is thy loving kindness unto us thy children! O how unspeakable is the love that thou hast bestowed on us : who to redeem a servant, delivered up thine only Son! O how great is thy providence in man's necessity, to make by the Blood of Christ from Adam's sin our salvation! O blessed iniquity, for whose redemption such a price was paid by such a Saviour! O night verily blessed, to thee alone that time and that hour were made manifest, when our Saviour Christ rose again from death unto life! Now is come the night whereof David said : Behold, the night is as clear as the day : then shall my night be turned into day. The holy mystery therefore of this night putteth to flight the deeds of darkness, purgeth away sin, restoreth innocence to the fallen, and gladness to them that mourn : casteth out hatred, bringeth peace to all mankind, and boweth down mighty princes.

Here the Deacon fixes the five grains of blessed incense into the Candle in the form of a Cross, on this wise:

THEREFORE, in this night of grace, I accept, O holy Father, this our evening sacrifice of incense : which thy holy Church by the hands of thy servants doth offer thee, wherein this Candle of wax which thy creatures the bees did gather, is made a solemn oblation. Ye hear, brethren, the meaning of this pillar we have set up, which in God's honour the bright flame of fire doth set alight.

Here the Deacon lights the Candle from one of the three tapers on the reed.

WHICH though it be never so much divided, yet knoweth not variableness, nor loseth ought of its splendour. For wax that melteth doth but feed the flame, for thereunto have God's creatures the bees brought it forth, that it should give light in darkness.

O NIGHT verily blessed, which did spoil the people of Egypt and enrich the Hebrews! O night, wherein heaven and earth are joined, and man is brought close to God. We pray thee, therefore, O Lord most merciful : that this Candle, which we have lighted and consecrated before thee in thine own Name, may continue to shine forth without ceasing, and may vanquish all the shades of darkness. That being accepted before thee as a sweet savour, it may be numbered with the lights that thou hast kindled. May the Day Star find it burning when he dawneth into day : the Day Star that riseth and knoweth not his going down : but coming forth from the places of darkness gladly giveth forth light unto all creation. We beseech thee, therefore, O Lord most merciful : that thou wouldst direct and guide us thy servants, and the hearts of all thy faithful family : and all those also that minister in thy service : especially N. our Chief Bishop, and thy servant N. our own Bishop, so helping us with continual grace, that we may pass our time in rest and quietness, in the glad solemnity of our Redemption. Through the same thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord and Redeemer : who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost ever one God, world without end. R. Amen.

newal of such things as are grown old, may understand aright, that like as through thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord all things were created, so through him they do now return to their perfection. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

COLLECT.

O GOD, who dost exalt them that are of low estate, and dost stablish them that stand upright : who didst likewise by thy holy servant Moses so vouchsafe to teach thy people to sing praises to thy honour, that thy law by them repeated might be profitable for our guidance : raise up, we pray thee, thy power among the fullness of the nations whom thou hast justified ; that they, being delivered from the fear of thy wrath, may rejoice in the plenteous remission of all their sins, and being warned to flee from the judgement of thy vengeance may be delivered from the same unto everlasting salvation. Through.

II. THE BLESSING OF THE FONT.

And these ended, if there be a Font for Baptism in the Church, the Priest comes to the Font with the Clergy and the Ministers, ready vested: meanwhile is sung the following:

TRACT. Ps. 42. Like as the hart desireth the water-brooks : so longeth my soul after thee, O God. ℣. My soul is athirst for God, yea, even for the living God : when shall I come to appear before the presence of God? ℣. My tears have been my meat day and night, while they daily say unto me : Where is now thy God?

Then the Priest, before he goes in to bless the Font, sings this Prayer near by:

℣. The Lord be with you. ℞. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

ALmighty and everlasting God, mercifully look upon the devout prayers of thy servants now seeking regeneration and desiring the fountain of thy waters, even as the hart desireth the water-brooks : and of thy goodness grant that they who thirst after thy faith may in this mystery of thy holy Baptism obtain sanctification both of body and soul. Through. R̃. Amen.

Which done, he goes to the Font.

[If Baptism be administered, The Ministration of Holy Baptism as set forth in the Book of Common Prayer is used in its entirety in place of everything which here follows as far as the Litany, except that the form for hallowing the Font is sung as noted below.]

Afterwards he proceeds to bless the Font, singing:

℣. The Lord be with you. R̃. And with thy spirit. Let us pray.

¶ Then shall the Minister say:

OMERCIFUL God, grant that like as Christ died and rose again, so all that are baptized (or this Child or this thy Servant) may die to sin and rise to newness of life. R̃. Amen.

Grant that all sinful affections may die in him, and that all things belonging to the Spirit may live and grow in him. R̃. Amen.

Grant that he may have power and strength to have victory, and to triumph, against the devil, the world, and the flesh. R̃. Amen.

Grant that whosoever is here dedicated to thee by our office and ministry, may also be endued with heavenly virtues, and everlastingly rewarded, through thy mercy, O blessed Lord God, who dost live, and govern all things :

Raising his voice to the tone of the Preface, he continues, with hands joined:

WORLD without end. R̃. Amen. ℣. The Lord be with you. R̃. And with thy spirit. ℣. Lift up your hearts. R̃. We lift them up unto the Lord. ℣. Let us give thanks unto our Lord God. R̃. It is meet and right so to do.

IT is very meet, right, and our bounden duty, that we should give thanks unto thee, O Lord, Holy, Father Almighty, Everlasting God. For that thy dearly beloved Son Jesus Christ, for the forgiveness of our sins, did shed out of his most precious side both water and blood ; and gave commandment to his disciples, that they should go teach all nations, and baptize them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

If Prayer-Book forms only be used, all that follows is omitted as far as Regard, we beseech thee.

OGOD, whose Spirit moved over the face of the waters, when the earth was without form and void at its creation : that even then the nature of water might conceive the virtue of purging all defilement :

OGOD, who didst cover the earth with water, and wash away its wickedness, and didst shew forth in the saving of eight souls by the same water, a figure of our regeneration : that by the mystery of this one element of water thou mightest make an end of sin, and give birth unto righteousness :

BEHOLD with thy good pleasure the family of thy Church, and make the grace of thy regeneration to abound therein, for thou dost with the rivers of thy plenteous mercy make glad the city of thy redeemed : and openest unto us fountains of Baptism through the whole world for the healing of nations : that, at the word of thy majesty, the same may receive the grace of thine only Son, through the Holy Ghost.

Here the Priest divides with his open hand the water in the form of a Cross, and forthwith wiping his hand with a napkin, says:

MAY he by the secret operation of his power make this water fruitful unto the regeneration of man : that having received sanctification, and being born again without spot of defilement, the same may be found a new creature, that springeth from this womb of living water : that young and old, both men and women, who henceforth shall be baptized herein, may all become the children of grace and heirs of thy heavenly promises.

SPEAK the word, O Lord, and drive away speedily unclean spirits and all things that may hurt us : banish from us by thy Name all the snares and assaults of the devil. And may our ghostly enemy have no power at all to encompass us : to deceive our hearts by his subtilty : to waylay us in secret, and spread abroad the leaven of malice.

He touches the water with his hand.

BE this an holy and undefiled creation, and such that the son of wickedness may not approach it, nor the stain of iniquity come near to defile it. Be it a fountain that doth regenerate, a stream that doth purify : may all they that by this means shall be dedicated before thee by the operation of the Holy Ghost, receive the grace of redemption and remission of their offences.

He makes three Crosses over the Font, saying:

WHEREFORE I do hallow thee, O creature of water, by God ✠ that liveth, by God ✠ the faithful, by God, ✠ the Holy : by God, who in the beginning by his Word divided the land from thee : and whose Spirit moved upon thy face.

Here he divides the water with his hand, and scatters it towards the four corners of the earth, saying:

WHO did ordain that thou shouldst issue out of Eden, and be parted from thence into four heads, flowing therefrom into all the earth. Likewise in the desert of Marah he did turn thy bitterness into sweetness, and made thee to come forth out of the rock for his people.

IN the Name of his only Son our Saviour Jesus Christ do I hallow thee, O creature of water : for he did change thee into wine as a wondrous sign of his Omnipotence, when he was bidden to the wedding at Cana.

WHO walked upon thee with his feet to come to his disciples : and was baptized in thee in Jordan by John his minister.

WHO moreover did mingle thee with Blood from his side at his Passion : and commanded his disciples that such as believed should be in thee baptized.

Changing his voice, he continues in the tone of the Lesson (that is, on one note).

ALMIGHTY GOD, mercifully assist our prayers, who here observe what thou hast commanded : and of thy great goodness breathe thy Breath upon us.

He breathes thrice on to the water in the form of a Cross, saying (in the tone of the Lesson):

Hallow by the Word of thy mouth and of thy power the weakness of this water : that like as by nature it doeth service unto the purifying of the body, so by thy grace it may effectually cleanse our souls.

Here the Priest lowers the Candle into the water a little way : and going back to the tone of the Preface, says:

MAY the power of the Holy Ghost be poured out on this Font which we have filled.

Then taking the Candle out of the water, he dips it again more deeply, repeating at a somewhat higher pitch: May the power. Afterward the Candle is again taken out of the water and the third time is dipped to the bottom of the Font, the Priest repeating at a still higher pitch: May the power, as above. And then breathing thrice on the water in this form ♀ , he proceeds:

AND make the whole substance of this water effectual unto the washing of regeneration.

The Candle is taken out of the water, and he continues:

MAY every stain of our iniquity here be cleansed : may our nature be restored to its perfect fashioning, and be conformed again to thine own image of righteousness ; may it be redeemed from the old sins of its conversation : that every person, being born again by the Sacrament he hath here received, may be restored verily unto the innocence of thy children.

And the following he reads, or else sings as below:

THROUGH Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord. Who shall come to judge the quick and the dead, and the world by fire. R̃. Amen.

Then some of the blessed water is sprinkled over the People by the assisting Priests, and meanwhile other thereof is put in a receptacle to be used later to sprinkle homes and other places; and then the Celebrant pours the Oil of the Catechumens into the Font in the form of a Cross, saying distinctly:

May this Oil of salvation make this Font holy and fruitful, in such wise that those who find herein their new birth may come to life everlasting. R̃. Amen.

In the form of a Cross, he pours in the Chrism, saying:

May this mingling of the Chrism of Jesus Christ our Lord, and of the Holy Ghost the Paraclete, be wrought in the Name of the Most Holy Trinity. R̃. Amen.

In the form of a Cross, he pours in both together, saying:

May this commingling of the Chrism of salvation and of the Oil of unction and of the Water of Baptism likewise be wrought in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. R̃. Amen.

Then he mingles the Oil and water, and scatters it over the Font with his hand, which done, he continues as follows:

REGARD, we beseech thee, the supplications of thy congregation : sanctify this Water to the mystical washing away of sin ; and grant that this Child (this thy Servant), now to be baptized therein, may receive the fulness of thy grace, and ever remain in the number of thy faithful children : through the same Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom, with thee, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, be all honour and glory, now and evermore. R̃. Amen.

III. THE ADMINISTRATION OF BAPTISM.

If Baptism is to be administered, it is done after the usual manner, from the form for the Ministration of Holy Baptism.

Then the Priest and the Ministers return to the Altar and the Litany is sung by two Cantors, and the Choir repeat it also together, as is directed below.

IV. THE LITANY AND THE MASS.

§ But where there is no baptismal Font, when the last Prophecy and Collect is ended the Celebrant lays aside his Chasuble, and with the Ministers lies prostrate before the Altar: and all kneeling, the LITANY IS CHANTED by two Cantors in the midst of the Choir, and both sides of the Choir make the responses together. But when has been said the final repetition of R̃. Good Lord, deliver us, the Priest and Ministers arise, and go to the Sacristy to array themselves in white vestments for the Solemn Mass: and meanwhile the Altar candles are lighted. At the end of the Litany Kyrie eleison is solemnly intoned, and repeated as in the Mass on ordinary days. And the Litany is said [as given in the Prayer-Book, or else] in the following form:

KYRIE eleison. Christe eleison. Kyrie eleison.

And here the Cantors solemnly intone Kyrie eleison, Christe eleison, Kyrie eleison, and repeat each invocation thrice. Meanwhile the Priest with his Ministers all in white vestments approach the Altar: and having said the Psalm Give sentence, with Glory be, he makes the Confession, as he is accustomed, in the appointed place: then going up, he kisses the Altar, censes it in the usual manner, and as soon as the Choir shall have finished the Kyrie eleison, he begins with solemnity Gloria in excelsis, and the bells are set ringing.

Afterward the Priest says:

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

COLLECT. From the Prayer-Book.

GRANT, O Lord, that as we are baptized into the death of thy blessed Son our Saviour Jesus Christ : so by continual mortifying our corrupt affections we may be buried with him ; and that through the grave, and gate of death, we may pass to our joyful resurrection. For his merits, who died, and was buried, and rose again for us, the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. [Who.]

And one Collect only is said.

COLLECT. From the Latin Rite.

O GOD, who as on this most holy night hast sent forth the glorious light of the Resurrection of thy Son, Jêsus Christ our Lord : preserve, we pray thee, in these persons, now made incorporate in thy family, the spirit of adoption which thou hast given them ; that they being regenerate both in body and soul may in all sincerity obey thy holy will. Through the same.

EPISTLE. From the Prayer-Book.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Peter the Apostle.

1 Peter 3. 17.

DEARLY beloved : It is better, if the will of God be so : that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil-doing. For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit : by which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison : which sometime were disobedient, when once the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water. The like figure whereunto even baptism, doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the Resurrection of Jesus Christ : who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God : Angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

EPISTLE. From the Latin Rite.

BRETHREN : If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God : set your affections on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God. When Christ, who is our life, shall appear : then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

The Epistle ended, the Celebrant begins:

ALLELUIA. And he sings the chant through thrice, in a pitch a little higher each time: and the Choir after each time repeats it in the same manner. Afterward the Choir proceeds:

℣. Ps. 118. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious : for his mercy endureth for ever.

Then is said the TRACT. Ps. 117. O praise the Lord, all ye heathen : praise him, all ye nations. ℣. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more towards us : and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever.

At the Gospel, lights are not carried, but incense only: a blessing is asked, and the rest is done as usual.

GOSPEL. From the Prayer-Book.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

St. Matt. 27. 57.

AT that time : When the Even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathæa, named Joseph : who also himself was Jesùs' disciple. He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus : then Pilate commanded the body to be dêliverèd. And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn ôut in the rock ; and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, ând departed. And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against thê sepulchre. Now the next day that followed the Day of the Preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, saying : Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive : After three days I will rise again. Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day : lest his disciples come by night and steal him away, and say unto the people : He is risên from the dead. So the last error shall be wôrse than the first. Pilate said unto them : Ye have a watch, go your way : make it as sûre as ye can. So they went and made the sepulchre sure : sealing the stone, and sêting a watch. [And to commemorate the Resurrection, as well as the Burial of our Lord, the Gospel below should be added to the foregoing, but without any Announcement.]

GOSPEL. From the Latin Rite.

I N the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary to see thê sepulchre. And behold there was â great earthquake. For the Angel of the Lord descended from heaven : and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sât upon it ; his countenance was like lightning : and his raiment white as snow. And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and becâme as dead men. And the Angel answered and said unto the women : Fear not ye : for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified ; he is not here : for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place whêre the Lord lay. And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead : and behold he goeth before you intô Galilee ; there shall ye see him. Lō, I have told you.

The Creed is not said, but the Gospel finished, the Priest says: The Lord be with you, and afterwards: Let us pray. The Offertory is not said, and at the end of the Psalm, at the Lavabo, is said Glory be.

SECRET.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, mercifully to accept the prayers and oblations of thy people : that this beginning of thy Paschal Mysteries may by the operation of thy grace be unto us a wholesome medicine unto everlasting life. Through.

PREFACE and CANON of Easter.

Anciently the Anaphora was slightly varied on this day (to celebrate therein the greatness of the gift of Baptism) by the insertion of the bracketed words given below.

ALL glory be to thee, Almighty God, our heavenly Father, for that thou of thy tender mercy didst give thine only Son Jesus Christ to suffer death upon the Cross for our redemption : who made there by his one oblation, of himself once offered, [on behalf also of those whom thou hast been pleased to regenerate by water and the Holy Ghost, granting unto them remission of all their sins,] a full, perfect, and sufficient sacrifice, oblation, and satisfaction, etc. And the rest as in the Canon.

The Peace of the Lord be alway with you is said, but the Kiss of Peace is not given. O Lamb of God is not said, nor the Postcommunion: but the customary Prayers before Communion are said.

After the reception of the Sacrament, in place of Evensong in Quire is chanted this Psalm and this Antiphon:

Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia, and Ps. 117.

O PRAISE the Lord, all ye heathen : * praise him, all ye nations.

For his merciful kindness is ever more and more towards us : * and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever. Praise the Lord.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be : * world without end. Amen.

Antiphon: Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

The Lesson, Hymn and Versicle are not said, but at once the Celebrant starts to intone the Antiphon to the Magnificat:

IN the end of the Sabbath. And the Choir continues: As it began to dawn toward the first day of the week : came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre, alleluia.

Then is sung the Magnificat with Glory be at the end, and the censing is done as at other times at Evensong.

Afterward the Antiphon is repeated, [the Lesson and Nunc Dimittis read,] and at the end the Celebrant says:

℣. The Lord be with you. ℞. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

W<sup>E</sup> beseech thee, O Lord, pour into our hearts the love of thy Hôly Spirit : that as thou hast now fulfilled us with this Paschal Sacramênt, so thou wouldest make us to continue in all godly concord. Through . . . in the unity of the same.

Then he says: The Lord be with you.

And the Deacon turning himself to the People, sings:

Depart in peace, alleluia, alleluia.

℞. Thanks be to God, alleluia, alleluia.

And the Priest, having said Let this my bounden duty and service, gives the Blessing in the accustomed manner.

THE SEASONAL PRAYERS

LITURGICAL NOTE CONCERNING PRAYER-BOOK SEASONAL COLLECTS

The English Uses of the Western Liturgy, which were the source of the Prayer-Book, all provided for "Seasonal Prayers," and the Prayer-Book took this usage over in a somewhat inconsistent form by prescribing that the Advent Sunday and Ash Wednesday Collects are to be said at each Mass after the Collect for the Day. The latest American revision now prescribes the Palm Sunday Collect from Palm Sunday onwards. It is impossible to reconcile a completely literal interpretation of the Prayer-Book Rubrics on this subject with traditional liturgical uses, but it is doubtful whether the Rubrics of the 1549 Prayer-Book, which are the source of all the later Rubrics in this connection, were ever meant to be observed without reference to the liturgical knowledge and customs with which the clergy were at that time familiar. The classic example of this is the Proper Preface for Trinity which in the form given in 1549 could not have been added to the first strophe of the Preface as there given without some change in the wording, although no such change was indicated in the Rubric.

It is probable that the Ash Wednesday Collect was meant to do double service, (a) to take the place of the Sarum Lenten Seasonal Prayer for Penitents, and (b) to provide on Feasts a commemoration of the Lenten Feria (since the Prayer-Book failed to provide a Mass for every day in Lent), and that the Advent Collect was prescribed as a parallel usage to that of Lent.

Those who wish to follow a completely literal interpretation of the Prayer-Book Rubrics should repeat the Advent Collect after the Collect of the Day from the 2nd Sunday after Advent to Christmas Day, whether it be an ordinary Feria, or a Festival such as that of St. Thomas the Apostle; and likewise during Lent and Passiontide, should repeat the prescribed Collect, no matter what Rubrics in this Missal order otherwise.

Those who wish to follow a usage consistent with ordinary liturgical rules should treat the prescribed Prayer-Book Collect (i.e., the Collect for Advent Sunday, Ash Wednesday, and Palm Sunday) as completely equivalent to the 2nd Seasonal Prayer, which means that it would be omitted on Doubles, when the rule is that no Seasonal Prayers be said, but only a Commemoration of the Feria, which in Advent is made by the use of the Collect of the preceding Sunday, but in Lent and Passiontide by the use of the Collect of the daily Feria.

THE ORDER OF BLESSING WATER

On a Sunday, the salt and the water to be blessed being made ready in the Sacristy, the Priest who is about to celebrate the Mass, or another deputed for the purpose, being vested in an Alb or Surplice, with a Stole about his neck, first says:

℣. Our help is in the Name of the Lord.

℞. Who hath made heaven and earth.

Then straightway he beginneth the exorcism of the salt:

I ADJURE thee, O creature of salt, by the living ✠ God, by the true ✠ God, by the holy ✠ God : by God, who through Elisha the Prophet did command that thou shouldest be cast into the water to the healing of its barrenness : that thou be exorcized for the salvation of all them that believe : be thou made profitable for all them that receive thee, to their healing both in body and soul : let all places wherein thou shalt be sprinkled be delivered from all evil imaginations and wickedness, and the crafts and subtleties of the devil, and let all unclean spirits be exorcized thence, by him who shall come to judge the quick and the dead, and the world by fire. ℞. Amen.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, we humbly beseech thy infinite goodness, that thou wouldest vouchsafe of thy mercy to bless and sanctify this thy creature of salt, which thou hast bestowed for the necessities of mankind : let it be profitable for all them that receive it for their healing both in body and soul : and grant that all such things as are touched or sprinkled with the same may be delivered from all uncleanness, and defended against the assaults of all spiritual wickedness. Through.

He straightway continueth with the exorcism of the water:

I ADJURE thee, O creature of water, in the Name of God ✠ the Father Almighty, and in the Name of Jesus ✠ Christ his Son our Lord, and by the power of the Holy ✠ Ghost : that thou be exorcized to the casting forth of all the power of the enemy, and that thou be enabled to root out and expel the enemy himself and his apostate angels, through the power of the same Jesus Christ our Lord : who shall come to judge the quick and the dead, and the world by fire. ℞. Amen.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

O GOD, who in the chiefest of thy sacraments appointed for the salvation of mankind, hast ordained the use of the substance of water : mercifully assist us who call upon thee ; pour forth upon this creature, cleansed and made ready for thy service, the abundance of thy benediction : that in the service of thy mysteries the same may effectually receive the power of thy heavenly grace for the casting forth of devils, and the healing of diseases : grant that all such things as in the dwellings or possessions of thy faithful people are sprinkled with this water may be cleansed from all uncleanness, and delivered from all evil :

suffer not the spirit of pestilence to dwell therein, nor the breath of corruption : cause to depart from thence all the snares of the unseen enemy : and cast forth by the sprinkling of this water all such things as are contrary to the health and peace of them that dwell therein ; that like as we do call upon thy holy Name for their salvation, so the same may be effectually preserved against all the assaults of adversity. Through.

Here he thrice putteth salt into the water in the form of a cross, saying once:

LET this mingling of salt and water be wrought in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. R. Amen.

V. The Lord be with you.

R. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

O GOD, who art the author of strength invincible, the King of the empire that none may overcome, who art ever wondrous in thy triumphs : who quellest the might of the dominion that is against thee : who dost conquer the fierceness of the roaring enemy : and overthrow by thy might the wickedness of the adversary : we beseech thee, O Lord, in fear and in lowliness : that thou wouldest regard with mercy this creature of salt and water, that thou wouldest enlighten the same with thy mercy and sanctify it with the dew of thy loving-kindness ; that wheresoever the same shall be sprinkled with the invocation of thy holy Name, the assaults of the unclean spirit may be driven forth from thence, and the dread of the poisonous serpent be cast forth : and grant that in all such places the presence of thy Holy Spirit may be vouchsafed to us that call upon thy mercy. Through . . . in the unity of the same.

THE ASPERGES

§ The following order for the aspersion of holy water is to be observed on all Sundays before the principal Mass, even though it be not sung.

Having blessed the water, the Priest who is going to celebrate, vested in a Cope of the colour of the Office, proceeds to the Altar. And there, kneeling with the Ministers at the steps, even in Eastertide, he receives the aspersory from the Deacon, and first asperses the Altar thrice, then himself, and, standing up, the Ministers, beginning the Antiphon Thou shalt purge me. And the Choir continues: O Lord, with hyssop, etc., as below. Meanwhile the Celebrant asperses the Clergy, and then the People, saying with a low voice with the Ministers the Psalm Have mercy upon me, O God.

Asperges me.

Antiphon. Thou shalt purge me, *
O Lord, with hyssop, and I shall be clean : thou shalt wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

Ps. 51. Have mercy upon me, O God, after thy great goodness.
V. Glory be to the Father. And the Antiphon is repeated: Thou shalt purge me.

This Antiphon is said after the manner prescribed in the aspersion of holy water on Sundays throughout the year: except upon Passion Sunday and upon Palm Sunday, when Glory be to the Father is not said, but after the Psalm Have mercy, the Antiphon Thou shalt purge me, is immediately repeated.

In Eastertide also, that is, from Easter Sunday until Pentecost inclusively, is sung this Anthem:

Vidi aquam.

Antiphon: I beheld water * proceeding out of the temple, from the right side thereof, alleluia : and everything, whithersoever the waters of life shall come, shall be healed, and they all shall say, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. 118. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious : because his mercy endureth for ever.

℣. Glory be to the Father.

Antiphon is repeated. I beheld water.

On Trinity Sunday is resumed: Thou shalt purge me, O Lord.

On the feast days of Easter and Pentecost, in places where there is a Baptismal Font, the aspersion is made with the water blessed the previous day in the Font for Baptism, and taken from it before the infusion of the Oil and Chrism.

§ Having finished the Antiphon after the manner prescribed above, the Priest who has sprinkled the water, returning to the Altar, with joined hands, says:

℣. O Lord, shew thy mercy upon us. (Alleluia.)

℞. And grant us thy salvation. (Alleluia.)

℣. Lord, hear my prayer.

℞. And let my cry come unto thee.

℣. The Lord be with you.

℞. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

O LORD holy, Father almighty, everlasting God, we beseech thee to hear us : and vouchsafe to send thy holy Angel from heaven, to guard and cherish, protect and visit, and evermore defend all that dwell in this dwelling-place. Through Christ our Lord. ℞. Amen.

THE ORDINARY AND CANON OF THE MASS

Being the Prayer-Book Order for the Eucharist along with traditional devotions and some notes to assist layfolk in their worship

How to Worship at the Eucharist

THE Eucharist is celebrated in obedience to the divine command, Do this in remembrance of me. Hence it is an action carried out in imitation of what our Lord did and said. One of the ancient names for the essential part of the Eucharist is The Action. Liturgical prayer combines action, or ceremonial, with words, and even with silence, all of which makes one complete act of prayer.

The Action, which is also called the Anaphora (that is, the Offering), has from earliest times been preceded by a preparatory service known as the Proanaphora, or in the Anglican colloquial phrase, the "Ante-Communion Service." The Proanaphora seems to have originated as follows. In the first days of the Church, when paganism prevented any proper observance of the Lord's Day, most Christians could find no opportunity in daytime for corporate worship, and hence it was customary for them to assemble for corporate worship at night when other folk were asleep.

Necessity may have dictated the hours at which the early Christians worshipped, but if so, they made a virtue of that necessity by the explanation which they gave to it. The fact that in the midst of the night our Lord was born into the world, and rose again from the dead, and was, as he had said, to come again in judgement, seemed to the first Christians to make these hours of darkness a time of special grace. They therefore explained that they proposed to be in the midst of his worship if he came in judgement in their time, as he had foretold, like a thief in the night.

Hence, as early at night as possible on the last day of the week, they congregated for a vigil of prayer which issued in the celebration of The Action in the early morning hours of the morrow. From this vigil service, which was based upon the Jewish Synagogue service of prayer, Psalms, Scripture-reading and instruction, there developed the Proanaphora, which was designed to be a service of instruction for those who were looking forward to Baptism (that is, for the Catechumens), and as a means of preparation for the Faithful who alone were permitted to be present at the Anaphora to receive the Holy Communion.

Hence the Proanaphora came to be known as the Mass of the Catechumens and the Anaphora as the Mass of the Faithful, and the Catechumens were always dismissed, along with any of the baptized who were under discipline for sin, just before the Mass of the Faithful was begun.

These two divisions are obvious in our Prayer-Book rite. Our form of the Mass up to the Offertory consists of prayers of preparation, the reading of Scripture, and a Sermon or instruction, all which is the normal content of the Mass of the Catechumens in every part of the Church Catholic. Unfortunately, the Prayer-Book does not require the use of Psalms in the Eucharist, but in permitting the use of "hymns" it permits the use of Psalms which are the Church's first and greatest hymns.

Just as the Consecration provides the climax in the Mass of the Faithful, at which time our Lord is recognized as present with us sacramentally, to be the Object of our adoration and the Food of our souls, so the Gospel, as the ceremonial of Solemn Mass so well exemplifies, is the climax of the Mass of the Catechumens, since therein our Lord in his actions and teaching is exhibited for our instruction and imitation. Hence at the Gospel all stand, to shew their readiness to follow him, and there is always a Gospel procession, done with special solemnity at High Mass. Even at Low Mass the book is carried from the Epistle side to the north side.

Strictly speaking, the Creed, which was introduced into the Western Liturgy after the Catechumens ceased to be of importance, belongs to the Mass of the Faithful. Hence, if the ancient customs of the Catechuminate were to be followed, the positions of the Creed and Sermon would need to be reversed, so that the Catechumens, and any of the baptized under discipline, could be dismissed before the Faithful made their profession of belief, in which the Catechumens were not permitted to join since they had not yet made their initial profession of it in Baptism. Perhaps our indiscriminate use of the Creed, which invites unbelievers and the poorly instructed to make a glorious act of faith which they are incapable of making, is a casting of pearls before swine. It may account for the popular contempt for the Creed.

The Mass of the Faithful consists of The Action, which is an imitation of what our Lord did and said in obedience to his divine command, Do this in remembrance of me. We read that he did four things, namely, took Bread, gave thanks, brake it, and gave it to them. During The Action the Church also does these four things.

First, he "took" the Bread and Wine which were to be used for the Offering. This is technically known as the Oblation and is accomplished at the Offertory. And it should be noted that the taking of a collection is not the real Offertory, but merely the People's share in it, whereby they provide the means of buying the Bread and Wine and of supporting the Church and the poor. In the earliest times the Bread and Wine were collected at this point, and what was not needed for the Mass was used for the relief of the poor and for the physical sustenance of those who served at the Altar.

Secondly, our Lord "gave thanks." The Prayer-Book, following the Gregorian Canon, speaks of "this our Sacrifice of Praise and Thanksgiving." According to Jewish ideas, blessing or consecration was accomplished by a form of thanksgiving (that is, eucharist) wherein the worshipper identified himself with the One worshipped by praising and thanking the Lord and by eating what had through sacrifice become in a peculiar sense the Lord's possession. For this reason the Consecration Prayer is eucharistic in tone. It begins with the Preface (Let us give thanks unto our Lord God) and continues in the form of thanksgiving. Identity with the One worshipped is asserted both in speech and action in the Words of Institution, wherein the Celebrant speaks in the Person of Christ (This is my body and This is my blood), and even imitates the divine actions. Hence it is not strange that at this first point of conscious identification with our Lord in speech and action, and in praise and thanksgiving, we should think of the Consecration as being consummated. It is to be recognized that even though the essential thing about the Eucharist is obedience to our Lord in performing his Action, the use of the Words of Institution do constitute a conscious act of identity with him as almost nothing else does.

At any rate, the Jewish idea of identification is worth remembering as a key for the interpretation of much that is significant in the Eucharist. Of course, it can never mean that the worshipper is so identified with the Object of his worship that he himself is absorbed into the Object of his worship, and ceases to exist as an individual. But "Communion" means close union, which we are wont to describe as identification, and this process of identification might be said to consist of four stages, thus: the initial step of offering (described above as Oblation), which is a prelude to the second step of acceptance for immolation (described above as Consecration). But Consecration gives over the victim to the use of the One worshipped, and is itself a prelude to union with the Object of worship. These two latter steps are described below as Utilization (signified by the Fracture) and Unification (accomplished in the act of Communion).

Thus, thirdly, after our Lord had effected the Consecration by the successive acts of taking the bread and wine and blessing it in the form of thanksgiving, he "brake" the Bread. This action, known as the Fracture, came to be dramatized as a visible sign of the great sacrifice wherein he was broken on the Cross for us, and with which we must identify ourselves if that sacrifice is to be effective in our own souls. That is, sacrifice is a process whereby God makes use of us, for which reason this step in the Mass may well be named Utilization. Hence at this point we do well to think of the heartbreaks of suffering humanity and of our Lord's oneness with the sorrows of mankind, and of his being broken for us on the Cross, even as we must make of our own heart-breaks a loving union with his sacrifice. Only by such devotion can the agony of mankind become a part of Christ's agony, and be utilized in the process of divine redemption instead of being lost in ignorance of his love and rebellion against his compassion.

Fourthly, our Lord "gave" to his disciples this heavenly Food to be the food of their souls, and to consummate their union with him, and this Unification is, of course, the climax of the Mass of the Faithful, the act of Communion. Anything after this great act except the briefest of thanksgivings would seem to be an anticlimax.

The Offertory, the Consecration, the Fracture, and the Communion are the chief acts of The Action, and the Church joyfully emphasizes these by her ceremonial dramatization of them, in reverent obedience to the command, DO THIS. Anything less than a very careful carrying out of these acts is but a meagre obedience to the expressed wish of our great High Priest. Because the Prayer-Book does not make as much of the Fracture as of the other acts, many Priests re-inforce the present Prayer-Book usage by the addition of the ancient ceremonies thereof, as given in this Missal.

The Eucharist is sometimes defined as the making-present on the Altar of the eternal sacrifice offered once for all on Calvary, so that it becomes available to us as the means whereby we can, through our Communions, be identified with him in his sacrificial consecration to God. Liturgical prayer is thus different from other kinds of prayer. It is THE WORSHIP WHICH CHRIST OFFERED ON CALVARY made present on the Altar as the worship of the Church on earth, and through the union which each worshipper has with Christ, the individual is thus enabled to offer Christ's own perfect act of Worship. Hence the Mass can never be an act of private devotion. It is always the act of the whole Church, the mystical Body of Christ, which exists only in and through Christ, and which alone possesses Christ since Christ—its head and life—is also in possession of the Church, and of every soul therein which surrenders to him. He ordained the Eucharist as the means whereby we put ourselves into his possession and, in return, enter into possession of him. It is the Holy Communion of his broken Body and poured-out Blood. These words describe Christ as offered or sacrificed for us. That is, Holy Communion can only be a Communion because it is first of all a Sacrifice.

Hence the individual benefits thereby because he loses himself in that which Christ has ordained to be the corporate worship of all. Eucharistic worship is not a matter of personal edification but of self-forgetfulness. You go to Mass not to get but to give, for you can in this instance GET only by giving. "The price of love is thyself," says St. Augustine.

The individual ought therefore to exercise himself in certain acts during The Action. Four acts are indicated, as said above, conveniently known as OBLATION, CONSECRATION, UTILIZATION, and UNIFICATION, corresponding to the four acts of The Action.

First, consider Oblation. At the Offertory, when the Priest obeys the Prayer-Book Rubric, to "offer and place" upon the Holy Table, the Bread and the Wine, the worshipper may well remind himself that a gift should bring the giver with it—that just as his monetary offering, the fruit of his own labour, has helped provide this physical sustenance which is now offered and placed on the Altar, ready for consecration, so he should now complete the Offering, and give that which his Lord most desires. That is, at the Offertory he should offer and place himself in spirit upon the Altar, and thus make an oblation of himself at the time when the Priest offers thereon the physical sustenance of human life in the form of the Bread and Wine.

Secondly, there is Consecration. When, at the Preface, the Priest begins the Consecration, the individual should realize that he too is being consecrated to God along with his offering of himself and of this physical sustenance for human life. And when mere physical sustenance has become the Bread of Heaven, that is, when Christ has become sacramentally present, he should regard himself as a reasonable, holy, and living sacrifice, which has now become consecrate to God in union with Christ's sacrifice of himself. For in each Mass not only is the Bread and Wine consecrated but also each true worshipper.

Thirdly, there is Utilization. At the Fracture, when the Host is broken and the Particle is placed in the Chalice, the worshipper should, as it were, place his own sorrows, temptations, and aspirations in the Chalice, along with those of all of broken humanity, that the same may be lifted up to God in praise and thanksgiving. The language of love is pain. It was so for Christ. It must be so for us because we are sinners needing redemption through this great sacrifice. Thus through the Sacrifice of Praise and Thanksgiving is life sweetened and strengthened because it is surrendered to him in its joy and in its anguish to be used for his holy and happy purposes. And even if the Priest does not himself make the greater Fracture, but contents himself with the little Fracture which the Prayer-Book orders during the Words of Institution, at any rate the worshipper need not abstain from making the devotions appropriate to the Fracture at this point.

Our religion is a religion of redemption. Every soul, no matter how marred by evil, can be redeemed, that is, purified, utilized, and restored by the grace of the atoning sacrifice. All pain, sorrow, frustration, disease, death, can be mere wastage, or it can be utilized by God and made into something fine for all eternity. We who are to be co-redeemers with Christ must lift up broken humanity into union with the lifting up of the broken Christ upon the Cross, and we may do this at least in intention at the Fraction, as a prelude to the reception of the Blessed Sacrament which is the means of our intermingling of ourselves with Christ in his redemption of the world.

This idea needs emphasis. Consider it a moment. The English version of the Apostles Creed calls the Church the Communion of the Saints. But to go back to the original Greek and Latin forms of this Creed, in accordance with the Anglican principle of always going back to the sources in order to establish the proper interpretation, we find its literal meaning to be "the Communion of the Holy." This phrase must indicate at least all these things: (a) The Church is the fellowship of those who are in communion with, and who are therefore partakers of, the holiness of God; (b) all in the Church are therefore in communion with the Saints, i.e., those who are filled with God's holiness; but (c) holiness of dedication, according to the Jewish Scriptures, consists in being given over in sacrifice to God. This latter idea is the Jewish conception of holiness which our Lord accepted and taught. According to the Scriptures, holiness consists in being offered to God so as to be made by him fit and acceptable for his purposes. Christians are those who have accepted the Atonement (at-one-ment) made by Christ, which they can do only by entering into it and becoming part of it.

Thus the Holy Catholic Church is the Communion of the Holy (or, as we say, the Communion of the Saints) because it consists of all those souls, living and dead, who have been offered to God through the sacrifice of Christ. You are a Christian only because you are a part of the redemptive process which Christ made possible by his sacrifice of himself. The Eucharist is Communion (that is, close union) with Christ our Sacrifice. There could be no Communion in the Christian sense of the word if this service of worship were not first of all the making present and available for us of the eternal sacrifice of Calvary.

Thus fourthly, there is Unification. That is, the reception of our Lord in the act of Holy Communion, as said above, is an intermingling of ourselves with him, in such wise that we can achieve identity of purpose with him in his thoughts, desires, strength, and living. The reception of Holy Communion is the expression of all that is holy in our religion, and when the worshipper knows himself to be unfit or unprepared, he should content himself with an act of Spiritual Communion lest he "eat and drink condemnation to himself."

The method of assisting at Mass outlined above consists in making oneself a part of The Action at each step. Surely this is the best method of "following the service." Thereby each worshipper is able to experience the true inner meaning of the Eucharist. For therein we and ours, with praise and thanksgiving are offered to God through the eternal sacrifice on Calvary, which same is made present and available to us every time Mass is celebrated, and is the divinely ordained means of the renewal and of the maintenance of our union with Christ who is our Saviour because he is our Sacrifice.

To summarize:

1. OBLATION. At the Offertory offer yourself along with the People's gifts on the Altar.

2. CONSECRATION. From the Preface onwards suffer yourself, with praise and thanksgiving, to be consecrated to God's service.

3. UTILIZATION. At the Fraction will yourself to be a sacrifice in union with Christ's broken Body and poured-out Blood, to be used as he wills.

4. UNIFICATION. At the Communion give yourself to Christ, even as he gives himself to you, so that you may then go forth in union with him.

The phrase Real Presence does not mean that there can be an unreal presence. Rather, the words Real Presence reject the contrary idea of the real absence of Christ in favour of what every devout Communicant knows from experience, namely, that in this Sacrament Christ makes himself available to us in his humanity (which is the fundamental meaning of the phrase Body and Blood as well as in his divinity. The real and whole Christ is here, after a fashion which enables us to receive him. He is present everywhere as God, but not in such a way as to enable us to receive him as our spiritual Food. In his humanity he is present only (a) in heaven where he continually makes intercession for us in the presentation of his eternal sacrifice; and (b) in the Sacrament which he has ordained to be the means whereby his heavenly presence and sacrifice is made available for us on earth.

The Most Widely Used Liturgy of All Christendom

AT first there was no written Christian liturgy. The Church did what our Lord had told her to do as well as she knew how. That is, each Celebrant performed the four acts of the Action, using such words and actions as seemed fitting in an attempt to render generous obedience to our Lord's command, DO THIS. In time patterns of such words and ceremonial grew up, and these were the first Christian liturgies. In the world today there are, for all practical purposes, only two liturgies, which may be called respectively, The Eastern Liturgy and The Western Liturgy, because the former represents the general usage of the Eastern Orthodox Communion and the latter the general usage of Western Catholics. Here and there in Christendom some survivals of other liturgies are still to be found. But for the most part only these two great liturgies are in use amongst Catholic Christians. And if to us "Catholic" implies universality, the wide-spread adoption of the usages of these two liturgies cannot but be impressive. Of the two, the Western Liturgy is by far the wider used.

In a word, all Catholic liturgies of the past and present agree in essentials, although in the course of the centuries different liturgies have developed differing methods of performing The Action; but the most widely used liturgy in the world today is the Western Rite. And our Prayer-Book form of the liturgy belongs to this, the largest family of liturgies.

The Western Liturgy is supposed to have originated in the City of Rome when Christianity was there introduced into Europe through the preaching of the blessed Apostles Peter and Paul. It was at first celebrated in Greek. Later it was translated into Latin (except for a few phrases which have always been used in the Greek, such as Kyrie Eleison). Some time in its development, perhaps at the time of this translation from Greek into Latin, it was greatly shortened. Ever since then it has undergone a process of amplification, and each liturgical centre which accepted it, proceeded to develop certain variations in it. The Sarum Use, which is largely the foundation of our Prayer-Book rite, was only one of the many local variations of the great Western Rite. Our Prayer-Book liturgy has probably suffered no greater change from its original Latin form than has the present Roman Use from its original Greek form. Development in the preservation of continuity is the distinguishing mark of the Western Liturgy, and our use of the ancient ceremonial and vestments is an assertion of the continuity and identity of our Prayer-Book rite back to the Upper Room and the institution of the Eucharist by our Lord Jesus Christ.

In the early days, before liturgy had attained a written form, the Christians used the Jewish Scriptures for lessons and hymns. They used Christian writings too. When the Church finally established the Old and New Testaments as her Bible, the Church seldom used anything in liturgy but the Holy Scriptures with the exception of the prayers, and even these were largely in Scriptural phraseology.

The Anglican Communion decided at the Reformation to make much of this primitive principle.

But due to unfortunate changes made in 1551, the Eucharist is now usually celebrated amongst us with almost no use of Scripture in it except the "Epistle" and Gospel. In the name of our principles, we need to restore the Scriptural anthems which are so large a part of a "Missal."

In the early Church, to give the lay folk a part in the liturgical use of the Scriptures, the Congregation broke in on the chanting of the singers with refrains of the Psalms which they heard chanted. These acclamations of the laity developed into the versicles and responses which are such a familiar part of liturgy today. But another strange miscarriage of principles of the Anglican Reformation is that most of them have disappeared from the Eucharist. Time was when the Priest never began a new step in the Liturgy without giving the People his blessing in expectation of theirs in return. Thus the Salutation (V. The Lord be with you. R. And with thy spirit.) was said in some form or other nine times, as it is given in this Missal. And the Bidding Prayer (Let us pray.) was repeated by the Celebrant on many occasions to stir the People up to greater devotion.

One interesting feature of western liturgies is the Collect, a short prayer so carefully constructed that it has been called the sonnet of devotion. The eastern liturgies on the contrary are featured by Litanies, not by Collects. In the Western Liturgy the Mass for each Feast and Feria had a set of three Collects, called respectively in this Missal, the Collect, the Secret, and the Postcommunion. The Secrets were said as prayers over the Oblations at the time of the Offertory, and for them our Prayer-Book substitutes the PRAYER FOR THE WHOLE STATE OF CHRIST'S CHURCH. As for the Postcommunion, in 1549 in the first Prayer-Book, a thanksgiving was inserted to be used always as the Postcommunion Collect, and this prayer has survived to the present day, although in a different position, for it is now in the position of a post-ablution prayer, namely, The Thanksgiving. But the American Prayer-Book authorizes, and sometimes requires, a "Prayer before the Blessing" which is the position for the Postcommunion, and is ample justification for a return to the use of the ancient Postcommunions.

The necessity of making the service brief for the benefit of working folk has led to the use of a shortened Eucharist based upon the Prayer-Book permission granted for the one necessity which the Rubrics recognize, namely, sickness. When on the analogy of this permission the Prayer for the Church is omitted, the least that can be done is to say the Secrets in its place, so as to provide proper prayers over the oblations.

Another matter is worth attention, and that is the fact that every Catholic liturgy except the Anglican makes mention in its prayers not only of the needs of the living and dead, but also of the Saints in glory. The Eucharist is Holy Communion, that is, close union, union between God and man, heaven and earth, and the Communion of the Saints should therefore find expression in the prayers of the service and Sacrament which provides this close union.

Some Priests insert before the American Consecration Prayer a commemoration of the Saints, either in the form of the lost section of our 1549 Canon or the appropriate section of our original Gregorian Canon, in order to restore to our liturgy a witness to the commerce-in-Christ between the living and dead which the Eucharist makes for us. Our 1549 Canon began with the Prayer for the whole State of Christ's Church. (That is, this prayer was not then said, as now, at the Offertory but was placed after the Sanctus.) If you will read this prayer, substituting for its final paragraph the lost fragment given in the Canon of this Missal, and then read our present Consecration Prayer, you will be able to appreciate the glory of the Anglican Canon of the Mass in our original Prayer-Book of 1549.

The Meaning of Some Liturgical Terms and Usages

IN the Latin original of our liturgy, Missa is the word used which we now translate Mass. This word is thought to have been derived from the word Missa in the Dismissal, Ite, missa est. The latter phrase is a bit of obscure Latin, but on almost any interpretation the meaning implied is, Go, what you have offered has been presented to God. The word Mass may therefore be interpreted to mean an offering to God the Father made through Christ's offering of himself.

The Latin Missal recognizes two chief forms of Mass. First of all, Conventual Mass, which does not mean a Mass in a Convent but a Mass for a group who are under obligation to offer it, such as the Chapter of a Cathedral, the Choir of a Monastery, or the students of a Seminary Chapel. The nearest thing which corresponds to this in parish usage is the Mass in a parish Church to which the parishioners owe a definite obligation of attendance. Certain privileges and responsibilities in regard to a Conventual Mass are constantly referred to in the Missal.

The Second form of Mass chiefly referred to in the Missal is one that is offered out of devotion and not primarily to satisfy the obligation of some group of worshippers. Such a Mass is called in Latin a Missa privata, but for two reasons this phrase is usually translated Low Mass; first, because such a Mass is usually a Low Mass, and second, because the literal translation, private Mass, implies a solitary Mass, or at least a Mass which is said with no concern for anyone except the Priest, and neither of these ideas is present in the Latin term. Because these are Masses of devotion rather than of obligation, the rules as to what is to be said and done permit a wider latitude than those for a Conventual Mass.

The distinction between these two kinds of Mass can be kept clear if it is understood that the Conventual is one of obligation upon some group of worshippers and ought always to be the best the Church can offer, i.e., a Solemn Mass, whereas the non-Conventual Mass is usually a Low Mass because it is said out of devotion at times or places where a Conventual Mass in its normal musical form is neither required nor possible.

Masses are either for the living or for the dead. The latter are more penitential in character than the former since they are concerned with release from the effects of sin and growth in the freedom and peace which is the result of complete purgation from evil. Because they are Masses for the Dead, ceremonial is omitted which pertains to the living, such as the censuring of the Altar in the preparation of the People for the Mass of the Catechumens, and the censuring of living persons at the Offertory, and the blessing of the People at the end of Mass.

A Mass which does not agree with the Kalendar is a Votive Mass. Except on All Soul's Day, all Requiem Masses are Votives.

However, no discussion of the word Mass would be adequate without the reminder that the noblest title for our Lord's Own Service is The Eucharist, that is THE THANKSGIVING. This is the title preferred by all theologians of today.

By the time of the Reformation it had become customary for Priests to use certain personal and private prayers of devotion when they were carrying out their ministry, and these are known as the personal prayers of the Celebrant, as has been explained in the INTRODUCTION to this Missal. When our liturgy was put into English in 1549, all such personal prayers of the Celebrant were omitted except the Collect for Purity, which seems to have been said privately by the Priest while the Choir was singing the Introit.

In the Prayer-Book of 1552, all of the Scriptural anthems were omitted, as is said above, and in place of these, we have become accustomed to the use of rhymed secular compositions (that is, so-called hymns). In this Missal the traditional forms of the Scriptural anthems and of the personal prayers of the Celebrant are provided for our present-day usage, and it is recommended that each worshipper join in all of them silently whenever he assists at Mass. The worshipper may profitably recite these devotions, even if the Celebrant omits them. And it should be remembered that no Rubric requires their use, but Congregations which have been accustomed to them will testify to their great devotional value.

Originally there were several readings from the Scriptures at Mass, normally three, one from the Gospels, one from some other New Testament book, and one from the Old Testament. When it became normal to use only two lections, the Gospel was retained and one of the first two lections omitted. Hence the Prayer-Book often has for its "Epistle" an Old Testament lesson.

The Masses which are noted as Station Days (See the Proper of the Season) are very ancient, and were compiled for a particular Church and occasion, which dictated to some extent the choice of the Propers. A good example of this is the ancient Ordination Masses for the Ember Days. After each one of the seven lections on Ember Saturday one of the minor or major Orders was conferred.

The Reason for Ceremonial

NON-CATHOLIC Christians have usually been suspicious of ceremonial because they are afraid that external formalities may become a substitute for worship in spirit and in truth. Sometimes it has been held that a lack of external expression produces an inward spirit of worship. The Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers, makes true worship to consist of devotion in silence, with only occasional expression in words. However, any use of words is an externality. And Protestants tend to make much of the use of words in worship with a denial of any other form of expression, and they are usually particularly vehement in their objection to the use of silence in Catholic worship. Perhaps American insensitiveness to noise has produced insensitivity to the devotional values of silence intermingled with worship.

Catholic worship has always been concerned to bring the whole man, in the use of his body and all its powers and faculties, as well as in the use of his spirit, to expression in worship. Hence not only are the faculties of hearing and speech used in worship, but also the faculties of sight, smell, tasting, and touch, and at times the hushing of these five faculties in mystical silence.

When our Lord instituted the Eucharist as an Action, he said DO THIS. It is impossible to obey our Lord without expressing our obedience in externalities. In the process of time this expression of the spirit through all the faculties of the body has assumed certain patterns which we call Catholic ceremonial. Hence there are vestments, the use of incense, and music, etc., so that all the mind and body can be used and consecrated to God in the Eucharist. Furthermore, as has been said, Catholic usage has not even neglected silence as a means of worship, although non-Catholics, except those of the Society of the Friends, do usually object violently to the use of mystical silence in public worship.

As a matter of fact, it is impossible to carry on any public service without the use of ceremonial. Something must be done with the body in moments of worship, and wherever any pre-arranged order is followed, the result is a system of ceremonial. Even for the Friends' Meeting there are customs of sitting, standing, speaking, and refraining from speech, and these customs are just as much a matter of ceremonial as those found in a Catholic Missal.

The question is therefore not whether we will have ceremonial or do without it, but what kind of ceremonial we shall use. The ceremonial of Catholic worship is the result of centuries of experience in finding out how the human being most naturally expresses himself when he worships God in spirit and in truth.

As a result of ignorance and prejudice, and of the propaganda which prejudice carries on, certain customs of course may come to seem strange or unnatural. A good example of this is the use of the kiss. In modern times kissing is more often than not associated with sensuous ideas. In the ages of faith, when everyone shewed his reverence in worship by kissing those articles which were closely associated with worship, such as the Cross on the Stole, or the cruets which contained the wine and water to be used at the Eucharist, or the Bishop's ring, etc., the kiss became an expression of reverence, and therefore in the relationship between the sexes it was likely to be an expression of reverence for the human body. In the New Testament the Kiss of Peace is mentioned as a Christian ceremony. The question before Catholics is whether we are to surrender to the constant secularization of manners and thought, or whether we are to use Catholic ceremonial as a means of bringing sanctification into the emotional and sensory experience of human beings.

Every ceremonial act which is indicated in the Missal is the heritage of Western Christendom in the worship of God, and therefore deserves respectful consideration, even though we ourselves are unable to see its justification. Surely we all realize that the individual is less likely to know better than the whole community of God with its many centuries of worship and of dealing with human problems.

The American Episcopal Church ordains deaf mutes who are incapable of the use of ordinary human speech. This means that the American Episcopal Church believes that the sign manual is just as adequate an expression of the spirit as the use of words. Catholic ceremonial is a sign manual of the Catholic religion much more widespread than the sign manual used by deaf mutes to express English speech. Anyone present at a service for deaf mutes conducted in the sign manual might find it very strange and amusing if he were ignorant of this method of speech, but such a reaction would be a token of his lack of understanding. Just so a person who is ignorant of the language of Catholic ceremonial, or unsympathetic with its method of expressing the most sublime ideas of the human soul, is sometimes moved to irreverent laughter when for the first time he sees Catholic ceremonial. But such a reaction shews his own lack of human sympathy and perception. He might rather learn to use this Catholic or universal language, and express his devotion through it, so as to be one with all the past ages of the great Church of God.

Anti-Catholic propaganda against ceremonial asserts as its basis the alleged simplicity of our Lord and of all that he did and taught. Now simplicity is a word which indicates a great and noble characteristic, but unfortunately most people do not know whereof they speak when they talk of the simplicity of Jesus. The simple truths of Christianity are profound, and when subjected to intellectual analysis are discovered to be very complex. Surely the first and foremost truth of Christ's teaching is that of God. Analyze this teaching, as you would pick apart a simple flower of the field, and you will see that its surface appearance of simplicity, like that of the flower, is a matter of perfect unity of complexities.

A "simple" dinner party is not an excuse for carelessness, shoddiness, or bad manners. Reverence is taking pains to give God the best that human beings can offer, and simplicity is not the same thing as slipshod methods of worship. The ancients knew that they owed it to the dignity of man as well as to the dignity of God not to approach him except with dignity. This method of approach was very different from that of modern "simple services" which are likely to be a sentimental hodge-podge, hastily put together, and because of the lack of effort, described as "simple."

The idea that a very "simple" and plain celebration of the Eucharist (e.g., Low Mass) approximates the Last Supper and the early Christian Eucharist is quite mistaken. Whether the Eucharist grew out of the Jewish Passover liturgy, or out of the Jewish Fellowship Meal called the Kiddush, it was, by modern non-Catholic standards, a dignified, formal celebration which avoided that familiarity with holy things which so easily breeds contempt. And the early Christians from the start celebrated it in the form of what we now call the Solemn Pontifical Mass. That is, the Bishop as the father and head of the family took the place of Christ, and surrounded by his Priests and other assistants at the Holy Table celebrated the Eucharist in the most solemn and dignified fashion. In those days people had grand manners, and would have considered themselves irreverent and ill-bred if they failed at worship to take time and effort to express their reverence thus. Low Mass or the "simple" Celebration of the Eucharist developed in an age when men were so immersed in and wearied by the affairs of the world that they had little interest, time, or energy to spend in the worship of God.

The Prayer-Book Rubrics are for the most part relics of the Latin High Mass, and in this the Prayer-Book is like the Latin Missals. At least in theory High Mass is still our norm, and Low Mass is a tolerated mediaeval abnormality. The Holy Eastern Orthodox Church knows almost nothing of such practices. But the Anglican Communion has become so enamoured of them that we have even lost all idea of the ancient congregational ceremonial for Mass. To sit for instruction, stand for praise, and kneel for prayer has become a rule of the thumb. But the Eucharist is thanksgiving or praise. Even by this popular rule ought we not then normally to stand during the Prayers of the Eucharist as the Prayer-Book so often and so plainly orders us to do at Baptism, Confirmation, etc.? It is easier to kneel throughout than to stand, and Low Mass calls for kneeling. And kneeling has come to be a mark of Episcopalians. Most non-Catholic Christians as well as all Catholics of East and West except Anglicans consider standing to be the appropriate posture of prayer except in moments of special reverence or during times of public humiliation, such as fast days.

Hence those who have been brought up in the narrower Anglican tradition of constant kneeling for prayer, and of genuflecting only toward the Altar when the Most Holy Sacrament is present there, must not think it wrong or strange if in some of our churches they find the Congregation standing for most of the Prayers at High Mass or genuflecting other than to the Blessed Sacrament. As Anglicanism becomes less provincial and more ecumenical in its customs, we shall doubtless learn more and more to follow the authentic and wide-spread Christian tradition in these matters rather than customs that are considered "simple" because they require a minimum of effort and interest. Reverence is taking pains.

How the Kalendar Teaches the Faith

THE Church follows two calendars simultaneously. First, she developed her liturgical year, as registered in the Proper of the Season. When dating by the calendar months became customary, she also developed her system of immoveable Feasts in honour of the Saints. And we refer to this combination of moveable and immoveable Feasts, this union of the Church's Year and the civil calendar, as the Church Kalendar. However, the Kalendar as printed in this Missal refers largely to the calendar months. Each Churchman is expected to know the Church Year, just as he knows the chief anniversary dates of his own family, without having them in a printed form.

After the death and resurrection of our Lord, the event which every Christian wished to celebrate was Christ's Easter victory over pain, death, and sin. "This is the day which the Lord hath made" was the passage from the Psalms which seemed to describe Easter Day. Straightway they called the first day of the week "The Lord's Day," and celebrated it as the weekly Feast of our Lord's resurrection. The yearly anniversary of Easter they kept for fifty days, ending with the Feast of Pentecost (or Whitsunday) in honour of the Holy Ghost. For Easter came at the time of the Jewish Feast of the Passover which after fifty days was followed by the Jewish Pentecost. In preparation for Easter, they kept a solemn commemoration of the Passion, which finally grew into Lent and Passiontide. Eventually they instituted a commemoration of the coming of Christ, first in the form of the Feast of Epiphany, later still as the Feast of his Nativity, on December 25th, just nine months after March 25th, the Feast of the Annunciation (which traditionally is also the calendar month date of the Crucifixion). By the time the immoveable Feast of Christmas had been accepted, the Church found herself committed to the calendar month system in addition to her calendar of moveable Feasts.

Thus the liturgical year developed into three main cycles, in honour of the three central mysteries of the Catholic religion. A moment's thought makes clear that all Catholic doctrine is focussed in three concentric mysteries, (a) the mystery of God (namely, the doctrine of the Holy Trinity), (b) the mystery of the Incarnation (which is the manifestation of God to us), and (c) the mystery of the Church or of Sanctification (which reveals to us how we are to attain God and his holiness).

Of course, these ideas overlap and are constantly repeated in the Church Year. Even in Passiontide the Church does not use a chronological method. Rather, she takes a theme and illustrates it from many different angles, shewing thereby the inter-relationship and unity of the Faith. The Church Year is like a great musical composition, its main theme being thanksgiving (or Eucharist) for God's goodness, with the minor themes of the three mysteries being developed in and through each other.

The Church begins with the manifestation of God to the world in the Person of Christ. First comes Advent, with its setting forth of the three themes of preparation, (a) the preparation of humanity for Christ's first advent to the world, (b) the preparation of the Church for his second advent by a consideration of the four last things (death, judgement, heaven, and hell), and (c) the preparation of the individual soul for the coming of Christ in the Christmas Communion. As a season of penitence the Advent colour is violet.

Then comes the white of Christmas with its midnight, dawn, and midday Masses, so tender and human in their appeal, followed by three Feasts which remind one of the passion which Christians must share, (a) the Martyr (exemplified in St. Stephen) who suffers unto death, (b) the stalwart servant (exemplified in the Beloved Disciple) who testifies throughout a long life of service, and (c) the many (exemplified in the Holy Innocents) who suffer unknowingly and without choice but who nevertheless are part of Christ's glorious heritage of weakness made into eternal triumph. The Octave

Day shews us the divine Babe shedding his first blood (the Circumcision). On January 6th under the title of the Epiphany we celebrate the manifestation of Christ's divinity made to humanity in the coming of the Magi, in his Baptism, and in his first miracle. The Christmas season does not really end until the Purification (Feb. 2nd), theoretically forty days after the Nativity, and constituting the first course of forty days in the Church Year. But after the Epiphany Octave begins the ferial season known as Epiphanytide, which uses green as does Trinitytide, and does not end until Septuagesima comes with its violet of penitence.

Thus is the cycle of the Incarnation ended, and a new cycle begun, the cycle of redemption which manifests the mystery of sanctification, or as it is better called, the mystery of the Church. This cycle is the most interesting and varied of the three, with its tracing out of the suffering and victory of Christ, the coming of the Holy Spirit, and the founding of the Church whereby is revealed to us the mystery of God and of his blessed will.

First there is an introduction, so that we may not leave the joys of Christmas too suddenly for the penance of Lent. This is the pre-Lenten (or Gesima) season of Septuagesima, Sexagesima, and Quinquagesima, approximately seventy, sixty, and fifty days before Easter. Then Lent begins with Ash Wednesday, and extends for another period of forty days (i.e., not counting the Sundays which are never fast days) through Passiontide and Holy Week, and issues in the Queen of Feasts, the yearly anniversary of Christ's Resurrection. Then comes the Great Forty Days (when Christ again walked the earth), ending in the Ascension of Christ. But Eastertide itself does not end until Pentecost (fifty days) is finished with its Octave Day of Trinity Sunday whereon we worship God in his final revelation of himself.

The foregoing cycle has been violet with penitence (from Septuagesima till Easter, except for the black of Good Friday) and white in honour of Christ the Immaculate, except for the red which is used for the fire of the Holy Spirit during Whitsuntide. Trinity Sunday is also white, as is the Feast on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday, Corpus Christi, the day whereon the revelation of the mystery of God is seen to be completed and fulfilled in the Blessed Sacrament of the Altar.

Trinitytide is the third cycle, and deals with the mystery of God and his blessed will in our lives. It uses green on Ferias, as did Epiphanytide, and ends with the Sunday next before Advent, when the glorious worship of the Church in the three cycles of the mysteries of our Faith is begun again.

But all through these three cycles come the immoveable Feasts with their presentation of heroic servants of Christ (the Apostles and Evangelists, the Martyrs, the Confessors, the Virgins, the Holy Women) and many commemorations of mysteries or of titles of our Lord and our Lady, such as the Precious Blood or the Seven Sorrows. For all Feasts in honour of martyrdom the Church uses red. For other Feasts white.

The moveable Feasts, which so often occur throughout the year, may seem to interrupt this gradual unfolding of the three-fold mystery of our Faith (i.e., the doctrine of God, the Incarnation, and the Church). But if we see the moveable Feasts against the background of the Season, and thus think of them as evidences of the Faith expressed in human life and action, they serve to illustrate and illuminate this three-fold mystery. And let it not be forgotten that we, as Catholic Christians, are an integral part of this mystery, for St. Paul says that the Church is "the fellowship of the mystery."

THE ORDINARY OF THE MASS

NOTE, That to use the following Ordinary and Canon profitably, the worshipper should be thoroughly familiar with the ideas and terms in
HOW TO WORSHIP AT THE EUCHARIST, in the foregoing section.

Part I. The Mass of the Catechumens

During which the worshipper should prepare for The Action (i.e., the Mass of the Faithful) by praying all the devotions with the Celebrant, and by reflecting on the Scriptures which are read as part of the liturgy of the day.

Preparatory Prayers of the Celebrant

(Which the worshipper ought also to pray)

The Priest, when he has made ready, approaches the Holy Table of the Altar, and makes the accustomed reverence, and then proceeds to say the following preparatory prayers, which same are said by the Priest standing on the floor in front of the Altar steps. Nothing is said at the Altar or on the steps thereof until the Mass itself is actually begun.

THE SIGN OF THE CROSS

First the Priest makes the Sign of the Cross, saying: In the Name of the Father, ✠ and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. R. Amen.

§ In Masses for the Dead and of the Season of Passiontide the following Psalm is omitted, in which case the Antiphon only is said.

OPENING PSALM: CONCERNING THE ALTAR AS THE MERCY SEAT OF GOD.

Next the Priest begins the Antiphon: I will go unto the altar of God, and the Ministers answer: Even unto the God of my joy and gladness. And then he continues alternately with the Ministers:

PSALM 43. *Judica me, Deus.

(The Priest's pleading of the Cause of God's People)

GIVE sentence with me, O God, and defend my cause against the ungodly people : O deliver me from the deceitful and wicked man.

M. For thou art the God of my strength, why hast thou put me from thee : and why go I so heavily, while the enemy oppresseth me?

(Petition to approach God's Altar devoutly)

P. O send out thy light and thy truth, that they may lead me : and bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

M. And that I may go unto the altar of God, even unto the God of my joy and gladness : and upon the harp will I give thanks unto thee, O God, my God.

(Act of Confidence in God)

P. Why art thou so heavy, O my soul : and why art thou so disquieted within me?

M. O put thy trust in God : for I will yet give him thanks, which is the help of my countenance, and my God.

(Act of adoration of the Triune God)

P. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son : and to the Holy Ghost.

M. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be : world without end. Amen.

The Priest then repeats the Antiphon: I will go unto the altar of God. R. Even unto the God of my joy and gladness.

(Acknowledgment of our unworthiness)

V. Our help ✝ is in the Name of the Lord.

R. Who hath made heaven and earth.

The Priest then says the General Confession (i.e., the Confiteor) as below, except that he changes the words thee, father to you, brethren, whereupon the Ministers ask God to accept his Confession, as follows:

Misereatur.

ALMIGHTY God have mercy upon thee, forgive thee thy sins, and bring thee to everlasting life. R. Amen.

Then the Ministers repeat the General Confession (and since sin is an offence not only against God, but against the Mystical Body of Christ as well, confession is made to representatives thereof as well as to God) as follows:

Confiteor.

I CONFESS to Almighty God, to Blessed Mary Ever-Virgin, to blessed Michael the Archangel, to blessed John Baptist, to the holy Apostles Peter and Paul, to all the Saints, and to thee, Father, that I have sinned exceedingly in thought, word, and deed, (Here thrice strike the breast) through my fault, through my own fault, through my own most grievous fault. Therefore I beg Blessed Mary Ever-Virgin, blessed Michael the Archangel, blessed John Baptist, the holy Apostles Peter and Paul, all the Saints, and thee Father, to pray to the Lord our God for me.

(The Priest asks God to accept our Confession)

Misereatur.

ALMIGHTY God have mercy upon you, forgive you your sins, and bring you to everlasting life.
R. Amen.

(He prays for full absolution)

Indulgentiam.

THE Almighty and merciful Lord grant us pardon, ✠ absolution, and remission of our sins. R. Amen.

(He asks for spiritual renewal)

℣. Wilt thou not turn again and quicken us, O God?

℞. That thy people may rejoice in thee.

℣. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord.

℞. And grant us thy salvation.

℣. Lord, hear my prayer.

℞. And let my cry come unto thee.

IMMEDIATE PREPARATION FOR WORSHIP

Originally the Mass began with a Litany (Kyrie); when the Christians acquired church-buildings, a processional Psalm (Introit) became necessary; and then arose the custom of the clergy making devotions of preparation (such as those immediately foregoing and those immediately following) whilst the Introit was in singing.

FIRST SALUTATION

(Which marks the beginning of the Mass of the Catechumens, or the preparation for the Sacrifice)

℣. The Lord be with you.

℞. And with thy spirit.

¶ And the Priest, standing reverently before the Holy Table, shall say the Lord's Prayer and the Collect following, the People kneeling; but the Lord's Prayer may be omitted at the discretion of the Priest. [These devotions are sometimes said privately by the Priest as the Introit is sung, or even after the Introit, at the Altar on the Missal side, although the foregoing Rubric seems to indicate that they are to be said at the foot of the Altar.]

Collect for Purity

ALMIGHTY GOD, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known and from whom no secrets are hid : cleanse the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of thy Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love thee, and worthily magnify thy holy Name. Through Christ our Lord. R. Amen.

Summary of the Law

HEAR what our Lord Jesus Christ saith : Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it : Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets.

In place of the Summary of the Law, the Decalogue may be said, the People responding after each of the Commandments except the last: Lord, have mercy upon us, and incline our hearts to keep this law. But after the tenth Commandment the People respond: Lord, have mercy upon us, and write all these thy laws in our hearts, we beseech thee.

[If there be said the Prayer next following (which is in substance the same as the foregoing Collect for Purity), it is said privately by the Priest, as he ascends to the Altar.

Aufer a nobis.

PUT away our iniquities far from us, O Lord, we beseech thee, that with pure minds we may be worthy to enter into the Holy of holies. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.]

(Since the tombs of the Martyrs in the Catacombs were the first immoveable Altars, the Church soon began to express her veneration of their tortured bodies, which had been sacrificed for Christ, in prayers such as the following. Later this veneration was extended to the body of any person who had heroically served Christ and thus was recognized as a Saint, for the Church has always considered the human body a holy thing.)

WE beseech thee, O Lord, by the merits [of thy Saints whose relicks are here, and] of all thy Saints, that it may please thee to forgive me all my sins. Amen.

(At Solemn Mass, before the Priest reads the Introit, he blesses the incense, saying: Be thou blessed by him in whose honour thou shalt be burnt. Amen. And then he censures the Altar, after which he is censed by the Deacon. This is done as an act of honour to the Altar and its Priest, in preparation for the sacrifice, and teaches us that the grace of Jesus Christ must cleanse and sweeten our lives and our worship if our sacrifice is to be acceptable to God. See NOTE, page B 38.)

Introit or Opening Anthem

The Priest now goes to the Epistle corner of the Altar and reads the Introit (which at Sung Mass is usually chanted during the foregoing devotions). This opening anthem furnishes the keynote (see proper Mass for the day), and the worshipper should reflect thereon, so as to enter into the Church's mind in her use thereof.

¶ Here, if the Decalogue hath been omitted, shall be said:

Opening Litany or General Supplication

In order that this great cry for God's blessing may be said as one united prayer in the same tongue throughout Christendom, it is often recited, as both the Latin and Greek Catholics still do, in the New Testament language:

Kyrie in English

LORD, have mercy upon us.
 Lord, have mercy upon us.
 Lord, have mercy upon us.

CHRIST, have mercy upon us.
 Christ, have mercy upon us.
 Christ, have mercy upon us.

LORD, have mercy upon us.
 Lord, have mercy upon us.
 Lord, have mercy upon us.

Kyrie in Greek

KYRIE, eleison. Kyrie, eleison.
 Kyrie, eleison.

CHRISTE, eleison. Christe, eleison. Christe, eleison.

KYRIE, eleison. Kyrie, eleison.
 Kyrie, eleison.

Doxology to the Litany

The Prayer-Book prints the Gloria in excelsis as a Communion anthem toward the end of the Mass, but permits its omission at that place, for which reason it is often, according to the original custom, added to the Kyrie in Masses of Feasts. For the reason that it is a paraphrase of the Kyrie combined with a paraphrase of the Song of the Angels which announced the Incarnation, the original custom is highly appropriate.

Gloria in excelsis.

Standing in the middle of the Altar, the Celebrant bows his head and says (if it is to be said) Glory be to God on high, and the People continue with him:

(Praise to the Father for the gift of his Son)

AND on earth peace, good will towards men. We praise thee, we bless thee, (Here bow the head) we worship thee, we glorify thee, (Here bow the head) we give thanks to thee for thy great glory, O Lord God, heavenly King, God the Father Almighty.

(Supplication to the Son our Sacrifice)

O Lord, the only-begotten Son, (Here bow the head) Jesus Christ ; O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, (Here bow the head) receive our prayer. Thou that sittest at the right hand of God the Father, have mercy upon us.

(Act of faith in the oneness of the Son and the Spirit with the Father)

For thou only art holy ; thou only art the Lord ; thou only, (Here bow the head) O [Jesu] Christ, with the Holy Ghost, art most high in the glory ✠ of God the Father. Amen.

Collect or Collects of the Day

Anciently each Mass had three special Prayers, the Collect, the Secret, and the Postcommunion, as given in this Missal. These are the principal variable Prayers of the Mass, and usually deserve special devotional consideration. See proper Mass for the day.

SECOND SALUTATION

(Which introduces the Collect for the Day or the principal variable prayer of the Mass)

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

Then is said the Collect for the Day and any other Prayers, if the Rubrics so require. These other Collects are either (a) the Commemoration of a Feast; or (b) the Seasonal Prayers (usually in honour of our Lady, since every day is a commemoration of the Incarnation; or in honour of all Saints, since every day has been sanctified by the death of some Saint); and (c) sometimes one or more variable prayers of devotion such as are to be found in Various Prayers, Page G if.

Lesson or Epistle

Originally there was in addition to the Gospel, more than one Lesson, usually two, the first from the Old Testament, the second from the New. When Mass was shortened by the omission of Lessons, sometimes it was the New Testament Lesson which was omitted, which is why the Prayer-Book gives us "Epistles" from the Old Testament. During the Lesson the worshipper should reverently reflect on the Scripture which the Church has chosen for the occasion. After the Lesson the People respond: Thanks be to God.

Gradual or Anthem After the Lesson

The worshipper should privately read and reflect on these devout aspirations which the Church anciently appointed to be used after the Lesson or Epistle, and all Old Testament references to the Old Testament Church (i.e., Jerusalem, Sion, etc.) and its ordinances and experiences must be understood as applying to the Catholic Church and illustrating its practices and history. (See NOTE, page B 38.)

Personal Prayers of the Celebrant Before the Gospel

(Which the worshipper ought also to pray)

Catholic ceremonial ordains that the Gospel-book be honoured by being censed (since it is full of the sweetness of our Lord) and reverently kissed by the Celebrant, and thus teaches with what reverence the worshipper should listen to its holy words.

Munda cor meum.

CLEANSE my heart and my lips, O thou Almighty God, who didst purge the lips of Isaiah the Prophet with a live coal :

and of thy sweet mercy vouchsafe so to purify me, that I may worthily proclaim thy holy Gospel. Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

At Solemn Mass the Deacon now asks for the Celebrant's blessing, but at Low Mass the Celebrant himself asks God for a blessing; and this the worshipper ought also to do, in the following prayer which asks that he may be a good missionary for Christ.

Jube, Domine. Dominus sit.

PRAY, Lord, give me thy blessing. The Lord be in my heart and on my lips, that worthily and rightly I may proclaim his Gospel. Amen.

READING OF THE GOSPEL

In the early days the preceding devotions were said at the "south" or Epistle side of the church-building, perhaps because they were meaningless to anyone who had not accepted the Gospel, as the south part of Europe had already done. But the North was as yet in pagan darkness, and perhaps that is why the Gospel was carried to the "north" side of the church-building to be read or sung, for the Christians desired to carry the Gospel to the North and around the whole world. Even at Low Mass the Missal is carried from the "south" side of the Altar to the "north" side, while at Solemn Mass the Gospel procession is done with special solemnity, after the ancient manner: and the book is censed (the incense having been previously blessed, as at the Introit), and afterwards the Priest, to do honour to both of them, and to teach us that the Gospel is the sweet savour of Christ whose grace alone can make his Gospel effective. Everyone stands in profession of a willingness to follow the Gospel and to signify our purpose that the Gospel be carried to all lands.

THIRD SALUTATION

(Which introduces the proclamation of the Good News about Jesus Christ, being the climax of the Mass of the Catechumens)

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with thy Spirit.

When the Holy Gospel is announced, the People make the holy Sign on their forehead, lips, and breast (thus dedicating their hearing, speech, and heart to the teaching of Christ) and say: Glory be to thee, O Lord. After the Gospel is said: Praise be to thee, O Christ.

The Pledge of Faithfulness from the Faithful

The Creed was inserted in the Western Liturgy after the Catechumenate (i.e., converts from paganism under instruction for Baptism) had ceased to be a normal thing in Church discipline. In the early days the unbaptized converts, and all the baptized who had proved unfaithful and were under discipline, were made to depart at the end of the Mass of the Catechumens, after the Sermon. If the Creed had been used at Mass in the days of the Catechumenate, it would have been recited after the Catechumens were dismissed. Hence the Sermon would have been preached before the Faithful made their Profession of Faith. The Prayer-Book places the Sermon after the Creed, but also orders it preached elsewhere on certain occasions. In practice it is used at any appropriate point in the service which suits the convenience of the occasion, e.g., before Mass, before the Creed, after the Creed, at the end of Mass, etc.

The Creed was considered to be a festival hymn, unsuited to Masses for the Dead and non-festival Masses, and was permitted to be used only in such Masses as were in honour of mysteries mentioned therein, such as: Masses of Sunday (which honour the resurrection of our Lord); Masses of Feasts of our Lord; Masses of our Lady, and other Saints closely connected with the Incarnation, and of the Doctors who defended the Faith; and Masses of the Church (such as the Patronal Feast, Ordinations, etc.).

The Nicene Creed

In the midst of the Altar, the Priest says (if it is to be said) I believe in one God and the Choir or People continue with him in the profession of the Faith:

(God the Father and Creation)

THE Father Almighty, Maker Of heaven and earth, And of all things visible and invisible :

(God the Son and Redemption)

And in one Lord (Here bow the head) Jesus Christ, the only-begotten Son of God ; Begotten of his Father before all worlds, God of God, Light of Light, Very God of very God ; Begotten, not made ; Being of one substance with the Father ; By whom all things were made : Who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven, (Here genuflect) And was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary,

And was made man : (Here rise)
And was crucified also for us under Pontius Pilate ; He suffered and was buried : And the third day he rose again according to the Scriptures : And ascended into heaven, And sitteth on the right hand of the Father : And he shall come again, with glory, to judge both the quick and the dead ;
Whose kingdom shall have no end.

(God the Spirit and Sanctification)

And I believe in the Holy Ghost, The Lord, and Giver of Life, Who proceedeth from the Father and the Son ; Who with the Father and the Son (Here bow the head) together is worshipped and glorified ; Who spake by the Prophets :

(The Catholic Church and its work in souls)

And I believe one [Holy] Catholic and Apostolic Church : I acknowledge one Baptism for the remission of sins : And I look for the Resurrection of the dead : And the Life  of the world to come. Amen.

The Notices and Sermon or Other Instruction

¶ Then shall be declared unto the People what Holy Days, or Fasting Days, are in the week following to be observed; and (if occasion be) shall Notice be given of the Communion, and of the Banns of Matrimony, and of other matters to be published. [Here also some Priests announce the intention of the Mass, and ask for prayers for any other intentions, so as not to interrupt the action of the Offertory with such details. In some places it is also found convenient to have an instruction or the Sermon at this point rather than earlier in the service.]

Part II. The Mass of the Faithful or the Action

The Mass is an act of obedience to our Lord who said: DO THIS IN REMEMBRANCE OF ME. The Action is that part of the Mass in which we DO what he DID. We read that he did four things. 1. He took Bread and Wine. 2. He gave thanks. 3. He brake the Bread. 4. He gave it to them. Bear in mind these four acts of The Action.

During The Action the worshipper should obey our Lord by making each one of these acts his own act, as explained in the foregoing section, HOW TO WORSHIP AT THE EUCHARIST, thus: (1. Oblation) When the Priest takes Bread and Wine and (as the Prayer-Book commands) "offers and places" the same on the Altar, the worshipper should in spirit offer and place himself on the Altar, as an oblation to God, along with that which is there being offered in his name and for his sake; (2. Consecration) When the Eucharistic Consecration is said, he should suffer himself to be consecrated in thanksgiving to God along with the oblations;

(3. Utilization) When the Fracture is made, he should give himself and his will to be broken in sacrifice as God wills; and (4. Unification) When the Body of his Lord is given in the Administration of Holy Communion, he should give himself to Christ who thereby gives himself to the worshipper.

I. OBLATION OR THE OFFERTORY

This is the first act of The Action. The Priest now offers and places on the Altar the Bread and Wine which the worshippers have provided by their offering, wherein and whereby each worshipper offers himself to God.

FOURTH SALUTATION

(Which marks the beginning of The Action)

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

Then is said the Offertory, which this Missal provides in the Proper of each Mass (and which the worshipper should say privately as the watchword of his self-oblation on this day), and for which the Prayer-Book gives fifteen Sentences of Scripture, of which the following is often used:

THINE, O LORD, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty ; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine ; thine is the kingdom, O LORD, and thou art exalted as head above all. I Chron. 29. 11.

¶ And the Priest shall then offer, and shall place upon the Holy Table, the Bread and Wine.

And the worshipper should now make his offering of himself and of all that he has to God, in token whereof he makes, when he can, his offering of money for the support of his Altar and its sacrifice and Priest. If the worshipper will say the following devotions as the Priest makes each act of the Offertory, he will be offering himself in spirit and will as a reasonable, holy, and living sacrifice.

The Personal Prayers of the Celebrant at the Offertory

(Which the worshipper ought also to pray as his act of self-oblation)

AT THE OFFERING OF THE HOST

The Priest lifts up the Host on the Paten, and then makes therewith over the Corporal the Sign of the Cross, saying meanwhile:

Suscipe, sancte Pater.

RECEIVE, O Holy Father, Almighty and Everlasting God, this spotless Host, which I thine unworthy servant now offer unto thee, my God, the living and the true, for all my countless sins, wickedness, and neglect ; and for all those here present ; as also for all the faithful in Christ, both quick and dead ; that it may set forward their salvation and mine, unto life everlasting. Amen.

AT THE BLESSING OF THE WATER

The Priest at the Epistle side of the Altar pours Wine into the Chalice, then prays that as the Water is to be united with the Wine, so our weak human nature may be united to the divine nature of Christ.

Deus, qui humanae substantiae.

O GOD, who didst lay the foundation of man's being in wonder and honour, and in greater wonder and honour didst renew the same : grant by the mystery of this water and wine, that he who was partaker of our humanity may make us joint-heirs of his very Godhead, even Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord. Who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

AT THE OFFERING OF THE CHALICE

The Priest returns to the centre, lifts up the Chalice and then makes therewith the Sign of the Cross, saying meanwhile:

Offerimus tibi.

WE offer unto thee, O Lord, the Cup of Salvation ; beseeching thy mercy that it may ascend in the sight of thy Divine Majesty as a sweet-smelling savour for our salvation, and that of the whole world. Amen.

AT THE OFFERING OF OURSELVES

The Priest bows and says:

In spiritu humilitatis.

IN a contrite heart and an humble spirit let us be accepted of thee, O Lord, and so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day that it may be well pleasing unto thee, O Lord our God.

AT THE INVOCATION OF HIM WHO IS THE FONT OF HOLINESS

The Priest raises himself and makes the Sign of the Cross over the oblations, saying:

Veni, sanctificator.

COME, O thou Sanctifier, Almighty and Everlasting God, and bless this sacrifice made ready for thy Holy Name.

THE LITTLE LITURGY OF THE INCENSE

At the Censing of the Oblations and Worshippers

(Whereby both are honoured as one sacrifice)

NOTE, That in Masses for the Living, incense is used in the Mass of the Catechumens (i) at the very beginning, when the Altar and the Priest are thus honoured, and again (ii) at the climax of the Mass of the Catechumens when the Gospel and also the Priest are censed. Likewise at the beginning of the Mass of the Faithful (iii) the Oblations are censed and then the Altar, the Priest and the People, and again (iv) at the climax of the Mass of the Faithful, when the Consecration is effected, the Blessed Sacrament is censed. But in Masses for the Dead incense is used only at the Offertory (the censing of the People of course being omitted, since it is not a Mass for the living worshippers) and at the Consecration. However, if the Solemn Dismissal (the so-called Absolution) of the Body be given, incense is used in honour of the dead body, for Holy Scripture says that the Christian's body is the temple of the Holy Ghost.

The devotions used by the Priest and his Ministers in the "liturgy of the incense" at the Offertory may well be said also by the worshipper as follows:

AT THE BLESSING OF THE INCENSE

Per intercessionem.

By the intercession of blessed Michael the Archangel, who standeth at the right hand of the Altar of incense, and of all the Elect, may the Lord vouchsafe to bless this incense, and accept it as a sweet-smelling savour. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

AT THE CENSING OF THE OBLATIONS

Incensum istud.

LET this incense, blest by thee, O Lord, come up before thee, and let thy mercy come down upon us.

AT THE CENSING OF THE CROSS AND ALTAR

Dirigatur, Domine.

LET my prayer, O Lord, be set forth in thy sight as the incense : and let the lifting up of my hands be an evening sacrifice. Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth : and keep the door of my lips. O let not mine heart be inclined to any evil thing : let me not be occupied in ungodly works with the men that work wickedness.

BEFORE THE CENSING OF PRIEST AND PEOPLE

Accendat in nobis.

MAY the Lord kindle in us the fire of his love, and the flame of his everlasting charity. Amen.

AT THE WASHING OF THE PRIEST'S HANDS

If Alms are to be presented, they are presented at the Altar at this time.

Next, the Priest goes to the Epistle side to wash his hands, lest any crumbs of the wafers, or drops of wine, or dust from handling the censor or the Alms basin, adhere to his fingers, so that they can be fresh and clean for handling the Blessed Sacrament. Meanwhile he prays for spiritual cleansing.

(Concerning what God requires of those who would offer sacrifice)

PSALM 26. 6. Lavabo.

(Resolution to be always prepared to approach the Altar)

I WILL wash my hands in innocence, O Lord : and so will I go to thine altar.

That I may shew the voice of thanksgiving : and tell of all thy wondrous works.

(Protestation of love for God's house and People)

Lord, I have loved the habitation of thy house : and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

O shut not up my soul with the sinners : nor my life with the bloodthirsty ;

In whose hands is wickedness : and their right hand is full of gifts.

(Aspiration for perseverance)

But as for me, I will walk innocently : O deliver me, and be merciful unto me.

My foot standeth right : I will praise the Lord in the congregations.

(Act of adoration of the Triune God)

In Masses for the Dead and of the Season of Passiontide, the following is omitted.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son : and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be : world without end. Amen.

FOR THE ACCEPTANCE OF OURSELVES AND OUR GIFTS

The Priest then returns to the centre, and bowing over, says:

Suscipe, sancta Trinitas.

RECEIVE O Holy Trinity, this oblation which we offer unto thee, in memory of the passion, resurrection, and ascension of our Lord Jesus Christ ; and in honour of blessed Mary Ever-Virgin, of blessed John Baptist, of the holy Apostles Peter and Paul ; of these and all the Saints ; that it may be to their honour and our salvation : and that like as we remember them on earth, so in heaven they may plead for us. Through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE PRIEST AND PEOPLE PRAY FOR EACH OTHER

The Priest says in the subdued voice:

Orate, fratres.

BRETHREN, pray : and then adds privately: that my sacrifice and yours may be acceptable to God the Father Almighty.

Meanwhile the bystanders respond:

Suscipiat Dominus.

THE Lord receive this sacrifice at thy hands, to the praise and glory of his Name ; both to our benefit and that of all his holy Church. And then the Priest, with the subdued voice, says: Amen.

PRAYER OVER THE OBLATIONS

The Secrets or the Prayer for the Church

Then the Priest, without saying Let us pray, immediately adds the Secrets, or (for the Secrets) the following Prayer for the Church, before which he says: Let us pray for the whole state of Christ's Church.

(This Prayer was originally the introductory prayer to our Prayer-Book Canon, and if its "lost fragment" be restored to it, it will be seen to be a paraphrase somewhat re-arranged as to order, of its original, the first of introductory parts of the Gregorian Canon, as given in the Note on the Canon of the Mass after the Preface, page B48 ff.)

ALMIGHTY and everliving God, who by thy holy Apostle hast taught us to make prayers, and supplications, and to give thanks for all men : We humbly beseech thee most mercifully to accept our [alms and] oblations, and to receive these our prayers, which we offer unto thy Divine Majesty ; beseeching thee to inspire continually the Universal Church with the spirit of truth, unity, and concord : And grant that all those who do confess thy holy Name may agree in the truth of thy holy Word, and live in unity and godly love.

We beseech thee also, so to direct and dispose the hearts of all Christian Rulers, that they may truly and impartially administer justice, to the punishment of wickedness and vice, and to the maintenance of thy true religion, and virtue.

Give grace, O heavenly Father, to all Bishops and other Ministers, that they may, both by their life and doctrine, set forth thy true and lively Word, and rightly and duly administer thy holy Sacraments.

And to all thy People give thy heavenly grace ; and especially to this congregation here present ; that, with meek heart and due reverence, they may hear, and receive thy holy Word ; truly serving thee in holiness and righteousness all the days of their life.

And we most humbly beseech thee, of thy goodness, O Lord, to comfort and succour all those who, in this transitory life, are in trouble, sorrow, need, sickness, or any other adversity.

And we also bless thy holy Name for all thy servants departed this life in thy faith and fear ; beseeching thee to grant them continual growth in thy love and service, and to give us grace so to follow their good examples, that with them we may be partakers of thy heavenly kingdom. Grant this, O Father, for Jesus Christ's sake. Our only Mediator and Advocate. R. Amen.

The Order of Ministering the Holy Communion to the People

Commonly called Communion Devotions

In the Latin Mass used in England at the time of the Reformation, there was no form for ministering the Holy Communion to the People (just as in the Roman Missal of today there is no such form), for which reason a vernacular form was devised, and used in the Latin Mass immediately before the Communion of the People. Then, in the first Prayer-Book (1549) this vernacular "Order" was inserted immediately before the Celebrant's own Communion. In the second Prayer-Book (1552) this Order was interpolated here in its present awkward place, where it unfortunately interrupts the Action. One element of this form, however, the Prayer of Humble Access, was removed at the last American revision to its present place before the Act of Communion, which is historically and liturgically the proper position for the whole of this Order.

¶ Then shall the Priest say to those who come to receive the Holy Communion.

YE who do truly and earnestly repent you of your sins, and are in love and charity with your neighbours, and intend to lead a new life, following the commandments of God, and walking from henceforth in his holy ways ; Draw near with faith, and take this holy Sacrament to your comfort ; and make your humble confession to Almighty God, devoutly kneeling.

General Confession

ALmighty God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Maker of all things, Judge of all men ; We acknowledge and bewail our manifold sins and wickedness, Which we, from time to time, most grievously have committed, By thought, word, and deed, Against thy Divine Majesty, Provoking most justly thy wrath and indignation against us. We do earnestly repent, And are heartily sorry for these our misdoings ; The remembrance of them is grievous unto us ; The burden of them is intolerable. Have mercy upon us, Have mercy upon us, most merciful Father ; For thy Son our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, Forgive us all that is past ; And grant that we may ever hereafter Serve and please thee In newness of life, To the honour and glory of thy Name ; Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

¶ Then shall the Priest (the Bishop if he be present) stand up, and turning to the People, say:

Absolution

ALmighty God, our heavenly Father, who of his great mercy hath promised forgiveness of sins to all those who with hearty repentance and true faith turn unto him ; Have mercy upon you ; pardon  and deliver you from all your sins ; confirm and strengthen you in all goodness ; and bring you to everlasting life ; through Jesus Christ our Lord. R. Amen.

¶ Then shall the Priest say:

HEAR what comfortable words our Saviour Christ saith unto all who truly turn to him. Come unto me, all ye that travail and are heavy laden, and I will refresh you. Matt. II. 28. So God loved the world, that he gave his only-begotten Son, to the end that all that believe in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. John 3. 16.

HEAR also what Saint Paul saith. This is a true saying, and worthy of all men to be received, That Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners. 1 Tim. 1. 15.

HEAR also what Saint John saith. If any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous ; and he is the Propitiation for our sins. 1 John 2. 1, 2.

THE PREFACE TO THE CANON OF THE MASS

According to the general tradition of the West (obscured by the interpolation as above of the Communion Devotions), the Preface follows immediately upon the Offertory, and the music for the Ending of the final prayer thereof is the beginning of the melody of the opening Versicles of the Preface.

2. CONSECRATION OR THE EUCHARISTIC BLESSING

This is the second act of The Action. Our Lord gave thanks, which means that he blessed the Bread and Wine by means of a form of thanksgiving, for which reason the chief name of the Mass is the Eucharist. The great Thanksgiving of Consecration is therefore begun solemnly with the reverential chant of the Preface, and the worshipper should join in the Preface privately with a heart full of thankfulness, and thus give himself to be consecrated to God along with his offerings, according to the Covenant which God made with his people, saying: To make thee high above all nations which God hath made, in praise, and in name, and in honour : and that thou mayest be an holy people unto the Lord thy God. Deut. 26. 19.

In most liturgies the Canon or prayer of consecration has certain variable elements to adapt it to the Seasons of the Church Year. The Prayer-Book continues this usage by giving us Proper Prefaces, as noted below, but the rest of the Prayer-Book Canon is the same on Fast, Feria, or Feast throughout the year, unlike its Latin original, the Gregorian Canon, which see in Note on the Canon of the Mass, below.

FIFTH SALUTATION

(Which begins the Eucharistic Consecration)

℣. The Lord be with you.

Sursum corda.

℣. Lift up your hearts.

℟. We lift them up unto the Lord.

℣. Let us give thanks unto our Lord God.

℟. It is meet and right so to do.

IT is very meet, right, and our bounden duty, that we should at all times, and in all places, give thanks unto thee, O Lord, Holy, Father Almighty, Everlasting God.

Here shall follow the Proper Preface according to the time, if there be any specially appointed; or else immediately shall be said or sung by the Priest:

THEREFORE with Angels and Archangels, and with all the company of heaven, we laud and magnify thy glorious Name ; evermore praising thee, and saying:

(Here it is customary to ring the bell thrice.)

HOLY, Holy, Holy, Lord God of hosts, Heaven and earth are full of thy glory : Glory be to thee, O Lord Most High. (Amen). [After which it is customary to add:

Benedictus, qui venit.

BLESSED is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest.]

Proper Prefaces from the Book of Common Prayer

For the Nativity of Our Lord.

BECAUSE thou didst give Jesus Christ, thine only Son, to be born as at this time for us ; who by the operation of the Holy

For Whitsuntide.

THROUGH Jesus Christ our Lord ; according to whose most true promise, the Holy Ghost came down (as at this time) from heaven, lighting upon the disciples, to teach them, and to lead them into all truth ; giving them boldness with fervent zeal constantly to preach the Gospel unto all nations ; whereby we have been brought out of darkness and error into the clear light and true knowledge of thee, and of thy Son Jesus Christ. Therefore, etc.

For the Feast of the Most Holy Trinity and on Sundays.

WHO, with thine only-begotten Son, and the Holy Ghost, art one God, one Lord, in Trinity of Persons and in Unity of Substance. For that which we believe of thy glory, O Father, the same we believe of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, with-

Other Proper Prefaces

In Lent.

In Masses of the Passion and of the Holy Cross.

In Masses of the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

WHO didst will that a soldier's spear should pierce thine only-begotten Son as he hung upon the Cross, that his Heart which containeth all the riches of the divine goodness might be opened to pour forth on us showers of mercy and of grace ; and that as his Heart once pierced doth ever burn with love towards us, so it should remain a haven of rest for the godly, and for the penitent an open refuge of salvation. Therefore, etc.

In Masses of Christ the King.

BECAUSE thou hast anointed thine only-begotten Son Jesus Christ our Lord with the oil of gladness, to be a Priest for ever, and to be King over all mankind ; that when he had rendered himself a spotless sacrifice of peace upon the Altar of the Cross, he might fulfil the mystery of our redemption ; and having brought all creatures under his governance, might present unto thine infinite Majesty, a kingdom universal and everlasting ; a kingdom of truth and life ; a kingdom of sanctity and grace ; a kingdom of justice, love, and peace. Therefore, etc.

In Masses of St. Joseph, Spouse of the B.V.M.

AND that (on the Festival) of Joseph the blessed, we should praise, bless, and tell forth thy Therefore, etc.

In Masses of the Apostles and Evangelists.

AND also that we should humbly entreat thee, O Lord, the everlasting Shepherd, not to leave thy flock untended, but by thy blessed Apostles to keep it in thy continual protection ; that it may be governed by those same rulers, whom in thy stead, thou hast given for thy work, as shepherds of thy People. Therefore, etc.

In Masses for the Dead.

THROUGH Jesus Christ our Lord ; in whom hath been manifested forth unto us the hope of a glorious resurrection ; giving unto them that bewail the certain condition of their mortality the comfort of thy promise of immortality to come : for thou, O Lord, takest not away but chang-

the Saints, thy blessed servant, the praiseworthy Confessor Francis ; whose soul inwardly by the operation of the Holy Spirit hath of Seraphic love been most fervently kindled ; and whose body outwardly hath of the same been marked with the sacred Stigmata, the sign of the Crucified, Jesus Christ our Lord. Therefore, etc.

(For the American Consecration Prayer, turn to page B53.)

NOTE ON THE CANON OF THE MASS

After the foregoing Preface to the Consecration there was at one time a prayer known as the Post-Sanctus, which prayed that because God is holy and Christ is blessed, we may be his holy people, blessed by the Blessed One. At High Mass, after the worshipper has privately said the Sanctus, he may wish to say, whilst the Choir is singing, one of the following prayers as a kind of Post-Sanctus. If this be done, a restoration will be made of something which has been lost from our liturgy, for every Catholic liturgy in the whole world, with the exception of our own, expresses and emphasizes the idea that the Eucharist is not only the union of Christ with the Church Militant but also with the Church Expectant and Triumphant, for the Church is the Mystical Body of Christ composed of all the Faithful, living and dead, and the Mass is a holy commerce between them all in Christ.

NOTE, That canon means a standard or strict rule, and the Canon of the Mass is that part of the Eucharist in which strict obedience must be given to the Lord's Command, DO THIS IN REMEMBRANCE OF ME.

EXCERPTS FROM OUR ORIGINAL FORMS OF LITURGY

Used in Some Places as Personal Prayers of the Celebrant before the Eucharistic Consecration

(Either one of the two following devotions may be said:)

(i) The Commemoration of the Living, the Departed, and the Saints in Heaven

which in 1552 was lost from the Anglican Canon

The following Prayer was originally the conclusion to the Prayer for the Church when in the First Prayer-Book the Prayer for the Church was said, not as now at the Offertory but after the Sanctus, as the opening section of the Consecration Prayer. In some places in the Anglican Communion (e.g., in the Dioceses of Zanzibar, Nassau, etc.) it is still said thus in its original Anglican form. A comparison with the opening Prayers of the Gregorian Canon of this restored form of the Prayer for the Church will shew that it is a translation in paraphrase of this ancient western liturgical formula.

If this Prayer following be said as a Post-Sanctus, the Commemoration of the Departed and of the Saints, interpolated into the Prayer-Book Canon, should be omitted, because in the rite of 1549 the Commemoration of the Departed was removed from the place it had occupied at the end of the Gregorian Canon and put in this place along with the Commemoration of the Living.

The Commemoration of the Living

AND especially, O Lord, we commend unto thy merciful goodness N. and N., and this congregation which is here assembled in thy name, to celebrate the commemoration of the most glorious death of thy Son.

The Commemoration of the Saints

AND here we do give unto thee most high praise and hearty thanks [Here is sometimes made mention of the day itself, as indicated below.]

On the NATIVITY of the Lord, and thereafter to the Octave Day inclusive:

On this most holy day whereon blessed Mary, with maidenhood inviolate, brought forth the Saviour to this world : For the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all thy Saints, from the beginning of the world : and chiefly in the same glorious and most blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord and God.

On the day of the EPIPHANY, and through the whole Octave:

On this most holy day whereon thy only-begotten Son, co-eternal with thee in thy glory, manifestly appeared in the true substance of our flesh : For the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all thy Saints, from the beginning of the world : And chiefly in the glorious and most blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord and God.

On MAUNDY THURSDAY:

On this most holy day whereon Jesus Christ our Lord was betrayed for us : For the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all thy Saints, from the beginning of the world : And chiefly in the glorious and most blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord and God.

From the VIGIL OF EASTER to Saturday before Low Sunday inclusive:

On this most holy day, whereon Jesus Christ our Lord did rise again in his own flesh : For the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all thy Saints, from the beginning of the world : And chiefly in the glorious and most blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord and God.

On the day of the ASCENSION, and through the whole Octave:

On this most holy day whereon our Lord, thy only-begotten Son, set on high at the right hand of thy glory our frail human nature in union with himself : For the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all thy Saints, from the beginning of the world : And chiefly in the glorious and most blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord and God.

On the VIGIL OF PENTECOST to the following Saturday inclusive:

On this most holy day of Pentecost, whereon the Holy Ghost appeared to the Apostles in countless tongues of fire : For the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all thy Saints, from the beginning of the world : And chiefly in the glorious and most blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord and God.

Through the rest of the year:

For the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all thy Saints, from the beginning of the world : And chiefly in the glorious and most blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord and God.

And then the same is ended as follows:

And in thy holy Patriarchs, Prophets, Apostles, and Martyrs, whose examples, O Lord, and steadfastness in thy faith, and keeping thy holy commandments, grant us to follow.

The Commemoration of the Departed

WE commend unto thy mercy, O Lord, all other thy servants N. and N., which are departed hence from us, with the sign of faith, and now do rest in the sleep of peace.

The Commemoration of the Consummation of Christ's Kingdom

GRANT unto them, we beseech thee, thy mercy, and everlasting peace, and that, at the day of the general resurrection, we and all thy servants which be of the mystical body of thy Son, may altogether be set on his right hand, and hear that his most joyful voice : Come unto me, O ye that be blessed of my Father, and possess the kingdom, which is prepared for you from the beginning of the world.

(ii) The Introductory Prayer of the Gregorian Canon

The most widely used consecration prayer of Christendom is the Gregorian Canon (so called because it is supposed to have been arranged on the basis of earlier forms by St. Gregory the Great), of which our own Prayer for the Church and Consecration Prayer are a paraphrase, slightly rearranged. As explained above, the foregoing Prayer for the Whole State of Christ's Church is an amplification of the following introductory prayers of the Gregorian Canon. They are given here in the translation (slightly modernized) made by Miles Coverdale, the Father of the English Bible, and probably used at our Altars in England just prior to the publication of the first Prayer-Book. The addition of the above "lost fragment" of 1549 to the Prayer for the Church will make plain that our Prayer for the Church is but a paraphrase of the following:

Te igitur.

THEREFORE, most gracious Father, through Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord, we humbly beseech thee, and we desire, that thou accept, and bless, these gifts, these presents, these holy and unspotted sacrifices, which, first of all, we offer unto thee for thy holy Catholic Church : that thou vouchsafe to pacify, keep, unite and govern it throughout the whole world : with thy servant N., our chief Bishop, and N., our own Bishop, and all true believers, and such as have the Catholic and Apostolic faith in due estimation.

Memento, Domine.

REMEMBER, Lord, thy servants and handmaids, N. and N., and all who stand here round about, whose faith and devotion unto thee is known and manifest : for whom we offer unto thee, or who themselves do offer unto thee, this sacrifice of praise (for them and theirs, for the redemption of their souls, for the hope of their salvation and health) and render their vows unto thee, the eternal living, and true God :

Communicantes.

In communion with [Here is sometimes made mention of the day itself, as indicated below:] and in worshipful remembrance of the glorious and Ever-Virgin Mary, the Mother of our God and Lord Jesus Christ :

On the NATIVITY of the Lord, and thereafter to the Octave Day inclusive:

In communion with and in honour of this most holy day [night], whereon Blessed Mary, with maidenhood inviolate, brought forth the Saviour to this world : and in worshipful remembrance of the same glorious and Ever-Virgin Mary, Mother of the same our God and Lord Jesus Christ : and also of thy blessed Apostles, etc.

On the day of the EPIPHANY, and through the whole Octave:

In communion with and in honour of this most holy day, whereon thy only-begotten Son, co-eternal with thee in thy glory, manifestly appeared in the true substance of our flesh : and in worshipful remembrance of the glorious and Ever-Virgin Mary, Mother of the same our God and Lord Jesus Christ : and also of thy blessed Apostles, etc.

From the VIGIL OF EASTER to Saturday before Low Sunday inclusive:

In communion with and in honour of this most holy day [night] whereon Jesus Christ our Lord did rise again in his own flesh : and in worshipful remembrance of the glorious and Ever-Virgin Mary, Mother of the same our God and Lord Jesus Christ : and also of thy blessed Apostles, etc.

On the Day of the ASCENSION and through the whole Octave:

In communion with and in honour of this most holy day whereon our Lord, thy only-begotten Son, set on high at the right hand of thy glory our frail human nature in union with himself : and in worshipful remembrance of the glorious and Ever-Virgin Mary, Mother of the same our God and Lord Jesus Christ : and also of thy blessed Apostles, etc.

On the VIGIL OF PENTECOST to the following Saturday inclusive:

In communion with and in honour of this most holy day of Pentecost whereon the Holy Ghost appeared to the Apostles in countless tongues of fire : and in worshipful remembrance of the glorious and Ever-Virgin Mary, Mother of our God and Lord Jesus Christ : and also of thy blessed Apostles, etc.

Through the rest of the year:

AND also of thy blessed Apostles and Martyrs, Peter, Paul, Andrew, James, John, Thomas, James, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Simon and Thaddeus : Linus, Cletus, Clement, Xystus, Cornelius, Cyprian, Lawrence, Chrysogonus, John and Paul, Cosmas and Damian : and of all thy Saints ; by whose merits and prayers grant thou that in all things we may be defended with the help of thy protection. Through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.

Hanc igitur.

THEREFORE, Lord, we beseech thee, that thou wilt graciously receive this oblation of our bounden service, and of all thy household : [On the Vigil of Easter and Pentecost, and thereafter through the following Saturday inclusive, here is inserted: and we offer it to thee on behalf also of those whom thou hast been pleased to regenerate by water and the Holy Ghost, granting unto them remission of all their sins :] and do thou order our days in thy peace, and command us to be delivered from eternal damnation, and to be numbered in the flock of thine elect. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE AMERICAN CANON

The ringing of bells has always been associated with the worship of the one, living, and true God, and it is customary to have their glad voices ring out the news that Christ still comes to his People during the consecration of the Eucharist. They may be rung, as said above, at the Sanctus, and also (i) just before the Words of Institution, as a warning that the worshipper must be especially reverent, (ii) after each recitation of the Words, as the Priest makes his adoration, and (iii) just before he receives the Holy Communion, which is the final act of The Action commanded by our Lord. The worshipper should be mindful of the fact that he, along with the whole Church is being offered and consecrated to God at this time, and therefore should recite the Consecration Prayer with the Priest, or follow the more ancient custom of practicing mystical silence, as the Scripture says: BE STILL, and KNOW that I am God.

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION

(Hanc igitur)

ALL glory be to thee, Almighty God our heavenly Father, for that thou, of thy tender mercy, didst give thine only Son Jesus Christ to suffer death upon the Cross for our redemption ; who made there (by his one oblation of himself once offered) a full, perfect, and sufficient sacrifice, oblation, and satisfaction, for the sins of the whole world ; And did institute, and in his holy Gospel command us to continue a Perpetual Memory of that his precious death and sacrifice, until his coming again.

Here the worshipper bows his head, and remains bowed until the elevation.

(Qui pridie)

FOR in the night in which he was betrayed, he took Bread ; and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave it to his disciples, saying, Take, eat,

THIS IS MY BODY, WHICH IS GIVEN FOR YOU;

Do this in remembrance of me.

When the Priest elevates the Host above his head to shew it to the People, the worshipper should lift up his head and raise his eyes thereto. With St. Thomas the Apostle, he may well express love and devotion, saying: My Lord and my God. Afterward, he should bow again.

(Simili modo)

LIKEWISE, after supper, he took the Cup ; and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of this ; for

THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW TESTAMENT, WHICH IS SHED FOR YOU, AND FOR MANY,
FOR THE REMISSION OF SINS;

Do this, as oft as ye shall drink it, in remembrance of me.

When the Priest elevates the Chalice above his head to shew it to the People, the worshipper should lift up his head and raise his eyes thereto. With St. Thomas the Apostle he may well express his faith and devotion, saying: My Lord and my God. Afterward he should bow his head momentarily.

The Oblation (Unde et memores)

WHEREFORE, O Lord and heavenly Father, according to the institution of thy dearly beloved Son our Saviour Jesus Christ, we, thy humble servants, do celebrate and make here before thy Divine Majesty, with these thy holy gifts, which we now offer unto thee, the Memorial thy Son hath commanded us to make ; having in remembrance his blessed passion and precious death, his mighty resurrection and glorious ascension ; rendering unto thee most hearty thanks for the innumerable benefits procured unto us by the same.

The Invocation (Quam oblationem)

AND we most humbly beseech thee, O merciful Father, to hear us : and, of thy almighty goodness, vouchsafe to bless and sanctify, with thy Word and Holy Spirit, these thy gifts and creatures of bread and wine ; that we, receiving them according to thy Son our Saviour Jesus Christ's holy institution, in remembrance of his death and passion, may be partakers of his most blessed Body and Blood.

(Supra quae propitio)

AND we earnestly desire thy fatherly goodness, mercifully to accept this our Sacrifice of Praise and Thanksgiving ; most humbly beseeching thee to grant that, by the merits and death of thy Son Jesus Christ, and through faith in his blood, we, and all thy whole Church, may obtain remission of our sins, and all other benefits of his passion.

(Supplices te rogamus)

AND here we offer and present unto thee, O Lord, ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy, and living sacrifice unto thee ; humbly beseeching thee, that we, and all others who shall be partakers of this Holy Communion, may worthily receive the most precious Body and Blood of thy Son Jesus Christ, be filled with thy grace and heavenly benediction, and made one body with him, that he may dwell in us, and we in him.

[Commemoratio pro Defunctis]

The names of the faithful departed are in some places remembered before God here in the Canon, along with those triumphant in heaven. To this end, the ancient prayers are here given:

REMEMBER, Lord, also the souls of thy servants and hand-maidens, which are gone before us with the mark of faith, and rest in the sleep of peace, N. and N. We beseech thee, O Lord, that unto them, and unto all such as rest in Christ, thou wilt grant a place of refreshing, of light, and of peace. And vouchsafe to give unto us some portion and fellowship with thy holy Apostles and Martyrs ; with John, Stephen, Matthias, Barnabas, Ignatius, Alexander, Marcellinus, Peter, Felicitas, Perpetua, Agatha, Lucia, Agnes, Cecilia, Anastasia, and with all thy Saints ; within whose fellowship we beseech thee to admit us ;]

(Nobis quoque peccatoribus)

And although we are unworthy, through our manifold sins, to offer unto thee any sacrifice ; yet we beseech thee to accept this our bounden duty and service ; not weighing our merits, but pardoning our offences. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. By whom, and with whom, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, all honour and glory be unto thee, O Father Almighty. World without end. R. Amen.

Pater noster.

Anciently the Priest, as the representative of Christ, said the perfect Prayer of our Lord alone, to emphasize its extreme sacredness as a part of the foregoing priestly Consecration Prayer.

LET us pray : And now, as our Saviour Christ hath taught us, we are bold to say :

OUR Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, On earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation. R. But deliver us from evil. [For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. R. Amen.]

Personal Prayer of the Celebrant Before the Fracture

(Which the worshipper ought also to pray)

Libera nos.

DELIVER us, we beseech thee, O Lord, from all evils, past, present, and to come : and at the intercession of the blessed and glorious Ever-Virgin Mary,

Mother of God, with thy blessed Apostles Peter and Paul, and with Andrew, and with all Saints, give peace graciously in our days, that we, being holpen by the succour of thy mercy, may both alway be free from sin and safe from all disquietude. Through the same Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever one God. World without end. R. Amen.

3. UTILIZATION OF THE SACRIFICE PRESENTED OR THE FRACTURE

This is the third act of The Action, imitating our Lord's act in breaking the Bread. Offer your will to be broken by Christ to his use.

SIXTH SALUTATION

(Which introduces the proclamation of the Lamb of God as our Sacrifice.)

In some Churches the worshippers here make the Sign of the Cross on their forehead, lips, and breast, as at the Gospel. The wor-shipper should now offer his will and all his desires to God in union with the Sacrifice which was for him lifted up on the Cross.

V. The peace of the Lord be always with you.

R. And with thy spirit.

After which is said privately:

Personal Prayer of the Celebrant After the Fracture

(Which the worshipper ought also to pray)

Haec commixtio.

MAY this mingling and consecration of the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ our Lord be unto us who receive it an approach to everlasting life. Amen.

The Anthem of Sacrifice

The Forerunner of the Saviour, St. John Baptist, once proclaimed our Lord as the Lamb of Sacrifice for the sins of the world, and the Priest, if he follows Catholic custom, now thrice repeats the Baptist's words that he may fix our devotion on him who is present on the Altar as the propitiation for our sins and the peace and rest for our souls.

Agnus Dei. In Masses for the Living.

O LAMB of God, that takest away the sins of the world : have mercy upon us. O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world : have mercy upon us. O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world : grant us thy peace.

Agnus Dei. In Masses for the Dead.

O LAMB of God, that takest away the sins of the world : grant them rest. O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world : grant them rest. O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world : grant them rest eternal.

Personal Prayers of the Celebrant at the Communion

(Which the worshipper ought also to pray)

FOR THE PEACE OF THE CHURCH

(Said only in Masses for the Living)

Domine Jesu Christe.

O LORD Jesus Christ, who saidst to thine Apostles, Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you : regard not my sins, but the faith of thy Church ; and grant to it that peace and unity which is according to thy will. Who livest and reignest God, world without end. Amen.

PRAYERS TO RECEIVE CHRIST WORTHILY

Prayer of Humble Access

WE do not presume to come to this thy Table, O Merciful Lord, trusting in our own righteousness, but in thy manifold and great mercies. We are not worthy so much as to gather up the crumbs under thy Table. But thou art the same Lord, whose property is always to have mercy :

Grant us therefore, gracious Lord, so to eat the Flesh of thy dear Son Jesus Christ, and to drink his blood, that our sinful bodies may be made clean by his Body, and our souls washed through his most precious Blood, and that we may evermore dwell in him, and he in us. R. Amen.

¶ Here may be sung a Hymn.

The foregoing Prayer is often substituted for the following two Prayers:

Domine Jesu Christe, Fili Dei vivi.

O LORD Jesus Christ, son of the living God, whom the Father with the Holy Ghost hath willed by death to make the world to live : by this most holy Body and Blood of thine, set me free from all my sins, and from all evil things : and make me in such wise ever to abide in thy commands that I may never be separated from thee. Who with the same God the Father and the Holy Ghost, livest and reignest one God for ever and ever. Amen.

Perceptio Corporis tui.

O LORD Jesus Christ, I, thine unworthy servant, do presume to take thy Body : but let not this act be to my judgement and condemnation : rather, of thy mercy let it ward me in body and soul, and shew thy healing forth in me. Who livest and reignest with God the Father, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

Panem caelestem.

I WILL receive the bread of heaven and call upon the Name of the Lord.

The Priest now thrice strikes his breast (at which time in some places the bell is rung thrice, as a sign that the Sacrifice is about to be consummated by the Priest's reception of the Blessed Sacrament, and also to notify the People to come forward to receive the Holy Communion), as he thrice repeats the words of the holy Centurion whose humility and faith won the healing of his servant from our Lord. The Priest prays audibly only the first five words; the rest he says privately, thus:

Domine, non sum dignus.

LORD, I am not worthy : that thou shouldest come under my roof, but speak the word only and my soul shall be healed.

¶ Then shall the Priest first receive the Holy Communion in both kinds himself and proceed to deliver the same to the Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, in like manner (if any be present,) and, after that, to the People also in order.

After the Celebrant has received the Body of our Lord, he makes a devout resolution, which the worshipper should make with him, namely:

Quid retribuam.

WHAT reward shall I give unto the Lord for all the benefits that he hath done unto me? I will receive the cup of salvation and call upon the Name of the Lord. I will call upon the Lord, which is worthy to be praised, so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

4. UNIFICATION WITH OUR LORD, OR ADMINISTRATION OF HOLY COMMUNION

This is the fourth and final act of The Action, wherein our Lord gives himself to us in return for our gift of ourselves to him. And if the worshipper is not fasting, or is otherwise unprepared to receive the Holy Communion, he ought nevertheless to make an Act of Spiritual Communion, such as the following:

Anima Christi.

SOUL of Christ, sanctify me.

Body of Christ, save me.

Blood of Christ, inebriate me.

Water from the side of Christ,
wash me.

Passion of Christ, strengthen me.

O good Jesu, hear me.

Within thy wounds hide me.

Suffer me not to be separated from thee.

From the malicious enemy defend me.

In the hour of my death call
me,

And bid me come to thee,

That with thy Saints I may praise thee

For ever and ever. Amen.

Thus may the worshipper go forth in union with Christ and take heed to what God said to holy Gideon: Go forth in this thy might, O mighty man of valour. Have I not sent thee?

The Communion Devotions

Here appropriately the Order of Ministering Holy Communion to the People was originally said in its entirety, as is still done in some places. And then is repeated the cry of St. John Baptist, thus:

Ecce, Agnus Dei.

BEHOLD the Lamb of God, behold him that taketh away the sins of the world.

The following words of the Centurion are appropriately said by the Priest and People together, thrice:

Domine, non sum dignus.

LORD, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof : but speak the word only and my soul shall be healed.

¶ And when he delivereth the Bread, he says:

Corpus Domini.

THE Body of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life. Take and eat this in remembrance that Christ died for thee, and feed on him in thy heart by faith, with thanksgiving.

¶ And the Minister who delivereth the Cup shall say:

Sanguis Domini.

THE Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was shed for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life. Drink this in remembrance that Christ's Blood was shed for thee, and be thankful.

¶ When all have communicated the Priest shall return to the Holy Table, and reverently place upon it what remaineth of the consecrated Elements, covering the same with a fair linen cloth. [NOTE, That this fair linen cloth is now commonly understood to be the Pall. The Priest, if he follows the general tradition of the Western Liturgy, now makes the Ablutions, saying meanwhile:]

Personal Prayers of the Celebrant After Reception

(Which the worshipper ought also to pray)

Quod ore sumpsimus.

GRANT that what we have received with the mouth, O Lord, we may keep with a pure heart ; and that from this temporal gift may come unto us life everlasting.

Corpus tuum, Domine.

MAY thy Flesh which I have taken and thy Blood which I have drunk, O Lord, cleave unto mine inmost soul ; and grant that no spot of sin may abide in me, whose meat hath been thine incorrupt and holy sacraments. Who livest and reignest for ever and ever. Amen.

¶ Then shall the Priest say:

Let us pray.

But the following prayer is often omitted when no one has received Holy Communion except the Celebrant, since it is meant to be said on behalf of those who have received.

The Thanksgiving

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, we most heartily thank thee for that thou dost vouchsafe to feed us who have duly received these holy Mysteries, with the spiritual food of the most precious Body and Blood of thy Son our Saviour Jesus Christ ; and dost assure us thereby of thy favour and goodness towards us ; and that we are very members incorporate in the mystical body of thy Son, which is the blessed company of all faithful people ; and are also heirs through hope of thy everlasting kingdom, by the merits of his most precious death and passion. And we humbly beseech thee, O heavenly Father, so to assist us with thy grace, that we may continue in that holy fellowship, and do all such good works as thou hast prepared for us to walk in ; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom, with thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. R. Amen.

The Communion Anthem

The worshipper ought to think on its words and retain them in his heart all day long as his watchword of thankfulness for all God's benefits.

¶ Then shall be said the Gloria in excelsis all standing, or some proper Hymn. [But NOTE, that the proper Hymn appointed in this Missal is the Communion anthem, which same is said at the Epistle corner, whereto the Missal is carried, and the Priest goes to read the same, which done, with hands joined as before, he returns to the midst. Otherwise, remaining in the midst, he says according to the directions given after the Kyrie, as follows:]

Gloria in excelsis.

GLORY be to God on high, and on earth peace, good will towards men. We praise thee, we bless thee, we worship thee, we glorify thee, we give thanks to thee for thy great glory, O Lord God, heavenly King, God the Father Almighty.

O Lord, the only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ ; O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, receive our prayer. Thou that sittest at the right hand of God the Father, have mercy upon us.

For thou only art holy ; thou only art the Lord ; thou only, O [Jesu] Christ, with the Holy Ghost, art most high in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

The Final Thanksgiving

The Missal indicates a special thanksgiving prayer for each proper Mass, corresponding to the Collect for the Day and the Secret, and in Lenten weekday Masses a Collect Over the People as the concluding devotion before The Dismissal. (See proper Mass for the day.)

SEVENTH SALUTATION

(Which introduces the Postcommunion or final thanksgiving)

℣. The Lord be with you.

℞. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

After which he says the Postcommunions, in the same number and order, as the Collects at the beginning of the Mass.

The Dismissal

Every historic liturgy except the Nestorian and the Anglican has a Dismissal said or sung by the Deacon, such as follows:

EIGHTH SALUTATION

(Which introduces the Dismissal)

℣. The Lord be with you.

℞. And with thy Spirit.

In Masses for the Living:

℣. Depart in peace. Or: Let us bless the Lord.

℞. Thanks be to God.

In Masses for the Dead:

℣. May they rest in peace.

℞. Amen.

Final Personal Prayer of the Celebrant

(Which the worshipper ought also to pray)

Placeat tibi.

LET this my bounden duty and service be pleasing unto thee, O Holy Trinity ; and grant that this sacrifice which I, all unworthy, have offered in the sight of thy Majesty, may be acceptable unto thee ; and be for me and all them for whom I have offered it, a propitiation of thy loving-kindness. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

¶ Then the People kneeling, the Priest (the Bishop if he be present) shall let them depart with this Blessing.

The Blessing of the People by the Celebrant

(Which is not said in Mass for the Dead, and which is given with special solemnity only by the Bishop as chief Pastor)

THE Peace of God, which passeth all understanding, keep your hearts and minds in the knowledge and love of God, and of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord. And the blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, ✠ and the Holy Ghost be amongst you and remain with you always. R. Amen.

The Last Gospel or Final Proclamation of the Good News Concerning Jesus Christ

Here is read the following Gospel, namely the Apostle St. John's great proclamation concerning God who became Man and dwelt among us, or some other Gospel when the Rubrics of the Missal provide one, as for example when there is a Commemoration on the same day with a Gospel which sets forth the special observance of the day. And the Sign of the Cross is made by the worshipper as the Priest signs himself.

NINTH SALUTATION

(Which introduces the Last Gospel)

V. The Lord be with you.

R. And with thy Spirit.

✠ The Beginning of the Holy Gospel according to John.

R. Glory be to thee, O Lord.

In principio.

John 1.

IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him : and without him was not any thing made that was made : in him was life, and the life was the light of men : and the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not. There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the light, that all men through him might believe. He was not that light, but was sent to bear witness of that light. That was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not. He came unto his own, and his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his Name : which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. Here genuflect. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, Here rise (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the Only-begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

R. Thanks be to God.

Then the worshipper should make his thanksgiving, forms for which are provided in the front part of this Missal.

BRETHREN : If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God : set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life

"I saw the Tomb of Christ living : and likewise the glory of the Risen : Bright Angels attesting, the shroud and napkin resting.

Yea, Christ my hope is arisen : to Galilee he now goes before you."

Christ indeed from death is risen, so we know most surely : O King and Conqueror, grant to us mercy. Amen. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to John.

St. John 20. 1.

AT that time : On the first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre. Then she runneth and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them : They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him. Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre. So they ran both together ; and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre. And he, stooping down and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying : yet went he not in. Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie ; and the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself. Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre : and he saw, and believed. For as yet they knew not the Scripture, that he must rise again from the dead. Then the disciples went away again unto their own home. The Creed is said.

I Cor. 5. 6.

BRETHREN : ‡ Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth thê whole lump? Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our Pass-over is sacrificed for us : therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness ; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

St. Mark 16. 1.

AT that time : When the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come ând anoint him. And very early in the morning the First Day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun. And they said among themselves, ‡ Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sêpulchre? And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away : for it wâs very great. And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment ; and they wêre affrighted. And he saith unto them : Be nôt affrighted : Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified : he is risen ; hê is not here ; be-

And they went out quickly, and fled from thê sepulchre ; for they trembled and were amazed : neither said they any thing to any man ; for thêy were afraid.

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles.
Acts 10. 34.

IN those days : Peter opened his mouth, and said : Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons : but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him. The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ : (he is Lord of all ; ) that word (I say) ye know, which was published throughout all Judaea : and began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached : how God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost, and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil, for God was with him. And we are witnesses of all things which he did, both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem ; whom they slew, and hanged on a tree. Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly ; not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. To him give all the Prophets witness, that through his Name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

St. Luke 24. 13.

AT that time : Behold, two of his disciples went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about thrêscore furlongs. And they talked together of all these things which hâd happenèd. And it came to pass, that while they communed together, and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them : but their eyes were holden, that they shôuld not know him. And he said unto them : What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, ‡ as ye walk, and are sad? And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering, said unto him : Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, ‡ and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days? And he said unto them : ‡ What things? And they said unto him : Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a Prophet mighty in deed and word ; before God and âll the people ; and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucifièd him. But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemèd Israël ; and besides all this, to-day is the third day since thêse things were done. Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at thê sepulchre ; and when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of Angels, which said that hê was alive.

SECRET.

And certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre and found it even so as the women had said, but him they saw not. Then he said unto them : O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the Prophets have spoken. Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, † and to enter into his glory? And beginning at Moses, and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. And they drew nigh unto the village whither they went ; and he made as though he would have gone further. But they constrained him, saying : Abide with us, for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them. And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him, and he vanished out of their sight. And they said one to another : Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, † and while he opened to us the Scriptures? And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, saying : The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon. And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread. The Creed is said.

IN those days ; Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand, said : Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent. For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the Prophets which are read every sabbath-day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him : and though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain. And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre. But God raised him from the dead : and he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem : who are his witnesses unto the people. * And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers : God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again : as it is also written in the second Psalm : Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise : I will give you the sure mercies of David. Wherefore he saith also in another Psalm : Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption : but he whom God raised again saw no corruption. Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins : and by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the Law of Moses. Beware therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in the Prophets : Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish : for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

AT that time : Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them : Peace bê unto you. But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had sêen a spirit. And he said unto them : Why are ye troubled, ‡ and why do thoughts arise in your hearts? Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself ; handle me, and see : for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as yê see me have. And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hânds and his feet. And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them : ‡ Have ye here âny meat? And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of ân honey-comb. And he took it, and did êat before them. And he said unto them : These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalms cōncerning me. Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the Scriptures, and said unto them : Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dêad the third day ; and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his Name among all nations, beginning at Jêrusalem. The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Act. 3. 12.

IN those days : Peter opened his mouth and said : Ye men of Israel, ‡ why marvel yê at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, ‡ as though by our own power or holiness we had made this mân to walk? The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus, whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go. But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you : and killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead, whereof we are witnesses. And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers. But those things, which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled. Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out.

AT that time : Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias. And on this wise shewêd he himself. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them : I gô a fishing. They say unto him : We alsô go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately : and that night thêy caught nothing. But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore : but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus. Then Jesus saith unto them : Children, ‡ have ye âny meat? They answered him : No. And he said unto them : Cast the net on the right side of the ship, ând ye shall find. They cast therefore : and now they were not able to draw it for the multitûde of fishes. Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter : It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea. And the other disciples came in a little ship ; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the nêt with fishes. As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thêreon, and bread. Jesus saith unto them : Bring of the fish which yê have now caught. Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three. And for all there were so many, yet was not thê net broken. Jesus said unto thêm : Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him : ‡ Whô art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, ând fish likewise. This is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples after that he was risen frôm the dead. The Creed is said.

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts. 8. 26.

IN those days : The Angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying : Arise, and go toward the south, unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza : which is desert. And he arose and went. And, behold, a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jerusalem for to worship : was returning, and sitting in his chariot read Esaias the Prophet. Then the Spirit said unto Philip : Go near, and join thyself to this chariot. And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the Prophet Esaias, and said : † Understandest thou what thou readest? And he said : How can I, † except some man should guide me? And he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him. The place of the Scripture which he read was this : He was led as a sheep to the slaughter : and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth. In his humiliation his judgement was taken away. † And who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth. And the eunuch answered Philip, and said : I pray thee, ‡ of whom speaketh the Prôphet this? of himself, ‡ or of some ôther man? Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached unto him Jesus. And as they went on their way, they came unto ■ certain water : and the eunuch said : See, here is water : ‡ what doth hinder me to be bâptizèd? And Philip said : If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said : I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. And he commanded the chariot to stand still : and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch, and he baptized him. And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more. And he went on his way rejoicing. But Philip was found at Azotus : and passing through he preached in all the cities, till he came to Caesarea, the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

GRADUAL. Ps. 118. This is the day which the Lord hath made : we will rejoice and be glad in it. V. The same stone which the builders refused, is become the head-stone in the corner : this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

And they say unto her : Woman, ‡ why wêepest thou? She saith unto them : Because they have taken away my Lord : and I know not where thêy have laid him. And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing : and knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus saith unto her : Woman, ‡ why wêepest thou? ‡ whom sêekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him : Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him : and I will tâke him away. Jesus saith untô her : Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him : Rabboni (which is tô say, Master). Jesus saith unto her : Touch me not, for I am not yet ascended to my Father ; but go to my brethren, and say unto them : I ascend unto my Father, and your Father : and to my Gôd, and your God. DEARLY beloved : Christ hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit. By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison : which sometime were disobedient, when once the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water. I St. Peter 2. 1.

DEARLY beloved : Wherefore, laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, as new-born babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby : if so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious. To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious : ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. Wherefore also it is contained in the Scripture : Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious : and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded. Unto you therefore which believe he is precious : but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner, and a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient ; whereunto also they were appointed. But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people : that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light. Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God : which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

§ From to-day until the Octave of Pentecost, both in the Office of the Season and in that of the Saints, the Gradual is not said : but in its place are said two versicles with four Alleluias, in the order below : except in Masses of the Rogation Days, and of the Vigil of Pentecost, in which is said one Alleluia, with one versicle: similarly also after any Lesson on Ember Saturday after Pentecost. At other times up to Septuagesima, when the Gradual is said, three Alleluias are said after the Gradual, two before the V. and one after the V.: but when the Sequence is said, the Alleluia which should be said after the V. is said after the Sequence.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 118. This is the day which the Lord hath made : we will rejoice and be glad in it. Alleluia. V. Ps. 113. Praise the Lord, ye servants, O praise the Name of the Lord.

SEQUENCE. Victimae Paschali, as on Easter Day.

St. John 20. 1.

AT that time : On the first day of the week, cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre : and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre. Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them : They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him. Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre. So they ran both together ; and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre. And he stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying ; yet went he not in. Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie ; and the napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself. Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre ; and he saw, and believed : for as yet they knew not the Scripture, that he must rise again from the dead. The Creed is said.

FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EASTER

Commonly Called Low Sunday

Greater Double

Station at St. Pancras. Collect 1549.

INTROIT. Quasi modo. 1 St. Peter 2.

As newborn babes, alleluia : desire the sincere milk of the word, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia. Ps. 81. Sing we merrily unto God our strength : make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. ℣. Glory be.

§ Gloria in excelsis is said on this and the following Sundays after Easter, even when on week days the Mass of the preceding Sunday is resumed.

COLLECT.

ALmighty FATHER, who hast given thine only Son to die for our sins, and to rise again for our justification : grant us so to put away the leaven of malice and wickedness, that we may always serve thee in pureness of living and truth. Through the merits of the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. [Who.]

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed John the Apostle.

1 St. John 5. 4.

DEARLY beloved : Whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world : and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. Who is he that overcometh the world, † but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God? This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ : not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth. For there are three that bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood : and these three agree in one. If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater : for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son. He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself : he that believeth not God hath made him a liar, because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son. And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life ; and this life is in his Son. He that hath the Son hath life ; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. St. Matt. 28.

In the day of my Resurrection, saith the Lord, I will go before you into Galilee. Alleluia. ℣. St. John 20. After eight days, the doors being shut,

St. John 20. 19.

THE same day at evening, being the first day of the week ; When the doors were shut, where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews : Came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them : Peace bê unto you. And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hânds and his side. Then were the disciples glad when thêy saw the Lord. Then said Jesus to them again : Peace bê unto you. As my Father hath sent me, even sô send I you. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them : Receive ye thê Holy Ghost. Whosoever sins ye remit, they are remittêd unto them ; and whosoever sins ye retain, thêy are retainêd. The Creed is said.

Through the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. [Who.]

Seasonal Prayers as given after Low Sunday.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Peter the Apostle. 1 St. Peter 2. 19.

DEARLY beloved : This is thankworthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully. For what glory is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if when ye do well and suffer for it ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God. For even hereunto were ye called : because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps. Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth : who when he was reviled, reviled not again : when he suffered, he threatened not ; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously : who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree : that we being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness : by whose stripes ye were healed. For ye were as sheep going astray, but are now returned unto the Shepherd, and Bishop of your souls.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. St. Luke 24. The disciples knew the Lord Jesus in the breaking of bread. Alleluia. ℣. St. John 10. I am the Good Shepherd : and know my sheep, and am known of mine. Alleluia.

St. John 10. 11.

AT that time : Jesus said : I am the Good Shepherd. The Good Shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the shêep, and fleeth ; and the wolf catcheth them, and scattêreth the sheep ; the hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth nôt for the sheep. I am the Good Shepherd ; and know my sheep, and am known of mine, even as the Father knoweth me, and I knôw the Father ; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are nôt of this fold ; them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice ; and there shall be one flock, and one Shepherd. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 63. O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee : and I will lift up my hands in thy Name, alleluia.

SECRET.

sheep, and am known of mine, alleluia, alleluia.

POSTCOMMUNION.

Glory be.*

COLLECT.

ALMIGHTY GOD, who shewest to them that are in error the light of thy truth, to the intent that they may return into the way of righteousness : grant unto all those who are admitted into the fellowship of Christ's Religion that they may avoid those things that are contrary to their profession, and follow all such things as are agreeable to the same. Through our Lord Jesus Christ. [Thy Sôn. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.]

Seasonal Prayers as given after Low Sunday.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Peter the Apostle.

1 St. Peter 2. 11.

DEARLY beloved ; I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul, having your conversation honest among the Gentiles : that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may, by your good works which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake : whether it be to the king, as supreme, or unto governours, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well : for so is the will of God, that with well-doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men : as free, and not using your liberty for a cloke of maliciousness, but as the servants of God. Honour all men : love the brotherhood : fear God : honour the king.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Ps. III. The Lord hath sent redemption unto his people. Alleluia. ℣. St. Luke 24. Ought not Christ to have suffered these things : and to enter into his glory? Alleluia.

St. John 16. 16.

AT that time : Jesus said to his disciples : A little while and ye shall not see me ; and again a little while, and ye shall see me : because I go tô the Father. Then said some of his disciples among themselves : What is this, that he saith unto us : A little while, and ye shall not see me : and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, and, ‡ because I go to the Father? They said therefore : What is this, that he saith : ‡ A little while? we cannot tell, what he saith. Now Jesus knew, that they were desirous to ask him and said unto them : Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said : A little while, and ye shall not see me : and again a little while, ‡ and ye shall see me? Verily, verily I say unto you : that ye shall weep, and lament, but the world shall rejoice ; and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy. A woman, when she is in travail, hath sorrow, because her hour is come ; but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world. And ye now therefore have sorrow, but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice : and your joy no man taketh from you. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 146. Praise the Lord, O my soul : while I live will I praise the Lord : yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God, alleluia.

SECRET.

O LORD, we pray thee, that from these mysteries we may obtain such succour of thy grace, that refraining ourselves from the desire of all things earthly, we may learn to love all such things as are heavenly. Through.

COMMUNION. St. John 16. A little while, and ye shall not see me, alleluia : and again a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father, alleluia, alleluia.

FOURTH SUNDAY
AFTER EASTER

INTROIT. Cantate Domino. Ps. 98.

O SING unto the Lord a new song, alleluia : for the Lord hath done marvellous things, alleluia : his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia. Ps. ibid. With his own right hand and with his holy arm : hath he gotten himself the victory. V. Glory be.

COLLECT.

O ALMIGHTY GOD, who alone canst order the unruly wills and affections of sinful men : grant unto thy people that they may love the thing which thou commandest, and desire that which thou dost promise ; that so, among the sundry and manifold changes of the world our hearts may surely there be fixed, where true joys are to be found. Through Jesus Christ our Lōrd. [Who.]

Seasonal Prayers as given after Low Sunday.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed James the Apostle.

St. James. 1. 17.

DEARLY beloved : Every good gift, and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath. For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. Wherefore lay apart all filthiness, and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 118. The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence : the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass. Alleluia. V. Rom. 6, 9. Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more : death hath no more dominion over him. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accōrding to John.

St. John 16. 5.

AT that time : Jesus said unto his disciples : Now I go my way to him that sent me : and none of you asketh me : ‡ Whither gōest thou? But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless, I tēll you the truth ; it is expedient for you that I go away ; for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you : but if I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgement. Of sin, because they believe not on me ; of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye sêe me no more ; of judgement, because the prince of this world is judged. I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit, when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth. For he shall not speak of himself : but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak, and he will shew you things to come. He shall glorify me : for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you. All things that the Father hath, are mine. Therefore said I : that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 66. O be joyful in God, all ye lands, sing praises unto the honour of his Name : O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God, and I will tell you what the Lord hath done for my soul, alleluia.

St. James. 1. 22.

DEARLY beloved : Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer : he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass : for he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth, what manner of man he was. But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work : this man shall be blessed in his deed. If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion, and undefiled before God and the Father, is this : To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Christ is risen, and hath shewed light unto us, whom he hath redeemed with his most precious Blood. Alleluia. ℣. St. John 16. I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world : again, I leave the world, and go to the Father. Alleluia.

St. John 16. 23.

AT that time ; Jesus said unto his disciples : Verily, verily I say unto you : Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my Name, he will give it you. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my Name ; ask, and ye shall receive, that your jôy may be full. These things have I spoken unto yôu in proverbs. The time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly ôf the Father. At that day ye shall âsk in my Name ; and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you : for the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed, that I câme out from God. I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world ; again, I leave the world, and go tô the Father. His disciples said unto him : Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakêst no proverb. Now are we sure, that thou knowest all things, and needest not, that any mân should ask thee : by this we believe, that thou camêst forth from God. Jesus answered them : ‡ Do ye nôw believe? Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered every man to his own, and shall lêave me alone ; and yet I am not alone, because the Fathêr is with me. These things I have spoken unto you, that in me yê might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation : but be of good cheer, I have overcôme the world. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 66. O praise our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard : who holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to slip : praised be God, who hath not cast out my prayer, nor turned his mercy from me, alleluia.

THE GREATER AND LESSER LITANIES

On St. Mark the Evangelist's Day, or on Easter Tuesday when St. Mark's Day occurs on Easter Day, the Station was at St. Peter's and on the Lesser Litanies before Ascension Day, the Stations were: on Rogation Monday at St. Mary Major's; on Tuesday at St. John Lateran's; on Wednesday at St. Peter's.

[The observance of the Rogation or Greater and Lesser Litany Days (i.e., April 25th or St. Mark's Day and the other three Rogation Days) was of prime importance to the Church when all understood, as few do today, that human sustenance must be wrung from the earth itself by the labour of man, and that it is accomplished only by God's blessing on man's labours (which are thus recognized as ordained by God to be carried on according to his law of justice). The Latin Rubrics reflect this concern that the "Rogation liturgy" (which is an entity in itself, consisting of a processional Litany, with blessings of the fields, followed by the penitential Mass of the Rogations, and of necessity celebrated in addition to the Office and Mass of the day) should be maintained in its fullness or, if this be impossible, should be carried out as far as may be.]

The following Mass is intended to be sung on the Greater and Lesser Rogation Days in connection with the Procession, without Commem. of an Occurrence and without the Creed, even on a Sunday, with this exception: such a Commem. is not to be omitted if a Conventual Mass be said in Choir of a I or II Class Double or of the Easter Octave occurring on that day.

But if only one Mass be celebrated, and that Mass be of the Procession, it should be of the Rogation with a Commem. of the Occurrence, when there is one, unless the Commem. be of a I Class Double [or of a Prayer-Book Feast of Observance], in which case only a Commem. is made of the Rogations.

On the other hand, the Rogations are commemorated in all private Masses, except Requiems, and even in all sung Masses unless a sung or Conventual Mass of the Rogations be also celebrated.

The foregoing directions explain the general rules. Where the liturgy can be maintained in its fullness, it is arranged as follows:

On Rogation Monday, if it be a Feria or a Day within a common Octave, even if there be no Procession, the Conventual Mass is of the Rogations; if it be a Double or Semidouble, two Conventual Masses are said; but private Masses may be said either of the Feast or Feria.

On Rogation Tuesday, if it be a Feria, the Mass of the Rogations is said (without the Gloria in excelsis even though the Te Deum have been said at Matins); if it be a Feast, even a Simple, Mass is of the Feast with a Commem. of the Rogations, unless there be a Procession, in which case the general directions above are to be followed.

On Rogation Wednesday, Mass is of the Vigil with a Commem. of the Rogations, unless there be a Procession, in which case the general directions above are to be followed.

DEARLY beloved : Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed : the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are : and he prayed earnestly, that it might not rain, and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months. And he prayed again : and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit. Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth,

I say unto you, though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. And I say unto you : Ask, and it shall be given you ; seek, and ye shall find ; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh, receiveth : and he that seeketh, findeth : and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened. If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish : will he for a fish give him a serpent? Or if he shall ask an egg : will he offer him a scorpion? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children : how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

BRETHREN : Unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ. Wherefore he saith : When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive ; he gave gifts unto men. Now that he ascended, what is it, ‡ but that he also descended first into the lower parts ôf the earth? He that descended, is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things. And he gave some, Apostles, and some Prophets, and some, Evangelists ; and some, pastors, and teachers, for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ : till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ.

THE ASCENSION OF OUR LORD

Station at St. Peter's. Gospel 1929.

INTROIT. Viri Galilaei. Acts I.

YE men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? Alleluia : in like manner as ye have seen him going up into heaven, so shall he come again. Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia. Ps. 47. O clap your hands together, all ye people : O sing unto God with the voice of melody. V. Glory be.

COLLECT.

GRANT, we beseech thee, Almighty God : that like as we do believe thy only-begotten Son our Lord Jesus Christ to have ascended into the heavens ; so we may also in heart and mind thither ascend, and with him continually dwell. Who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, ône God, world without end.

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts. i. i.

THE former treatise have I made, TO Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach, until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the Apostles whom he had chosen : to whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion, by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God. And being assembled together with them, he commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which (saith he) ye have heard of me : for John truly baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence. When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying : Lord, ‡ wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Îsraël? And he said unto them : It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power; but ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up, and a cloud received him out of their sight. And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold two men stood by them in white apparel, which also said : Ye men of Galilee, ‡ why stand ye gazing up into heaven? This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come, in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Ps. 47. God is gone up with ■ merry noise, and the Lord with the sound of the trump, alleluia. ℣. Ps. 68. The Lord is among them as in the holy place of Sinai, he is gone up on high ; he hath led captivity captive. Alleluia.

AT that time : Jesus said : Behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you : but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with powêr from on high. And he led them out as far as to Bethany, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven. And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy : and were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God.

§ When the Gospel has been said, the Paschal Candle shall be put out, nor shall it be lighted again, save on Whitsun Eve at the blessing of the Font. The Creed is said.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Peter the Apostle.

I St. Peter 4. 7.

DEARLY beloved : The end of all things is at hand ; be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer. And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves : for charity shall cover the multitude of sins. Use hospitality one to another without grudging : as every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God. If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God : if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth : that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended. They shall put you out of the synagogues ; yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me. But these things have I told you, that, when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. The Creed is said.

VIGIL OF PENTECOST

Privileged Vigil of II Class

FOR THE BLESSING OF THE FONT

The Office having been said, the Priest and ministers, vested in violet, go up to the Altar, and after the reverence, the Priest kisses it in the centre. Then are read the Prophecies without title, the candles of the Altar being unlighted up to the beginning of the Mass, as on Holy Saturday. The Priest reads them with the subdued voice at the Epistle horn of the Altar. At the end of the Prophecies are said the Collects without. Let us bow the knee.

[In the Sarum Use was said only the 1st, 3rd, 4th, and 5th Prophecies indicated below.]

§ PROPHECY THE FIRST. Gen. 22. 1-19. In those days : God did tempt Abraham. As on Holy Saturday, Prophecy 3.

Which ended, the Priest says:

PROPHECY THE SECOND. Exod. 14. 24 to 15. 1. In those days : It came to pass that in the morning watch. As on Holy Saturday, Prophecy 4, with the Tract, We will sing unto the Lord.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

O GOD, who by the light of thy new covenant hast made manifest thy wonders wrought in former times, shewing in the Red Sea a pattern of the waters of baptism, and in the deliverance of thy people from bondage in Egypt foreshadowing the sacraments of thy Christian people : grant that all nations, being admitted by the merit of their faith to the privilege of Israel, may be regenerated by the partaking of thy Holy Spirit. Through . . . in the unity of the same.

§ PROPHECY THE THIRD. Deut. 31. 22-30. In those days : Moses therefore wrote this song. As on Holy Saturday, Prophecy 11, with the Tract, Give ear, O ye heavens.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

O GOD, who art the glory of the faithful and the life of the righteous ; who likewise by Moses thy servant hast taught us to sing songs of praise unto thee : accomplish in all nations the work of thy mercy, granting them felicity, and delivering them from all terror : that those things which were uttered for a warning of thy vengeance may be made profitable for our healing unto life everlasting. Through.

§ PROPHECY THE FOURTH. Isaiah 4. 1-6. And in that day seven women shall take hold of one man. As on Holy Saturday, Prophecy 8, with the Tract, My well-beloved hath a vineyard.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who in thine only-begotten Son hast revealed thyself to be the husbandman of thy Church, who dost mercifully purge every branch that bringeth forth fruit in the true vine, even the same Christ thy Son, to the intent that it may bring forth more fruit : we pray thee that the thorns and briars of sin may not prevail against thy faithful people, whom by the waters of baptism thou hast brought like a vine out of Egypt; that being confirmed by the sanctifying power of thy Holy Spirit, they may evermore bring forth fruit in abundance. Through . . . in the unity of the same.

§ PROPHECY THE FIFTH. Baruch 3. 9-37. Hear, Israel, the commandments of life. As on Holy Saturday, Prophecy 6.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

PROPHECY THE SIXTH. Ezech. 37. 1-14. In those days : The hand of the Lord was upon me. As on Holy Saturday, Prophecy 7.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

O LORD GOD OF HOSTS, who restorest those things that are broken down, and preservest those things that thou restorest : increase, we pray thee, the peoples that shall be regenerated in the sanctification of thy Name ; that they that are washed in the waters of baptism may in all things be guided by thy inspiration. Through.

§ These ended, the Celebrant puts on a violet Cope, and, while he descends to the font, the following is sung :

TRACT. Ps. 42. Like as the hart desireth the water-brooks : so longeth my soul after thee, O God. V. My soul is athirst for the living God : when shall I come to appear before the presence of God? V. My tears have been my meat day and night, while they daily say unto me : Where is now thy God?

Then the Priest, before he enters the Baptistry to bless the font, says :

V. The Lord be with you. R. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

GRANT, we beseech thee, Almighty God : that we which here observe the day whereon thou didst send forth thy Holy Spirit, may in such wise be influenced with heavenly desires that we may ever thirst for the waters of life. Through . . . in the unity of the same.

Then he proceeds to bless the font, as on Holy Saturday.

§ But where there is no baptismal Font, when the last Prophecy and Collect is ended the Celebrant lays aside his chasuble, and with the Ministers lies prostrate before the Altar : and all kneeling, the LITANY IS CHANTED by two Cantors in the midst of the Choir, and both sides of the Choir make the responses together. But when has been said the final repetition of R. Good Lord, deliver us, the Priest and Ministers arise, and go to the Sacristy to array themselves in red vestments for the Solemn Mass ; and meanwhile the Altar candles are lighted. At the end of the Litany Kyrie eleison is solemnly intoned, and repeated as usual. And this having been begun, the Priest with the Ministers proceeds to the Altar, and makes the Confession : then, going up, he kisses the Altar, and incenses it in the accustomed way. The Kyrie eleison being finished, Gloria in excelsis is solemnly begun, and the bells are rung.

INTROIT. Cum sanctificatus. Ezech. 36.

WHEN I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes, I will gather you out of all countries : then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean from all your filthiness, and a new spirit will I put within you, alleluia, alleluia. Ps. 34. I will alway give thanks unto the Lord : his praise shall ever be in my mouth. ℣. Glory be.

IN those days : It came to pass that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to Ephesus : and finding certain disciples, he said unto them : ‡ Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him : We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost. And he said unto them : ‡ Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said : Unto John's baptism. Then said Paul : John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people : That they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus. When they heard this, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Jesus. And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them ; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied. And all the men were about twelve. And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.

Alleluia. ℣. Ps. 107. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious : and his mercy endureth for ever.

Alleluia is not repeated, but there immediately follows:

Who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the same Spirit, ône God, world without end.

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts. 2. 1.

WHEN the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place : and suddenly there came a sound from heaven, as of a rushing mighty wind : and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues, like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them : and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven. Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language. And they were all amazed, and marvelled, saying one to another : Behold, ‡ are not all these which speak Galileans? ‡ And how hear we every man in our own tongue wherein wê were born? Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judaea, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia, Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jews, and Proselytes, Cretes, and Arabians, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Ps. 104. O send forth thy Spirit, and they shall be made : and thou shalt renew the face of the earth. Alleluia. (Here genuflect.) ℣. Come, Holy Ghost, and fill the hearts of thy faithful people : and kindle in them the fire of thy love.

SEQUENCE. Veni, Sancte Spiritus.

COME, thou Holy Spirit, come ; and from thy celestial home send thy light and brilliancy.

Come, thou father of the poor, come who givest all our store, come the soul's true radiancy.

Come, of comforters the best, of the soul the sweetest guest, sweetly and refreshingly.

Come, in labour rest most sweet, shade and coolness in the heat, comfort in adversity.

Thou who art the Light most blest, come fulfil their inmost breast, who believe most faithfully.

For without thy Godhead's dower, man hath nothing in his power, save to work iniquity.

What is filthy make thou pure, what is wounded work its cure, water what is parched and dry.

Gently bend the stubborn will, warm to life the heart that's chill, guide who goeth erringly.

Fill thy faithful who adore, and confess thee evermore, with thy sevenfold mystery.

Here thy grace and virtue send, grant salvation in the end, and in heaven felicity. Amen. Alleluia.

And this is said daily until the following Saturday inclusive.

Judas saith unto him, (not Iscariot) : Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, † and not unto the world? Jesus answered and said unto him : If a man love me, he will keep my words ; and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him ; he that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings. And the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me. These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my Name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you ; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. Ye have heard how I said unto you : I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father ; for my Father is greater than I. And now I have told you before it come to pass : that, when it is come to pass, ye might believe. I Cor. 12. 4.

BRETHREN : Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord. And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all. But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal. For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit ; to another faith by the same Spirit ; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit ; to another the working of miracles ; to another prophecy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues ; to another the interpretation of tongues : but all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will. For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body : so also is Christ. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free ; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. For the body is not one member, but many.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to Luke.

St. Luke 11. 9.

AT that time : Jesus said to his disciples : Ask, and it shall bê given you ; seek, and ye shall find ; knock, and it shall be openêd unto you. For every one that askêth receiveth ; and he that sêeketh findeth ; and to him that knocketh it shall bê openêd. If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, ‡ will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, ‡ will he for a fish give him â serpent? or if he shall ask an egg, ‡ will he offer him a scôrption? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children : how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to thêem that ask him?

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts 10. 34.

IN those days : Then Peter opened his mouth, and said . Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons ; but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him. The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ ; (he is Lord of all ;) that word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Judaea, and began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached : how God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost, and with power : who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed with the devil ; for God was with him. And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem ; whom they slew and hanged on a tree : him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly ; not to all the people ; but unto witnesses chosen before of God ; even to us who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach unto the people : and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. To him give all the Prophets witness, that through his Name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins. While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. And they of the circumcision, which believed, were astonished, as many as came with Peter : because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost. For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter : Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, ‡ which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we? And he commanded them to be baptized in the Name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Acts 2. The Apostles spake with divers tongues the wonderful works of God, alleluia. (Here genuflect.) ℣. Come, Holy Ghost, and fill the hearts of thy faithful people : and kindle in them the fire of thy love.

St. John 3. 16.

AT that time ; Jesus said unto Nicodemus : God so loved the world, that he gave his only-begotten Son : that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have evêrlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be savèd. He that believeth on him is nôt condemnèd : but he that believeth not is condemned already : because he hath not believed in the Name of the only-begottên Son of God. And this is the condemnation : that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light : because their dêeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should bê reprovèd ; but he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrôught in God. The Creed is said.

St. John 10. 1.

AT that time ; Jesus said unto the Pharisees : Verily, verily I say unto you : he that entereth not by the door into the sheep-fold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief ând a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is the shephêrd of the sheep. To him the porter openeth, and the shêep hear his voice ; and he calleth his own sheep by name, and lêadeth them out. And, when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them : and the sheep follow him, for thêy know his voice. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him : for they know not the vôiçe of strangers. This parable spake Jêsûs unto them. But they understood not what things they were which he spâke unto them. Then said Jesus unto them again : Verily, verily I say unto you, I am the dôor

By me if any man enter in, he shall be saved : and shall go in and out, ând find pasture. The thief cometh not but for to steal, and to kill, ând to destroy. IN those days : By the hands of the Apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people. And they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch. And of the rest durst no man join himself to them : but the people magnified them. And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women, insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them. There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits : and they were healed every one.

St. Luke 5. 17.

AT that time : It came to pass on a certain day, as Jesus was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judaea, and Jêrusalem ; and the power of the Lord was prêsent to heal them. And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy : and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him. And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the house-top, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst bêfore Jesus. And when he saw their faith, he said unto him : Man, thy sins are fôrgiven thee. And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying : ‡ Who is this which speaketh blâsphemies? ‡ Who can forgive sins but Gôd alone? But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them : ‡ What reason ye in your hearts? Whether is easier, to say : Thy sins be forgiven thee ; or to say : ‡ Rise ûp and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of Man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy) : I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go ûnto thine house. And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay : and departed to his own house, glorifying God. And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying : We have seen strânge things to-day. The Creed is said.

BRETHREN : Being therefore justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ : by whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also : knowing that tribulation worketh patience, and patience, experience, and experience, hope, and hope maketh not ashamed : because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost, which is given unto us.

mother was taken with â great fever ; and they besought him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever : ând it left her. And immediately she arose and ministerêd unto them. Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought thê m unto him. And he laid his hands on every one of them, ând healèd them. And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying : Thou art Christ, thê Son of God. And he, rebuking them, suffered them not to speak, for they knew thât he was Christ. And when it was day, he departed and went into â desert place ; and the people sought him, and came unto him : and stayed him, that he should not dêpart from them. And he said unto them : I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also : for therefore am I sent. And he preached in the synagögues of Galilee. The Creed is said.

AFTER this I looked, and behold, a door was opened in heaven : and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me ; which said : Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter. And immediately I was in the spirit ; and behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne : and he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone : and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald. And round about the throne were four and twenty seats ; and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment ; and they had on their heads crowns of gold : and out of the throne proceeded lightnings and thunderings and voices. And there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God. And before the throne there was a sea of glass like unto crystal ; and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four living creatures full of eyes before and behind. And the first was like a lion, and the second like a calf, and the third had a face as a man, and the fourth was like a flying eagle. And the four living creatures had each of them six wings about him ; and they were full of eyes within : and they rest not day and night, saying : Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come. And when those living creatures give glory and honour and thanks to him that sat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever, the four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying : Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power ; for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are, and were created.

GRADUAL. Dan. 3. Blessed art thou, that beholdest the depths, and sittest upon the Cherubim. ℣. Blessed art thou, O Lord, in the firmament of heaven : and above all to be praised and glorified for ever.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers : and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to John.

AT that time : There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews : the same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him : Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God : for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him : Verily, verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith unto him : ‡ How can a man be born when he is old? ‡ can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered : Verily, verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh ; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth ; so is every one that is born of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said unto him : ‡ How can these things be? Jesus answered and said unto him : Art thou a master of Israel, ‡ and knowest not these things? Verily, verily I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen, and ye receive not our witness. If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not : how shall ye believe, ‡ if I tell you of heavenly things? And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of Man, which is in heaven. And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up ; that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. The Creed is said.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians. I Cor. II. 23.

BRETHREN : I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you : that the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said : Take, eat : this is my Body, which is broken for you : this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying : This cup is the new testament in my Blood : this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death, till he come. Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself : not discerning the Lord's Body.

GRADUAL. Ps. 145. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord : and thou givest them their meat in due season. V. Thou openest thine hand : and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. St. John 6. My Flesh is meat indeed, and my Blood is drink indeed : he that eateth my Flesh and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him. (In Votive Masses here is added Alleluia.)

In Votive Masses after Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia, and verse following, is said:

TRACT. Mal. 1. From the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my Name shall be great among the Gentiles. V. And in every place incense shall be offered unto my Name, and a Pure Offering : for my Name shall be great among the heathen. V. Prov. 9. Come, eat of my bread and drink of the wine which I have mingled.

In Votive Masses, in Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. V. St. Luke 24. The Lord Jesus was made known unto his disciples in the Breaking of Bread. Alleluia. V. St. John 6. My Flesh is meat indeed, and my Blood is drink indeed : He that eateth my Flesh, and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him. Alleluia.

SEQUENCE. Lauda Sion Salvatorem.
To be omitted in Votive Masses.

LAUD, O Sion, thy Salvation, laud with Hymns of exultation Christ, thy King and Shepherd true :

Spend thyself, his honour raising, who surpasseth all thy praising ; never canst thou reach his due.

Sing to-day, the mystery shewing of the living, life-bestowing Bread from heaven before thee set ;

E'en the same of old provided, where the Twelve, divinely guided, at the holy Table met.

Full and clear ring out thy chanting, joy nor sweetest grace be wanting to thy heart and soul to-day ;

When we gather up the measure of that Supper and its treasure, keeping feast in glad array.

Lo, the new King's Table gracing, this new Passover of blessing hath fulfilled the elder rite :

Now the new the old effaceth, truth revealed the shadow chaseth, day is breaking on the night.

What he did at Supper seated, Christ ordained to be repeated, his memorial ne'er to cease :

And, his word for guidance taking, bread and wine we hallow, making thus our Sacrifice of peace.

This the truth to Christians given—bread becomes his Flesh from heaven, wine becomes his holy Blood.

Doth it pass thy comprehending? Yet by faith, thy sight transcending, wondrous things are understood.

Yea, beneath these signs are hidden glorious things to sight forbidden :
look not on the outward sign.

Wine is poured and Bread is broken, but in either sacred token Christ is here by power divine.

Whoso of this Food partaketh, rendeth not the Lord nor breaketh : Christ is whole to all that taste.

Thousands are, as one, receivers ; one, as thousands of believers, takes the Food that cannot waste.

Good and evil men are sharing one repast, a doom preparing varied as the heart of man ;

Doom of life or death awarded, as their days shall be recorded which from one beginning ran.

When the Sacrament is broken, doubt not in each severed token, hallowed by the word once spoken, resteth
all the true content :

Nought the precious Gift divideth, breaking but the sign betideth, he himself the same abideth, nothing of his fulness spent.

Lo! the Angels' Food is given to the pilgrim who hath striven ; see the children's Bread from heaven, which to dogs may not be cast ;

Truth the ancient types fulfilling ;
Isaac bound, a victim willing ;
Paschal lamb, its life-blood spilling ;
Manna sent in ages past.

O true Bread, good Shepherd, tend us, Jesu of thy love befriend us, thou refresh us, thou defend us, thine eternal goodness send us in the land of life to see ;

Thou who all things canst and know-est, who on earth such Food bestowest, grant us with thy Saints, though lowest, where the heavenly Feast thou shewest, fellow-heirs and guests to be. Amen. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to John.

St. John 6. 55.

AT that time : Jesus said unto the multitude of the Jews : My Flesh is meat indeed, and my Blood is drink indeed. He that eateth my Flesh, and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him. As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father, so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me. This is that bread which came down from heaven : not as your fathers did eat mannâ, and are dead.
He that eateth of this bread shall live for ever. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Lev. 21. The priests of the Lord do offer the offerings of the

the Name of their God. (*In Easter-

COLLECT 2. Of Oct. Corpus Christi.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed John the Apostle.

I St. John 4. 7.

BELOVED ; Let us love one another : for love is of God, and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God ; for God is love. In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only-begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. Herein is love : not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us : we ought also to love one another. No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us ; because he hath given us of his Spirit. And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world. Whosoever shall confess, that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God. And we have known, and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love : and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement : because as he is, so are we in this world. There is no fear in love : but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love. We love him, because he first loved us. If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar. For he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, ‡ how can he love God whom he hath not seen? And this commandment have we from him : that he who loveth God love his brother also.

GRADUAL. Ps. 41. I said : Lord, be merciful unto me : heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee. V. Blessed is he that considereth the poor and needy : the Lord shall deliver him in the time of trouble.

The Alleluia with its verse (as follows) is said in all Sunday Masses after Trinity, even when the Sunday Mass is resumed on a week day.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 5. Ponder my words, O Lord : consider my meditation. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Luke.

St. Luke 16. 19.

AT that time ; Jesus spake this parable unto his disciples : There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day. And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table ; moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the Angels into Abraham's bosom. The rich man also died, and was buried ; and in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. And he cried and said : Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue : for I am tormented in this flame. But Abraham said : Son, remember that thou in thy life-time receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things : but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented. And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed : so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot ; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence. Then he said : I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house : for I have five brethren ; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. Abraham saith unto him : They have Moses and the Prophets ; let them hear them. And he said : Nay, father Abraham, but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him : If they hear not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed John the Apostle. 1 St. John 3. 13.

MARVEL not, my brethren, if the world hate you. We know, that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother, abideth in death : whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer. And ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us : and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him : ‡ how dwelleth the love of Gôd in him? My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed, and in truth. * And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him. For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence toward God. And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight. And this is his commandment : That we should believe on the Name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment. And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him : and hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

AT that time ; Jesus spake unto the Pharisees this parable : A certain man made a great supper, and bade many : and sent his servant at supper-time to say to them that were bidden : Come, for all things âre now ready. And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him : I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go, and see it ; I pray thee, have mē excusèd. And another said : I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them ; I pray thee, have mē excusèd. And another said : I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. So that servant came and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry, said to his servant : Go out quickly into the streets, and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the hâlt, and the blind. And the servant said : Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yêt there is room. And the lord said unto the servant : Go out into the highways and hedges : and compel them to come in, that my house may be fillèd. For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Peter the Apostle.

1 St. Peter 5. 5.

DEARLY beloved : All of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility : for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time ; casting all your care upon him, for he careth for you. Be sober, be vigilant : because your adversary the devil as a roaring lion walketh about, seeking whom he may devour : whom resist stedfast in the faith : knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world. But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you. To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

GRADUAL. Ps. 55. O cast thy burden upon the Lord : and he shall nourish thee. V. When I cried unto the Lord, he heard my voice : from the battle that was against me.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 7. God is a righteous judge, strong and patient, and God is provoked every day. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to Luke.

St. Luke 15. 1.

AT that time : Then drew near unto Jesus all the publicans and sinners fôr to hear him. And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying : This man receiveth sinners, and êateth with them. And he spake this parable unto them, saying : What man of you having an hundred sheep : if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, ‡ until hê find it? And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shouldêrs, rejoicing ; and when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them : Rejoice with me, for I have found my shêep which was lost. I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need nô repentance. Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, ‡ and seek diligently till shê find it? And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying : Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost. Likewise, I say unto you : There is joy in the presence of the Angels of God over one sinner that repenteth. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 9. They that know thy Name will put their trust in thee : for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee : O praise the Lord, which dwelleth in Sion : for he forgetteth not the complaint of the poor.

FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

INTROIT. Dominus illuminatio mea.
Ps. 27.

THE Lord is my light, and my salvation, whom then shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life, of whom then shall I be afraid? When mine enemies came upon me, they stumbled and fell. Ps. ibid. Though an host of men were laid against me : yet shall not my heart be afraid. ✠. Glory be.

COLLECT.

O GOD, the protector of all that trust in thee, without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy : increase and multiply upon us thy mercý ; that, thou being our ruler and guide, we may so pass through things temporal, that we finally lose not the things eternal : Grant this, O heavenly Father, for the sake of Jesus Christ our Lórd. [Who.]

COLLECT 2 of the Saints; 3 ad lib.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Romans.

Rom. 8. 18.

BRETHREN : I reckon, that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory, which shall be revealed in us. For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God. For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him, who hath subjected the same in hope : because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious liberty of the children of God. For we know that the whole creation groaneth, and travaileth in pain together until now. And not only they, but ourselves also which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body : [in Christ Jesus our Lord.]

GRADUAL. Ps. 79. Be merciful unto our sins, O Lord : wherefore do the heathen say : Where is now their God? V. Help us, O God of our salvation : and for the glory of thy Name, deliver us, O Lord.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 9. Thou, O God, are set in the throne that judgest right : be thou the refuge of the opprest in due time of trouble. Alleluia.

Judge not, and ye shall nôt be judgèd ; condemn not, and ye shall not bê condemnèd ; forgive, and ye shall bê forgiven ; give, and it shall be givèn unto you ; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give intô your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured tô you again. And he spake a parable unto them, ‡ Can the blind lèad the blind? ‡ shall they not both fall intô the ditch? The disciple is not abôve his master ; but every one that is perfect shall be âs his master. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, ‡ but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Either how canst thou say to thy brother : Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, ‡ when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brôther's eye. The Creed is said.

I St. Peter 3. 8.

DEARLY beloved : Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous : not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing, but contrariwise blessing : knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing. For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips, that they speak no guile. Let him eschew evil, and do good : let him seek peace, and ensue it. For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers : but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil. And who is he that will harm you, ‡ if ye be followers of that which is good? But, and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye. And be not afraid of their terror : neither be troubled. But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts.

GRADUAL. Ps. 84. Behold, O God, our defender : and look upon thy servants. V. O Lord God of Hosts, hear the prayer of thy servants.

And he entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a littê from the land. And he sat down, and taught the people ôut of the ship. Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon : Launch out into the deep, and let down your nêts for a draught. And Simon answering said unto him : Master, we have toiled all the night, and have tâken nothing ; nevertheless, at thy word I will lêt down the net. And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, ând their net brake. And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should cômê, and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they bêgan to sink. When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying : Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord. For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken : and so was also James, and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partnêrs with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon : Fear not, from henceforth thôu shalt catch men. And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsook all, and fôllowèd him. The Creed is said.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 16. I will thank the Lord for giving me warning : I have set God always before me : for he is on my right hand, therefore I shall not fall.

BRETHREN : Know ye not that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ, † were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death : that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection. Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him ; that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin. For he that is dead, is freed from sin. Now if we be dead with Christ : we believe that we shall also live with him : knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more, death hath no more dominion over him. For in that he died, he died unto sin once : but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God. Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God : through Jesus Christ our Lord.

St. Matt. 5. 20.

AT that time : Jesus said unto his disciples : Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdôm of heaven. Ye have heard, that it was said by them of old time : Thou shalt not kill : and whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgement. But I say unto you : that whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgement. And whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca : shall be in danger of the council. But whosoever shall say, Thou fool : shall be in dangêr of hell-fire. Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee ; leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way ; first be reconciled to thy brother : and then come and offer thy gift. Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him : lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. BRETHREN : I speak after the manner of men, because of the infirmity of your flesh : for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness, and to iniquity unto iniquity : even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness. For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness. What fruit had ye then in those things, ‡ whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death. And his disciples answered him : ‡ From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness? And he asked them : ‡ How many lôaves have ye? And thêy said : Seven. And he commanded the people to sit dōwn on the ground. BRETHREN ; I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea : and were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud, and in the sea : and did all eat the same spiritual meat, and did all drink the same spiritual drink : for they drank of that spiritual rock that followed them : and that rock was Christ. But with many of them God was not well pleased : for they were overthrown in the wilderness. Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them : as it is written : The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents. Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer. Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples : and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come. Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall. There hath no temptation taken you, but such as is common to man : but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able, but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far coun-try, and there wasted his substance with riôtous living. And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land : and he began tô be in want. And he went and joined himself to a citizen ôf that country ; and he sent him into his fiêlds to feed swine. And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swîne did eat ; and no man gâve unto him. And when he came to himself, he said : How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him : Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be câllèd thy son ; make me as one of thy hîrèd servants. And he arose, and came tô his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, ând kissèd him. And the son said unto him : Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be câllèd thy son. But the father said to his servants : Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him : and put a ring on his hand, and shôes on his feet ; and bring hither the fatted câlf, and kill it ; and let us eat, and be merry : for this my son was dead, and is âlive again ; he was lôst, and is found. And they began tô be merry. Now his elder son was in the field : and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing. And he called one of the servants, and asked whât these things meant. And he said unto him : Thy brother is come : and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received hîm safe and sound. And he was angry, and wôuld not go in ; therefore came his father out, and întreated him. And he answering said to his father : Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thÿ commandment ; and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merrÿ with my friends ; but as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him thê fatted calf. BRETHREN : Concerning spiritual gifts. I would not have you ignorant, Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led. Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed. And that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost. Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord. And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God, which worketh all in all. But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal. For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom : to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit : to another faith by the same Spirit : to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit : to another the working of miracles, to another prophecy, to another discerning of spirits, to another divers kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues. But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.

BRETHREN ; I declare unto you the Gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand, by which also ye are saved : if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all, that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins, according to the Scriptures : and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the Scriptures : and that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve. After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once : of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep. After that, he was seen of James, then of all the Apostles : and last of all, he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time. For I am the least of the Apostles, that am not meet to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain. But I laboured more abundantly than they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. I fast twice in the week ; I give tithes of all that I possess. And the Publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven : but smote upon his breast, saying : God be merciful to me a sinner. BRETHREN : Such trust have we through Christ to Godward : not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves ; but our sufficiency is of God : who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament ; not of the letter, but of the spirit : for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. But if the ministration of death written and engraven in stones was glorious ; so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance, which glory was to be done away : ‡ how shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glôrious? BRETHREN : To Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not : And to seeds, as of many ; but as of one : And to thy seed, which is Christ. And this I say : that the covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the Law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect. For if the inheritance be of the Law, it is no more of promise. But God gave it to Abraham by promise. ‡ Wherefore then servêth the Law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come, to whom the promise was made, and it was ordained by Angels in the hand of a mediator.

Now a mediator is not a mediator of one : but God is one. ‡ Is the Law then against the promisês of God? God forbid. For if there had been a law given, which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the Law. But the Scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

you, that many Prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them : and to hear those things which ye hear, and hâve not heard them. And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and tempted him, saying : Master, ‡ what shall I do to inherit etêrnal life? He said unto him : ‡ What is written in the Law? ‡ how rêadest thou? And he answering said : Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind ; and thy neighbôur as thyself. And he said unto him : Thou hast ânswerèd right ; this do, ând thou shalt live. But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus : ‡ And who is mÿ neighbour?
And Jesus answering said : A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment : and wounded him, and departed, leavîng him half dead. And by chance, there came down a certâin Priest that way ; and, when he saw him, he passed by on thê other side. And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed had compassion on him, and went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine ; and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. And on the morrow, when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him : Take care of him : and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee. BRETHREN : I say then, walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit : and the Spirit against the flesh : and these are contrary the one to the other, so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. But if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not under the Law. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these : adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like ; of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past : that they who do such things, shall not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is : love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance. Against such there is no law. And they that are Christ's, have crucified the flesh, with the affections and lusts.

And when he saw them, he said unto them : Go, shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass that, as they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God, and fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks ; and he was a Samaritan. Consider the lilies of the field how they grow ; they toil not, neithêr do they spin. Yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven : shall he not much more clothe you, ‡ O ye of little faith? Be not therefore anxious,

For your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness : and all these things shall be added unto you. ✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Luke.

St. Luke 14. 1.

AT that time : It came to pass, as Jesus went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath-day, that they watchèd him. And behold, there was a certain man before him which hâd the dropsy. And Jesus answering spake unto the Lawyers, and Pharisees, saying : ‡ Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-day? And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. And he answered them, saying : Which of you shall have an ass, or an ox, fallen into a pit, ‡ and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath-day? And they could not answer him again to these things. And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief seats ; saying unto them : when thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest seat, lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him : and he that bade thee and him, come and say to thee : Give this man place ; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest place. But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place : that, when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee : Friend, go up higher ; then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee : for whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased : and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. The Creed is said.

The LESSON from the Book of Nehemiah.

IN those days : All the people gathered themselves together as one man into the street that was before the water gate : and they spake unto Ezra the scribe to bring the Book of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel. And Ezra the priest brought the Law before the congregation both of men and women, and all that could hear with understanding, upon the first day of the seventh month. And he read therein before the street that was before the water gate from the morning until midday, before the men and the women, and those that could understand : and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the Book of the Law. And Ezra the scribe stood upon a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose. And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people : for he was above all the people : and when he opened it, all the people stood up. And Ezra blessed the Lord, the great God : and all the people answered : Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands : and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the Lord with their faces to the ground.

And the Levites caused the people to understand the Law : and the people stood in their place. So they read in the book in the Law of God distinctly, and gave the sense : and caused them to understand the reading. And Nehemiah, which is the Tirshatha, and Ezra the priest the scribe, and the Levites that taught the people, said unto all the people : This day is holy unto the Lord your God, mourn not, nor weep. For all the people wept, when they heard the words of the Law. Then he said unto them : Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared : for this day is holy unto our Lord ; neither be ye sorry : for the joy of the Lord is your strength.

GRADUAL. Ps. 33. Blessed are the people, whose God is the Lord Jehovah : and blessed are the folk, that he hath chosen to him to be his inheritance. ℣. By the word of the Lord were the heavens made : and all the hosts of them by the breath of his mouth.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Mark.

St. Mark 9. 17.

AT that time : One of the multitude answered and said : Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit ; and wheresoever he taketh him, he teareth him ; and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away ; and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out, and they could not. He answereth him, and saith : O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you?

Bring him unto me. And they brought him unto him. And when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him ; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. And he asked his father : ‡ How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said : Of a child ; and oftentimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him. But if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us. Jesus said unto him : If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears : Lord, I believe : help thou mine unbelief. When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him : Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him : and enter no more into him. And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him ; and he was as one dead, inasmuch that many said : He is dead. But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up, and he arose. And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately : ‡ Why could not we cast him out? And he said unto them : This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

The LESSON from Hosea the Prophet.

THUS saith the Lord God : O Israel, return unto the Lord thy God : for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity. Take with you words, and turn to the Lord ; say unto him : Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciously : so will we render the calves of our lips. Asshur shall not save us ; we will not ride upon horses ; neither will we say any more to the work of our hands : Ye are our gods : for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy. I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely : for mine anger is turned away from him. I will be as the dew unto Israel ; he shall grow as the lily, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon. His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon. They that dwell under his shadow shall return ; they shall revive as the corn, and grow as the vine : the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon. Ephraim shall say : ‡ What have I to do any more with idols? I have heard him, and observed him ; I am like a green fir tree : from me is thy fruit found. Who is wise, ‡ and he shall understand these things? prudent, ‡ and he shall know them? For the ways of the Lord are right, and the just shall walk in them : but the transgressors shall fall therein.

St. Luke 7. 36.

AT that time : One of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment ; and stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears ; and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying : This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him ; for she is a sinner. And Jesus answering said unto him : Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith : Master, say on. There was a certain creditor which had two debtors : the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty. And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, ‡ which of them will love him most? Simon answered and said : I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him : Thou hast rightly judged. And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon : ‡ Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet ; but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head. Thou gavêst me no kiss ; but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased tô kiss my feet. My head with oil thou didst not anoint ; but this woman hath anointed my fêet with ointment. Wherefore I say unto thee : Her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for shê lovèd much. But to whom little is forgiven, the same lôveth little. And he said unto her : Thy sins âre forgiven. And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves : ‡ Who is this that forgiveth sins also? And he said to the woman : Thy faith hath saved thee : gô in peace.

The LESSON from the Book of Leviticus. Lev. 23. 26.

IN those days : The Lord spake unto Moses, saying : On the tenth day of this seventh month there shall be a day of atonement, it shall be an holy convocation unto you : and ye shall afflict your souls, and offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord. And ye shall do no work in that same day : for it is a day of atonement, to make an atonement for you before the Lord your God. For whatsoever soul it be that shall not be afflicted in that same day, he shall be cut off from among his people : and whatsoever soul it be that doeth any work in that same day, the same soul will I destroy from among his people. Ye shall do no manner of work : it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings. These are the things that ye shall do : Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour : execute the judgement of truth and peace in your gates. And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour : and love no false oath : for all these are things that I hate, saith the Lord. And the word of the Lord of hosts came unto me, saying :

Song of the Three Children, v. 26.

IN those days : The Angel of the Lord came down into the oven together with Azarias and his fellows : and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven, and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind. And the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits : and it passed through, and burned those Chaldeans it found about the furnace. And the fire touched the three not at all ; neither hurt nor troubled them. Then they, as out of one mouth, praised, glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying :

Here Thanks be to God is not said.

HYMN. Ibid.

BLESSED art thou, O Lord God of our fathers. And to be praised and magnified above all for ever.

Blessed art thou on the glorious throne of thy kingdom. And to be praised and magnified above all for ever.

Blessed art thou in the sceptre of thy Godhead. And to be praised and magnified above all for ever.

Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and dwellest between the Cherubims. And to be praised and magnified above all for ever.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews.

BRETHREN : There was a tabernacle made, the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread, which is called the sanctuary. And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all : which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant ; and over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercyseat : of which we cannot now speak particularly. Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God ; but into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people : the Holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing. Which was a figure for the time then present : in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience ; which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation. But Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building ; neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own Blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

TRACT. Ps. 117. O praise the Lord, all ye heathen : praise him, all ye nations. ℣. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more towards us : and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to Luke.

St. Luke 13. 6.

AT that time : Jesus spake also this parable unto the multitudes : A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came and sought fruit thereôn, and found none. Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard : Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none : cut it down ; ‡ why cumbereth it the ground? And he answering said unto him : Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it ; and if it bear fruit, well : and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down. And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath. And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years : and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her : Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her : and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath-day, and said unto the people : There are six days in which men ought to work ; in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath-day. The Lord then answered him, and said : Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, ‡ and lead him away to watering? And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, ‡ be loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day? And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed : and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

Then one of them, who was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying : Master, ‡ which is the great commandment in the Law? Jesus said unto him : Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and grēat commandment. And the second is like unto it ; Thou shalt love thy neighbōur as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets. While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, saying : † What think ye of Christ? † whose Son is he? They say unto him : The Son of David. He saith unto them : How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying : The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, † till I make thine enemies thy foot-stool? BRETHREN : This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk in the vanity of their mind, having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart, who, being past feeling, have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness. But ye have not so learned Christ, if so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus : that ye put off, concerning the former conversation, the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts; and be renewed in the spirit of your mind; and that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness. Wherefore, putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour : for we are members one of another. Be ye angry and sin not : let not the sun go down upon your wrath. Neither give place to the devil : let him that stole, steal no more : but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth. Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth : but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers. And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God : whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil-speaking, be put away from you, with all malice. And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

GRADUAL. Ps. 141. Let my prayer be set forth in thy sight, as the incense, O Lord. V. And let the lifting up of my hands be an evening sacrifice.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 105. O give thanks unto the Lord, and call upon his Name : tell the people what things he hath done. Alleluia.

AT that time : Jesus entered into a ship, and passed over, and came into his own city. And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed. And Jesus, seeing their faith, said unto the sick of the palsy : Son, be of good cheer, thy sins be forgiven thee. And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves : This man blasphemeth. And Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said : † Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether is easier, to say : † Thy sins be forgiven thee? or to say : † Arise, and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of Man hath power on earth to forgive sins, then saith he to the sick of the palsy : Arise, take up thy bed, and go into thine house. And he arose, and departed to his house. But when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, who had given such power unto men. The Creed is said.

AT that time : Jesus said ; The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son. And he sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding, and they would not come. Again, he sent forth other servants, saying : Tell them which are bidden : Behold, I have preparêd my dinner ; my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready ; come untô the marriage. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise ; and the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them. But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth, and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city. Then saith he to his servants : The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy. Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find bid to the marriage. So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all, as many as they found, both bad and good, and the wedding was furnished with guests. And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment. And he saith unto him : Friend, how camest thou in hither, ‡ not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. Then said the king to the servants : Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness ; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. MY brethren ; Be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood : but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness, and your feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of peace : above all taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked, and take the helmet of salvation : and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God : praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit : and watching thereunto with all perseverance, and supplication for all saints : and for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the Gospel : for which I am an ambassador in bonds, that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

The servant therefore fell down and worshipped him, saying : Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgâve him the debt. And this he said to prove him : for he himself knew what he would do. Philip answered him : Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little. One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him : There is a lad here, which hath five barley-loaves, and two small fishes : ‡ but what are they among so many? And Jesus said : Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. And Jesus took the loaves : and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples : and the disciples to them that were set down ; and likewise of the fishes, as much as they would. When they were filled, he said unto his disciples : Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost. Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley-loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten. Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said : This is of a truth that Prophet that should come into the world. The Creed is said.

THE FEAST OF THE MOST HOLY NAME OF JESUS

Double of II Class

In some places this Feast is kept on Aug. 7th, but in others on the Sunday between the Circumcision and the Epiphany, or if no Sunday occur on any of these days (i.e., Jan. 2nd, 3rd, 4th, or 5th), on Jan. 2nd, and a Commem. is made of the occurrent Octave Day or Vigil.

INTROIT. In Nomine Jesu. Phil. 2.

AT the Name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth : and every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. Ps. 8. O Lord our Governour, how excellent is thy Name in all the world. ℟. Glory be.

COLLECT.

O GOD, who didst ordain that thine only-begotten Son should be the Saviour of the world, and didst command that his Name should be called Jesus : mercifully grant, that we who worship his holy Name on earth, may at length behold him face to face in heaven. Where he liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of . . .

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts 4. 8.

IN those days : Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them : Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel : if we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole, be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel : that by the Name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole. This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner : neither is there salvation in any other. For there is none other Name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved.

GRADUAL. Ps. 106. Deliver us, O Lord our God, and gather us from among the heathen : that we may give thanks unto thy holy Name, and make our boast of thy praise. V. Is. 63. Thou, O Lord, art our Father, our Redeemer : thy Name is from everlasting.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 145. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord, and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy Name for ever and ever. Alleluia.

In Votive Masses, after Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia, and verse following, is said:

TRACT. Ps. 80 and Cant. 2. Turn us again, O Lord God of Hosts : shew the light of thy countenance, and we shall be whole : let me hear thy voice. For sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely. V. Cant. 1. Thy Name, O Jesu, is as ointment poured forth : therefore do the virgins love thee.

In Votive Masses, in Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 145. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord, and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy Name for ever and ever. Alleluia. V. ibid. I will magnify thee, O God my king : and I will praise thy Name, O Jesu, for ever and ever. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Luke.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Colossians.

Col. 3. 12.

BRETHREN : Put on as the elect of God, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering ; forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any ; even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye. And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness. And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body ; and be ye thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord. And whatsoever ye do, in word or deed, do all in the Name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

COLLECT. For the Feast only.

OUR GOD, in whose passion the sword of grief did pierce the gentle soul of the glorious Virgin Mary, thy Mother, that so might be fulfilled the word of thy Prôphet Simeon : mercifully grant that we who here do call to mind the suffering whereby she was piercêd ; may by the glorious merits and prayers of all the Saints who have faithfully stood beneath the Cross, be fulfilled with the blessed fruits of thy passion. Who livest and reignest with the Father.

Commemoration of the Feria.

COLLECT. For Votive Masses.

O LORD JESU CHRIST, we pray thee that thy Mother, the Blessed Virgin Mary, whose sacred soul was in the hour of thy passion pierced by a swôrd of sorrow : may both now and in the hour of our death stand before thee to obtain for us the succour of thy mercy. Who livest and reignest with the Father.

The LESSON from the Book of Judith. Judith 13. 17.

THE Lord hath blessed thee by his power, because by thee he hath brought to nought the enemies of thy people. O daughter, blessed art thou of the most high God, above all the women upon the earth. And blessed be the Lord God which hath created the heavens and the earth : because he hath so magnified thy name this day, that this thy confidence shall not depart from the heart of men, which remember the power of God for ever, for whom thou hast not spared thy life for the affliction of our nation, but hast revenged our ruin, walking a straight way before our God.

Except on Sept. 15th and in Votive Masses:

GRADUAL. Mournful and weeping art thou, O Virgin Mary ; who standest by the Cross of the Lord Jesus thy Son, the Redeemer. ℣. Virgin Mother of God, the whole world cannot contain him ; yet made man the Author of our life endures the torment of the Cross.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. There stood by the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ holy Mary, Queen of Heaven and Lady of the World, mournful and weeping, alleluia. ℣. Lam. 1. All ye that pass by, behold and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow. Alleluia.

SEQUENCE. Stabat Mater dolorosa.
To be omitted in Votive Masses.

By the Cross her station keeping, stood the mournful Mother weeping, where he hung, her dying Lord.

For her soul, of joy bereaved, torn with anguish, deeply grieved, felt the sharp and piercing Sword.

O how sad and sore distressed then was she, that Mother blessed of the sole-begotten One.

Deep the woe of her affliction when she saw the Crucifixion of her ever-glorious Son.

Who, on Christ's dear Mother gazing, torn by anguish so amazing, born of woman, would not weep?

Who, on Christ's dear Mother thinking, such a cup of sorrow drinking, would not share her sorrow deep?

For his people's sins chastised, she her Jesus saw despised, torn with nails, with thorns entwined.

Saw her Son from judgement taken and in death by all forsaken till his spirit he resigned.

Mother, fount of all devotion, stir in me thy grief's emotion, let my tears be joined with thine.

Let my heart be always burning, still for love of Jesus yearning, let his will be found in mine.

True repentance, Mother, win me ;
 print my Saviour's wounds within me,
 brand them on my stubborn heart.

As he bought, through tribulation, in his Passion, my salvation, let me bear therein my part.

Let me mourn with thee beside him for the sins which crucified him, while my life remains in me ;

Take beneath the Cross my station, and in all thy desolation so unite myself with thee.

Virgin, great beyond all other, turn not from me, gentle Mother, let me too bewail thy Son ;

Let my soul, his death declaring, his unsparing Passion sharing, count his bruises one by one.

Let the Five Wounds penetrate me :
 may the Cross inebriate me and thy Son's most precious Blood ;

Lest I burn in hell's damnation, Virgin, be my consolation at the judgement-seat of God.

Jesu, when earth's troubles leave me, through my Mother's prayers receive me to the crown of victory ;

When my body lies forsaken, may my soul by him be taken into heaven's high company. Amen.

 GOSPEL according to John.

 loved, he saith unto his Mother :

The LESSON from the Book of Genesis.

JOSEPH is a fruitful bough, even a fruitful bough by a well : whose branches run over the wall. The archers have sorely grieved him, and shot at him, and hated him. But his bow abode in strength, and the arms of his hands were made strong by the hands of the mighty God of jacob :

from thence is the Shepherd, the stone of Israel. Even by the God of thy father, who shall help thee, and by the Almighty, who shall bless thee with blessings of heaven above, blessings of the deep that lieth under, blessings of the breasts and of the womb. The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Ephesians. Ephes. 3. 8.

BRETHREN : Unto me who am less than the least of all saints is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ : to the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the Church the manifold wisdom of God, according to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord, in whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him. For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named, that he would grant you according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man, that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith : that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth and length and depth and height : and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God.

Then came the soldiers and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs ; but one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water. And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true ; and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe. The Lesson from the EPISTLE of Blessed Paul the Apostle to the Colossians. Col. 1. 12.

BRETHREN : We give thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light : who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son : in whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins : who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of every creature. For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers : all things were created by him and for him : and he is before all things, and by him all things consist. And he is the head of the body, the Church : who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead ; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence. For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell : and, having made peace through the blood of his Cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself ; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

The LESSON from the Book of Deuteronomy.
Deut. 10. 17.

IN those days ; Moses spake unto Israel, saying : The LORD your God is God of gods, and Lord of lords, a great God, a mighty, and a terrible, which regardeth not persons, nor taketh reward : he doth execute the judgement of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment. Love ye therefore the stranger : for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt. Thou shalt fear the LORD thy God ; him shalt thou serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, and swear by his name. He is thy praise, and he is thy God, that hath done for thee these great and terrible things, which thine eyes have seen.

But I say unto you, Love your enemies : bless them that curse you : do good to them that hate you : and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you : that ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven. For he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. For if ye love them which love you, ‡ what reward have ye? ‡ do not even the publicans the same? And if ye salute your brethren only, ‡ what do ye more than others? ‡ do not even the publicans so? Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed James the Apostle.

St. James 1. 16.

DO not err, my beloved brethren. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath : for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls. But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass : for he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was. But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed. If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

Is not the life more than food, † and the body than raiment? Behold the fowls of the air : for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns ; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. † Are ye not much better than they? † Which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto the measure of his life? † And why are ye anxious for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow ; they toil not, neither do they spin ; and yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, † O ye of little faith? Therefore be not anxious, saying, † What shall we eat? or, † What shall we drink? or, † Wherewithal shall we be clothed? (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek ; ) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness : and all these things shall be added unto you. Be not therefore anxious for the morrow : for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. The Creed is said.

IN those days the word of the Lord came unto Ezekiel, saying : I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land : and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing ; and I will cause the shower to come down in his season ; there shall be showers of blessing. And the tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them. And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beast of the land devour them ; but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid. And I will raise up for them a plant of renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more. Thus shall they know that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord GOD. And ye my flock, the

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts 13. 44.

THE next sabbath day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God. But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming. Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you : but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth. And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord : and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

St. Luke 4. 16.

AT that time : Jesus came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up : and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read. And there was delivered unto him the book of the Prophêt Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written, The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the Gospêl to the poor ; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable yêar of the Lord. And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the ministêr, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastênèd on him. And he began to say unto them, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears.

THE blessing of the Lord was upon the head of the righteous. Therefore the Lord gave him an heritage ; and divided his portion among the twelve tribes. And he found favour in the sight of all flesh. And the Lord magnified him so that his enemies stood in fear of him. By his words he caused the wonders to cease : he made him glorious in the sight of kings, and gave him a commandment for his people, and shewed him his glory. He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness, and chose him out of all men. He gave him commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge, and exalted him. Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them : ‡ Whât seek ye? They said unto him : Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master), ‡ where dwellest thou? He saith unto them : Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day : for it was about the tenth hour. He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him : We have found the Messias, which is, being interpreted, the Christ. And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said : Thou art Simon the sôn of Jona ; thou shalt be called Cephas, which is, by interprêtation, A stone. The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him : Follow me. Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andréw and Peter. And Nathanael said unto him : ‡ Can there any good thing come out of Nâzareth? Philip saith unto him : Come and see. Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him :

Jesus answered and said unto him : Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig trêe, I saw thee. BRETHREN : If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness : and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For the Scripture saith : Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed. For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek : for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. For whosoever shall call upon the Name of the Lord shall be saved. How then shall they call on him, ‡ in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in him, ‡ of whom they have not heard? ‡ And how shall they hear without a preacher? And how shall they preach, ‡ except they be sent? As it is written : How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the Gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things! But they have not all obeyed the Gospel. For Esaias saith : Lord, ‡ who hath believed our report? So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God. But I say : ‡ Have they not heard? Yes verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world. But I say : ‡ Did not Israël know? First Moses saith : I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you. But Esaias is very bold, and saith : I was found of them that sought me not ; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me. But to Israel he saith : All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

Through the same.

Commemoration of the Feria.

The LESSON from the Book of Proverbs.

Prov. 8. 22.

THE Lord possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old. I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was. When there were no depths, I was brought forth : when there were no fountains abounding with water : before the mountains were settled, before the hills was I brought forth : while as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the highest part of the dust of the world. When he prepared the heavens, I was there : when he set a compass upon the face of the depth : when he established the clouds above, when he strengthened the fountains of the deep : when he gave to the sea his decree, that the waters should not pass his commandment : when he appointed the foundations of the earth. Then I was by him, as one brought up with him : and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him : rejoicing in the habitable part of his earth ; and my delights were with the sons of men. Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children : for blessed are they that keep my ways. Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not. Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors. For whoso findeth me findeth life, and shall obtain favour of the Lord.

GRADUAL. Judith 13. 18. Blessed art thou, O Virgin Mary, of the most high God, above all the women upon the earth. V. Ibid. 15. 9. Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel : thou art the great rejoicing of our nation.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Cant. 4. Thou art all fair, O Mary : and there is no spot of sin in thee. Alleluia.

In Votive Masses, after Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia, and verse following, is said:

TRACT. Ps. 87. Her foundations are upon the holy hills : the Lord loveth the gates of Sion more than all the dwellings of Jacob. V. Ibid. Glorious things of thee are spoken, thou city of God. V. Ibid. He was born in her, and the Most High shall stablish her.

In Eastertide the Gradual is omitted, and in its place is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel : thou art the great rejoicing of our nation. Alleluia. V. Thou art all fair, O Mary, and there is no spot of sin in thee. Alleluia.

For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry. Now the just shall live by faith : but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him. St. John 20. 24. P

AT that time : Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him : We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them : Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe. And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thômas with them. Then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said : Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas : Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands ; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side ; and be not faithless, but believing. And Thomas answered and said unto him : My Lôrde, and my God. Jesus saith unto him : Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed ; blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed. And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book. But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God ; and that believing ye might have life through his Name. The Creed is said.

Who livest and reignest with the Father.

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts 9. 1.

IN those days : [And] Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, and desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues : that, if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem. And, as he journeyed, he came near Damascus : and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven. And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him : Saul, Saul, ‡ why persecutêst thou me? And he said : ‡ Who ârt thou, Lord? And the Lord said : I am Jesus whom thou persecutest : it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks. And he, trembling and astonished, said : Lord, ‡ what wilt thou have mê to do? And the Lord said unto him : Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do. And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man. And Saul arose from the earth, and when his eyes were opened he saw no man. But they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus. And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink. And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias : and to him said the Lord in a vision : Ananias. And he said : Behold, I am here, Lord. And the Lord said unto him : Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight : and enquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul, of Tarsus : for behold, he prayeth, and hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias, coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight. Then Ananias answered : Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem : and here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy Name. But the Lord said unto him : Go thy way ; for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my Name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel. For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my Name's sake. And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house ; and, putting his hands on him, said : Brother Saul, the Lord, (even Jesus that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest,) hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales : and he received sight forthwith : and arose, and was baptized. And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus. And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God. But all that heard him were amazed, and said : Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this Name in Jerusalem : and came hither for that intent, ‡ that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests? But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

DEARLY beloved : Whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother : for this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. ‡ And wherefore slêw he him? because his own works were evil : and his brother's righteous. Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you. We know that we have passed from death unto life because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death : whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer. And ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. ## THE PRESENTATION OF CHRIST IN THE TEMPLE or the Purification of the B.V.M.

Double of II Class

§ If this Feast shall fall on Septuagesima, Sexagesima, or Quinquagesima Sunday, then shall there only be the Blessing and Distribution of Candles and the Procession: and the Mass of the Feast shall be transferred to the next day following, unless any great Feast fall thereon. If the Feast be transferred, Mass is said of the Day, and lighted candles are not held.

§ The Office being said, the Priest, wearing a violet Cope, or without a Chasuble (the Ministers being vested in like manner), shall go to bless the candles, which shall be set in the middle before the Altar, or at the Epistle corner, and, his hands being joined, shall say in the ferial tone:

℣. The Lord be with you. ℟. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

OLORD holy, Father almighty, everlasting God, who hast made all things out of nothing, and hast appointed that the labours of bees should be formed into wax by thine ordinance : who didst likewise as on this day fulfil the prayers of thy righteous servant Simeon : we humbly beseech thee ; that thou wouldest vouchsafe, by the power of thy holy Name, and at the intercession of blessed Mary Ever-Virgin, whose festival we this day devoutly celebrate, and of all thy Saints, to bless and sanctify these candles for the use of men, and for their protection both in body and soul in all perils of land or sea : hear, O Lord, we humbly pray thee, from thy holy heaven and from the throne of thy glory the voice of this thy people, that seeketh to bear them forth to thy glory and to sing thy praises : and we humbly beseech thee that thou wouldest have mercy on all them that call upon thee, whom thou hast redeemed with the precious Blood of thy dear Son. Who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. R. Amen.

Let us pray.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who as on this day didst suffer thy only-begotten Son to be presented in the temple and to be received in the arms of Saint Simeon : we humbly beseech thy mercy ; that like as we thy servants, taking these candles do seek to light them and bear them to the glory of thy Name, so thou wouldest vouchsafe to bless and sanctify the same : that we being made worthy of offering them unto thee, our Lord and our God, and being enkindled with the holy flame of thy most gracious charity, may be found meet to be presented before thee in the temple of thy glory. Through the same.

Let us pray.

O LORD JESU CHRIST, who art the true light that lightenest every man that cometh into the world : we beseech thee to pour out thy blessing upon these candles, and sanctify them with the light of thy grace ; and mercifully grant, that even as they with their outward flame do scatter the darkness of night ; so our hearts being inflamed with the inward brightness of thy Holy Spirit may be delivered from all blindness of iniquity : that the eyes of our souls being enlightened may discern such things as are pleasing unto thee and profitable unto us for our salvation ; that finally after the darkness and dangers of this world we may attain in the end to light everlasting. Through thee, O blessed Jesu, Redeemer of the world, who in the unity of the blessed Trinity livest and reignest God, world without end. R. Amen.

Let us pray.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who by the mouth of Moses thy servant didst command the children of Israel to bring pure olive oil for the lamps to burn always before thy face : we beseech thee to pour the blessing of thy grace on these candles ; that like as they shed forth on us their outward beams, so of thy bounteous goodness the light of thy Holy Spirit may never fail to enlighten us inwardly in our souls. Through . . . in the unity of the same.

Let us pray.

O LORD JESU CHRIST, who as on this day appearing among men in the substance of our flesh wast presented by thy parents in the temple : whom Simeon in his old age, being enlightened by the light of thy Spirit, knew and blessed, taking thee in his arms : mercifully grant ; that we, being enlightened and instructed by the grace of the same Spirit, may know thee truly in our minds and love thee faithfully with all our hearts. Who livest and reignest with the Father in the unity of the same.

§ The prayers being ended, the Celebrant shall set incense in the censer; then shall he sprinkle the candles thrice with holy water, saying the Antiphon Thou shalt purge me, but without singing and not saying the Psalm: and he shall cense them thrice. Then shall the first of the Priests that are present approach the Altar, and from him shall the Celebrant take his candle, neither genuflecting nor kissing his hand. And afterwards the Celebrant standing in the midst afore the Altar, turning to the People, delivers the candles first to the first of the Priests from whom he received the candle himself, and then to the Deacon and Subdeacon in their vestments; and thereafter to the Priests and Deacons, if any be present, according to their order; and finally to the People; all genuflecting and kissing the candle and the hand of the Celebrant, excepting the Bishops if any be present. And when he beginneth to deliver the candles, the Choir shall sing:

Antiphon. St. Luke 2. To be a light to lighten the Gentiles : and to be the glory of thy people Israel.

Cant. ibid. Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word.

Then shall be repeated the whole Antiphon: To be a light, which shall be repeated in like manner after each verse.

For mine eyes have seen thy salvation. Ant. To be a light.

Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people. Ant. To be a light.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost. Ant. To be a light.

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen. Ant. To be a light.

This being done shall be sung this Antiphon: Ps. 44. O Lord, arise, help us : and deliver us for thy Name's sake.

Ps. ibid. O God, we have heard with our ears : our fathers have declared unto us. V. Glory be.

Then shall be repeated the Antiphon O Lord, arise.

Then shall the Priest say: Let us pray.

§ And if it be on any day after Septuagesima, not being a Sunday, the Deacon shall say:

Let us bow the knee. R. Arise.

COLLECT.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, mercifully to hear the prayers of thy people : that this observance, whereby we do thee outward honour year by year, may by the light of thy grace bring forth fruit inwardly in our souls. Through Christ our Lord. R. Amen.

§ Here followeth the Procession. And first the Celebrant shall set incense in the censer: and thereafter the Deacon turning about to the people shall say: Let us go forth in peace. And the Choir shall answer: In the Name of Christ. Amen.

And the Thurifer shall go first with smoking censer: and after him the Sub-deacon vested and bearing the Cross in the midst between two Acolytes with lighted torches: then shall follow the Clergy after their order; and last the Celebrant with the Deacon on his left, all bearing lighted candles in their hands: and the Antiphons following shall be sung.

Ant. O Sion, adorn thy bride-chamber, and receive Christ thy King: greet Mary who is the gate of heaven: for she beareth the King of the glory of the new light: she remaineth a Virgin, yet beareth in her arms a Son begotten before the morning star: whom Simeon took in his arms declaring to all nations that he is Lord of life and death, and Saviour of the world.

Another Ant. St. Luke 2. It was revealed unto Simeon by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death before he had seen the Lord's Christ: and when they brought the child into the temple, then took he him up in his arms and blessed God and said: Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace.

℣. When his parents brought in the Child Jesus to do for him according to the custom of the law, then took he him up in his arms.

And as they enter the Church shall be sung:

℣. They offered for him unto the Lord a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons: * As it is written in the law of the Lord.

℣. When the days of Mary's purification according to the Law of Moses were accomplished, they brought Jesus to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord. As it is written in the law of the Lord.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost. As it is written in the law of the Lord.

§ The Procession being ended, the Celebrant and Ministers, laying aside their violet vestments, shall put on white for the Mass. And all shall hold lighted candles in their hands while the Gospel is read and from the Consecration to the Communion. But if the Mass be of the Sunday, the candles shall not be lighted.

§ Today no Votive Mass of Christ our Lord, even for an important matter of public intention, may be said.

AT THE MASS

INTROIT. Suscepimus. Ps. 48.

WE have waited, O God, for thy loving-kindness in the midst of thy temple: according to thy Name, O God, so is thy praise unto the world's end: thy right hand is full of righteousness. Ps. ibid. Great is the Lord and highly to be praised: in the city of our God, even upon his holy hill.
℣. Glory be.

COLLECT.

ALMIGHTY and everliving God, we humbly beseech thy Majesty: that, as thy only-begotten Son was this day presented in the temple in substance of our flesh; so we may be presented unto thee with pure and clean hearts, by the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. [Who.]

The LESSON from Malachi the Prophet.

THUS saith the Lord God: Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple ; even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in. Behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts : ‡ but who may abide the day of his coming? ‡ and who shall stand when he appear-eth? For he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap : and he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver : that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness. Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the Lord, as in the days of old, and as in former years : and I will come near to you to judgement, and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false-swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me : saith the Lord of hosts.

GRADUAL. Ps. 48. We have waited, O God, for thy loving-kindness in the midst of thy temple : according to thy Name, O Lord, so is thy praise unto the world's end. V. Like as we have heard so have we seen in the city of our God, even upon his holy hill.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. The old man bare the young Child in his arms : yet was the young Child the old man's King. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Luke.

St. Luke 2. 22. P

AT that time : [And] When the days of Mary's purification, according to the Law of Moses, were accomplished, they brought Jesus to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord, as it is written in the law of the Lord : Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord ; and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, a pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons. And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon ; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Ghost was upon him. And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ. And he came by the Spirit into the temple. And when the parents brought in the Child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law, then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said : Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word : For mine eyes have seen thy salvation : Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people : A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel. And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spôken of him. And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother : Behold, this Child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israël ; and for a sign which shall be spoken against, yea, a sword shall pierce through thine own soul also, that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed. And there was one Anna a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser ; she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity. And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day. And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jérusalem. And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee to their own city Nazareth. And the Child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, fillèd with wisdom ; and the grace of God was upon him. The Creed is said.

AT that time : The Pharisees came unto Jesus, tempting him, and saying : ‡ Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause? And he answered and said unto them : Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female, and said : For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife : ‡ and they twain shall be one flesh? Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. They say unto him : Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, ‡ and to put her away? He saith unto them : Moses suffered you to put away your wives : but from the beginning it was not so. And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery ; and whoso marieth her which is put away doth commit adultery. His disciples say unto him : If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry. But he said unto them : All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given. For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb ; and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men ; and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts i. 15.

IN those days ; Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said : (the number of the names together were about an hundred and twenty): Men and brethren, this Scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, which was guide to them that took Jesus : for he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry. Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity, and falling headlong he burst asunder in the midst : and all his bowels gushed out. And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem, insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood. For it is written in the book of Psalms : Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein : and, His bishoprick let another take. Wherefore, of these men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection. And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. And they prayed, and said : Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen ; that he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place. And they gave forth their lots ; and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven Apostles.

GRADUAL. Ps. 139. Right dear are thy friends, O God, and held in highest honour : their rule and governance is exceeding stedfast. V. If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand of the sea.

TRACT. Ps. 21. Thou hast given him his heart's desire : and hast not denied him the request of his lips. V. For thou shalt prevent him with the blessings of goodness. V. And shalt set a crown of pure gold upon his head.

AT that time ; Jesus answered and said ; I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father : for so it seemed good in thy sight. All things are delivered unto me of my Father. And no man knoweth the Son, but the Father ; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me, for I am meek and lowly in heart ; and ye shall find rest unto your souls. The LESSON from the Book of Wisdom. Wis. 7. 7.

WHEREFORE I prayed, and understanding was given me : I called upon God and the spirit of wisdom came to me : I preferred her before sceptres and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison of her. Neither compared I unto her any precious stone : because all gold in respect of her is as a little sand, and silver shall be counted as clay before her. I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her instead of light : for the light that cometh from her never goeth out. All good things together came to me with her, and innumerable riches in her hands, and I rejoiced in them all : because wisdom goeth before them, and I knew not that she was mother of them. I learned diligently, and do communicate her liberally ; I do not hide her riches. For she is a treasure unto men that never faileth : which they that use become the friends of God, being commended for the gifts that come from learning.

The LESSON from Daniel the Prophet.

Dan. 9. 21.

IN those days : Behold the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation. And he informed me, and talked with me, and said : O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee skill and understanding. At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment came forth : and I am come to shew thee, for thou art greatly beloved : therefore understand the matter, and consider the vision. Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy. Know therefore and understand : That from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the Messiah the Prince shall be seven weeks ; the street shall be built again, and the wall, even in troublous times. And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off ; but not for himself. And the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary : and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Luke.

St. Luke 1. 26. P

AT that time : The Angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee named Nazareth, to a Virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David, and the Virgin's name was Mary. And the Angel came in unto her, and said : Hail, thou that art highly favoured : the Lord is with thee ; blessed art thou among women. And when she saw him she was troubled at his saying : and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. And the Angel said unto her : Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favour with God ; and behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a Son, and shalt call his Name JESUS. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest : and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David : and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever, and of his kingdom there shall be no end. Then said Mary unto the Angel : How shall this be, † seeing I know not a man? And the Angel answered and said unto her : The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee. Therefore also that Holy Thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God. And behold, thy Cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age ; and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren : for with God nothing shall be impossible. And Mary said : Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word. The Creed is said.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

1 Cor. 1. 18.

BRETHREN : The preaching of the Cross is to them that perish foolishness ; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God. For it is written : I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. ‡ Where is the wise? ‡ where is the scribe? ‡ where is the disputer of this world? ‡ hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God ; it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom : but we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness : but unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men ; and the weakness of God is stronger than men. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. 1 Cor. 3. The wisdom of this world is foolishness with God, for it is written : The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain. Alleluia. V. Phil. 3.

Yea, doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus, my Lord. Alleluia.

Through the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. [Who.]

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed James the Apostle.

St. James. I. I.

JAMES, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting. My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations : knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing. If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not ; and it shall be given him. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering : for he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed. For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord. A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways. Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted : but the rich, in that he is made low : because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away. For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass : and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth : so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways. Blessed is the man that endureth temptation : for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life : which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Ps. 89. O Lord, the very heavens shall praise thy wondrous works : and thy truth in the congregation of the Saints. Alleluia. ℣. St. John 14. Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? He that hath seen me hath seen my Father also. Alleluia.

St. John 14. I. P

AT that time : [And] Jesus said unto his disciples ; Let not your heart be troubled. Ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions. If it were not so, I would have told you ; I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you : I will come again, and receive you unto myself, that where I am, there ye may be also. And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know. Thomas saith unto him : Lord, we know not whither thou goest ; ‡ and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him : I am the way, and the truth, and the life ; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also ; and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him. Philip saith unto him : Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. Jesus saith unto him : Have I been so long time with you, ‡ and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father. And how sayest thou then : ‡ Shew us the Father? Believest thou not that I am in the Father, ‡ and the Father in me? The words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself. But the Father, that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me. Or else believe me for the very works' sake. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also, and greater works than these shall he do : because I go unto my Father. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my Name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If ye shall ask any thing in my Name, I will do it. The Creed is said.

2 Cor. 4. 5.

BRETHREN : We preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord ; and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake : for God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. But we have this treasure in earthen vessels : that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us. We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed : we are perplexed, but not in despair : persecuted, but not forsaken : cast down, but not destroyed : always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body. For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake : that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh. So then death worketh in us, but life in you. We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written : I believed, and therefore have I spoken : we also believe, and therefore speak : knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

BRETHREN : We were bold in our God to speak unto you the Gospel of God with much contention. For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile, but as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the Gospel : even so we speak, not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts. For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know ; nor a cloak of covetousness : God is witness ; nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others ; when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ : but we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children. So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the Gospel of God only, but also our own souls ; because ye were dear unto us. For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail : for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the Gospel of God.

The LESSON from the Book of Ecclesiasticus.
Eccus. 44. I.

LET us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us. The Lord hath wrought great glory by them through his great power from the beginning. Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, men renowned for their power, giving counsel by their understanding, and declaring prophecies : leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their knowledge of learning meet for the people, wise and eloquent in their instructions : such as found out musical tunes, and recited verses in writing : rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations. All these were honoured in their generations, and were the glory of their times. There be of them, that have left a name behind them, that their praises might be reported. And some there be, which have no memorial ; who are perished, as though they had never been ; and are become as though they had never been born ; and their children after them. But these were merciful men, whose righteousness hath not been forgotten. With their seed shall continually remain a good inheritance : and their children are within the covenant. Their seed standeth fast, and their children for their sakes. Their seed shall remain for ever, and their glory shall not be blotted out. Their bodies are buried in peace ; but their name liveth for evermore. The people will tell of their wisdom, and the congregation will shew forth their praise.

GRADUAL. I St. Peter 4. Rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy. V. If ye be reproached for the Name of Christ, happy are ye : for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you.

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts 11. 22.

IN those days : Tidings of these things came unto the ears of the Church which was in Jerusalem : and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go as far as Antioch. Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad : and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord. For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost, and of faith. And much people was added unto the Lord. Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul : and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the Church, and taught much people : and the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch. And in these days came prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch. And there stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world : which came to pass in the days of Claudius Caesar. Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judaea. Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

IN those days : The word of the Lord came unto me, saying : Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee : and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee, and I ordained thee a Prophet unto the nations. Then said I : Ah, Lord God : behold, I cannot speak, for I am a child. But the Lord said unto me : Say not : I am a child : for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee : and whatsoever I command thee, thou shalt speak. Be not afraid of their faces : for I am with thee, to deliver thee, saith the Lord. Then the Lord put forth his hand and touched my mouth : and the Lord said unto me : Behold I have put my words in thy mouth : see, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, and to build, and to plant : saith the Lord Almighty.

✠ The Beginning of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Luke.

St. Luke 1. 5.

THERE was in the days of Herod, the king of Judaea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia : and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years. And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord. And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense. And there appeared unto him an Angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him. But the Angel said unto him : Fear not, Zacharias, for thy prayer is heard ; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness : and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink ; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God. And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just : to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

COMFORT ye, comfort ye my people : saith your God. Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned : for she hath received of the Lord's hand double for all her sins. The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness : Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a high-way for our God. Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low : and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain. And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together : for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. The voice said : Cry. And he said : ‡ What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodness thereof is as the flower of the field. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the Spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it : surely the people is grass. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth : but the word of our God shall stand for ever. O Zion, that bringest good tidings : get thee up into the high mountain. O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings : lift up thy voice with strength, lift it up, be not afraid. Say unto the cities of Judah : Behold your God. Behold the Lord God will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him : behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him. ELISABETH's full time came that she should be delivered, and she brought forth a son. And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her : and they rejoiced with her. And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child : and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. And his mother answered and said : Not so, but he shall be called John. And they said unto her : There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called : and he asked for a writing-table, and wrote, saying : His name is John. And they marvelled all. And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed : and he spake, and praised God. And fear came on all that dwelt round about them : and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill-country of Judaea. And all they that had heard them laid them up in their hearts, saying : ‡ What manner of child shall this be? And the hand of the Lord was with him. And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying : Blessed be the Lord God of Israel : for he hath visited and redeemed his people.

2 Tim. 3. 14.

DEARLY beloved : Continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of : knowing of whom thou hast learned them, and that from a child thou hast known the holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness : that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works. I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom : preach the word, be instant in season, out of season : reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears, and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables. But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry.

IN those days : Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour. And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried : whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple. Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms. And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said : Look on us. And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them. Then Peter said : Silver and gold have I none ; but such as I have give I thee : In the Name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up, and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked : and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God. And all the people saw him walking and praising God. And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple : and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

THE HOLY APOSTLES PETER AND PAUL

Double of I Class with common Octave

INTROIT. Nunc scio. Acts 12.

NOW I know of a surety that the Lord hath sent his Angel : and hath delivered me from the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. Ps. 139. O Lord, thou hast searched me out and known me : thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising. V. Glory be.

[NOTE, That the bracketed words in the following Collect were proposed by Bishop Cosin in order to bring the Prayer-Book Proper into accordance with the tradition that this Feast is to be kept in honour of both the holy Apostles Peter and Paul, and must be omitted where this Feast is kept in honour of Saint Peter alone.]

COLLECT.

OMNIPOTENT GOD, who by thy Son Jesus Christ didst give to thy Apostle Saint Peter many excellent gifts, and commandedst him earnestly to feed thy flock ; [and madest thy Apostle Saint Paul a chosen vessel to bear thy name amongst the Gentiles:] make, we beseech thee, all Bishops and Pastors diligently to preach thy holy Wôrd ; and the people obediently to follow the same, that they may receive the crown of everlasting glory. Through the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lôrd. [Who.]

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts 12. 1.

ABOUT that time ; Herod the king stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the Church. And he killed James the brother of John with the sword. And, because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. Then were the days of unleavened bread. And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him : intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people. Peter therefore was kept in prison. But prayer was made without ceasing of the Church unto God for him. And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains : and the keepers before the door kept the prison. And behold, the Angel of the Lord came upon him : and a light shined in the prison : and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying : Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. And the Angel said unto him : Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him : Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. And he went out and followed him, and wist not that it was true which was done by the Angel : but thought he saw a vision. When they were past the first and second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city : which opened to them of his own accord. And they went out, and passed on through one street : and forthwith the Angel departed from him. And when Peter was come to himself, he said : Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

AT that time : When Jesus came into the coasts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying : Whom do men say that I, ‡ the Son of Man, am? And they said : Some say that thou art John the Baptist, some Elias, and others Jeremias, or one of the Prophets. He saith unto them : ‡ But whom say ye that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said : Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered, and said unto him : Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona, for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee : That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Galatians.

Gal. 1. 11.

BRETHREN : But I certify you that the Gospel which was preached of me is not after man : for I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ. For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion : how that beyond measure I persecuted the Church of God, and wasted it : and profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers. But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace, to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen : immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood : neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were Apostles before me : but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus. Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days : but other of the Apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother. Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.

GRADUAL. Gal. 2. He that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the Circumcision, the same was also mighty in me toward the Gentiles : and they perceived the grace that was given unto me. Ÿ. 1 Cor. 15. The grace of God which was bestowed upon me was not in vain : but his grace ever abideth in me.

For they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in the synagogues ; and ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles. But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak : for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you. And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child ; and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my Name's sake ; but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. The Creed is said.

BRETHREN : Christ being come an High Priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building : neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own Blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh : how much more shall the Blood of Christ, who, through the eternal Spirit, offered himself without spot to God, ‡ purge your consciences from dead works to serve the living God? The Jews therefore, because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the Cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was an high day,) besought Pilate, that their legs might be broken, and that they might be tâken away. Then came the soldiers : and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucifièd with him. The LESSON from the Song of Solomon. Cant. 2. 8.

BEHOLD he cometh, leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills : my beloved is like a roe or a young hart. Behold he standeth behind our wall, he looketh forth at the windows, shewing himself through the lattice. My beloved spake and said unto me : Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away. For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone. The flowers appear on the earth, the time of the singing of birds is come : and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land : the fig tree putteth forth her green figs : and the vines with the tender grape give forth good smell. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away : O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice : for sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.

MERCIFUL FATHER, give us grace that we never presume to sin through the example of any creature : but if it shall chance us at any time to offend thy divine majesty, that then we may truly repent, and lament the same, after the example of Mary Magdalene ; and by lively faith obtain remission of all our sins. Through the only merits of thy Son our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

The LESSON from the Song of Solomon.
Cant. 3 & 8.

I WILL rise now, and go about the city in the streets : and in the broad ways I will seek him whom my soul loveth : I sought him, but I found him not. The watchmen that go about the city found me. To whom I said : † Saw ye him whom my soul loveth? It was but a little that I passed from them, but I found him whom my soul loveth : I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me. I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please. Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm : for love is strong as death : jealousy is cruel as the grave : the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame. Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it : if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned.

GRADUAL. Ecclus. 51. Thou savedst me from destruction, and deliveredst me from the evil time. ℟. Therefore will I give thanks, and praise thee, and bless thy Name, O Lord.

In Votive Masses after Septuagesima [and on the Feast of St. Margaret of Cortona], the Tract is said in place of the following:

Alleluia, alleluia. ℟. Ps. 45. In thy comeliness and in thy beauty go forth, ride prosperously, and reign. Alleluia.

After Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia, and verse following, is said:

TRACT. Cant. 2. Lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone. ℟. The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle-dove is heard in our land. ℟. Jer. 31. Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love ; therefore with loving-kindness have I drawn thee.

In Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. ℟. Thou savedst me from destruction, and deliveredst me from the evil time. Alleluia.

 V. Therefore will I give thanks, and praise thee and bless thy Name, O Lord. Alleluia.

St. Luke 7. 36. P

AT that time : One of the Pharisees desired him that he wôuld eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sât down to meat.
 And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster bôx of ointment ; and stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying : This man, if he were a Prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him : for she is a sinner. And Jesus answering said unto him : Simon, I have somewhat to sây unto thee. And he saith : Mâster, say on. There was a certain creditor which had two debtors : the one owed five hundred pence, and the ôther fifty. And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly fôr-gave them both.
 Tell me therefore, ‡ which of them will lôve him most? Simon answered hê forgave most. And he said unto him : Thou hast rightly judgèd. And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon : ‡ Seest thou thîs woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no watêr for my feet ; but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hâirs of her head. Thou gavêst me no kiss ; but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased tô kiss my feet. My head with oil thou didst not anoint ; but this woman hath anointed my fêet with ointment. Wherefore I say unto thee :

 Her sins, which are many, âre forgiven ; for shê lovèd much. But to whom little is forgiven, the same lôveth little. And he said unto her : Thy sins âre forgiven. And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves : ‡ Who is this that for-woman : Thy faith hath savèd thee :

And there stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit, that there should be great dearth throughout all the world : which came to pass in the days of Claudius Caesar. Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judaea. Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul. Now about that time Herod the king stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the Church. And he saith unto them ; Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with ; but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared ôf my Father. And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against thê two brethren. But Jesus called them unto him, and said : Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them. But it shall not be sô among you ; but whosoever will be great among you, let him be yôur minister ; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him bê your servant ; even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a rân-som for many. The Creed is said.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Peter the Apostle.

2 St. Peter 1. 13.

DEARLY beloved : I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance ; knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me. Moreover I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance. For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of his majesty. For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory : This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount.

AT that time : [And] It came to pass about an eight days after these sayings, Jesus took Peter and John and James and went up into a mōuntain to pray. And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering. And, behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias : who appeared in glory, and spake of his decease which he should accomplish at Jêrusalem. But Peter and they that were with him were hêavy with sleep ; and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men thât stood with him. And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus : Master, it is good for ûs to be here ; and let us make three tabernacles : one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias : not knowing what he said. While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshâdowèd them ; and they feared as they entered into the cloud. And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying : This is my belovêd Son : hear him. And when the voice was past, Jesus wâs found alone. And they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which thêy had seen. The Creed is said.

BRETHREN : He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly : and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give, not grudgingly, or of necessity : for God loveth a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound toward you, that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work, as it is written : He hath dispersed abroad, he hath given to the poor : his righteousness remaineth for ever. WITH all these I sought rest, ‡ and in whose inheritance shall I abide? So the Creator of all things gave me a commandment : and he that made me caused my tabernacle to rest, and said : Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel. He created me from the beginning before the world, and I shall never fail. In the holy tabernacle I served before him : and so was I established in Sion. Likewise in the beloved city he gave me rest, and in Jerusalem was my power. And I took root in an honourable people, even in the portion of the Lord's inheritance. I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypress tree upon the mountains of Hermon. I was exalted like a palm tree in Engaddi, and as a rose plant in Jericho. The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts 5. 12.

IN those days : By the hands of the Apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people : and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch. And of the rest durst no man join himself to them : but the people magnified them. And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women. Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets : and laid them on beds and couches ; that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them. There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits : and they were healed every one.

For John had said unto Herod : It is not lawful for thee to have thÿ brother's wife. Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him ; bût she could not. For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and an holy : and observed him, and when he heard him, he did many things, and hêard him gladly. And when a convenient day was come, that Herod, on his birthday, made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates ôf Galilee ; and when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him : the king said unto the damsel : Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. And he sware unto her : Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half ôf my kingdom. And she went forth, and said unto her mother : ‡ What shâll I ask? And she said : The head of Jôhn the Baptist. And she came in straight-way with haste unto the king, and asked, saying : I will that thou give me by and by in a charger the head of Jôhn the Baptist. And the king was exceeding sorry : yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would nôt reject her ; and immediately the king sent an executioner, and commanded his hêad to be brought. And he went and beheaded him in the prison, and brought his head in a charger : and gave it to the damsel : and the damsel gave it tô her mother. OVERLASTING GOD, who hast ordained and constituted the services of Angels and men in a wondrous order : mercifully grant that as thy holy Angels always do thee service in heavên, so by thy appointment they may succour and defend us on earth. Through.

The LESSON from the Book of the Revelation of blessed John the Apostle.

Rev. 12. 7.

IN those days : There was war in heaven ; Michael and his Angels fought against the dragon ; and the dragon fought and his angels, and prevailed not ; neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world : he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him. And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven : Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ : for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night. And they overcame him by the Blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony ; and they loved not their lives unto the death. Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabitors of the earth and of the sea : for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

GRADUAL. Ps. 103. O praise the Lord, ye Angels of his, ye that excel in strength : ye that fulfil his commandment. V. O praise the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, praise his holy Name.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Holy Michael Archangel, defend us in the day of battle : that we perish not in the dreadful judgement. Alleluia.

In Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said Alleluia as above, to which is added:

V. The sea was moved, and the earth trembled, when the Archangel Michael descended from heaven. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

St. Matt. 18. 1. P

AT the same time ; Came the disciples unto Jesus, saying : ‡ Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, and said : Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whoso shall receive one such little child in my Name receiveth me. * But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. Woe unto the world because of offences. For it must needs be that offences come ; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh. Wherefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee ; it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into everlasting fire. And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee ; it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire. Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones ; for I say unto you, That in heaven their Angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven. The Creed is said.

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts 17. 22.

IN those days : Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill, and said : Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription : TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you. God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands ; neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things : and hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation, that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us. For in him we live, and move, and have our being : as certain also of your own poets have said : For we are also his offspring. Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device. And the times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men every where to repent, because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained, whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead. And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked, and others said : We will hear thee again of this matter. So Paul departed from among them. Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed : among the which was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to Timothy.

2 Tim. 4. 5.

DEARLY beloved : Watch thou in all things : endure afflictions, do the work of an Evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry. For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day : and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing. Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me : for Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thessalonica ; Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia. Only Luke is with me. Take Mark and bring him with thee : for he is profitable to me for the ministry. And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus. The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee ; and the books, but especially the parchments. Alexander the copper-smith did me much evil : the Lord reward him according to his works. Of whom be thou ware also, for he hath greatly withstood our words.

Go your ways : behold, I send you forth as lâmbes among wolves. Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes : and salute no mân by the way. And

The LESSON from the Book of Tobit.
Tobit. 12.

IN those days : The Angel Raphael said to Tobias : It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but it is honourable to reveal the works of God. Do that which is good, and no evil shall touch you. Prayer is good with fasting and alms and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold. For alms doth deliver from death, and shall purge away all sin. Those that exercise alms and righteousness shall be filled with life. But they that sin are enemies to their own life. Surely I will keep close nothing from you. For I said, It was good to keep close the secret of a king, but that it was honourable to reveal the works of God. Now therefore, when thou didst pray, and Sara thy daughter-in-law, I did bring the remembrance of your prayers before the Holy One : and when thou didst bury the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me : but I was with thee. And now God hath sent me to heal thee and Sara thy daughter-in-law. I am Raphael, one of the seven holy Angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and which go in and out before the glory of the Holy One.

GRADUAL. Tobit 8. Vulgate. Then the Angel Raphael took the devil, and bound him in the desert of upper Egypt. ℟. Ps. 147. Great is our Lord and great is his power.

And he came : and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne. And when he had taken the book, the four living creatures, and the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of Saints : and they sung a new song, saying : Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof : for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation, and hast made us unto our God kings and priests :

and we shall reign on the earth. And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many Angels round about the throne and the living creatures, and the elders : and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands, saying with a loud voice : Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing, for ever and ever. And they that were vexed with unclean spirits : and they were healed. And the whole multitude sought to touch him : for there went virtue out of him, and healed them all. And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said : Blessed be ye poor : for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are ye that hunger now : for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now : for ye shall laugh. Blessed are ye when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall re-

Through.

Rev. 7. 2.

IN those days ; Behold, I, John, was in the Spirit : And I saw another Angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God : and he cried with a loud voice to the four Angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth, and the sea, saying : Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads. And I heard the number of them which were sealed ; and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand, of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

After this I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and peoples, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands ; and cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb. And all the Angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four living creatures, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, saying, Amen : Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

And one of the elders answered, saying unto me : ‡ What are these which are arrayed in white robes? ‡ and whence came they? And I said unto him : Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me : These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple : and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more ; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters : and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness : for they shall be filled. Blessed are the merciful : for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake : for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. BRETHREN : Be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an ensample. For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the Cross of Christ : whose end is destruction : whose god is their belly : and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things. For our conversation is in heaven : from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself. Therefore, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown : so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved. I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord. Eccclus. 44. 22.

THE blessing of the Lord was upon the head of the righteous. Therefore the Lord gave him an heritage ; and divided his portion among the twelve tribes. And he found favour in the sight of all flesh. And the Lord magnified him so that his enemies stood in fear of him. By his words he caused the wonders to cease : he made him glorious in the sight of kings, and gave him a commandment for his people, and shewed him his glory. He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness, and chose him out of all men. He gave him commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge, and exalted him. But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust and enticed. Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin : and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death. Do not err, my beloved brethren. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness neither shadow of turning. THE Lord guided the righteous in right paths, shewed him the kingdom of God, and gave him knowledge of holy things : made him rich in his travels, and multiplied the fruit of his labours. In the covetousness of such as oppressed him he stood by him, and made him rich. He defended him from his enemies, and kept him safe from those that lay in wait, and in a sore conflict he gave him the victory ; that he might know that godliness is stronger than all. When the righteous was sold, wisdom forsook him not, but delivered him from sin : she went down with him into the pit, and left him not in bonds, till she brought him the sceptre of the kingdom, and power against those that oppressed him : as

St. James 1. 2.

DEARLY beloved : Count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations ; knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. But let patience have her perfect work : that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing. If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not ; and it shall be given him. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed. For let not that man think that he shall receive anything of the Lord. A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways. Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted : but the rich in that he is made low : because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away. For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth : so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways. Blessed is the man that endureth temptation : for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

DEARLY beloved : Rejoice inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings : that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy. If ye be reproached for the name of Christ happy are ye ; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you : on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified. But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters. Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed : but let him glorify God on this behalf. For the time is come that judgement must begin at the house of God : and if it first begin at us, ‡ what shall the end be of them that obey not the Gospêl of God? And if the righteous scarcely be saved, ‡ where shall the ungodly and the sinnêr appear? Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

[3] ✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to John.

St. John 12. 24.

AT that time : Jesus said unto his disciples : Verily, verily I say unto you, except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone ; but if it die, it bringêth forth much fruit. He that loveth his life shall lose it ; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. If any man serve me, let him follow me ; and where I am, there shall also my servant be. If any man serve me him will my Fâther honour.

[MASS 6.] FOR SEVERAL MARTYRS

INTROIT. Intret in conspectu. Ps. 79.

LET the sorrowful sighing of the prisoners come before thee, O Lord : reward thou our neighbours sevenfold into their bosom : let the vengeance of thy servants' blood that is shed be openly shewed upon the heathen. Ps. ibid. O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance, thy holy temple have they defiled : and made Jerusalem an heap of stones. V. Glory be.

COLLECT.

PROTECT us, O Lord, wê beseech thee : who observe the feast of blessed N. and N., thy holy Martyrs and Bishôps ; and grant that by their meritorious supplication we may ever find favour in thy sight. Through.

If they were not Bishops the Collect is said as in the Mass following.

The LESSON from the Book of Wisdom.

THE souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them. In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die : and their departure is taken for misery : and their going from us to be utter destruction : but they are in peace. For though they be punished in the sight of men, yet is their hope full of immortality. And having been a little chastised, they shall be greatly rewarded : for God proved them, and found them worthy for himself. As gold in the furnace hath he tried them, and received them as a burnt offering. And in the time of their visitation they shall shine, and run to and fro like sparks among the stubble. They shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people, and their Lord shall reign for ever.

GRADUAL. Exod. 15. The Lord is glorious in holiness : fearful in praises, doing wonders. V. Thy right hand, O Lord, is become glorious in power : thy right hand, O Lord, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ecclus. 44. The bodies of the Saints are buried in peace : but their name liveth for evermore. Alleluia.

After Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia, and verse following, is said:

TRACT. Ps. 126. They that sow in tears, shall reap in joy. V. He that now goeth on his way weeping, and beareth forth good seed. V. He shall doubtless come again with joy, and bring his sheaves with him.

But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers fôr my Name's sake. And it shall turn to you for a têtstimony. Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what yê shall answer ; for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsây nor resist. The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews.

Heb. 10. 32.

BRETHREN : Call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions ; partly, whilst ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions ; and partly, whilst ye became companions of them that were so used. For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance. Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward. For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise. For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry. Now the just shall live by faith.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

St. Matt. 24. 3.

AT that time : As Jesus sat upon the Mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying : Tell us, ‡ when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, ‡ and of the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them : Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my Name, saying : I am Christ ; and shall deceive many. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars ; see that ye be not troubled : for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom ; and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places. All these are the beginning of sorrows. * Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you ; And ye shall be hated of all nations for my Name's sake. And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another. And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many. And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

[1] The LESSON from the Book of Wisdom.
Wisd. 10. 17.

GOD rendered to the righteous a reward of their labours, guided them in a marvellous way, and was unto them for a cover by day, and a light of stars in the night-season ; brought them through the Red sea, and led them through much water : but he drowned their enemies, and cast them up out of the bottom of the deep. Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly, and praised thy holy Name, O Lord, and magnified with one accord thine hand, that fought for them, O Lord our God.

[2] The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Romans.
Romans 5. 1.

BRETHREN : Being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ : by whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also : knowing that tribulation worketh patience ; and patience experience ; and experience hope : and hope maketh not ashamed ; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.

[3] The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Romans.
Romans 8. 18.

BRETHREN : I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God. For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope : because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God. For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.

2 Cor. 6. 4.

BRETHREN : Let us in all things approve ourselves as the ministers of God in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses, in stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings ; by pureness, by knowledge, by longsuffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned, by the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left, by honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report : as deceivers and yet true : as unknown and yet well known : as dying, and, behold, we live : as chastened and not killed : as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing : as poor, yet making many rich : as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

[5] The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews.

Heb. II. 33.

BRETHREN : Through faith the Saints subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens. Women received their dead raised to life again : and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance ; that they might obtain a better resurrection : and others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment : they were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword : they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins ; being destitute, afflicted, tormented ; (of whom the world was not worthy :) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth. And these all obtained a good report through faith in Jesus Christ our Lord.

IN those days : One of the elders answered and said unto me : ‡ What are these which are arrayed in white robes? ‡ and whence came they? And I said unto him : Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me : These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple : and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more ; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters : and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

AT that time : Jesus, seeing the multitudes, went up into a mountain ; and when he was set, his disciples came unto him, and he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying : Blessed are the poor in spirit : for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they that mourn : for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek : for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness : for they shall be filled. Blessed are the merciful : for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart : for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers : for they shall be called the children of God. Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake : for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad : for great is your reward in heaven.

AT that time : Jesus answered and said : I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father : for so it seemed good in thy sight. All things are delivered unto me of my Father ; and no man knoweth the Son but the Father ; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me : for I am meek and lowly in heart : and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

St. Luke 11. 47.

AT that time : Jesus said unto the scribes and Pharisees : Woe unto you! For ye build the sepulchres of the Prophets, and your fathers killed them. Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers ; for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres. Therefore also said the wisdom of God : I will send them Prophets and Apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute : that the blood of all the Prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation ; from the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple ; verily I say unto you : It shall be required of this generation.

AT that time : Jesus said unto his disciples : He that heareth you heareth me ; and he that despiseth you despiseth me ; and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me. And the seventy returned again with joy, saying : Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy Name. And he said unto them : I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy ; and nothing shall by any means hurt you. Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you ; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven.

St. Luke 12. 1.

AT that time : Jesus said unto his disciples : Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. For there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed ; neither hid that shall not be known. Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light : and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops. And I say unto you my friends : Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear : Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to câst into hell ; yea, I say untô you : Fear him. Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, † and not one of them is forgotten bêfore God? But even the very hairs of your head are âll numberèd. Fear not therefore : ye are of more value than mâny sparrows. Also I say unto you : Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of Man also confess before the Angels of God.

If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is witherèd ; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burnèd. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be dōne unto you. Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit ; so shall ye be my disciples. As the Father has loved me, so have I lovèd you ; continue ye in my love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love ; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love. These things have I spoken unto you that my joy might remain in you, and that your jōy might be full.

[1] The LESSON from the Book of the Revelation of blessed John the Apostle. Rev. 19. 1.

IN those days : After these things I, John, heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying : Alleluia : Salvation and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God : for true and righteous are his judgements : for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand. And again they said : Alleluia ; and her smoke rose up for ever and ever. And the four-and-twenty elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying : Amen ; Alleluia. And a voice came out of the throne, saying : Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great. And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying : Alleluia : for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him : for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready. And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white : for the fine linen is the righteousness of Saints. And he saith unto me : Write : Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb.

Ecclus. 44. 16.

BEHOLD a great priest who in his days pleased the Lord and was found righteous : and in the time of wrath he was taken in exchange for the world. There was none like unto him to keep the law of the Most High. Therefore by an oath the Lord assured him that he would increase him among his people. He established with him the blessing of all men and the covenant, and made it rest upon his head. He acknowledged him in his blessing : and preserved for him his mercy : so that he found favour in the sight of the Lord. He magnified him in the sight of kings : and gave unto him a crown of glory. An everlasting covenant he made with him and gave him a great priesthood and blessed him with glory, that he should execute the office of the priesthood and have honour in his name and offer unto him incense and a sweet savour.

AT that time : Jesus spake this parable unto his disciples : A certain man travelling into a far country called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one ; to every man according to his several ability ; and straightway took his journey. Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents. And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two. But he that had received one went and digged in the earth and hid his lord's money. After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them. And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying : Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents ; behold, I have gained beside them five talents more. His lord said unto him : Well done, thou good and faithful servant ; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things ; enter thou into the joy of thy lord. He also that had received two talents came and said : Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents ; behold, I have gained two other talents beside them. His lord said unto him : Well done, good and faithful servant ; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things ; enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

Heb. 5. 1.

BRETHREN : Every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins : who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way ; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity. And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

BRETHREN : Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God : whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation. Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever. Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace ; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein. We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle. For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp. Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate. Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing his reproach. For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come. By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name. But to do good and to communicate forget not : for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves : for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account.

Therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light ; but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness. Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee be not darkness. Watch ye therefore : for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning ; lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine ; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears ; and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables. But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an Evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry. For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. AT that time : Jesus spake this parable unto his disciples : A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them : Occupy till I come. But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying : We will not have this man to rêign over us. And it came to pass, that when he was returned having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gainèd by trading. Then came the first, saying : Lord, thy pound hath gainèd ten pounds. And he said unto him : Well, thou good servant ; because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority oûer ten cities. And the second came, saying : Lord, thy pound hath gainèd five pounds. And he said likewise to him : Be thou also oûer five cities. And another came, saying : Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin ; for I feared thee, because thou art an austere man ; thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thôu didst not sow. And he saith unto him : Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow ; wherefore then gavest thou not my money into the bank, ‡ that at my coming I might have required mine own with ûsury? And he said unto them that stood by : Take from him the pound, and give it to him thât hath ten pounds. And they said unto him : Lord, hê hath ten pounds. For I say unto you : That unto every one that hath shâll be given ; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken awây from him.

HE was beloved of God and men, whose memorial is blessed. The Lord made him like to the glorious Saints, and magnified him, so that his enemies stood in fear of him. By his words he caused the wonders to cease :

he made him glorious in the sight of kings, and gave him a commandment for his people, and shewed him his glory. He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness, and chose him out of all men. He made him to hear his voice, and brought him into the dark cloud, and gave him commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge.

 for thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserved my body from deslanderous tongue, and from the lips that forge lies, and hast been mine choking of fire on every side, and from the midst of the fire which I kindled not ; from the depth of the and from lying words. By an accusain their vessels with their lamps.

 While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept. And at midthe bridegroom cometh ; go ye out to meet him. Then all those virgins

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls ; who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind ; which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away. So shall it be at the end of the world ; the Angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire ; there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. And he answered and said unto them : Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female, and said : For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife : ‡ and they twain shall be one flesh? Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. They say unto him : Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, ‡ and to put her away? He saith unto them : Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives ; but from the beginning it was not so. And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery ; and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery. His disciples say unto him : If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry. But he said unto them : All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given. For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb ; and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men ; and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

1 Cor. 7. 25.

BRETHREN : Concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord : yet I give my judgement, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful. I suppose therefore that this is good for the present distress, I say, that it is good for a man so to be. ‡ Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. ‡ Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife. But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you. But this I say, brethren, the time is short; it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none; and they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not; and they that use this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world passeth away. But I would have you without carefulness. He that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord: but he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife. There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: in Jesus Christ our Lord.

The LESSON from the Book of Proverbs.

Proverbs 31. 10.

WHO ‡ can find a virtuôus woman? for her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life. She seeketh wool, and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands. She is like the merchants' ships ; she bringeth her food from afar. She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household, and a portion to her maidens. She considereth a field, and buyeth it : with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard. She girdeth her loins with strength, and strengtheneth her arms. She perceiveth that her merchandise is good : her candle goeth not out by night. She layeth her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaff. She stretcheth out her hand to the poor ; yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy. She is not afraid of the snow for her household : for all her household are clothed with scarlet. She maketh herself coverings of tapestry ; her clothing is silk and purple. Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land. She maketh fine linen, and selleth it : and delivereth girdles unto the merchant. Strength and honour are her clothing ; and she shall rejoice in time to come. She openeth her mouth with wisdom ; and in her tongue is the law of kindness. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. Her children arise up, and call her blessed ; her husband also, and he praiseth her. Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all. Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain : but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised. Give her of the fruit of her hands ; and let her own works praise her in the gates.

GRADUAL. Ps. 45. Full of grace are thy lips : because God hath blessed thee for ever. V. Because of the word of truth, and meekness, and righteousness : and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

St. Matt. 13. 44.

AT that time : Jesus spake this parable unto his disciples : The kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field ; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls ; who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind ; which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away. So shall it be at the end of the world ; the Angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just, and shall cast them into the fûrnace of fire ; there shall be wailing and gnâshing of teeth. Jesus saith unto them : ‡ Have ye understood âll these things? They say untô him : Yea, Lord. Then said he unto them : Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

Another Epistle, for a widow.

[1] The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to Timothy.

1 Tim. 5. 3.

DEARLY beloved : Honour widows that are widows indeed. But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to show piety at home, and to requite their parents : for that is good and acceptable before God. Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day. But she that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth. And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless. But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel. Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man, well reported of for good works ; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

St. Matt. 21. 12.

AT that time : Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves, and said unto them : It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer ; but ye have made it a den of thieves. And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple and he healed them. And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David ; they were sore displeased, and said unto him : ‡ Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them : Yea ; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise. The Creed is said.

[In religious houses and other places where the Divine Office is said in its entirety, it should be noted that the Feast of Dedication uses the following Gospel.]

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Luke.

St. Luke 19. 1.

AT that time : Jesus entered and passed through Jericho. And, behold, there was a man named Zacchaeus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich. And he sought to see Jesus who he was ; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature. And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him : for he was to pass that way. And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him : Zacchaeus, make haste, and come down ; for to-day I must abide at thy house. And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully. And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying : That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner. And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord : Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor ; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. And Jesus said unto him : This day is salvation come to this house, forsomuch as he also is a son of Abraham. For the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost. The Creed is said.

IN those days : I, John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying : Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes ; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain : for the former things are passed away. And he that sat upon the throne said : Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write : for these words are true and faithful.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accòrding to John.

THE Lord possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old. I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever

When there were no depths, I was brought forth : when there were no fountains abounding with water : before the mountains were settled : before the hills was I brought forth : while as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the highest part of the dust of the world. When he prepared the heavens, I was there : when he set a compass upon the face of the depth : when he established the clouds above : when he strengthened the fountains of the deep : when he gave to the sea his decree, that the waters should not pass his commandment : when he appointed the foundations of the earth. Then I was by him, as one brought up with him : and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him : rejoicing in the habitable part of his earth : and my delights were with the sons of men. Now, therefore, hearken unto me, O ye children : for blessed are they that keep my ways. Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not. Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors. For whoso findeth me findeth life, and shall obtain favour of the Lord.

Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lôrd is with thee ; blessed art thou âmong women. And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. And the Angel said unto her : Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found fâvour with God. And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a Son, and shalt call his Name JESUS.* He shall be great and shall be called the Son ôf the Highest ; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his fâther David. And he shall reign over the house of Jacôb for ever ; and of his kingdom there shâll be no end. Then said Mary unto the Angel : How shall this be, ‡ seeing I know nôt a man? And the Angel answered and said unto her : The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall ovêrshadow thee. Therefore also that Holy Thing which shall be born of thee shall be called thê Son of God. And behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age ; and this is the sixth month with her who was câllèd barren : for with God nothing shall be impossible. # THE VOTIVE MASSES

I

Votive Masses which may be said in Choir in place of the Conventual Mass

[Since the Divine Office and the Mass together constitute the liturgy for the day, and so are interdependent, the Mass should as far as possible agree with the Kalendar either of the Celebrant's own Office (whether this be the daily Prayer-Book Office or the Breviary) or of the place where the Mass is said. (Thus, except in Mass specially arranged for the Celebrant's own devotion, the Chaplain of a Convent follows the Kalendar of the Sisters for whom he is saying Mass; or a Priest celebrating in a Church other than his own, the Kalendar of the place.) In general, therefore, the Mass should follow the Kalendar of the place, and Commemorations should be made of each and every Occurrence celebrated in the Office of the day.

But certain exceptions to the foregoing are obvious, such as those stated in the Rubrics concerning Seasonal Prayers and the following directions concerning Votive Masses (i.e., Masses not in agreement with the Kalendar). However, even in the case of Votives, due regard must be paid to the liturgy of the day. The Kalendar does not always permit them, and when it does, unless the Votive be privileged, the 2nd Prayer is the principal Prayer of the Mass of the day; and Commemorations of Occurrences, if there be any, displace the Seasonal Prayers.

Privileged Votives are of two sorts: (a) A Solemn Mass (or at least a sung Mass) for an important matter of public intention which is treated almost as if it were the Mass of a I Class Double. (In such a Mass the ordinary Feria is not commemorated but only important Occurrences, and not even these if in the same place the Mass of the day be sung.) (b) A Votive concerning which its own Rubrics or ecclesiastical authority gives some special privilege. (Cf. Votive Mass [9])

Since Votive Masses are ordinarily of the simple rite (even the Mass of our Lady on Saturday), when a Votive Mass is sung, the ferial tone is used unless it be a Solemn Votive for an important matter of public intention, or unless it be a Votive to which has been granted the privilege of the festal tone. Therefore, the pointings of the Prayers should be disregarded except on those rare occasions when the Votive Mass is solemn or privileged.]

§ One of the following Votive Masses, as assigned to the various days of the week, may be said in Choir in place of the Conventual Mass, when the Office is of the Feria (except the Ferias of Advent, Lent, Embertide, Rogationtide, and Vigils), provided that in accordance with the Rubrics the Mass of an impeded preceding Sunday has not to be said, nor the Conventual Mass for the Dead.

Collect 2 will be of the Feria, and the third is added from the Seasonal Prayers, in accordance with the Rubrics.

§ Apart from the Conventual Mass on any free day, the Votive Masses, whether those assigned to the various days of the week, or the remaining Votive Masses set forth for various circumstances, may be said on any day allowed by the Rubrics. Also Votive Masses may be said of the Conception of the B.V.M., the Seven Sorrows of our Lady, as well as of all the canonized Saints in the Martyrology, the Mass being taken from the Proper or Common of Saints. (If they be not in the Kalendar, the Mass is said from the Common, at the Priest's discretion.) But the Masses on the day of the Election and Coronation of the Chief Bishop, and on the Anniversaries of such days, as also on the Election and Consecration of a Bishop, cannot be said as private Masses, but a Commemoration is made of them.

NOTE, That in Eastertide is added Alleluia in these Votive Masses after the fashion indicated in parentheses.

NOTE ALSO, That if at any time or in any place a Votive Mass become a privileged Votive, or if it be said for an important matter of public intention, it shall follow the rules set forth in books dealing with such matters (e.g., as to the Preface with solemn or ferial Chant, the Gloria in excelsis, the Sequence, etc.).

[1.] A Mass for Monday.

OF THE MOST HOLY TRINITY

Mass Benedicta sit, as on Trinity Sunday, omitting the Gloria in excelsis but retaining the Preface (in Eastertide

TRACT. With our whole heart we confess thee, we praise and bless thee, O God the Father unbegotten, O only-begotten Son, O Holy Ghost the Comforter, holy and undivided Trinity. V. He that loveth me not keepeth nôt my sayings. And the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Fathêr's which sent me. These things have I spoken unto you, being yet prêsent with you. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my Name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you : not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. Ye have heard how I said unto you : I go away, and come agâin unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said : I go unto the Father : for my Father is grêater than I. And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, yê might believe. Hereafter I will not talk much with you : for the Prince of this world cometh, and hath nôthing in me. But that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father gave me commândment, even so I do.

On the 1st Thursday of the month the Gloria in excelsis is said.

COLLECT.

GOD, by whose providence thy only-begotten Son was made a High Priest forever, that in him thy majesty might be glorified, and all men might find salvation : mercifully grant that so many as he hath called to be ministers and stewards of his mysteries ; may ever be found faithful in their vocation and ministry. Through the same.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews.

BRETHREN : Every high priest taken from among men, is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins : who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way, for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity. And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God as was Aaron. So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an High Priest but he that said unto him : Thou art my Son ; today have I begotten thee. As he saith also in another place : Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec. Who in the days of his flesh when he had offered up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears, unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared ; though he was the Son of God, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered. And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him ; called of God, an High Priest after the order of Melchisedec. Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

GRADUAL. Luke 4. The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor. ℣. He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Heb. 7. But Jesus, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable Priesthood. Alleluia.

After Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia, and verse following, is said:

TRACT. Ps. 10. Arise, O Lord God, and lift up thine hand : forget not the poor. ℣. Surely, thou hast seen it : for thou beholdest ungodliness and wrong. ℣. The poor committeth himself unto thee : for thou art the helper of the friendless.

In Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Heb. 7. But Jesus, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable Priesthood. Alleluia. ℣. Luke 4. The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me, to preach the Gospel to the poor : he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to Luke.

St. Luke 22. 14.

AT that time : Jesus sat down, and the twelve Apôstles with him. And he said unto them : With desire I have desired to eat this Passover with you, before I suffer. For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said : Take this, and divide it among yourselves. For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying : This is my Body, which is given for you : this do in remembrance of me. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying : This cup is the new testament in my Blood, which is shed for you.

OFFERTORY. Heb. 10. Christ, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, for ever, sat down on the right hand of God ; for by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified (alleluia).

SECRET.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, that as thou hast given thy Son Christ Jesus to be our only Mediator and Advocate : so for his sake thou wouldst make of these our offerings an oblation acceptable in thy sight, and of our souls and bodies a living sacrifice, well-pleasing unto thee ; in union with him, the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

PREFACE of the Holy Cross.

COMMUNION. 1 Cor. II. 24. This is my Body, which is broken for you : this cup is the new testament in my Blood : this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me (alleluia).

POSTCOMMUNION.

O LORD GOD ALMIGHTY, whose only Son hath made satisfaction for the sins of the whole world : quicken us, we beseech thee, by this our oblation and communion of his Body and Blood ; that we may become one with him in the charity which never faileth, and thereby bring forth the fruit which abideth for ever. Through the same.

[10.] A Mass for Friday.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Philippians.
Phil. 2. 8.

BRETHREN : Christ became obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a Name which is above every name : (here genuflect) that at the Name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth ; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

After Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia and verse following, is said:

TRACT. We adore thee, O Christ, and we bless thee : because by thy Cross thou hast redeemed the world. V. We adore thy Cross, O Lord, we commemorate thy glorious Passion : have mercy upon us, thou who didst suffer for us. V. O blessed Cross, which alone wast counted worthy to sustain the King of heaven and its Lord.

In Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 96. Tell it out among the heathen : that the Lord hath reigned from the Tree. Alleluia. V. Sweetest wood, sweetest iron, that bare so sweet a burthen : which alone was counted worthy to sustain the King of heaven and its Lord. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

St. Matt. 20. 17.

AT that time : Jesus took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them : Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes ; and they shall condemn him to death ; and shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him ; and the third day he shall rise again.

SECRET.

GRANT, we beseech thee, O Lord, that like as thy Son did offer himself upon the altar of the Cross to take away the sins of the whole world : so this our oblation may cleanse us from all our iniquities. Through the same.

POSTCOMMUNION.

ASSIST us mercifullŷ, O Lord our God : that, like as thou dost vouchsafe unto us to delight in honouring thy holy Crōss, so we may be defended by the perpetual succour of the same. Through.

[II.] Another Mass for Friday.

OF THE PASSION OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST

THE Lord Jesus Christ humbled himself unto death, even the death of the Cross : wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a Name which is above every name (alleluia, alleluia). Ps. 89. My song shall be alway of the loving-kindness of the Lord : from one generation to another. ✠. Glory be.

COLLECT.

OUR LORD JESU CHRIST, who from the bosom of the Father in heaven didst come down to earth, and shed thy precious Blood for the remission of all our sins : we humbly beseech thee ; that in the day of judgement we may be found worthy to stand at thy right hand and hear thy voice : Come, ye blessed ones. Who livest and reignest with the same God the Father in the unity.

The LESSON from Zechariah the Prophet. Zeck. 12. 10.

THUS saith the Lord : I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the spirit of grace and of supplications : and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. In that day there shall be a great mourning in Jerusalem, and one shall say unto him : ‡ What are these wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer : Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends. Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts : smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered : saith the Lord Almighty.

GRADUAL. Ps. 69. Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heaviness : I looked for some to have pity on me, but there was no man, neither found I any to comfort me. V. They gave me gall to eat, and when I was thirsty, they gave me vinegar to drink.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Hail, gracious King : who alone didst pity our transgressions : obedient to thy Father, thou wast led to be crucified, even as a meek lamb to the slaughter. Alleluia.

After Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia and verse following, is said:

TRACT. Isa. 53. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows. V. Yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. V. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities. V. The chastisement of our peace was upon him : and with his stripes we are healed.

In Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Hail, gracious King : who alone didst pity our transgressions : obedient to thy Father, thou wast led to be crucified, even as a meek lamb to the slaughter. Alleluia. V. To thee be glory, hosanna : to thee triumph and victory : to thee the crown of highest praise and honour. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to John.

St. John 19. 28.

AT that time : Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, saith : I thirst. Now there was set a vessel full ôf vinegar. And they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth. When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said : It is finished. And he bowed his head and gâve up the ghost. The Jews therefore, because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the Cross on the sabbath-day, (for that sabbath-day was an high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be tâken away. Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs : but one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out Blôod and Water. And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true.

OFFERTORY. Wicked men rose up against me : without mercy they sought to kill me : and they did not spare to spit in my face : they wounded me with their spears, and all my bones are broken (alleluia).

SECRET.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, that by the mediation of the Passion of thy only-begotten Son, this sacrifice which we offer unto thee may evermore avail to quicken and defend us : Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

PREFACE of the Holy Cross.

COMMUNION. Ps. 22. They pierced my hands and my feet : I may tell all my bones (alleluia).

POSTCOMMUNION.

O LORD JESU CHRIST, Son of the living God, who at the sixth hour for the redemption of the world wast lifted up upon the Cross of shame, and didst vouchsafe to shed thy precious Blood for the remission of our sins : we humbly beseech thee ; that, after this our life on earth, thou wouldest grant unto us joyfully to enter the gates of Paradise. Who livest and reignest with the Father.

Through.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews.

Heb. 4. 16.

BRETHREN : Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins : who can have compassion on the ignorant and on them that are out of the way, for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity. And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself to offer for sins. And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron. So also Christ glorified not himself, to be made an high priest, but he that said unto him : Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee. As he saith also in another place : Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec. Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death, was heard in that he feared.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Lev. 21. Let the priest be holy, for I the Lord which sanctify you am holy. Alleluia.

In Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Lev. 21. Let the priest be holy, for I the Lord, which sanctify you, am holy. ℣. St. John 10. I am the Good Shepherd : and know my sheep, and am known of mine. Alleluia.

GOSPEL. If ye love me, as on the Vigil of Pentecost in Proper of the Season.

COMMUNION. Exod. 29. The high priest that shall be set up shall put on the holy garments, and he shall come into the tabernacle of the congregation, to minister in the holy place (alleluia).

POSTCOMMUNION.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, that we, whom thou hast refreshed with the Sacrament of thy most precious Body and Blood, may be comforted by the loving-kindness of thy Divine Majesty : and that thou wouldest grant unto us a Pontiff meet to instruct thy people in all godliness ; and pour upon thy people a sweet savour of holiness. ON THE DAY OF HIS ELECTION
AND CORONATION AND THE ANNIVERSARY THEREOF

Mass as on the Feast of St. Peter's Chair, Jan. 18th, as in the Sup., omitting the Prayers as in that Mass, and in place thereof substituting the Prayers, O God, the pastor and governour, etc.,

as in Mass 14, Sacerdotes tui below On the Anniversary of the Election of a Bishop ; the Creed also is said.

[13.] AT THE CONSECRATION OF A BISHOP

[According to the usual western rule, a Bishop is consecrated only on the Lord's Day or on the heavenly birthday of an Apostle or Evangelist, and the Mass of the Day is said, with the Prayers proper to the Consecration of Bishop (e.g., as in the Prayer-Book) under one Ending with the Collect and other Prayers of the Day; for which reason since the Prayer-Book assigns a proper Collect, Epistle, Gospel, and Postcommunion for the Consecration of a Bishop, these same may be said along with the Propers of the Mass of the Day, the Prayers thereof being added to those of the Prayer-Book under one Ending. However, by local custom, the Prayer-Book Propers for the Consecration of a Bishop are commonly used along with those of the Votive Mass of the Holy Ghost for Thursday, Spiritus Domini.]

COLLECT.

ALMIGHTY God, who by thy Son Jesus Christ didst give to thy holy Apostles many excellent gifts, and didst charge them to feed thy flock : give grace, we beseech thee, to all Bishops, the Pastors of thy Church, that they may diligently preach thy Word, and duly administer the godly Discipline thereof; and grant to the people, that they may obediently follow the same, that all may receive the crown of everlasting glory. Through the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lôrd. [Who.]

A Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to Timothy.

I Tim. 3. 1.

DEARLY beloved : This is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a good work. A Bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach ; not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre ; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous ; one that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity ; (for if a man know not how to rule his own house, ‡ how shall he take care of the Chûrch of God?) not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil. Moreover, he must have a good report of them which are without ; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.

§ Another Epistle.

The LESSON from the Acts of the Apostles.

Acts 20. 17.

IN those days : From Miletus Paul I sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the Church. And when they were come to him, he said unto them : Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons, serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me by the lying in wait of the Jews : and how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publickly, and from house to house, testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there ; save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me. But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the Gospel of the grace of God. And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more. Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men. For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock. Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them. Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears. And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel. Yea, ye yourselves know, that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me. I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

MOST merciful Father, send down, we beseech thee, upon this thy servant thy heavênly blessing : and so endue him with thy Holy Spirit, that he, preaching thy Word, may not only be earnest to reprove, beseech, and rebuke, with all patience and doctrine ; but also may be, to such as believe, a wholesome example in word, in conversation, in love, in faith, in chastity, and in puritÿ ; that, faithfully fulfilling his course, at the latter day he may receive the crown of righteousness, laid up by the Lord Jesus, the righteous Judge. But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word. And the saying pleased the whole multitude : and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch : whom they set before the Apostles : and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them. Epistle from the Prayer-Book:

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Ephesians.

BRETHREN : Give thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ ; submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God. Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the Church : and he is the saviour of the body. Therefore as the Church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in everything. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the Church, and gave himself for it, that he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water, by the word ; that he might present it to himself a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing ; but that it should be holy, and without blemish. So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself : for no man ever yet hated his own flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the Church : for we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife ; and they two shall be one flesh. This is a great mystery, but I speak concerning Christ and the Church. Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular so love his wife, even as himself. And the wife see that she reverence her husband. And the Creed is not said.

GRADUAL. Ps. 128. Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine upon the walls of thy house. V. Thy children like the olive-branches round about thy table.

see Jerusalem in prosperity all thy life long. V. Yea, that thou shalt see thy children's children : and peace upon Israel.

In Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 20. The Lord send you help from the sanctuary : and strengthen you out of Sion. Alleluia. V. Ps. 134. The Lord that made heaven and earth : give thee blessing out of Sion. Alleluia.

PREFACE as prescribed for the Mass of the day.

§ Having said Our Father, and before saying Deliver us, O Lord, we beseech thee, the Priest, standing at the Epistle side and turning his face towards the man and woman as they kneel before the Lord's Table, says over them the following (but NOTE, That the Prayer next following is omitted where the woman is past child-bearing):

O MERCIFUL Lord, and heavenly Father, by whose gracious gift mankind is increased ; we beseech thee, assist with thy blessing these two persons, that they may both be fruitful in procreation of children, and also live together so long in godly love and honesty, that they may see their children Christianly and virtuously brought up, to thy praise and honour. Through.

Let us pray.

O GOD, who by thy mighty power hast made all things of nothing ; who also (after other things set in order) didst appoint, that out of man, created after thine own image and similitude, woman should take her beginning ; and, knitting them together, didst teach that it should never be lawful to put asunder those whom thou by Matrimony hast made one : O God, who hast consecrated the state of Matrimony to such an excellent mystery, that in it is signified and represented the spiritual marriage and unity betwixt Christ and his Church : look mercifully upon these thy servants, that both this man may love his wife, according to thy Word, (as Christ did love his spouse the Church, who gave himself for it, loving and cherishing it even as his own flesh,) and also that this woman may be loving and amiable, faithful and obedient to her husband ; and in all quietness, sobriety, and peace, be a follower of holy and godly matrons. O Lord, bless them both, and grant them to inherit thy everlasting kingdom. Through the same.

Then the Priest, turning back to the middle of the Altar, says Deliver us, O Lord, we beseech thee, and the rest after the accustomed manner: and after he has received the Precious Blood, he communicates the man and woman: and proceeds with the Mass.

ALMIGHTY GOD, we beseech thee, let thy gracious favour accompany the ordinance of thy love : that those whom thou hast joined together in holy wedlock ; may by thy protection live in lasting peace. Through.

§ Having said Let us bless the Lord, or if the Mass of the day require, De-part in peace, before blessing the people, the Priest, turning himself towards the Bridegroom and Bride, says this Blessing from the Prayer-Book:

GOD the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost, bless, preserve, and keep you ; the Lord mercifully with his favour look upon you, and fill you with all spiritual benediction and grace ; that ye may so live together in this life, that in the world to come ye may have life everlasting. R. Amen.

§ Then shall the Priest seriously admonish them to be faithful one to the other: to observe continence at times of prayer, and especially on Fasts and solemn Feasts: mutually to love each other, and to persevere in the fear of God. Afterward he sprinkles them with holy water, and having said Let this my bounden duty and service, he gives the Blessing: and reads in the accustomed manner the Gospel of St. John, In the beginning was the Word or some other Gospel, in accordance with the Rubrics.

HAVE mercy upon us, O Lord God of all, and behold us : and send thy fear upon the nations that seek not after thee. Lift up thy hand against the strange nations, and let them see thy power. As thou wast sanctified in us before them, so be thou magnified among them before us. And let them know thee, as we have known thee, that there is no God, but only thou, O God. Shew new signs, and make other strange wonders : glorify thy hand and thy right arm, that they may set forth thy wondrous works. Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath : take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy. Make the time short, remember the covenant, and let them declare thy wonderful works. Give testimony unto those that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and raise up the prophecies that have been in thy Name. Reward them that wait for thee, and let thy Prophets be found faithful. O Lord, hear the prayer of thy servants, according to the blessing of Aaron over thy people, that all they which dwell upon the earth may know that thou art the Lord, the eternal God.

GRADUAL. Ps. 67. Let all the people praise thee, O God : yea, let all the people praise thee. V. God shall bless us : and all the ends of the world shall fear him.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 100. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands : serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song. Alleluia.

After Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia, and verse following, is said:

TRACT. Ps. 96. Declare the honour of the Lord unto the heathen, and his wonders unto all people. V. For the Lord is great, and cannot worthily be praised : he is more to be feared than all gods. V. As for the gods of the heathen, they are but idols : but it is the Lord that made the heavens.

In Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 100. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands : serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song. Alleluia. V. Be ye sure that the Lord he is God : it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves. Alleluia.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Matthew.

St. Matt. 9. 35.

AT that time : Jesus went about all the cities and villages teaching in their synagogues and preaching the Gospel of the kingdom and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. But when he saw the multitudes he was moved with compassion on them because they fainted and were scattered abroad as sheep having no shepherd. Then saith he unto his disciples : The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 96. Ascribe unto the Lord, O ye kindreds of the people : ascribe unto the Lord worship and power : ascribe unto the Lord the honour due unto his Name : bring presents and come into his courts : O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness (alleluia).

SECRET.

BEHOLD, O God our Defender, and look upon the face of thine Anointed, who gave himself a ransom for all : and grant that from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same, thy Name may be great among the heathen, and in every place a pure offering may be offered unto thy Name. Through the same.

COMMUNION. Ps. 117. O praise the Lord, all ye heathen : praise him, all ye nations : for his merciful kindness is ever more and more towards us, and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever (alleluia).

POSTCOMMUNION.

GRANT, we beseech thee, O Lord : that as thou hast fed us with this reward of our redemption ; so also this means of eternal salvation may avail for the furtherance of thy true religion. Through.

The Lesson from the former EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to Timothy.

1 Tim. 2. 1.

DEARLY beloved : I exhort, therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men : for kings, and all that are in authority ; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour, who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and men, the Man Christ Jesus : who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time : whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an Apostle (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not ;) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Ephesians.

Ephes. 4. 1.

BRETHREN : I beseech you, that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called. With all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love, endeavouring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body, and one spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling. One Lord, one faith, one baptism. One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ : till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ : that we henceforth be no more children tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive : but speaking the truth in love, may grow up unto him in all things, which is the head, even Christ : from whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love. This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind, having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart, who being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness. But ye have not so learned Christ : if so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus.

GRADUAL. Ps. 122. O pray for the peace of Jerusalem : they shall prosper that love thee. V. Peace be within thy walls : and plenteousness within thy palaces.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 147. Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem : praise thy God, O Sion. Alleluia.

After Septuagesima, instead of the Alleluia, and verse following, is said:

TRACT. Ps. 76. In Jewry is God known, his Name is great in Israel. V. At Salem is his tabernacle and his dwelling in Sion. V. There brake he the arrows of the bow : the shield, the sword, and the battle.

In Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 147. Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem : praise thy God, O Sion, Alleluia. V. He maketh peace in thy borders : and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

St. John 17. 11.

AT that time : Jesus, lifting up his eyes to heaven, said : Holy Father, keep through thine own Name those whom thou hast given me : that they may be one as we are. While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy Name. Those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition, that the Scripture might be fulfilled. And now I come to thee : and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves. I have given them thy word, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. Sanctify them through thy truth. Thy word is truth. As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world. And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word : that they all may be one, as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us : that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them, that they may be one, even as we are one. I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one.

OFFERTORY. Rom. 15. God grant you to be like-minded one towards another : that ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God (alleluia).

Be not afraid of the King of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid : be not afraid of him, saith the Lord : for I am with you to save you and to deliver you from his hand. The LESSON from the Book of Samuel.
2 Sam. 24. 15.

IN those days : The Lord sent a pestilence upon Israel from the morning even to the time appointed : and there died of the people from Dan even to Beer-sheba seventy thousand men. And when the Angel stretched out his hand upon Jerusalem to destroy it, the Lord repented him of the evil, and said to the Angel that destroyed the people : It is enough ; stay now thine hand. And the Angel of the Lord was by the threshing-place of Araunah the Jebusite. And David spake unto the Lord when he saw the Angel that smote the people, and said : Lo, I have sinned, and I have done wickedly : but these sheep, what have they done? Let thine hand, I pray thee, be against me, and against my father's house. And Gad came that day to David, and said unto him : Go up, rear an altar unto the Lord in the threshing-floor of Araunah the Jebusite. And David, according to the saying of Gad, went up as the Lord commanded. And Araunah looked, and saw the king and his servants coming on toward him : and Araunah went out, and bowed himself before the king on his face upon the ground. And Araunah said : Wherefore is my lord the king come to his servant? And David said : To buy the threshing-floor of thee, to build an altar unto the Lord, that the plague may be stayed from the people. And Araunah said unto David : Let my lord the king take and offer up what seemeth good unto him : behold here be oxen for burnt sacrifice, and threshing instruments, and other implements of the oxen for wood. All these things did Araunah, as a king, give unto the king. And Araunah said unto the king : The Lord thy God accept thee. And the king said unto Araunah : Nay, but I will surely buy it of thee at a price, neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the Lord my God of that which doth cost me nothing. So David bought the threshing-floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver, and David built there an altar unto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the Lord was intreated for the land, and the plague was stayed from Israel.

IN those days : Jacob went out from Beer-sheba, and went toward Haran. And he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set : and he took of the stones of that place and put them for his pillows, and lay down in that place to sleep. And he dreamed, and behold, the Lord said : I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac ; the land whereon thou liest to thee will I give it, and to thy seed ; and thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth : and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south : and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed. And behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest ; and will bring thee again into this land, for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of. And Jacob rose up early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put for his pillows, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil upon the top of it. And Jacob vowed a vow, saying : If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on, so that I come again to my father's house in peace : then shall the Lord be my God, and this stone, which I have set for a pillar, shall be God's house, and of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee.

[34.] A SHORTENED MASS FOR THE DYING

As Ordered in the Prayer-Book

¶ Forasmuch as all mortal men are subject to many sudden perils, diseases, and sicknesses, and ever uncertain what time they shall depart out of this life ; therefore, to the intent they may be always in readiness to die, whensoever it shall please Almighty God to call them, the Ministers shall diligently from time to time, but especially in the time of pestilence, or other infectious sickness, exhort their parishioners to the often receiving of the Holy Communion of the Body and Blood of our Saviour Christ, when it shall be publicly administered in the Church; that so doing, they may, in case of sudden visitation, have the less cause to be disquieted for lack of the same. But if the sick person be not able to come to the Church, and yet is desirous to receive the Communion in his house; then he must give timely notice to the Minister, signifying also how many there are to communicate with him; and all things necessary being prepared, the Minister shall there celebrate the Holy Communion, beginning with the Collect, Epistle, and Gospel, here following. [The foregoing Propers are used, except:]

will ; and that whensoever his soul shall depart from the body, it may be without spot presented unto thee. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. [Who.]

MASSES FOR THE DEAD

I

ON THE COMMEMORATION OF ALL THE FAITHFUL DEPARTED

On All Souls' Day any Priest may celebrate three Masses, in accordance with the Rubric on November 2nd. The following Mass shall be said as the first Mass, and by any Priest who celebrates the Mass only, or who celebrates with assistant. In the latter case he may anticipate the 2nd and 3rd Masses.

At the first and the second Mass, if the Priest be about to celebrate another Mass, when he has consumed the Precious Blood, he does not purify nor cleanse the Chalice, but places it on the Corporal, and covers it with the Pall; then, with hands joined, he says in the midst of the Altar: Grant that what we have received with the mouth, O Lord, etc., and then he washes his fingers in a vessel of water, saying: May thy Flesh which thou hast given for us, O Lord, etc., and thus he cleanses himself. And when he has so done, he removes the Pall and again places the Chalice on the Corporal and covers it, according to custom, first with the linen Purificator, then with the Paten on which the Host is to be consecrated, and lastly with the Pall and the Veil. And a Chalice which has thus remained on the Altar from a former Mass is never set down anywhere except on the Corporal, nor is it wiped with a Purificator, until after the ablutions are made, for which reason at the Offertory it is moved toward the epistle side of the Corporal, and then the Host is offered in the accustomed man- ner. Afterwards the Chalice is prepared (the Priest slightly raising it and pouring in the water and wine, taking care not to splash the sides thereof) without removing it beyond the Corporal, nor wiping it, and then it is offered in the accustomed manner.

AT THE FIRST MASS.

INTROIT. Requiem aeternam.

REST eternal grant unto them, O Lord : and let light perpetual shine upon them. Ps. 65. Thou, O God, art praised in Sion, and unto thee shall the vow be performed in Jerusalem : thou that hearest the prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come. Then at once is repeated: Rest eternal grant unto them, O Lord : and let light perpetual shine upon them.

COLLECT.

O GOD, the Creator and Redeemer of all them that believe : grant unto the souls of thy servants and handmaidens the remission of all their sins ; that as they have ever desired thy merciful pardon, so by the supplications of their brethren they may receive the same. Who livest and reignest with the Father in the unity of the Holy Ghost ever one God.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.
I Cor. 15. 51.

BRETHREN : Behold, I shew you a mystery : We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump : for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written : Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, ‡ where is thy sting? O grave, ‡ where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin ; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

GRADUAL. Rest eternal grant unto them, O Lord : and let light perpetual shine upon them. ℣. Ps. 112. The righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance : he will not be afraid of any evil tidings.

TRACT. Absolve, O Lord, the souls of all the faithful departed from all the chains of their sins. ℣. That by the succour of thy grace they may be found worthy to escape the avenging judgement. ℣. And enjoy the bliss of everlasting light.

SEQUENCE. Dies Irae.

DAY of wrath, and doom impending,
David's word with Sibyl's blending :

Heaven and earth in ashes ending.
O what fear man's bosom rendeth,
When from heaven the Judge descendeth,

On whose sentence all dependeth!
Wondrous sound the trumpet flingeth,

Through earth's sepulchres it ringeth,
All before the throne it bringeth.

Death is struck, and nature quaking,

All creation is awaking,

To its Judge an answer making.

Lo! the book exactly worded,

Wherein all hath been recorded,

Thence shall judgement be awarded.

When the Judge his seat attaineth,

And each hidden deed arraigneth,

Nothing unavenged remaineth.

What shall I, frail man, be pleading?

Who for me be interceding,

When the just are mercy needing?

King of Majesty tremendous,

Who dost free salvation send us,

Fount of pity, then befriend us.

Think, kind Jesu, my salvation,

Caused thy wondrous Incarnation,

Leave me not to reprobation.

Faint and weary thou hast sought me,

On the Cross of suffering bought me,

Shall such grace be vainly brought me?

Righteous Judge! for sin's pollution

Grant thy gift of absolution

Ere that day of retribution.

Guilty, now I pour my moaning,

All my shame with anguish owning :

Spare, O God, thy suppliant groaning;

Through the sinful woman shriven,

Through the dying thief forgiven,

Thou to me a hope hast given.

Worthless are my tears and sighing :

Yet, good Lord, in grace complying

Rescue me from fires undying.

With thy sheep a place provide me,

From the goats afar divide me,

To thy right hand do thou guide me

When the wicked are confounded,

Doomed to flames of woe unbounded.

Call me, with thy Saints surrounded

Low I kneel, with heart-submission :

See like ashes my contrition!

Help me in my last condition!

Ah that day of tears and mourning!

From the dust of earth returning,

Man for judgement must prepare him.

Spare, O God, in mercy spare him :

Lord all-pitying, Jesu blest,

Grant them thine eternal rest. Amen.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to John.

St. John 5. 25.

AT that time : Jesus said unto the multitude of the Jews : Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God : and they thât hear shall live. For as the Father hath life in himself ; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself ; and hath given him authority to execute judgement also, because he is thê Son of Man. Marvel not at this : for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, and shall come forth ; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life ; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrección of damnation.

OFFERTORY. The LESSON from the Book of the Maccabees. 2 Macc. 12. 42.

IN those days : The noble Judas made a gathering throughout the company, to the sum of two thousand drachms of silver, and sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sin offering, doing therein very well and honestly, in that he was mindful of the resurrection : for if he had not hoped that they that were slain should have risen again, it had been superfluous and vain to pray for the dead. And this is the Father's will which hath sent me : that of all which he hath given me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.
1 Thess. 4. 13.

BRETHREN : I would not have you to be ignorant concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus shall God bring with him. For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we, which are alive, and remain unto the coming of the Lord, shall not prevent them which are asleep. For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the Archangel, and with the trump of God : and the dead in Christ shall rise first. Then we, which are alive and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air : and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to John. St. John II. 21.

AT that time : Martha said unto Jesus : Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother hâd not dièd. But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee. Jesus saith unto her : Thy brother shâll rise again. Martha saith unto him : I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection ât the last day. Jesus said unto her : I am the resurrection, and the life : he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live : and whosoever liveth and believeth in me, shâll never die. ‡ Believêst thou this? She saith unto him : Yea, Lord, I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should côm into the world.

St. John 6. 51.

AT that time : Jesus said unto the multitude of the Jews : I am the living bread, which came dôwn from heaven. If any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever : and the bread that I will give is my Flesh, which I will give for the life of the world. The Jews, therefore, strove among themselves, saying : ‡ How can this man give us his flesh to eat? Then Jesus said unto them : Verily, verily I say unto you : Except ye eat the Flesh of the Son of Man, and drink his Blood, ye have nô life in you. Whoso eateth my Flesh, and drinketh my Blood, hath eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day.

OFFERTORY. O Lord Jesu Christ, King of glory, deliver the souls of all the faithful departed from the pains of hell, and from the bottomless pit : deliver them from the lion's mouth, that hell swallow them not up, that

COLLECT.

O ETERNAL Lord God, who holdest all souls in life : vouchsafe, we beseech thee, to thy whole Church in paradise and on earth, thy light and thy peace ; and grant that we, following the good examples of those who have served thee here and are now at rest, may at the last enter with them into thine unending joy. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. [Who.]

O GOD, whose mercies cannot be numbered : accept our prayers on behalf of the soul of thy servant departed ; and grant him an entrance into the land of light and joy, in the fellowship of thy Saints. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. [Who.]

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Thessalor'ans.
1 Thess. 4. 13.

BRETHREN : I would not have you to be ignorant concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him. For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we, which are alive, and remain unto the coming of the Lord, shall not prevent them which are asleep. For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the Archangel, and with the trump of God : and the dead in Christ shall rise first. Then we, which are alive and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air : and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to John.

St. John 6. 37

AT that time : Jesus said unto them ; All that the Father giveth me shall come to me ; and him that cometh to me I will in nô wise cast out. For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me. And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again ât the last day. And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life : and I will raise him up at the last day.

THE FINAL BLESSING AND SOLEMN DISMISSAL OF THE BODY

commonly called

THE ABSOLUTION OF THE DEAD

§ At the end of Mass, if the Absolution is to be made, the Celebrant goes to the Epistle Corner, where he lays aside the Maniple and Chasuble and puts on a black Cope. The Subdeacon, between two Acolytes with lighted candles, carries the Cross as in Processions, two other Acolytes preceding them, one with the thurible and incense-boat, the other with the holy water and sprinkler. The Celebrant follows, having first made a reverence to the Altar, with the Deacon on his left. The Subdeacon with the Cross takes his stand at the feet of the body (or of the catafalque), between the aforesaid Acolytes holding candles, whilst the Celebrant stands at the other end at the head, but towards the Epistle side if his back be to the Altar, yet so as to face the Subdeacon's Cross; with the Deacon on his left, and near him the two other Acolytes carrying the thurible and holy water. Then, an Acolyte or Clerk holding the book, the Celebrant says at once the following Collect (no change of number or sex being made, even if it be said for many persons or a woman); which Collect, however, is omitted if the body be absent.

I. THE RECOGNITION OF THE BODY'S DIGNITY WITH PRAYER FOR REMISSION OF SIN'S PENALTIES

COLLECT. (Omitted if the body be absent.)

ENTER not into judgement with thy servant, O Lord, for in thy sight shall no man living be justified, except thou grant the remission of every sin. Therefore, we beseech thee, pronounce not thy judgement upon any whose cause the faithful prayer of Christian people commendeth unto thee : but grant, by the succour of thy grace, that each creature of thine may be found worthy to escape the avenging judgement, who upon earth was sealed with the seal of the Holy Trinity. Who livest and reignest, world without end. R. Amen.

Then the Cantor beginning, the by-standing Clergy sing the following:

RESPONSORY. (Which is always used.)

DELIVER me, O Lord, * from everlasting death in that fearful day : * When the heavens and the earth shall be shaken : * When thou shalt come to judge the world by fire. V. I am in fear and trembling, until the sifting be upon us and the wrath to come. R. When the heavens and the earth shall be shaken. V. Woe is me, for the day of wrath, calamity and misery, the great day of exceeding bitterness. R. When thou shalt come to judge the world by fire. V. Rest eternal grant unto them, O Lord : and let light perpetual shine upon them. R. Deliver me, O Lord, as far as I am in fear.

§ Towards the end of the Responsory the Celebrant puts incense into the thurible, blessing it as usual, the Deacon ministering the boat. The Responsory ended, a Cantor with the first Choir says:

Kyrie eleison. or Lord, have mercy upon us. And the second Choir answers:

Christe eleison. Or Christ, have mercy upon us. Then all together say:

Kyrie eleison. Or Lord, have mercy upon us. Then the Priest says with the distinct voice:

Our Father.

§ And the rest thereof is said secretly by all. Meanwhile the Priest receives the sprinkler from the hand of the Deacon, and makes a reverence to the Altar; the Deacon accompanying him on his right, and holding the fore-edge of the Cope, he makes the circuit of the catafalque, sprinkling it with holy water, thrice on the right and thrice on the left. When he passes in front of the Cross he bows low, while the Deacon genuflects: afterwards he receives the thurible from the Deacon, and censes the catafalque in the same manner as he has sprinkled it. Having returned to his first position (the Deacon holding the book) he says, with hands joined:

℣. And lead us not into temptation.

℟. But deliver us from evil.

℣. From the gates of hell.

℟. Deliver their souls, O Lord.

℣. May they rest in peace.

℟. Amen.

℣. Lord, hear my prayer.

℟. And let my cry come unto thee.

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

§ If the body be absent, the Priest says the following Collect (which same is said in the singular number, or in the plural, as occasion demands; and if the name of a Priest or Bishop be mentioned, his rank is also named, as in the Collect below):

COLLECT. (Said only if the body be absent.)

ABSOLVE, O Lord we pray thee, the souls of thy servants from every bond of sin, that though they be dead unto the world, yet they may live unto thee : and that whatsoever sins they may have committed through the frailty of the flesh in their earthly conversation may be done away by the pardon of thy most merciful loving-kindness. Through Christ our Lord. ℟. Amen.

§ In place of the preceding Collect, the Celebrant may say the Collect which was said in the Mass, or any other suitable Collect, using the short Ending. If, however, the body of the Departed be present, the Celebrant says the following:

COLLECT. (Said only if the body be present.)

O GOD, whose nature and property is ever to have mercy and to forgive, receive our humble petitions for the soul of thy servant (or handmaiden) [or servant and Priest (or Bishop)] N., which this day thou hast commanded to depart out of this world : deliver him not unto the hand of the enemy, neither forsake him at the last ; but command him to be received by the holy Angels, and brought to the country of paradise ; that forasmuch as he hoped and believed in thee, he may not undergo the pains of hell, but be made partaker of everlasting felicity. Through Christ our Lord. ℟. Amen.

II. THE DISMISSAL PRAYERS.

Which done, the body (if it be present) is borne to its burial, the proper Antiphons and devotions being said, as prescribed in the forms for the Burial of the Dead: but if this cannot be done, the aforesaid forms (including, if desired, the Committal) may be said at this time. But first, before these other devotions which belong to the burial, is said (if convenient, during the procession to the grave) the following Antiphon:

In Paradisum

INTO the paradise of God * may the Angels lead thee ; and at thy coming may the Martyrs receive thee, and take thee into the holy City Jerusalem. May all the Choirs of Angels welcome thee ; and with Lazarus, once a beggar, may God grant thee rest eternal.

§ But if the body be absent, or if the Absolution be not a part of the burial devotions, the Absolution of the Dead is always ended thus : the Celebrant, making a Cross with his right hand over the catafalque, says:

℣. Rest eternal grant unto him (or her or them), O Lord.

℞. And let light perpetual shine upon him (or her or them).

Then the Cantors sing:

℣. May they rest in peace. ℞. Amen.

The Celebrant, again making a Cross over the catafalque, sings on one note:

℣. May his soul (or her soul or their souls) and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. ℞. Amen.

III. THE RETURN TO THE SACRISTY.

§ Then the Celebrant begins the Antiphon, If thou, O Lord, and reciting the Psalm Out of the deep with the Clergy, the Cross going before, returns with the rest to the Sacristy. There the Antiphon, If thou, O Lord, being repeated by all, the Priest, before he unveils, says the following Prayers:

Kyrie eleison. Or Lord, have mercy upon us.

Christe eleison. Or Christ, have mercy upon us.

Kyrie eleison. Or Lord, have mercy upon us.

Our Father, and the rest secretly as far as:

℣. And lead us not into temptation. ℞. But deliver us from evil. ℣. From the gates of hell. ℞. Deliver their souls, O Lord. ℣. May they rest in peace. ℞. Amen. ℣. Lord, hear my prayer. ℞. And let my cry come unto thee. ℣. The Lord be with you. ℞. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. COLLECT.

O GOD, the Creator and Redeemer of them that believe : grant unto the souls of thy servants and handmaids the remission of all their sins ; that, as they have ever desired thy merciful pardon, so by the supplications of their brethren they may receive the same : Who livest and reignest world without end. ℞. Amen.

℣. Rest eternal grant unto them, O Lord.

℞. And let light perpetual shine upon them.

℣. May they rest in peace. ℞. Amen.

§ The Verse May his soul, the Antiphon If thou Lord, and the Psalm and Prayers, are not said, if the Absolution be made for all the Faithful Departed.

PETER, an Apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ : grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied. Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope, by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need be, ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations : that the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Peter the Apostle.

1 Peter 2. 13.

DEARLY beloved : Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake : whether it be to the king, as supreme ; or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him, for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well. For so is the will of God, that with well-doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men : as free, and not using your liberty for a cloke of maliciousness, but as the servants of God. Honour all men : Love the brotherhood : Fear God : Honour the king. Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear, not only to the good and gentle, but also to the forward. For this is thankworthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully. For what glory is it, ‡ if when ye be buffeted for your faults ye shall take it patiently? but if when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently ; this is acceptable with God. For even hereunto were ye called : because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps ; who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed John the Apostle.

I John 2. 14.

DEARLY beloved : I write unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one. Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him : for all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof. But he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

GRADUAL. Ps. 31. O how plenteous is thy goodness, O Lord, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee! ℣. And that thou hast prepared for them that put their trust in thee, even before the sons of men.

TRACT. Ps. 84. Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee : in whose heart are thy ways, who going through the vale of misery use it for a well. ℣. I had rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God ; than to dwell in the tents of ungodliness. ℣. No good thing shall he withhold from them that live in godly life : O Lord God of hosts, blessed is the man that putteth his trust in thee.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL accôrding to Mark.

St. Mark 10. 13.

AT that time : They brought young children to Jesus, that he should touch them. And his disciples rebuked those that brought them. But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them : Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not : for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you : Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein. And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them. And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him : Good Master, ‡ what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life? And Jesus said unto him : ‡ Why callest thou me good? There is none good but one, that is, God. Thou knowest the commandments : Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother. And he answered and said unto him : Master, all these have I observed from my youth. Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him : One thing thou lackest ; go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven ; and come, follow me.

ALMIGHTY and merciful God, who hast prepared a way of salvation for the wicked : graciously shew us the love in the face of thine only-begotten Son Jesus Christ, whereby he drew unto himself the blessed Thief on the cross ; that we likewise may be moved to true repentance, and attain the promise to be in Paradise with him, even the same Jesus Christ, thy Son, our Lord. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

Commem. of the Feria, if in Lent, with the Gospel of the Feria at the end.

The LESSON from Isaiah the Prophet.

BEHOLD, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save ; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear. But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear. For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity : your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseness. None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth : they trust in vanity, and speak lies ; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

✠ The Continuation of the HOLY GOSPEL according to Luke.

St. Luke 23. 39.

AT that time : One of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying : If thou be Christ, save thyself and us. But the other answering rebuked him, saying : Dost not thou fear God, ‡ seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And we indeed justly : for we receive the due reward of our deeds ; but this man hath done nothing amiss. And he said unto Jesus : Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. And Jesus said unto him : Verily, I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise.

In some places on this day a Commem. of St. Vitalis, M., is made from Mass 9, Protexisti, with 3rd set of Prayers, from Common.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

I Cor. I. 17.

BRETHREN : Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel : not with wisdom of words, lest the Cross of Christ should be made of none effect. The preaching of the Cross is to them that perish foolishness : but unto us which are saved it is the power of God. For it is written : I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. ‡ Where is the wise? ‡ where is the scribe? ‡ where is the disputer of this world? ‡ hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God ; it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom : but we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness : but unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men ; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. 2 Cor. 5. Christ died for all : that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again. Alleluia. ℣. Rom. 8. If children, then heirs : heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ : if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. Alleluia.

Out of Eastertide:

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. 1 St. Peter 2. Christ suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow in his steps. Alleluia.

The LESSON from the Book of Wisdom. Wis. 8.

THEREFORE I purposed to take wisdom with me to live with me ; knowing that she would be a counsellor of good things, and a comfort in cares and grief. When I hold my tongue they shall bide my leisure, and when I speak they shall give good ear unto me : if I talk much they shall lay their hands upon their mouth. Moreover, by the means of her I shall obtain immortality, and leave behind me an everlasting memorial to them that come after me. I shall set the people in order, and the nations shall be subject unto me. Horrible tyrants shall be afraid, when they do but hear of me. I shall be found good among the multitude, and valiant in war.

The LESSON from the Book of Wisdom.
Wis. 4. 7.

THOUGH the righteous be prevented with death yet shall he be in rest. For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that is measured by number of years : but wisdom is the grey hair unto men, and an unspotted life is old age. He pleased God and was beloved of him, so that living among sinners he was translated. Yea, speedily was he taken away, lest that wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul. For the bewitching of naughtiness doth obscure things that are honest, and the wandering of concupiscence doth undermine the simple mind. He being made perfect in a short time fulfilled a long time, for his soul pleased the Lord : therefore hastened he to take him away from among the wicked.

St. Matt. 22. 29.

AT that time : Jesus answered and said unto the Sadducees : Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the pōwer of God. For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage : but are as the Angels of Gōd in heaven. But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying : I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, ‡ and the God ôf Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but ôf the living. And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished ât his doctrine. But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gatherêd together ; then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying : Master, ‡ which is the great commandment îñ the law? Jesus said unto him : Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and grêat commandment. And the second is like unto it : Thou shalt love thy neighbōur as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the Lăw and the Prophets.

2 Cor. 8. 9.

BRETHREN : Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich. And herein I give my advice : for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago : now therefore perform the doing of it : that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have. For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not. For I mean not that other men be eased, and ye burdened ; but by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want : that their abundance also may be a supply for your want, that there may be equality, as it is written : He that had gathered much had nothing over : and he that had gathered little had no lack.

1 Tim. 4. 8.

DEARLY beloved : Godliness is profitable unto all things : having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation. For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe. These things command and teach. Let no man despise thy youth : but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity. Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. Meditate upon these things : give thyself wholly to them ; that thy profiting may appear to all. Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine : continue in them. For in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

The LESSON from the Book of the Maccabees. 2 Macc. 6. 18.

IN those days : Eleazar, one of the principal scribes, an aged man, and of a well-favoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eat swine's flesh. But he, choosing rather to die gloriously, than to live stained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of his own accord to the torment : as it behoved them to come, that are resolute to stand out against such things, as are not lawful for love of life to be tested. But they that had the charge of that wicked feast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his own provision, such as was lawful for him to use, and make as if he did eat of the flesh taken from the sacrifice commanded by the King, that in so doing he might be delivered from death : and for the old friendship with them find favour. But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient years, and the honour of his gray head, whereunto he was come, and his most honest education from a child, or rather the holy law made and given by God : therefore he answered accordingly, and willed them straightways to send him to the grave. For it becometh not our age, said he, in any wise to dissemble, whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar, being fourscore years old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion, and so they through mine hypocrisy, and desire to live a little time and a moment longer, should be deceived by me ; and I get a stain to mine old age, and make it abominable. For though for the present time I should be delivered from the punishment of men, yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither alive nor dead. Wherefore now, manfully changing this life, I will shew myself such an one as mine age requireth, and leave a notable example to such as be young to die willingly and courageously for the honourable and holy laws. And when he had said these words, immediately he went to the torment.

THEN stood up this man as fire, and his word burned like a lamp. Who may glory like unto thee! For thou didst raise up a dead man from death, and his soul from the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High. Thou heardest the rebuke of the Lord in Sinai, and anointedst kings unto the judgement of vengeance, and prophets to succeed after thee. Thou wast ordained for reproofs in their times, to pacify the wrath of the Lord's judgement, before it break forth into fury, and to turn the heart of the father unto the son, and to restore the tribes of Jacob. Blessed are they that saw thee, and were honoured with thy friendship. For we live only in our life, but after death our name shall not be much. Who do set his day apart.

To the pious man is given

Grace, to strive as he hath striven,

Love to warm the ardent heart.

We, in wonder at that vision

Which above the east hath risen,

Praise our glorious Patriarch.

Countless seed did he engender—

Thus as Abraham in splendour,

Day-star dawning in the dark.

Served by ravens, like Elias,

We do see him, pure and pious,

Dwelling in his little cave.

Like Eliseus, power shewing,

Spake he to the torrent flowing,

Bade the axe float on the wave.

Great was Jacob's prophesying,

Pure was Joseph's lust-defying,

Dear as these his life is priced.

For his children interceding,

May he by his mighty pleading,

Lead us to the joys of Christ. Amen.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed Paul the Apostle to Timothy.
1 Tim. 6. 6.

DEARLY beloved : Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world : and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment let us be therewith content. But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts : which drown men in destruction and perdition. For the love of money is the root of all evil : which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. But thou, O man of God, flee these things : and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. Fight the good fight, lay hold on eternal life.

The LESSON from the Book of Ecclesiasticus. Eccclus. 47. 8. & 24. 1.

IN ALL his works he praised the Holy One Most High with words of glory. With his whole heart he sung songs, and loved him that made him. He set singers also before the altar, that by their voices they might make sweet melody, and daily sing praises in their songs. He beautified their feasts, and set in order the solemn times until the end, that they might praise the holy Name of the Lord, and that they might magnify the holiness of God in the morning. The Lord took away his sins, and exalted his horn for ever. Wisdom shall bring praise to its own life, and shall be honoured in God, and shall glory in the midst of its own people. In the congregation of the Most High shall he open his mouth, and triumph before his power. And in the midst of his own people he shall be exalted, and shall be admired in the holy assembly. And in the multitude of the elect he shall have praise, and among the blessed he shall be blessed.

I St. Peter 5. 1.

DEARLY beloved : The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ : and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed : feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly : not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind : Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away. Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility : for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time : casting all your care upon him, for he careth for you. Be sober, be vigilant : because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour : whom resist stedfast in the faith : knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world. But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you. To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life : that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier. BRETHREN : We thank God without ceasing : because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe. For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judaea are in Christ Jesus : for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews : who both killed the Lord Jesus and their own prophets : and have persecuted us, and they please not God, and are contrary to all men, forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they might be saved, to fill up their sins alway : for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

INTROIT. In medio. Ecclus. 15.

COLLECT. For Aug. 28th and Octave:

O GOD, who openedst the eyes of blessed Augustine to the deep mysteries of thy wisdom, and in his heart didst set alight the fire of dîvine charity : give us grace at his intercession ; that, seeing clearly in thy light, and burning with godly love, we may run in the way of thy commandments. Through.

COLLECT. For May 5th only.

O GOD, who hast adorned this day with the wondrous conversion of blessed Augustine, thy Confessôr and Bishop : grant, we beseech thee ; that as in thrusting aside the errors of heresy he was a bulwark unto thy Church, so by his praying for us he may be our defence against the assaults of the ancient enemy. Through.

The LESSON from the Book of Ecclesiasticus. Ecclus. 50. 1.

BEHOLD a great Priest, who in his life repaired the house again, and in his days fortified the temple : and by him was built from the foundation the double height, the high fortress of the wall about the temple. In his days the cistern to receive water, being in compass as the sea, was covered with plates of brass. He took care of the temple that it should not fall, and fortified the city against besieging. How was he honoured in the midst of the people in his coming out of the sanctuary ! He was as the morning star in the midst of a cloud and as the moon at the full ; as the sun shining upon the temple of the Most High, and as the rainbow giving light in the bright clouds : and as the flower of roses in the spring of the year, as lilies by the rivers of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense tree in the time of summer ; as fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessel of beaten gold set with all manner of precious stones ; and as a fair olive tree budding forth fruit, and as a cypress tree which groweth up to the clouds. When he put on the robe of honour, and was clothed with the perfection of glory, when he went up to the holy altar, he made the garment of holiness honourable. When he took the portions out of the priests' hands, he himself stood by the hearth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as a young cedar in Libanus ; and as palm trees compassed they him round about. So were all his sons in their glory.

For August 28th and in Votive Masses:

GRADUAL. Ps. 37. The mouth of the righteous is exercised in wisdom : and his tongue will be talking of judgement. ℟. The law of his God is in his heart : and his goings shall not slide.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Augustine, lux. Blessed Augustine, light of Doctors, bulwark of the Church, hammer of heretics, mighty vessel of knowledge, we ask of thee to pray unto God for thy children. Alleluia.

For May 5th and in Eastertide, instead of the Gradual, is said:

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Ecclus. 45. The Lord loved him and adorned him : he clothed him with a robe of glory. Alleluia. ℣. Augustine, lux, as above. Blessed Augustine, etc.

TRACT. In Votive Masses, after Septuagesima, from the Common of Doctors.

SEQUENCE. De profundis tenebrarum.
To be Omitted in Votives & on May 5th.

FROM dark depths a flame appeareth,
 All the world with light it cheereth,
 And that light, it burneth still.
 Bringeth aid with sin to wrestle,
 To the Church, this sinful vessel,
 Which with honour she doth fill.
 He the word of God obeyeth,
 Gaineth faith as yet he strayeth,
 Then baptismal grace he sought.
 Soon with eager word and writing
 'Gainst the errors is he fighting
 Which he once himself had taught.
 Faith he firmeth, lives he changeth, Fought who e'er God's law estrang-eth,
 Sharp with truth as with a sword.
 Silent then is Fortunatus,
 Nor can Manes or Donatus
 Stand against his piercing word.
 All the world, so bare, decaying,
 Full of vain and false gainsaying,
 Fruit of heresy's unstaith,
 Soon a harvest was bestowing,
 From the great Augustine's sowing,
 As he preached the one true faith.
 All his Priests in Christ he grounded,
 Rule and life for them he founded,
 As the Lord's Apostles taught.
 All in apostolic sharing,
 Lived as one in work and faring :
 No one sought his own in aught.
 When Augustine, mighty, lowly,
 Spent and worn for others solely,
 Was, in life complete and holy,
 With his fathers laid at rest,
 From his life, so self-defying,
 Naught had he to leave when dying
 Save his utter self-denying ;
 Nonetheless a good bequest.

Jewel of Confessors' glory,
 Lamp of Christ, Voice of his story,
 Wise as all the Doctors hoary, Mitred with a Bishop's crown!
 We as Father venerate thee ;
 Seek from God the grace, we pray thee,
 That on high some day we may be,
 Gathered there God's throne around.
 Amen. Alleluia.

On Aug. 28th and during Octave the

May 5th the rest from Common of Abbots: with the Creed.

PROPER PREFACE. For Saint Augustine, the vessel of thine election and grace, that most excellent Doctor, so sweet in writing and speech, who lighted the world with his wondrous life, and made the Church to shine with the truth of holy faith ; who broke down error and overthrew heresy, and taught the way of holiness for every state of life ; who gave instruction to the clergy, admonishment to the people, and brought back into the way of truth them that had gone astray ; and who, in thus making due provision for all men, wisely guided thy Church amidst the storms of this world. Therefore, etc.

Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you ; and I will not be burdensome to you : for I seek not yours, but you : for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you : though the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.

The Lesson from the EPISTLE of blessed James the Apostle.

St. James 2. 12.

SO speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty. For he shall have judgement without mercy that hath shewed no mercy : and mercy rejoiceth against judgement. What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, ‡ and have not works? ‡ Can faith save him? If a brother, or sister be naked, or destitute of daily food, and one of you say unto him : Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled : notwithstanding, ye give them not those things which are needful to the body, ‡ what doth it profit? Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone.

GRADUAL. Ps. 107. O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness : and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men. V. For he satisfieth the empty soul : and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.

Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him : for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready. And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white : for the fine linen is the righteousness of Saints.

And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word, that they all may be one ; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us ; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them ; that they may be one, even as we are one ; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one ; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

POSTCOMMUNION.

WE beseech thee, O Lord : that this holy Sacrament, which we have receivèd, may effectually cleanse us from our secret offences, and deliver us from all the assaults of our enemies. Through.

[Nov. 25th. ST. CATHERINE.]

November 26th.

ST. SYLVESTER, AB., d.

Mass 16, Os justi, from Common, except:

COLLECT.

MOST merciful God, we humbly pray thee : that, like as when thy blessed Abbot Sylvester was devoutly meditating over an open tomb on the vanity of this life, thou didst vouchsafe to call him thence unto the desert, and to adorn him with a life of wondrous merit ; so thou wouldest enable us after his example, to despise all earthly things, and hereafter to rejoice in his eternal fellowship. Through.

In some places is made a Commem. of St. Peter of Alexandria, B.M., as below.

SECRET.

WE beseech thee, O Lord : that we, who devoutly offer these gifts unto thy divine majesty, may, by a devout readiness both of body and soul, be made imitators of the pattern of thy blessed Abbot Saint Sylvester ; and be enabled worthily to receive the Body and Blood of thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Who liveth and reigneth with thee.

[SECRET.]

POSTCOMMUNION.

O LORD, who hast refreshed us with this heavenly banquet : grant, we pray thee ; that we may in such wise follow in the footsteps of thy blessed Abbot Saint Sylvester, that we may with thy Saints obtain an abundant reward in the kingdom of thy glory. Through.

On the same day.

ST. PETER OF ALEXANDRIA,
B.M.

Mass 2, Statuit, from Common.

THE COMMEMORATION OF VARIOUS ANGLICAN
WORTHIES

The Province of South Africa has authorized, provided the Diocesan gives permission, the Commemoration of the following Servants of God with the two Collects herewith given. These (with an added appropriate Secret from the Common of Saints) may be used after the Prayers of the Mass of the day when the Rubrics permit, as follows:

COLLECT.

ALmighty God, who willest to be glorified in thy Saints, and didst raise up thy Servant N. to shine as a light in the world : shine, we pray thee, in our hearts ; that we also in our generation may shew forth thy praises, who hast called us out of darkness into thy marvellous light. Through.

GRANT, O Lord, we pray thee, that our devout observance of the commemoration of thy holy Servant N. may render us thy servants acceptable unto thy loving-kindness : that the oblation of this our bounden duty and service may be profitable unto him in the reward of his godliness, and obtain for us thy servants the bountiful gifts of thy grace. Through.]

POSTCOMMUNION.

O GOD, who hast brought us near to an innumerable company of Angels, and to the spirits of the just men made perfect : grant us during our pilgrimage to abide in their fellowship ; and in our heavenly country to become partakers of their joy. Through.
